EX-HARVARD MAN ENDS LIFE IN NANTASKET

THE WEATHER

Fair and colder tonight and Tuesday; lowest temperature tonight in upper 20's; moderate to fresh westerly and northwest winds.

Sun Rises, 6:52; Sun Sets, 5:08.
High Tides: 3:44 a. m.; 4:13 p. m.
Light vehicles tonight at 5:38.

9 A. M. TEMPERATURES

BOSTON	48	New York	48
Washington	50	Los Angeles	52
Chicago	32	San Francisco	50

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER
The only Boston evening newspaper with direct news services—from Associated Press and International News Service
VOL. XXXIV—NO. 271
Copyright, 1938, by N. E. Newspaper Publishing Co. Entered as second-class matter at Boston Postoffice.
MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1938
PRICE 3 CENTS
7★ SPORTS STOCKS CLOSING PRICES

Friends Deny Reports Wally Is to Be Mother

John F. Says:-

W. R. Hearst Gave Irish First Break

This is the second chapter in former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald's "Seventy-Five Years of Boston Life." In the opening article which appeared in yesterday's Boston Sunday Advertiser, "John F." said that were he to relive the years, his course of action would be parallel.

He charged that with Boston brains gathering rust, New England is losing its grip as the nation's leading industrial center and in this connection he pointed to abandoned mills and factories and to decaying wharves in many waterfront cities.

In today's article "John F." tells of his first job and his first race for public office.

By JOHN F. FITZGERALD
(As told to Paul Whelton)

When I got out of Boston Latin School I passed a civil service examination and was appointed to the customs service.

Leverett Saltonstall, grandfather of the present Leverett Saltonstall, former Speaker of the House and general chairman of this year's Greater Boston Community Fund campaign, gave me my first appointment.

John F. Fitzgerald

While his grandfather was a Jeffersonian, the present Saltonstall is a dyed-in-the-wool Republican.

Why is it that the Italians in this town are Democrats, almost to a man? I did plenty of missionary work among them, but the underlying reason is that the G. O. P. won't give them a break.

In Massachusetts the newer groups get scant encouragement. The Republican Party wants their votes and never minds their candidates. Why is the Republican Party in this state so illiberal and so bigoted?

In New York, the G. O. P. has supported a Donovan and an Ottinger. In Rhode Island the party backed Aram J. Pothier, the once perennial governor of the state and a French-Canadian.

In the Northwest the Scandinavians are not only the voting strength of the Republican party; they get most of the offices.

SHIPPING DISAPPEARS

But immigrant stock never was popular here in the old days.

As I wrote yesterday, Irish boys could not get jobs in banks or desk positions with railroads. There was

Continued on Page 6, Column 1

Boston Tanker Saves 6 at Sea

Six rescued members of the schooner Leona, out of Halifax, will arrive late today at the Tydol pier in Revere on the oil tanker Harry F. Sinclair, which sighted their burning vessel 12 miles off Nantucket lightship.

Fragmentary radio reports from the Sinclair indicated that the Leona had become dismasted in a gale, and then had been fired by the crew to prevent her becoming a menace to navigation. The crew abandoned her after setting her aflame.

The Coast Guard cutter Algonquin was proceeding to the place where the burning Leona last was reported to guard the hulk in the event of its not already having sunk. Heavy fog was reported.

Along with the rescued sailors, Captain Collegan of the oil tanker reported the Sinclair rescued the Leona's cat.

A. F. of L. Expels 3 CIO Unions

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 7 (INS)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor today formally expelled three major unions affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The three unions are:

United Mine Workers of America.

International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

Federation of Flat Glass Workers.

The United Mine Workers is the principal union in the CIO, and its chief source of financial support. John L. Lewis is president of the United Mine Workers as well as chairman of the CIO.

By its action, the executive council virtually killed all hope of a peace between the Federation, headed by William Green, and the CIO.

NEW NAZI PURGE EXPECTED AS HITLER, AIDES CONFER

BERLIN, Feb. 7 (AP)—High "S. S." (guard troops) sources expressed the belief today that the army shakeup Friday, which ousted a number of conservative generals for ardent Nazis, was not yet over.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler's departure for Berchtesgaden, his Bavarian mountain retreat, outwardly marked the end of the political storm that centralized full control

However, a story was circulating among the higher ranks of Hitler's black-shirted lifeguards that "there are many more on Der Fuehrer's list whose days in the army are counted."

The lifeguard sources termed the discharge from duty of 13 high army officials a move to cleanse the military forces of reactionaries.

With Field Marshal General Hermann Wilhelm Goering at the helm, any further changes were expected to be made quietly. It was not believed, however, that they would be forthcoming before the Reichstag meeting Feb. 20.

MAPS NEXT MOVES

At Berchtesgaden, Hitler planned his next move, as diplomatic quarters speculated on what it would be. He was expected to announce it at the Reichstag session.

Some quarters believed he would defy France and Britain and launch

Continued on Page 2, Column 5

COCOANUT GROVE
BILLY LOSSEZ and His Orchestra
NEW MUSICAL REVUE
Piedmont St. LIB. 2256

'When a Cabot Loves a Kelly' Today, Page 11

SO. BOSTON TROLLEY HITS TRUCK, 8 HURT

Musician Suicide in Nantasket

PICTURES ON PAGE 3

Identified as Richardson Brown, former Harvard student and pianist, missing since January 6, the body of a man, shot through the head, was found in the cellar of a summer cottage on Beach avenue, Nantasket Beach, today.

Hull police expressed the opinion the case was one of suicide. The man, they said, apparently shot himself through the mouth, the bullet emerging on the left side of his head. In addition, an unopened bottle containing poison was found nearby.

An element of mystery, however, remained in the position of the body when found. The man lay, arms close to his sides, an overcoat tucked over him, blanket fashion, and a .32 calibre pistol lying on his chest.

Police admitted they were puzzled as to just how the man himself could achieve this position with a bullet through his head.

MOTHER GRAVELY ILL

Officers who went to the home of Brown's mother, Mrs. Alice Brown, 73, Groveland street, Auburndale, found her seriously ill. She may die, doctors said.

She managed, however, to tell police that when Brown last visited her, shortly before his disappearance, he was despondent, both because of finances and because a research job he sought had been assigned to someone else.

Alton Seaver, Bluff road, North Weymouth, told police that Brown, shortly before he disappeared, came to him and asked to borrow "either a pistol or some poison."

Seaver said he told Brown he had neither.

FORMER BROWN HOME

Medical Examiner John Sweeney of Hingham expressed the opinion that the man had been dead four or five days.

The summer cottage in the basement of which the body was found formerly belonged, it was said, to the Brown family, but was sold by them to Attorney Samuel Saxe of Brookline some years ago.

Saxe, notified by telephone of the finding of the body, said the place was closed for the winter.

George Wood, meter inspector for the Hingham Water Department, who discovered the body, said he found the cellar door open.

Brown disappeared January 6 from his lodging house on Marlboro street, Back Bay.

First Lady Heads Earhart Fund Drive

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today she had accepted the honorary chairmanship of the national sponsors' committee to seek funds for the Amelia Earhart Foundation, established by Thiel College, Greenville, Pa.

Quake Hits Tokyo; Citizens in Panic

TOKYO, Feb. 7 (AP)—Tokyo and the surrounding district was shaken by a comparatively severe earthquake at 11:45 p. m. tonight (9:45 a. m., EST). Frightened citizens ran from their houses. Clocks were stopped by the shock.

Firestone, Tire Maker, Dies at 69

HARVEY S. FIRESTONE

Magnate Passes Away At Miami Mansion During Sleep

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7 (AP)—Harvey S. Firestone, head of the world-wide rubber interests bearing his name, died today at his mansion on the ocean shore here.

The cause of death, it was learned authoritatively, was coronary artery thrombosis—formation of a clot in the coronary artery, which is one of the two main vessels carrying blood from the heart.

The gray-haired industrialist, who was 69 years old, had suffered intermittently from poor health in recent years, but his death was unexpected.

Shocked attendants at his huge estate closed the iron gates, and the family retired to strict privacy. A son, Russell A. Firestone, made known his father's death in the following statement, on which no amplification was forthcoming:

"Harvey S. Firestone passed away in his sleep early this morning at his home here. The funeral

Continued on Page 6, Column 4

Qualters Kin Made Deputy Marshal

Richard J. Qualters of Boston avenue, Somerville, father of Thomas J. Qualters, bodyguard to President Roosevelt, today was appointed as deputy U. S. marshal.

Duke, Wally Wait Stork, Is Report

PARIS, Feb. 7 (INS)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor moved into their newly-rented chateau near Versailles today, accompanied by a new flood of rumors.

The Paris Soir said "the Duchess seems to be awaiting a happy event in the near future," but circles close to the couple ridicule the report.

VERSAILLES, France, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor moved out of a Paris hotel today and into the redecorated Chateau de la Maye, with a retinue of servants and a truckload of baggage.

The former British monarch and his American-born wife were said to have leased the chateau for six months, making it their first real home since their marriage last June.

The marriage of the Duke of Windsor—former King Edward VIII—and Wallis Warfield of Baltimore, took place June 3, 1937, at the Chateau de Cande, Monts, France.

Demand Chair for 2 Girls in Slaying

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 7 (AP)—Prosecutor William A. Machenfeld said he would ask death in the electric chair for two girls charged with the slaying of a bus driver in a $2.10 holdup, as they went on trial today.

The defendants, Mrs. Ethel "Bunny" Sohl, 20, and Genevieve Owens, 17, sat quietly in the courtroom as the selection of a jury began.

Newtowne's First Casualty Is Wife

The first casualty in Newtowne court, Cambridge's new federal housing project, was reported today when Mrs. Mary Renna, 26, occupant of suite 127, was treated for burns of the face and neck.

Mrs. Renna was lighting the gas oven in her apartment when flames spurted out, burning her about the face and neck, according to police.

Roosevelt Confers With Chinese Envoy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—C. T. Wang, the Chinese ambassador, conferred with President Roosevelt today. The ambassador, who had requested the conference, would not discuss the meeting.

Hialeah Park Results

EARLY CHARTS AND RACE RESULTS ON PAGE 20

DAILY DOUBLE—Spin On, 1st; French Bread, 2nd—PAY OFF $14.80

THIRD RACE—Purse $1000; claiming; three-year-olds. One mile (chute).

1—Pamicob
2—Oddesa's Pride
3—Mister Jacko
4—Bookreader
5—Ethelmont
6—Town Car
7—Weary Flower
8—Lovick
9—Miss Hollywood
10—Crackell

Scratched—Kal Sou, Broad Vision.

First	Second	Third
2	5	8

American Crews For American Ships

TODAY'S grim tragedy in what is left of the American Merchant Marine is as shocking a reproach to the national character as it is a menace to the national defense.

Before more millions are spent on the new shipbuilding program every Communist agitator and mutinous alien trouble-maker under the American flag must be replaced by patriotic American citizens trained in the ways and disciplined in the noble traditions of the sea.

Otherwise prudent people will refuse to trust their lives and their property to American vessels, and there will be no need of an American Merchant Marine at all.

Happily Congress is alive to a peril which threatens to drive American-borne commerce from every ocean and turn the carrying trade of the world over to foreign competitors.

Wisely Congress considers the problem of how the new Merchant Marine shall be manned.

It is coming to understand that this new Merchant Marine, which ought to be a source of national pride instead of national humiliation, must not be turned over to an impudent gang of mocking and rebellious radicals, as blind to the interest of the United States as they are short-sighted with respect of their own.

In the long run unrestricted alien Communism afloat will as surely destroy the American Merchant Marine at sea as Communism ashore will destroy American industry at home.

In the end, of course—give it enough rope to hang

Continued on Page 1, Column 2

McSWEENEY REPORT ON 'MAD MURDERS' GIVEN TO HURLEY

Stricter discipline and termination of the system whereby violent deaths in state mental institutions may be concealed were recommended today by Public Safety Commissioner Eugene M. McSweeney in a report to Governor Hurley on his investigation of the Medfield State Hospital.

McSweeney, directed to make the probe following Frank Laprete's murderous attack on two fellow inmates at the hospital two weeks ago, proposed four major reforms in the 97-page report.

WARNED BY HOLT

At the same time, he called to the Governor's attention the fact that Laprete had been committed to Medfield by Judge Arthur P. Stone of East Cambridge District Court despite recommendations by psychiatrists that he be sent to the Bridgewater Hospital for criminally insane.

The report revealed that after Laprete's formal commitment to Medfield, Dr. Earl K. Holt, superintendent at the hospital, made a second written request to Dr. Clifton T. Perkins, acting head of the Department of Mental Diseases, that the madman be transferred to Bridgewater.

It showed also that there are several patients still at Medfield whom Dr. Holt considers potentially dangerous, but whose transfer he has not been able to obtain.

HIS RECOMMENDATIONS

The commissioner's four recommendations were:

1—The establishment of a uniform procedure for the commit-

Continued on Page 6, Column 4

Woman Poisoner's Appeal Rejected

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Marie Hahn, convicted poison slayer, lost her fight in the Ohio court of appeals today to escape a sentence of death, March 10, in the electric chair. Three judges of the court concurred that she had "had a fair trial."

Mrs. Hahn was convicted November 6 of the death by poison of Jacob Wagner, one of four elderly acquaintances of the German-born blonde, to die in what the state contended was a scheme to "murder for profit."

$10,000
Movie Name Contest
Start Today
Turn to Page 7

BOWLING
BILLIARDS
Sport . Exercise . Fun
Turn to the Indoor Sports Guide Sports Page

41 Shaken In Wreck On 'L'

Eight persons were injured and 41 others shaken up today when an intown-bound street car collided with a seven-ton truck during a morning rush hour at West Broadway and B street, South Boston.

Automobile traffic along the busy main thoroughfare was delayed more than 15 minutes.

Forty passengers in the street car and the driver of the truck were shaken up.

Sprayed by glass from the shattered pane in front of him and hurled backward by the impact, James Welch, 66, of East Fifth street, South Boston, the motorman, was taken to Carney Hospital.

BACK IS INJURED

He was found suffering from an injured back and shoulder and abrasions of the lips and fingers.

Two others were treated at the hospital, while five passengers in the street car claimed injury and told police they would be treated by their own doctors.

The driver of the truck, Joseph Donato, 21, of Mt. Pleasant street, Somerville, narrowly escaped injury.

Thomas Galvin, 53, of Elmore road, Dorchester, a passenger in the truck, was taken to City Hospital where he was treated for minor injuries and released.

ONE OTHER TREATED

The only passenger in the car to be treated at Carney Hospital was Alfred Perry, 21, of West Broadway. He suffered contusions of the right elbow and was later released.

The five passengers who claimed injury were James Booth, East Third street; Lucy Keleppas, West Fourth street; Charles Cummings, Gould street; Peter Bartlett, Fourth street; and Michael Ferro, B street, all of South Boston.

Balances and Receipts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.

Treasury balance	$2,972,506,926
U. S. Customs receipts	$3,090,333

SEE THE CHAMPION RETRIEVERS IN ACTION
NEW! THRILLING! SPECTACULAR!
NEW ENGLAND SPORTSMEN'S and BOAT SHOW
MECHANICS BUILDING — BOSTON
NOW OPEN Daily 10 A. M. to 10:30 P. M.
Trained Jumping Deer; Retrieving Dogs in Action; Huge African Exhibit, Jungle Village, Native Tribesmen; Native Eskimo and his White Bride; Deep Sea Fishing Exhibit; the famous "Buck" in person; Fly Casting; Log Rolling; Canoe Tilting; HUNTING, FISHING, CAMPING EQUIPMENT—CRUISERS, MOTOR BOATS, OUTBOARD MOTORS, SAIL BOATS, SPORTING AEROPLANES EXHIBIT.
ADMISSION 55c Until 6 P. M.; 75c After 6 P. M.—Children 25c

Copeland Predicts Speedy Move to Deport Bridges

Labor Leader Bared As Communist, Says Senator

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS)—An early decision by the Labor Department on whether to arrest Harry E. Bridges, West coast maritime labor leader, and move for his deportation, was forecast today by Senator Copeland (D.) of New York, chairman of the Senate commerce committee.

Solicitor Gerard Reilly of the Labor Department testified before the committee in secret session today.

Copeland said the evidence showed Bridges to be a Communist.

Received by the committee, Copeland said, was an affidavit from a Beverly Hills, Calif., policeman, witnessed by Chief of Police Charles C. Blair, stating Bridges had joined the Communist party under the name of Harry Dorga. Dorgan was his mother's maiden name.

Two questions are to be determined by the Labor Department in its investigation of Bridges, Copeland said:

COPY OF MEMBERSHIP

"First, whether he is legally in the United States, and, second, whether he has been engaged in subversive activities.

"We have a photo copy of what purports to be Bridges' membership in the Communist party under the name of Harry Dorgan. Dorgan is his mother's maiden name."

Copeland said his committee had yet to receive from the Labor Department all the pertinent documents in the Bridges case, but among the depositions on hand, he said, was one from the Seattle office of the immigration service, carrying recommendations that Bridges be arrested and deported as an undesirable alien.

EVIDENCE POURING IN

While Copeland and other members of the committee indicated they were "watching" the Labor Department for swift action in the case, it was disclosed that evidence was pouring into the commitee in support of claims Bridges should be arrestde and deported.

An affidavit by a citizen of Beverly Hills, who swore to Bridges' membership in the Communist party, was before the committee. The name of the citizen was with-

"I see by the papers that Bridges has requested that I invite him to appear before the committee," Copeland said, "but for my part I am against it.

"We know everything he knows about the merchant marine, and are not interested in his Communistic propaganda. All we want to know is why he stays here."

Veterans' Leaders Join Battle on Bridges

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (INS)—The move to deport Harry Bridges, West Coast maritime labor czar, gained impetus today from leaders of veteran organizations in New York.

They demanded that Secretary Perkins immediately open the immigration department records on Bridges' entrance into this country. Other veteran leaders have made the same demand, including [illegible] state commanders of the American Legion.

Already Senators Copeland and Vandenberg have made repeated demands unsuccessfully for these records to enable the Senate Commerce Committee to continue its investigation of the former agitator for the I. W. W.

Joining with the six Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey veteran leaders, who have demanded the immediate deportation of Bridges, George J. Vachris, past commander Brooklyn Post, American Legion, voiced a warning to the country.

UNDESIRABLE AGITATOR

"If he is an alien (records show Harry Bridges never applied for citizenship) occupying a position of responsibility controlling the shipping on the Pacific coast, he's in a position to tie up our vital shipping and hinder the country in time of war.

"I favor having him put out of the country. He's an agitator and undesirable in a country such as ours."

Other comments follow:

Louis Rossi, Queens County commander, Veterans of Foreign Wars:

"The immigration report should be made public by all means. If Bridges is an alien, he should be deported for his actions, which are definitely opposed to American institutions."

SHIP THEM ALL BACK

David McMahon, past commander, First Division post:

"No alien should be permitted to find himself in such a powerful position that he could, in time of war, hinder the government in self-defense.

"As for the Labor Department's refusal to open the records, surely there can be no doubt that it must, legally and ethically, open its records on any alien."

John Dealy, national commander, Catholic World War Veterans, said:

"The Bridges case is not an isolated one, but merely among a great many of the same kind. If we are going to deport Bridges, let us get after all the subversive elements, whether Communists or under any other guise, and ship them back where they came from."

American Crews For American Ships

Continued from First Page

itself—alien Communism will destroy itself, too, in a country as sound at heart as is our country.

But in the process of destroying itself it will also pull down the rest of us in the general wreckage.

Why should the American people permit this havoc to overwhelm them?

FORTUNATELY Congress, alive to the danger, is studying a plan for the establishment of training schools for the sea-minded youth of America, where upstanding men and boys, recruited from good American homes, can be educated to the sea in very much the way in which many thousands of young men in the CCC camps are being educated in soil and forest conservation and wholesome ways of life.

One plan contemplates placing this training under the Coast Guard, whose officers and men are among the finest sailors the world has ever produced.

The Coast Guard is ready to put the plan into operation now. The officers to organize and command the proposed training camps for the nation's future seamen already have been selected.

It could train at once from 500, the minimum immediate requirement, up to 1000 men a year, at Hoffman Island, in New York harbor, where the first training station would be located.

WHEN the new Merchant Marine shall have been completed it is estimated that the United States will need about 4000 seamen replacements a year.

To meet this requirement other training stations would be located on the Gulf coast, and at least one on the Pacific coast.

Do the American people want these replacements for our Merchant fleets, to be built at such great expense, to come from the cesspools of alien Communism, or do they want them to come from American homes rich in the traditions of patriotism and loyalty?

Of course there can be but one answer to that question.

The shameful spectacle of American masters of American ships under the American flag barricading themselves in their own cabins in foreign ports, as protection against their own crews dominated and intimidated by insolent and mutinous riff-raff leaders is intolerable.

Congress must end it. The thing is a national disgrace.

The "CCC of the sea" is the answer.

America must have American crews for American ships, under the wing of the American government.

Son James Aids Pepper Cause

Says Floridan Should Go Back to Senate

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7 (AP)—Senator Claude Pepper, faced with four opponents in his bid for renomination in the May primaries, today had a friendly pat on the back and a wish for success from James Roosevelt, son of the President.

Young Roosevelt, here for a vacation, issued a statement in which he said Senator Pepper had been loyal to the administration and had worked hard for his state, "and it is our sincere hope he will be returned to the Senate."

The formal statement was issued in the district of Rep. J. Mark Wilcox of West Palm Beach, who voted against President Roosevelt's court reform bill. Wilcox has announced for Pepper's office.

Roosevelt Sees 22 on Wage Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Twenty-two Representatives, all proponents of wage-hour legislation, arranged a conference with President Roosevelt today presumably to discuss means of getting a bill before the House.

The group was led by Representative Maverick (D) of Texas. Its visit to the White House today followed a conference last week between the President and Chairman Norton (D) of New Jersey of the House Labor Committee.

Afterward, Mrs. Norton predicted passage of a wage-hour bill this session. But she forecast revision of the measure which the House returned to committee last session.

Roosevelt Radio Chat Urged to Aid Business

By WALTER FITZMAURICE
International News Service
Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1938)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS)—Administration sources today disclosed President Roosevelt is considering a fireside chat to rally business for the spring recovery on which he is counting to restore millions of workers to payrolls.

Some of his advisers have urged he take that means of asserting the leadership besought by the diverse groups of big and little business men, labor leaders and financiers, with whom he has conferred in the past six weeks.

A radio talk, reaching every corner of the nation, they have pointed out, would tone industry for recovery, at the same time enabling the President to re-define "in one syllable words" the domestic policies his critics contend have left business befogged.

The President has insisted all along there is neither mystery nor contradiction in demands he has voiced at press conferences for dissolution of utility and bank holding companies and for lower prices, and sustained wages, even at expense of temporary profits.

However, his projection of these demands during a period of search for business cooperation provoked charges of inconsistency, echoed loudest last week at the congress of "little fellows" whom the administration counted among its unwavering supporters.

No more press conference pronouncements are likely, informed sources indicated, because of conflicting interpretations of those already made. The President has complained that some interpretations were inaccurate.

Nor are any further business conferences on schedule, barring the "clinic" on railroads to be held possibly this week.

The alternative to a fireside chat, administration quarters said, would be a broadcasting of the message on anti-trust law revision Mr. Roosevelt promised to send Congress in his message on the state of the union.

President's Boy Scout Talk on Air Tonight

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (INS)—A nation-wide broadcast by President Roosevelt at 6:45 p. m. over three major radio networks will feature today's observance of National Boy Scout week. The President, who is honorary president of the organization, will speak from Washington.

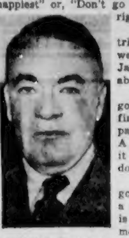
Gen. Johnson Says:

HOME CASH URGED

Profits Tax Is Bar

By HUGH S. JOHNSON

NEW YORK CITY—The next act in the Washington vaudeville is going to be a turn entitled "Home-keeping hearts are happiest" or, "Don't go to wicked Wall Street, there's money right at home."



HUGH S. JOHNSON

Chairman Douglas of the S. E. C. tried it on the dog out in Chicago this week. The new solicitor general, Robert Jackson, gave it a trial run in Rochester about a month ago.

The idea is that there is no need to go to the New York money market to finance any business enterprise. Just pass the hat around among the neighbors. A good answer to that is a question—if it could be done that way, why wasn't it done all the time?

Nobody running a business likes to go to New York for new dough. It costs a lot. It is as complicated as chess. It is a cold and unsympathetic market. Formerly there was a well developed racket about some of it. Maybe that is cured but we cannot know because under the New Deal there isn't enough new financing to tell.

Business went to Wall Street because, generally speaking, there was no place else to go. This new idea of hat-passing home-financing is like many other half-cocked magic by New Deal rabbit yankers. It didn't proceed from a sufficient knowledge or investigation.

General Jackson's Rochester speech held up as the shining example of home-work, George Eastman's building up on his Kodak Company. That seemed to have his complete blessing.

It is one of the best success stories in the book. Mr. Eastman built the foundation of his business by plowing back its profits. But that company had to go to Wall Street. Eastman Kodak is one of the gilt-edge issues on the Big Board. Also, in the manufacture of movie film, it comes as near to having all the business as General Jackson will find in all his trust-busting forays.

* * *

Henry Ford built a vast business without going to the money changers. But what Mr. Ford did, or even what Mr. Eastman did, can't be done now. If you start using your profits to build up your own business, instead of distributing them as dividends, the punitive undistributed profits tax hits you so hard there isn't much left to plow. If you want to expand your business, you can't even borrow the money, either at home or in New York because when the time comes to pay it back out of profits, you get nicked just as hard by that tax for not distributing it as dividends.

But even if this fool thing hadn't practically stopped business expansion, you can't finance any important business out in the sticks. Why? The money isn't there. Mr. Ford didn't do it that way except for the smallest kind of beginning. His business was all built out of profits.

* * *

It is easy to see why the money isn't there. If a business is any more than a strictly local enterprise, it serves a wide area—several states or even the nation. It is completely out of proportion to the relatively small part of that area in which the manufacturing is done. It must look to its wide trade area for its capital for the same reason that it does for its sales.

Take Moline, Ill., the great farm implement center. The value of the implement capital invested and turned over there is much more than all other combined wealth of the whole community.

The machinery for national distribution of investment securities is in New York—and nowhere else. That just happens to be an economic fact and any national policy that ignores it is bound to be cock-eyed.

(Copyright, 1938, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or part forbidden. All rights reserved).

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

"Washington Merry-Go-Round," by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen, sprightly and informative column on the inside activities of political Washington, is now a daily feature of the Boston Evening American. It will also appear in the Boston Sunday Advertiser every Sunday.

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Leaders of the New York Stock Exchange have been conferring privately with the Administration regarding the selection of a new head of the Exchange who would do for stock trading what Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis has done for baseball.

Heading the list of men under consideration is O. Max Gardner, former Governor of North Carolina and member of the Democratic National Committee.

Stock Exchange members are looking for a man who has the confidence not only of the White House but of the country. Their present plan for reorganization is the most important thing that has happened in the financial world in years. It is what the Securities and Exchange Commission has been urging for a long time—namely, a self-policing of the stock exchange.

In other words, the Exchange itself would seek to cut out rooking of customers and establish confidence in its own dealings. The plan would make the New York Exchange much more of a national institution.

So far, Max Gardner comes closest to filling the qualifications for Czar of Wall street. He had a liberal record as Governor of North Carolina, is one of the now dwindling "Before Chicago" boosters for Roosevelt who still is called into the White House. At the same time he understands the problems of the Stock Exchange.

Other embryo czars being considered are Robert Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, who is favored by his old associate at Yale, SEC Chairman Douglas; also General Robert E. Wood, head of Sears, Roebuck; General Frank Hines, head of the Veterans' Bureau, and last but not least General Hugh (Ironpants) Johnson.

The job will pay between $75,000 and $100,000.

MAE WEST SPANKING—Mae West and her naughty broadcast still hover over the Federal Communications Commission. The Commissioners said nothing about it publicly, but one reason for their refusal to give National Broadcasting Company a South American radio channel was to penalize it for the Mae West broadcast.

Two channels were given General Electric, which is new in the broadcasting business, two also were given World Wide Broadcasting of Boston, a relatively small concern, and one channel remained in the hands of Columbia.

But after the application of NBC was written in capital letters "HEREBY DENIED."

Note—Award of the South American channels is to help combat the Nazi-Fascist influence spreading through Latin American countries by daily German and Italian broadcasts.

LITTLE MEN, WHAT NOW?—At least 50 of the little business men who flocked to Washington last week took credit for giving Roosevelt the idea for calling the conference. They had written to him, they said, and the President obviously had followed their advice.

Whoever actually was responsible for the conference, however, pulled a boner. The meeting was the most futile and disorderly stampede Washington has seen since the ill-fated Bonus Army besieged Hoover in 1932. Before the first day was over many delegates were wondering why they had spent good cash to participate in a madhouse.

The whole thing was a sad commentary upon (1) the lack of coordination between the Department of Commerce and business; (2) the lack of co-ordination between business men themselves.

LITTLE MEN MERRY-GO-ROUND—Most efficient group at the Little Men's Conference was that interested in automobile instalment-buying. Its members reported that half a million more new cars were produced in '36 and '37 than were needed and that instalment buying terms were so easy people bought more new cars in preference to old. Thus the used car market became glutted . . . High-pressure tactics, they reported, had loaded the lowest income groups with debts they could not pay.

"Ma" Perkins frequently was attacked for coddling the unions . . . Social Security, as a rule, was favored. The wage-hour bill was not . . . Their biggest need, according to the Little Men, was easier credit. They complained that the banks would not lend them money without high collateral . . . Clarence Reilly of Chicago urged a "West Point" for inventors. The work of these inventors would then be owned by the government and used for the benefit of the public . . . Percy Hansen, editor of The Jamestown, N. D., Sun, made the shortest speech of the convention. "What small business needs is not to be given a loan but to be let alone."

(Copyright, 1938, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Niemoeller Treason Trial Closed to Berlin Public

3 Nazi Judges Order Wife, Protestant Friends Barred

BERLIN, Feb. 7 (AP).—The Rev. Martin Niemoeller protested bitterly in a 45-minute speech today against the decision of three presiding judges to bar the public from his trial on grave charges growing out of his unyielding opposition to Nazi church policies.

"Why am I here under the accusation of a traitor?" demanded the black-clad Protestant churchman, who served in the World War as a submarine commander. "I've done nothing to justify such a charge."

"You'll find that out later," the state attorney retorted.

The accusations made against the Rev. Mr. Niemoeller, if proved, are tantamount to treason under Nazi laws. They allege malignant attacks upon the state and party, continuous misuse of the pulpit for political purposes, and public incitation to disobey state laws.

ENGLISH PASTORS APPLY

Interest was so wide in the trial of the militant pastor, arrested seven months ago and in prison ever since, that numerous English pastors also appeared for admission.

When the courtroom doors opened, the Rev. Mr. Niemoller's wife and those having invitations from the church ministry—principally Confessional Synod pastors and ministry workers—were admitted, but ten minutes later they were excluded while the three presiding judges retired to consider the possibility of opening the trial to the public.

The judges deliberated two hours before deciding on a closed trial. The court ruled that two churchmen would be permitted in the court room as representatives of the Confessional Synod.

The disappointed crowd dispersed slowly, giving way before police lines.

FOE OF NAZI DOCTRINES

The clergyman's trial climaxes a year of protest against Nazification of Germany and efforts of Chancellor Hitler's faction to bend church affairs to his will. Before his imprisonment, the Rev. Mr. Niemoeller had been arrested repeatedly.

His parish house and private apartment had been searched time and again. His wires were tapped and his mail opened. Nazi agents trailed him, and when he preached agents took down his statements. Once a bomb was thrown at his parsonage.

His imprisonment came after he disobeyed the church ministry's decree that names of men quitting the church must be read from the pupit. He also had solicited a collection to finance the anti-Nazi fight of the Confessional Synod, the majority group of Protestant churches. This, too, had been forbidden by government decree.

8 Catholic Bishops Continue to Blast Nazis

MUNICH, Feb. 7 (INS)—On the eve of the trial in Berlin of the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, bitter Protestant church foe of the Nazi regime, Roman Catholics shot another barrage in their fight against Nazi inroads.

Eight bishops in Bavaria, including Cardinal Faulhaber, Archbishop of Munich, dispatched protests against recent bannings of Catholic youth organizations.

The protest was read in Catholic churches throughout Bavaria.

48,321 Here Get Jobless Pay

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS)—A total of 160,747 persons in 19 states received checks totalling $1,581,218 during the first week and a half of unemployment compensation payments, the Social Security Board announced today.

These payments covered the period from Jan. 24 tthrough Feb. 3. Among the largest checks to states were to 48,321 persons in Massachusetts for $485,185; to 22,052 persons in Connecticut for $229,224, and to 26,621 persons in Rhode Island for $238,823.

In Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York and Vermont—where a three weeks' waiting period is required, Jan. 31 was the first benefit payment day, so figures reported for those states cover only the first four days.

Roxbury Infant Found Suffocated

Eight-month old Phyllis Doherty was found dead in her crib in her Magnolia street, Roxbury, home early today. Blankets had suffocated her, according to police.

The plight of the child was discovered by her mother, Mrs. Olive Doherty, who snatched her from the bed, rushed to the street, and commandeered a passing motorist to take her to a doctor. Dr. Francis J. Wenzler, Columbia road, Dorchester, pronounced the child dead on arrival.

Hunt Man Missing From Boston Boat

SAGAMORE, Feb. 7—Coast Guardsmen searched here today for George A. Carmody of New York, who disappeared from the Steamer St. John while en route from Boston to New York.

Officials found a note addressed to Carmody's wife in his stateroom.

Rev. Martin Niemoeller, Protestant pastor and militant foe of the Nazis, saw his wife and friends ousted from his Berlin trial today. He faces charges equal to treason, under Nazi law, in proceedings now secret.

Soviet Sees War In Nazi Purge

MOSCOW, Feb. 7 (AP)—The "Hitlerization" of the German army and foreign office along with the nation's economy was interpreted by the newspaper Pravda today as a move to speed up preparations for "a big war."

Pravda, organ of the Communist party, said the "failure" of German intervention in the Spanish civil war, and what it termed a shortage of food and raw materials in Germany, "convinced Colonel-General Werner von Fritsch (resigned chief-of-staff of the Germany army) that a more prudent and cultured policy was needed.

"Opposition became so strong Hitler considered it dangerous to keep Von Fritsch at the head of the Reichswehr or to retain generals who supported him.

"The appointment of military experts who are followers of Goering (Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering) to economic posts formerly occupied by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht's officials has the purpose of speeding up preparations of German economy for a big war."

Reds Delay U. S. Rubens Check

MOSCOW, Feb. 7 (AP)—A scheduled interview with Mrs. Ruth Marie Rubens of New York by Loy W. Henderson, charge d'affaires of the United States embassy, was postponed today while Soviet authorities completed arrangement as to the time and place.

The United States gained permission last week for the talk in the hope of solving the mystery of the woman's trip to Russia on a fraudulently obtained passport and her arrest December 9 on suspicion of espionage.

The meeting had been set for today, but under the circumstances was expected tomorrow at the earliest.

Traveling as "Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Robinson," Mrs. Rubens entered Russia with a man described as a writer. The man also was arrested, but the United States sought only to interview Mrs. Rubens, since it has not been established that "Robinson is an American citizen.

British Film Order No Worry to Disney

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7 (AP)—Walt Disney saw a silver lining today in news the British censor board has forbidden London children under 16 to see "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" unless accompanied by their parents. The board's action was understood to have been taken on the theory some of the scenes in the animated cartoon would frighten youngsters.

Fuehrer, Aides Map Further Army Purge

Continued from First Page

Germany on a series of conquests rivaling those of Italy in Africa and Japan in Asia.

Others saw the shakeup which gave him further power as the first step toward abandonment of the Rome-Berlin axis in favor of reconciliation of France and Britain.

Official quarters warned against assuming that "anything sensational" was being planned.

AIDES WITH FUEHRER

Der Fuehrer left for his mountain retreat by special train Saturday night after his cabinet approved his drastic governmental reorganization. Joachim von Ribbentrop, personal envoy of Hitler who became foreign minister, and Franz von Papen, recalled as ambassador to Austria, were said to be with him.

(In London, sources close to the British government expressed fears that promotion of von Ribbentrop, ambassador to London, as foreign minister might wreck any chance of a British-German understanding. They were inclined to regard von Ribbentrop as anti-British.

(Experts conferred at the British foreign office to consider the possible effect on the world situation of Hitler's consolidation of Nazi power.)

New U. S. Berlin Envoy Faces Changed Setup

BERLIN, Feb. 7 (INS)—With all army leave curtailed throughout the country, the Nazi purge of doubtful elements in the foreign office and army continued speedily but quietly today.

An appearance of normality was added to the Berlin scene by the absence of Adolf Hitler, one-man ruler of the Reich, at his mountain villa above Berchtesgaden.

WORKS ON SPEECH

Hitler went there ostensibly for rest, but amid the Alpine snows he held conferences with his new Nazi foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, and Franz von Papen, just removed as minister to Austria.

Hitler was also believed to be at work on the pronouncement he will make to the Reichstag February 20, but the belief is growing that he will spring no surprises, but merely acquaint the nation with the reasons for his governmental shakeup.

Ruthless determination to Nazify the army and the foreign service was evident in continual "weeding out."

U. S. ENVOY DUE

Into this new diplomatic atmosphere the recently appointed United States Ambassador, Hugh R. Wilson, will come some time this week.

He will be the first ambassador to be received by a German foreign minister wearing the black Hitler Guard uniform, instead of the customary frock coat.

Appointment of von Ribbentrop made certain that the "gentlemen-of-the-old-school" type of diplomat would be eradicated from the foreign office. Whether Dr. Hans Dieckhoff, ambassador to Washington, would be affected was uncertain, but in one quarter that was said to be "not improbable."

Another Blood Purge By Nazis Seen

LONDON, Feb. 7 (INS)—The full impact of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's coup has yet to hit Germany, according to dispatches published today in British newspapers.

"Another 'blood purge' is a definite possibility," said the Daily Express. Many of the generals who have fallen into disfavor face banishment, the paper added.

Between 180 and 190 senior officers have been arrested in German provinces, the Daily Herald asserted, and all leave has been cancelled "until the new purge in army ranks has been completed."

Plane Soars Off From Flying Boat

LONDON, Feb. 7 (INS)—Aviation history's first launching of one airplane from another in midair was voted a success by experts today. Designed for use in transatlantic service, a "pick-a-back" seaplane soared from the top of a big flying boat at 700 feet altitude. Each machine had four motors. In the experiment, conducted near Rochester, the two pilots were in telephonic communication until two levers released the seaplane.

Maverick Charges TVA Favors Aluminum Trust

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Representative Maverick (D) of Texas said today the Tennessee Valley Authority had contracted to sell more than 82 per cent of its power to some of the "most notorious industrial monopolies" at less than half the cost to small municipalities and co-operatives.

In a statement prepared for the Congressional Record, Maverick said he was "astonished" to find the TVA had negotiated long-term contracts, running from 10 to 20 years, for 287,350 kilowatts of power to industrial consumers.

Its installed generating capacity is about 350,000 kilowatts, he said.

He said such contracts constituted direct violation of the requirement that TVA give preference to domestic consumers.

"One of the most astonishing things to me about these contracts is that the TVA has contracted away to the Aluminum Company of America alone 112,000 kilowatts of electric energy, which is more than the entire installed or future generating capacity of Norris dam," Maverick said.

"This is the same Mellon aluminum trust that the Department of Justice is now proceeding against for violation of the anti-trust laws."

Triple Funeral Is Planned For 3 Little Pond Victims

Separate Rites for Hero Who Died for Vain Rescue Try

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Feb. 7 — The French colony of this city sorrowfully made plans today for triple funeral services tomorrow of three children who went to their deaths in the chill waters of Social Pond when ice broke under their weight.

Their attempted rescuer, a 25-year-old unemployed mill hand, who tried to save the children although he could not swim and who perished in his efforts, will be buried Wednesday.

Victims of the tragedy were Anna Muriel Varieur, 6, her brother, Norman, 8, Alfred Picard, 7, and Michael Cherwinski, the hero who died in his attempt at rescue.

DROWN NEAR HOMES

All four were drowned within sight of their homes, 100 yards from the pond. The fathers of the children watched firemen recover the bodies ignorant of the fact it was their loved ones who had perished.

Anna and Norman and Alfred had decided to "take a few slides" on the pond before going home for their noon dinner. Their slides carried them toward the center of the pond, where the thawing ice was weak.

Suddenly it gave way beneath the children and they fell into the water. Cherwinski, on his way to church, rushed out on the ice, only to plunge into the pond himself.

A girl ran to the Varieur home and informed Varieur that some people had fallen through the ice and were drowning. He telephoned police and firemen and then went to watch the rescue.

IDENTIFY VICTIMS

He and the father of the Picard boy stood on the shore and saw the children and their would-be rescuer floundering in the water, still unaware it was their children who were drowning.

It was not until a half hour later, when firemen, grappling from boats, recovered all four bodies and brought them ashore, that Varieur recognized his son and daughter, and Picard his son, as victims.

Ernest Bricault, 30, a neighbor, narrowly escaped death when he sought to aid the children and Cherwinski by going over the ice with a rope about his waist.

Ice Toll

Scenes as Death Struck 4 Times

Medical Examiner Dr. Edward L. Myers endeavoring to revive Norman Varieur, 8, one of three children drowned in Woonsocket, R. I., tragedy. Norman's sister, Anna Muriel, 6, was another victim of the triple tragedy.

Gen. Lee's Kin Murder Is Like Speer Case

2 Face Arrest; $1,000 Reward Out for Rector's Slayer

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Feb. 7 (INS) —Rewards totalling $1000 were posted today in a determined effort to unravel the mysterious slaying of Dr. Charles H. Lee, 71-year-old rector of historic Christ Episcopal church.

To a reward of $500 offered by citizens of St. Simons Island, Glynn County commissioners added $500 today for information leading to the arrest of the slayer. Officers also revealed that a special investigator had been called in to assist local authorities.

This was announced as local authorities centered their attention on two bullets—one lead and one steel-jacketed—found imbedded in the walls of the parsonage.

Added importance was attached to discovery of the two bullets as County Chief of Police L. O. Godwin revealed that two suspects were under investigation.

Asked about the two bullets Chief Godwin admitted police had found them, but would not say if an arrest was imminent. Two persons were definitely under suspicion, the chief asserted, but he declared the evidence was not strong enough "yet" to justify an arrest.

Dr. Lee, a native of Virginia and grand-nephew of Gen. Robert E. Lee, was killed by a bullet fired through the door of his study Saturday night as he was preparing his sermon.

"IN HIS NAME"

Still grasped in his hand, the pen with which he had been writing trailed from the sheet of paper after a quotation from St. Paul:

> "Whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus."

It was the assassin's second bullet that found its mark. The first had been fired half an hour before as Dr. Lee and his wife sat in the study.

They had believed the report to be a backfire from an automobile on the road nearby. Mrs. Lee retired to her room shortly after but returned upon hearing the second explosion.

She found her husband mortally wounded with a bullet in his temple. He died shortly after the arrival of a physician.

Two bullet holes were found in a pane of glass in the door about six inches apart. They were spaced about the same in the screen door, indicating both shots had been fired from approximately the same spot.

Many aspects of the case, including its apparent lack of motive, resembled the assassination of Dr. Elliott Speer, head master of the Northfield Seminary in Massachusetts, who met death in 1935 at the hands of a slayer who fired a shotgun through the window of his study.

Chief Godwin, in commenting on reports that Dr. Lee might have made a bitter enemy in his outspoken condemnation of vice conditions on the islands, said:

> "People talked a lot, but I doubt that Dr. Lee was active that much. He talked frequently on the subject but little had been done and I can't conceive of that as a motive."

DAUGHTER IN N. H.

The chief admitted authorities had suffered a setback when two earlier suspects had cleared themselves and the imminent arrests he predicted last night were not made.

St. Simon's island is one of a group off the coast of Georgia connected by causeways to the mainland. Another is Sea Island, where Howard Coffin, former motor magnate, was recently found accidentally shot to death in his home.

Survivors of Dr. Lee, besides his widow, include three daughters, Mrs. Dwight Day, Portsmouth, N. H.; Miss Lucy Carlis Lee, Cooperstown, N. Y., and Mrs. Ralph Skylstead, Long Beach, Cal., and a sister, Miss Eliza Lee, Gloucester, Va.

'There IS Telepathy!'

Boston Evening American Photo

Margery Crandon still insists there is such a thing as telepathy. You see the wife of Dr. Le Roi G. Crandon in her Lime street home as she feeds her pet dog. Margery is still anxious to have Professor J. B. Rhine of Duke University sit in with her for a demonstration of telepathy.

Margery Again Challenges Dr. Rhine

Says His Telepathic Conditions Are Too Involved

Is there such a thing as telepathy?

"Yes!" declared Mrs. Margery Crandon and the American Society for Psychical Research today.

Mrs. Crandon, who is the wife of Dr. Le Roi G. Crandon of Lime street, is the ASPR's "champion telepathist," at present engaged in a long-distance "war" of words (not telepathic) with Professor J. B. Rhine of Duke University.

She has challenged Professor Rhine to sit in with her for a telepathic demonstration. Professor Rhine has countered this with a refusal unless Mrs. Crandon will abide by certain "conditions."

CHALLENGE RENEWED

Today, Mrs. Crandon renewed her challenge. As to the North Carolina professor's "conditions," she said:

> "Dr. Rhine is making thought transference so complicated it might as well be the Einstein theory so far as the public is concerned. That's smart of Dr. Rhine: as long as people can't make out what he's doing he'll gain the reputation of being a superman."

Telepathy, Mrs. Crandon says, really is very simple—if you're telepathic. Either you "get" what the other person is thinking, or you don't. As for "explaining" it, it's as inexplicable as electricity.

VICTORIES CLAIMED

The ASPR claims four documented victories for Mrs. Crandon's telepathic perceptions. She has successfully named hidden playing cards held by persons 15 to 20 feet away.

Last Summer, an ASPR group, at a given hour, concentrated their thoughts on a certain word—and Mrs. Crandon "got" it successfully. It was the word "typewriter."

They then concentrated on two words—"green hat"—and Mrs. Crandon "got" them, too. Finally, the "senders" thought of "poker chips." Mrs. Crandon wrote down "a game with discs." She was in Boston while the ASPR group was in Vermont.

5 Dead in Plane Crashes, 2 Hurt

By International News Service

Five persons were dead today and two injured as result of airplane accidents in four states.

In Warrenton, Ga., Charles L. Richardson, 56, conciliator for the Department of Labor, was killed in a parachute leap from an army plane, abandoned when its gas supply ran low while its pilot sought an opening in a heavy fog. Major W. C. Goldsborough, the pilot, was slightly injured in landing with his parachute.

In Los Angeles, Virgil G. Wilkinson, 44, and Netherby S. Rankin, 30, a student flyer, were killed bailing out from a cabin monoplane which had developed motor trouble.

In Baltimore, John Fenwick, 22, was killed and his brother, G. Bernard, Jr., 24, was injured when their plane crashed from a low altitude.

At West Point, N. Y., a cabin monoplane, was seen to dive into the Hudson river. It was supposed the crash victim was John Fraser, manager of Matamoras, Pa., airport. Fraser left Detroit for his home field but did not arrive at the expected time.

Seventh Jail Term Given Husband, 60

For the seventh time 60-year-old Henry Portnoy of Lynn was sent to jail today for contempt of court. He was sentenced to an indefinite term in Salem jail for failure to pay $85.60 to his wife, Esther, for the support of a minor daughter, Anna.

It is Portnoy's second trip to Salem jail but he has been sentenced five times in Lynn district court on a similar count. He told the court he was unable to procure work.

Old Car Stalls On Rails, 6 Die

Crack Train Derailed At 70 Miles an Hour

BENTON, Ark., Feb. 7 (AP)—A dilapidated old car stalled on the Missouri Pacific's main line tracks at a country-road crossing today was blamed for wrecking "The Texan," fast passenger train eastbound from Dallas to St. Louis, bringing death to six persons.

The victims, crushed and scalded as the front part of the train piled up, were three members of the train crew and three passengers. A half dozen others aboard the train suffered minor injuries.

Two youths who had been riding in the automobile scrambled to safety just ahead of the crash, after frantic efforts to push the machine off the tracks.

"The Texan" was traveling at 70-miles-an-hour when the locomotive struck the car and jumped the rails. The big engine bogged down in soft mud and overturned. Cars immediately behind were hurled past it, ripping open their sides. Steam from the engine shot into the first day coach, accounting for the passenger deaths.

'Bill' Hart Buries His Famous Pinto

NEWHALL, Cal., Feb. 7 (AP)—William S. Hart dug a grave today for Old Fritz, the bay and white pinto that carried him through many a gunfight on the screen. Old Fritz had spent the last 10 of his 31 years in retirement on Hart's ranch here. He died yesterday.

Wage Bill Evasion Penalties Asked

Legislation penalizing evasion of the proposed wages and hours bill was urged today by Representatives Philip G. Bowker of Brookline and Enrico Capucci of Boston before the legislative labor and industries committee.

No opposition was given to the measure which was endorsed by State Labor Commissioner James T. Moriarty and Kenneth I. Taylor, State Federation of Labor secretary.

Mother Uninjured In 30-Foot Plunge

Mrs. Ida Cataldi, 21, of Canterbury street, Roxbury, mother of an infant girl, fell 30 feet today when a railing gave way on the porch of her mother's home in Eutaw street, East Boston—and was apparently not injured.

Her baby, Virginia, a year and a half old, was on the porch with her when the rail broke. The mother was examined at the East Boston Relief Station.

$368,846 Bay State WPA Jobs Get O.K.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Works Progress Administration officials notified Senator Walsh (D.) Massachusetts today the President had approved a $302,90 WPA project to construct sewers in Brockton, Mass.

They also said the President had approved a $65,891 WPA project to construct storm water drains in Medford, Mass.

Cambridge Police Hunt 'Undies' Thief

Cambridge police today sought a thief with a penchant for Persian rugs, silk underwear and stockings.

Such were the articles reported stolen from the apartment of Miss Ethel Carlson, a stenographer, of Arlington street, Cambridge, and her roommate, Miss Barbara Robertson.

GIVE HER Violets FOR A VALENTINE!
MONDAY, FEB. 14th
$2.50 in a heart shaped box
Penn the Florist
124 TREMONT ST.
PENN-PHONE LIB. 4317

Dixie Davis Sent To Stone Cell

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7 (AP)—J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, wanted for trial in New York's racket-busting drive, today was refused a reduction in his record bail of $300,000.

Then he was ordered taken from a relatively comfortable cell in City Hall and confined in Philadelphia County's stone prison.

Judge Raymond MacNeille continued the bail and ordered the change in jail scenery, despite the plea of the suave former "mouthpiece" of New York's late Dutch Schultz.

Held with the crestfallen Davis was his reputed henchman in New York city's number game racket, George Weinberg. His bail also is $300,000.

They were captured last Wednesday in the West Philadelphia apartment of red-haired Hope Dare, Broadway showgirl.

Baby's Prank Calls Firemen

Great Excitement in Newtonville for Time

When fire apparatus, to the accompaniment of a child's screams from a second-story window, arrived at the home of Mrs. C. Evan Johnson, Central avenue, Newtonville, today, neighbors felt sure nothing less than life or death was at stake.

The firemen raised a ladder to the window, a husky ladderman went up and climbed in, and—

"Little Dorothy, 22 months old, locked herself in the bathroom and turned the water on in the washbowl. She couldn't unlock the door, the water ran over on the floor and I was afraid it might be the hot water and she'd be scalded," Mrs. Johnson explained.

P. S.—It wasn't the hot water.

'Politics' in Road Layoffs Denied

Officials of the State Department of Public Works denied today that the reason for laying off state highway maintenance laborers last week was the aftermath of the political split between Governor Hurley and State Auditor Thomas H. Buckley. Many of the workers laid off in Plymouth county are said to have been sponsored by Buckley, who lives in Abington.

"It is our policy to lay off temporary laborers when projects close down or work is stopped by weather," said Chief Engineer George H. Delano. "There was no attempt to single out any particular employes."

Women Jam Courtroom At Birth Control Hearing

A courtroom filled with spectators, including many society women, heard arguments on Massachusetts' birth control "test case" today before the full bench of the Supreme Court.

Because of no available seats, late-comers even took places within the bar enclosure usually reserved for attorneys.

The appeal grew out of Judge Wilford D. Gray's finding in Salem Superior Court against four women last October.

Each was found guilty and fined $100 on a charge of violating the birth control statute dealing with the sale or exhibition of birth control articles.

The defendants were Mrs. Carolyn G. Gardner, wife of a prominent Salem physician; Dr. Lucille Lord-Heinstein, Tufts College graduate, of Brookline; Flora Rand, a nurse; and Mrs. Pamelia Ferris, a social worker, of Marblehead.

The women were arrested, following a police raid on the North Shore Mothers' Health Clinic in Salem last June.

Court action in Boston and Brookline in connection with other birth control cases are pending on the outcome of the Salem case.

The main contention of the defense is that the medical profession has the right to distribute birth control articles which benefit the health and safety of married women.

MEDICAL BACKING

Attorneys for the defense further contended that if the statute is to be construed as prohibiting such distribution, it is not constitutional.

In lengthy briefs filed, the defense stated "the practice has the backing of the American Medical Association" and other such organizations.

DR. LUCILLE LORD-HEINSTEIN

Has Her Day in Court

2 Dying, 2 Hurt In Auto Crash

Two women were reported dying and two men were under treatment at Maplewood Hospital in Malden today after their sedan had crashed into a pole in Broadway, Malden, near Sheafe street.

Mrs. Anna Orra, 40, of Highland street, Chelsea, suffered double fractures of the left arm and left leg; fracture of her hip and cheek bone, internal injuries, possible fracture of the skull and numerous cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Bessie MacLellan, 55, of Princeton street, East Boston, suffered internal injuries, possible fracture of the skull, fractures of the right arm and right leg and lacerations of the face that required 22 stitches.

Her husband, William MacLellan, 55, required 10 stitches for lacerations of the face. Gustave Kullborn of Chelsea suffered lacerations of the face, head and about his legs.

Plan Transfusion For John J. Curley

A blood transfusion was planned today for John J. Curley, former city treasurer, critically ill at Miami, Fla., from the after-effects of pneumonia.

Curley was moved from his home to Jackson Memorial City Hospital with his brother, former Governor James M. Curley, at his side during the transfer.

Auto Insurance Methods Scored

Contending that insurance companies are "mean and contemptible in their methods" in refusing to insure automobiles of certain motorists, Senator Charles G. Miles of Brockton today urged favorable consideration of his bill to compel companies to insure any car when the applicant has a license from the registry of motor vehicles.

He told the committee on insurance that he knew of four cases where insurance companies were high-handed in their methods for refusing policies.

Representative Charles McCaffrey of Brockton favored the bill.

John Downs, legislative counsel for Massachusetts insurance companies, opposed the bill. He declared the delegation of power to the registrar is unconstitutional.

"Under the bill," he said, "the companies would be compelled to make contracts involving $5000 to $10,000 with Al Capone or any other gangster."

The bill was taken under advisement.

Average Prof. Gets $3669

Interior Department Checks on Educators

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS)—The average professor is less than a $5000-a-year man, the Interior Department disclosed here.

The department found the following annual salary averages in a survey:

Deans: from $3125 to $5625 in public colleges; $1594 to $6563 in private institutions. Approximate average: $4237.

Professors: $2606 to $4876 in public colleges; $1662 to $5733 in private colleges. Approximate average: $3669.

Associate professors: from $2171 to $3577 and $1429 to $3947. Average: $2781.

Held in $2500 Bail In Brighton Death

Albert L. Spencer of Strathmore road, Brighton, was held in $2500 bail in Brighton district court today on a charge of manslaughter and driving to endanger. In attempting to drag his wife from the path of the Spencer car last Saturday night, Daniel Sweeney, 42, of Arlington street, Brighton, was struck and killed. Mrs. Sweeney suffered injuries. Judge Thomas Connolly set Spencer's hearing for March 7.

O'Hara Denies Compromise

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 7—Walter E. O'Hara, president and general manager of Narragansett Racing Association, today angrily denied he planned any compromise with his foes and reiterated that he will emerge victorious after Wednesday's meeting of the stockholders.

The racing firebrand stated he had enough votes and proxies to retain him as head of the race track he built. He denied he had made overtures to sell his stock to Herbert Bayard Swope of New York or Warren Wright of Chicago and retired from the Rhode Island racing picture.

At the same time, Judge James J. Dooley, vice-president of the association, expressed confidence of a victory for O'Hara's opponents at the coming meeting.

Ice Jam Imperils Soviet Polar Four

MOSCOW, Feb. 7—Rapidly shifting ice piling up on the floe on which four Russian scientists are adrift threatens a jam in which they may be crushed before rescue ships reach them was reported in a terse radio message from the floe in the Arctic sea east of Greenland.

The mass of ice has already pushed the floe more than 50 miles to the southwest, Ivan Papinan, the polar party's commander reported. Three Soviet ships are speeding to the rescue.

Fay Wray's Wedded Joy On Rocks in Hollywood

FAY WRAY

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

(Copyright, 1938, by International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7—The ten year old marriage of Fay Wray, motion picture actress and John Monk Saunders, her writer-husband, has gone on the rocks.

Saunders who has spent most of his time in England the last few years on various writing assignments, and who was the author of "A Yank at Oxford," Robert Taylor's most recent picture, has moved out of the family home on Selma avenue without leaving a forwarding address.

Miss Wray is one of the most loved young women in Hollywood, and it has been known for some time she has not been happy since Saunders' duties kept him away from Hollywood. The Saunders have one small daughter, Susan Cary, aged 16 months, whose custody Miss Wray will seek.

While no divorce has been mentioned as yet, there is little doubt that Miss Wray will ask to be legally free.

She puts the cause of their parting down to "incompatibility."

U. S. Navy Stands Alone, Says Leahy

"No Alliances or Foreign Commitments," the Chief of Operations Tells Probers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, told the House naval committee today that the navy expects to solve its defense problems "without alliances," and has no "foreign commitments."

Asserting he wished to clear up any misunderstanding that may have arisen from his previous assertions, the Navy's highest ranking officer said:

"The navy has no thought of obtaining assistance from any other nation. It has no thought of giving assistance in the solution of the problems of any other nation.

"It has no foreign commitments.

"There are no understandings regarding assistance to be given, or received.

"There has been no talk of giving, or receiving, assistance."

Leahy's refusal last week to disclose publicly the nature of discussions Captain Robert Ingersoll, head of the navy war plans divisions, had recently with the British admiralty had brought speculation in congressional circles as to a possible understanding with Britain.

NEED PATROL PLANES

Leahy's categorical denial of any commitment to any foreign nation was given in testimony on legislation to authorize a $800,000,000 naval expansion program.

Leahy told the committee the "most urgent improvement" needed in the nation's air defnse was an increase in naval patrol planes and their tenders. He also urged authorization for more minesweepers, minelayers, fleet tugs, oil tankers and a survey ship.

None of these types of auxiliaries are covered by the bill in its present form, and Leahy suggested that, if necessary, they be provided by cutting down by one each the number of proposed destroyer tenders, repair ships and submarine tenders.

Although he said the naby would need large numbers of auxiliary vessels in wartime, Leahy said the proposed program would provide only those essential to service the fleet in time of peace.

In denying any foreign alliances, Leahy said theh navy intends "to stand on its own feet in providing protection to the United States and it expects to succeed."

He sair it had been his endeavor throughout the hearing to convey the navy's understanding that the proposed legislation "is simply to authorize a sufficient navy to provide protection to the United States and its island possessions against attack by any single foreign naval power, an increase having been made necessary because of the increased naval programs of other nations."

He said the navy did not have in mind any particular possible enemy, but considers all foreign navies in its study of necessary defenses.

Replying to a question from Representative Maas (R.) of Minnesota, the admiral said a large part of the industries essential for war purposes were on, or near, the coasts.

STUDY HULL PROPOSAL

He said great damage might be done if the navy were not powerful enough to stop an attack on the vital industrial areas, adding it would be extremely "unwise" to undertake any expedition that would leave the nation's shores unprotected.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Hull's expressed willingness to take part in any general arms reduction aroused widespread interest in the capital, because it followed closely his demand that Japan disclose her naval building program.

Amid unofficial reports that Tokyo officials had decided against complying, Hull said in a radio address:

"While compelled, in a world in which increased construction of armaments is a regrettable fact, to render adequate our military and naval establishment, we are ready at any time to join with other nations in a common effort to bring about a general limitation and reduction of armaments."

Chairman Vinson (D.) of Georgia, of the House naval committee, said Hull's note to Japan would not affect hearings on the naval bill.

ROGERS PEET
Clearance!
SUITS

The idea is to "catch your eye"—and draw you to our store today!

We know that our Quality, Style and Fit will make you want to come again.

Our End-of-Season—

CLEARANCE SUITS

Were $45 to $55
$35 now.

Were $55 to $75
$45 now.

Savings on Overcoats! Hundreds of our finest that were $75 to $95—
$65 now.

Other CLEARANCES

$3 to $4 White and Fancy SHIRTS	2.15
$1.50 and $2.00 NECKTIES	1.15
$1.50 to $2.50 Imported Wool SOCKS	1.15
$4 Lined CAPESKIN GLOVES	2.15
$1 French-back and Lastex-top SHORTS	55c
$1 Ribbed Lisle UNDERSHIRTS	55c
$1.50 to $5 Imported Wool MUFFLERS	85c to 2.35
$5 and $6 HATS Our famous $5 Ashley and $6 Burnsley are included.	3.95
$7.50 HATS	4.95

Bargains for Boys, too!

ROGERS PEET COMPANY
Boston: 104 Tremont St.
at Bromfield St.

Begging Aid for War-Torn China

Boston Evening American Photo

Chinese girls paraded with flags through Boston's Chinatown yesterday soliciting money for the homeless in China. Their efforts were crowned with success.

AT ALL A&P MARKETS

Steak Sale

THE MOST SENSATIONAL NEWS ON BEEF PRICES IN MANY YEARS! DON'T LET THESE LOW PRICES MISLEAD YOU—ONLY HEAVY STEER BEEF CUTS—JUICY, TENDER, TASTY SATISFYING STEAKS.

TOP ROUND
BOTTOM ROUND OR CUBE STEAK 25c LB

PORTERHOUSE OR SIRLOIN STEAKS 29c LB

RUMP STEAK 35c LB

HAMBURG FRESHLY GROUND 2 LBS 29c
THICK END CORNED BEEF LB 19c
BRISKET FANCY CORNED BEEF LB 25c

PRICES EFFECTIVE THROUGH WEDNESDAY!

Blonde 'Miss X' Tells of Spy Trap

LONDON, Feb. 7 (AP)—"Miss X," svelte blonde in black of the British counter-espionage service, today finished her story of springing the trap on four men accused as arms plan thieves, during a lightning appearance in Bow Street Police Court.

The heroine of Britain's latest spy thriller, wearing a two-piece ensemble and a smart halo hat, told in low tones of the climax of nearly three years' work to foil the copying of munitions plans taken from the big Woolwich arsenal, allegedly for a foreign power.

"Miss X" told how last January 21 she had telephoned the intelligence service after P. E. Glading, former arsenal employe and chief accused, told her he was going to meet some one at Charing Cross preparatory to a big photographing "job."

Officers converging on Charing Cross arrested Glading and Albert Williams, until recently armament examiner at Woolwich, after Williams had handed Glading a brown bag alleged to have contained plans for a detonator-testing apparatus smuggled from the arsenal.

COUPLES FROM MOSCOW

In the first court hearing last week, the prosecutor said there was evidence of "contact with a foreign power," which he did not name. But "Miss X" testified that a mysterious couple "from Moscow" had taken a part in the copying of arms plans and later had disappeared.

Defense counsel declined to cross-examine "Miss X" today, and she was whisked away through a door behind the witness stand.

She was followed to the stand by a little man, whose name also was undisclosed. He was described as a counter-espionage agent, whose mission had been to watch the apartment which "Miss X" rented for Glading in February, 1937, and in which, according to "Miss X", hundreds of stolen plans were photographed.

The copied plans, the prosecution charged, included weapons of the army, navy and air force.

"Miss X" testified that on January 21 she lunched with Glading, who was carrying a briefcase containing photographic equipment. He told her there was to be "a job" that night, but that first he had to go to Charing Cross to get a document to be copied.

"It had to go back that night," "Miss X added.

She told how Glading had become concerned about the non-arrival of "some one else."

"He said he was getting short of money and had stuff parked all over London," the witness testified.

The little man who followed "Miss X" on the stand told of shadowing the girl agent, Glading and others involved, since April 29, 1937.

EXHAUSTIVE SHADOWING

Accused with Glading and Williams under the official secrets act are George Whomack, assistant foreman of the gun section at Woolwich, and W. C. Munday, assistant chemist. Womack and Munday were arrested a few days after the other two.

The hearing was continued until next Friday after two other intelligence agents—"Mr. Y" and "Mr. Z"—told of exhaustive shadowing of Glading, Whomack and Munday and an unidentified couple.

They described meetings at which "folded newspapers" were passed. The prosecutor produced an attache case with a false bottom which "Mr. Z" said resembled one Whomack had carried.

The prosecution indicated the next hearing would be closed to the public.

2 More Cities Taken by Japs

SHANGHAI, Feb. 7 (INS)—Striking at two points 1200 miles apart, while a vast battle raged in between, Japan's armies today wiped out an entire city in South China, and captured without bloodshed the important coastal center of Lungkow in the north.

Close to Portugal's Macao and Britain's Hongkong, Japanese airplanes and warships threw such a stream of shells and bombs into Heungchow that the city, with an estimated population of 30,000, was turned into a mound of ashes and dust.

Refugees pouring into Macao by the hundreds said an untold number of townspeople had been killed or wounded.

After steadily falling back for days, the armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek launched a strong counter-offensive today on the southern section of the Tientsin-Nanking railroad fronts.

Rebels Roll on Near Teruel

HENDAYE, France, Feb. 7 (INS)—Loyalist Spanish reinforcements, including the American and other international brigades, today were hurriedly thrown into the line north of Teruel in a desperate attempt to roll back a speedy Insurgent advance.

Sweeping through a score of towns along a 25-mile front in a push that defied resistance, the Insurgent forces under General Jose Fidel Davila pressed at some points 20 miles eastward.

This major victory ended the long threat against the Teruel-Saragossa highway, against which the loyalists had been hammering steadily for three weeks. It also relieved pressure on the Insurgents' line of communications to the west.

Fall of Alfambra, 15 miles north of the beleaguered city of Teruel, was the hardest blow at the Loyalists. Strategically located in the mountains, the city had been held by the Loyalists since the outbreak of the civil war.

Japs Rap U. S., Deny Plan for Big Ships

Press Angured Over Powers' Notes on Sea Armaments

TOKYO, Feb. 7—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota said in Parliament today the government had reached no decision as to how it would reply to formal requests from the United States and Great Britain concerning Japan's naval building program.

"The foreign office is consulting the authorities concerned about the reply," said Hirota, "but there has been no decision and I am unable to express an opinion on the matter."

Hirota said the face he had not yet received the expected inquiry from France was a reason for declining further to discuss the matter.

SHIP PLAN DENIED

Later it was disclosed that the French note, similar to those delivered by the United States and Britain Saturday, had been transmitted to the foreign office after Hirota spoke.

Admiral Mistumasa Yonai, navy minister, briefly endorsed Hirota's remarks.

Earlier the foreign office spokesman hadd enied—for the first time officially—Japan is building "capital shps of 43,000 tons."

In the midst of a storm of press and governmental accusations against the United States and Great Britain, the foreign office spokesman refused to amplify that remark.

But he did pledge, with what seemed to be an attempt to mollify Occidental opinion, that Japan was ever ready "to consider any proposals based on the fundamental principles of non-menace and non-aggression."

ABUSE THREE POWERS

Japanese newspapers quoted the navy ministry as saying:

"After serious deliberations, the government has reached the conclusion that there is no necessity for informing other nations of its naval plans."

The papers added that the government felt "very sorry."

Newspapers dug deep into their fonts of adjectives to find abusive words to apply to the tri-partite notes, calling them "absurd, unreasonable, insolent, haughty, arrogant and intimidating."

"It is hardly necessary to add that Japan will reject, point-blank, this insolent attempt to interfere with Japan's rights," said Nichi Nichi, summing up the general opinion.

BLAME U. S., BRITAIN

Blame for the world's greatest naval construction race was put by the foreign office spokesman first in Great Britain, then on the United States.

"The Japanese people believe that the naval race was started by Britain when she commenced expansion with a $7,500,000,000 program," he said.

"This was followed by the American proposal to increase warships to 30 per cent over the maximum figure stipulated in the 1936 treaty (of London).

"If that program is carried out, the United States must be deemed to be following Britain's initiative in the naval race.

"Regarding the notes' proposals I must refrain from any further comment."

Chinese Parade Raises $2600

China's defense fund against Japanese invasion was $2600 richer today as the result of a dragon parade through Boston's Chinatown by girls of the district, who collected contributions along the route.

Chinese girls, who in the past have always aided the men and boys in raising funds for their native country's sufferers, staged their own celebration, helped by the Chinese Boy Scout Troop.

Miss Alice Eng led the procession, composed of a swaying dragon and a bevy of colorfully-clad Chinese girls carrying banners and American and Chinese flags.

The banners called upon all to boycott Japanese goods and asked for contributions for Chinese refugees.

Amy Mollison Awarded Divorce

LONDON, Feb. 7 (INS)—A famous aviation, as well as marital, partnership was broken up today when Mrs. Amy Johnson Mollison was granted a preliminary degree of divorce from James Mollison.

Mollison did not contest the charges of infidelity.

Married in 1932, they flew the Atlantic together, and were forced down in Connecticut. Between them, and sometimes together, the Mollisons at various times held records for the England to Australia and England to South Africa records.

WE GROW NEW HAIR!

ACT NOW BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE end dandruff and stop falling hair. EXAMINATION FREE. For years New England's most successful hair growing specialists.

Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sat. to 6:30

TRABELSIE-SYSTEM
25 Years Successful Hair Growing Specialists
175 TREMONT ST.,
SUITE 416, EVANS BLDG.

Our Internal Enemies

"We find that the Communist Party and certain financial interests are working hand in hand to plunge this country into a war against Japan."—Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers.

THIS discovery and EXPOSE of Communist plotting to GET AMERICA INTO WAR WITH JAPAN is a vital contribution to American understanding of a great and insidious PERIL.

Soviet Russia has conceived the cunning scheme of preserving its own hide by having America attempt the destruction of Japan.

It has entrusted the carrying out of that vicious scheme to the Communist Party in America.

This venomous aim of Communism, for purposes of deceit and delusion, as Mr. Martin says, "is called the policy of 'Collective Security'.

"I would hate to risk my security," he adds, "with the firing squads of Stalin.

"I don't think we would have any.

"The Stalinists want us to fight RUSSIA'S BATTLE against Japan.

"What have WE to gain by linking our destinies with Soviet Russia?"

HOMER MARTIN'S report of EXPERIENCE with Communist infiltration in his powerful union of automobile workers is a REVELATION to all Americans.

He charges that Communists have diverted union funds to other organizations they control, for activities and propaganda entirely unrelated to the union.

He charges further that when these diversions, and other means by which Communists use the union for their covert objectives, are properly attributed to Communism, those alert enough to expose the practices are subjected to vicious and unrestrained attack and abuse.

Homer Martin has the patriotic courage to recognize these COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES within his own union and to POINT THEM OUT.

He says:

"There is far too little being said about the influence of Stalinism and Stalinist propaganda in America.

"There is a hue and cry about Nazism and Fascism, but if any one mentions Stalinism they are immediately accused of Red baiting."

AMERICA is getting the TRUTH ABOUT COMMUNISM from an unimpeachable source, in this RECORD OF EXPERIENCE from the United Automobile Workers.

These devastating and destructive Communist plottings against America confront labor with a FIGHT TO THE FINISH, as Mr. Martin declares.

Certainly they also present the entire nation and all its people with the choice of a FIGHT TO THE FINISH or permanent and fearful submission to COMMUNISM ITSELF.

8,000 Women Die Needlessly, Claim

Adherence to practical advice could save the lives of 8000 women in childbirth annually, it was stated by Dr. D. J. Bristol, Jr., in a talk at the Faulkner Hospital, Jamaica Plain.

Of the 16,000 women who lose their lives yearly in the process of having babies, Dr. Bristol said, half could be saved if they consulted a doctor soon after their expectancy. Dr. Bristol warned against waiting until the last few months to get medical advice.

2 Hurt in Auto Chase Recovering

Edward L. Hanagel, Centre street, Saugus, and Alexander Efmeca, Light street, Lynn, today were recovering from injuries suffered when an allegedly stolen car they were driving crashed into a post on Great Necks road, Lynn, after a five-mile chase.

The chase was made by Patrolmen James Coppinger and George Lorenzo, who fired shots into tires of the fleeing auto, causing it to swerve and crash. The suspects were pulled from the wreckage.

for my guests ..FATIMAS
..the Original Turkish Blend still the best and only 15¢
FATIMA
TURKISH BLEND CIGARETTES
NO GOLD TIPS
FINEST QUALITY
Cameron & Cameron Co.
RICHMOND, VA.

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Queens Rivaled By 'Commoners'

Factory Worker Wins England; Austria Has Own 'Wally'

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1938, by International News Service

LONDON, Feb. 7—Who are the most popular women in Europe today?

A survey of all the European capitals was made by International News Service to find the answer.

The survey disclosed that a queen, an ex-factory girl, a peasant's daughter, three ex-show girls and an American-born princess were among the favored women who held this envious rank as the real "first ladies" of their respective nations.

England was found to possess two women who are, in their own distinctive ways, almost equally popular with the great mass of the English people.

One, of course, was Queen Mary, whose quiet dignity, regal bearing and gracious kindliness have made her the living personification of all that British tradition stands for.

HONORED BY KING

The English respect Queen Mary but they love a Lancashire ex-factory girl named Gracie Fields, who isn't particularly pretty but who sings them lovely songs, talks to them in a broad north country accent and frequently acts the tomboy for them.

Film and vaudeville queen of England, star of royal command performances, the nation-wide popularity of this Lancashire lass was recognized by King George in the new year's honors list when he conferred upon her the coveted order of a commander of the British empire.

The 22-year-old daughter of a peasant who waded knee-deep in mud and water as a day laborer in Moscow's new subway, who has made 20 parachute jumps from a speeding airplane is the present heroine of Soviet Russia.

Named Tatyana Fyodorova, hailed as a typical Russian "beauty," this young amazon has just been elected to the Soviet Union's first Red parliament as a representative of the people of Moscow.

FRANCE'S AIR IDOL

A young widow who once graced the Parisian stage and now breaks feminine air records with such rapidity that she is acclaimed the world's greatest woman flier is considered to be the most popular woman in France.

She is Maryse Bastie, who topped a record-breaking flight to South America by flying over the Cordillera range in the Andes from Mendoza, Argentina, to Santiago, Chile, the first woman ever to accomplish such a flight.

An elderly American woman who was born plain Jane Campbell and is now the Princess Jane de Faustine, is held to be the most popular woman in Italy.

She is the uncrowned queen of Italian social life and every Italian debutante who is sent to Rome seeks the guiding wing of Princess Jane.

HAS SHARP TONGUE

Widow of an Italian prince whose political and financial position ranked as one of the highest in Roman nobility, she is noted for speaking her mind freely and, at times, with shocking frankness, but at the same time she is acclaimed as the beloved godmother of Italian debutantes.

Beautiful, blond Emmy Sonnemann Goering, wife of General Herman Goering, Hitler's right-hand man, was found to be the most popular woman in Germany.

"Discovered" by General Goering at Weimar in 1933 after a fairly successful theatrical career in Munich, Vienna, Stuttgart and Wiesbaden, she went to Berlin and soon became a famous star. In the fall of 1934 the title of "Prussian state actress" was conferred upon her by the government.

With their traditional flair for romance, the Austrians have picked the heroine of one of Europe's most famous modern love affairs as their feminine idol.

Known as the "Mrs. Simpson of Austria," she is Princess Nora Gregor Starhemberg. Like ex-King Edward VIII, Prince Ernst Ruediger Starhemberg sacrificed his career for the love of this beautiful dark-haired queen of the Vienna stage.

The love story of this couple is very similar to that of the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Simpson. Discovered by Max Reinhardt when she was seventeen, Nora Gregor became famous for her beauty and theatrical ability in Austria.

In 1933, she met Prince Starhemberg at a reception. The prince, then potential dictator of Austria, fell madly in love with her but her social position made it impossible for him to consider marrying her without sacrificing his political career.

Loved

Hearts of Many Nations Theirs

International News Photograph Service
GRACIE FIELDS
Entrenched in England's Affections

QUEEN MARY
Britain's First Love

EMMY GOERING
Loved by Germany

PRINCESS NORA
'Austria's Wally'

Advertisement

Too Ashamed of Her Skin to Go to Party

Skin blemishes are aggravated by constipation. Just as it can cause loss of appetite, nervousness, weakness.

Dr. F. M. Edwards treated hundreds of women for constipation and frequently noted remarkable improvement in their appearance. For his treatment he used a purely vegetable compound—Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. This laxative is gentle, yet peculiarly effective because it increases the bile flow without shocking the intestinal system.

If you have a pale face, sallow skin, blemishes, all you may need is this mild aid in relieving constipation. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are on sale at all druggists, 15¢, 30¢ and 60¢.

Housewives
Let Barbara Holmes
Help You Solve Your Rental Problems
4th Floor R. H. White Co.
Come in . . if you can . . or
Phone HANcock 4100

Woman Critically Ill

Mrs. Emma Messina, 26, of Maverick street, East Boston, is in critical condition at City Hospital suffering pneumonia. She was rushed there last night after firemen with an oxygen tent had been called to her home.

No Crop Control Here

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Instead of scrapping navies we are scrapping naval treaties. All international restrictions are off, like a mule's harness at twilight.

We're building a few 40,000-ton swan boats for the park lake. Just for the nurses and children to have something to wave at.

We beat one good navy into plow-shares just before the top soil blew away.

We'll never make that mistake again. The only thing they are going to smash around navy yards is the bottle of champagne.

(Copyright, 1938)

Women Reject Equal Rights Proposal

Senators Townsend's, Burke's Suggestion Wins Criticism

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—Whether women want to be "equalized" with mere men was a subject of conjecture today as the National League of Women Voters firmly turned down a proposition offered by Senators Townsend (R.), Delaware, and Burke (D.), Nebraska.

Miss Dorothy Straus, New York City attorney, testified in opposition to their proposed constitutional amendment giving "equal rights" to women.

Miss Straus thanked them for their consideration, but said their proposal just wouldn't work, and that women would rather be left alone to work for their so-called rights in their own way, by revising state laws in individual instances.

"Gentlemen, you belong in the hierarchy of the higher angels for giving still another hearing to a matter that should long ago have remained decently dead and buried," said Miss Straus.

"That the gentlemen who are in favor of the measure should wish to legislate the ladies in their own image I can very well understand. They have been doing it more or less ever since Adam.

"But that any women, taking a good look at the world in which, after all, they have heretofore been excluded from a very large measure of direct participation, should want to recreate themselves in the image of man, is beyond me."

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president, sent a statement to the Senate Judiciary committee expressing opposition on behalf of the National American Woman Suffrage Association. It is feared the amendment would upset protective legislation for women, including wage and hour standards.

The Judiciary Committee agreed last week to vote February 14—St. Valentine's Day—on the proposal.

Insurance 'Job' Offer Probed

Chief Postal Inspector John J. Breslin today revealed he had received a hundred more complaints that persons had been duped into sending $5 to get work as insurance adjusters with a Milwaukee concern.

A federal investigation was launched last week following a previous complaint.

Similar complaints, according to local authorities, have been received by postal officials throughout the midwest.

Inspector Breslin said he was turning over the New England complaints to postal authorities at Chicago.

Applicants were asked to send $5 for a bond on the alleged promise they would be sent adjustment work which would net them a salary as high as $200 a month.

Squirrel Hunt Invades Church

Man Plans to Use His Rifle in Auburndale

The Ladies' Aid at the Church of the Messiah, Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, can expect shooting to start any time now.

Imagine Madame President's embarrassment when she rises to call the meeting to order—to find herself, perhaps, staring into the muzzle of a rifle.

On the other hand, imagine the embarrassment of having Sunday services and prayer meetings and such disturbed by squirrels.

William U. Fogwill, Crescent street, Auburndale, a former vestryman, explained it at Newton police station today.

Fogwill sought a permit to carry a rifle—and use it on the squirrels.

"There's a family of them," he explained. "They've got into the church somehow, and they disturb the services and the Ladies' Aid meetings. I figure on picking 'em off."

Mr. Fogwill was advised one didn't need a permit for a rifle in Massachusetts.

Justice Cardozo Gaining Strength

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS)—Physicians today reported the condition of Associate Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, of the Supreme Court, took a change for the better. He is ill with heart disease.

Physicians disclosed the liberal justice is gaining strength and that they are "much encouraged with his present condition." He is 67 and is said by friends to be contemplating leaving the bench when he recovers.

Find Quincy Man, 69, Ended Own Life

Walter H. Nichols, 69, of Atlantic street, Quincy, was dead today, victim of carbon monoxide poisoning. His body was found in a garage adjoining his home.

Medical Examiner George Dalton said he had taken his own life.

Mystery Killer Joins Love Tryst

International News Photograph Service
Mrs. Christina Oliveri, 24, of Brooklyn, mother of two children. Her husband told police of suspicions.

Clothesline nooses fashioned by a strangler were used in the auto tryst killing of Mrs. Christina Oliveri and Nino Columbo, alias Tony Durante, at Bayshore on the outskirts of Brooklyn, N. Y. The bodies were found, only partially clothed, in the automobile shown above. Evidence of a struggle with killer or killers was found. The crumpled bodies, partly covered with oilcloth, had lain unnoticed for at least a week, police said.

Nino Columbo of Brooklyn, married and father of two children. He was an amateur golfer and ex-convict.

Fiendish Killer Of 2 Sought in N. Y. Mystery

Boy Finds Victims of Clothesline Slayer, Who First Kidnaped

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (INS)—A slayer who had kidnaped and taunted his prospective victims for several days before he finally twisted clothes-line nooses round their necks was sought today for the murders of Mrs. Christina Oliveri, 24, and Nino Columbo, 42, an ex-convict. Both victims were married.

A boy out for a morning stroll with his dog found the bodies in the rear of Columbo's car.

The pair had been missing nine days. Preliminary examination indicated they had been dead at least four days and the theory was that they had been kidnaped and killed elsewhere, their bodies concealed temporarily, then finally loaded into Columbo's car and driven to the spot.

Columbo was identified by fingerprints as Tony Durante with a 20-year police record.

Mrs. Oliveri, mother of two children, bore a good reputation in the neighborhood but, according to police, her husband said recently she had been getting telephone calls from a man and meeting him in a neighborhood tavern and he had several times tried to catch them together.

Mother of Two Hit-Run Victim

BROCKTON, Feb. 7—Mrs. Mary Daviditis, 47, Plymouth place, mother of two children, was struck by a hit and run motorist on North Montello street near Battles street early today. She is near death at Brockton hospital suffering a fractured skull and compound fracture of the left leg.

Taxicab-driver Aubrey McDonald gave chase to the hit and run car but the quarry turned off his lights and escaped in a dark side street.

O. O. McINTYRE: Read his famous column, "New York Day by Day," every day in the Boston American.

Tobin Asks Fund For Gas Fight

Mayor Tobin today sent a special message to the city council requesting an immediate appropriation of $20,000 for hiring experts to aid the city in fighting the proposed gas company rate increase.

"If the proposed rates were approved by the public utilities commission," the mayor declared, "Boston's 200,000 consumers would pay more than any of the 10 largest cities in the United States."

Continued hearings on the rates will be held February 17 before the Public Utilities Commission.

The new schedule, if granted, will become effective March 1.

E. M. Farnsworth, president of the gas company, stated previously before the commission that the company's net earnings had dropped considerably during the past few years.

He also pointed out that when the last rate decision was made in 1936, it was agreed that if conditions failed to improve the rates would require adjustment.

FEBRUARY SALE

Paine Furniture Co.
81 ARLINGTON ST.

OPPORTUNITY SECTION

CLOSE OUT!

OPEN WEDNESDAY EVENINGS

Discontinued Maple Pieces

25% 33⅓% 50% OFF

Taken from our regular stock of maple furniture and re-priced regardless of cost for quick, immediate clearance. Included are single pieces and groups for

Bedroom, Dining and Sunroom

Also Mahogany and Walnut Bureaus, Dressing Tables, Chiffoniers, Beds, Buffets, Dining Tables, and other single pieces left from suites not sold complete

ALL NOW 50% OFF

John F. Tells of First Job

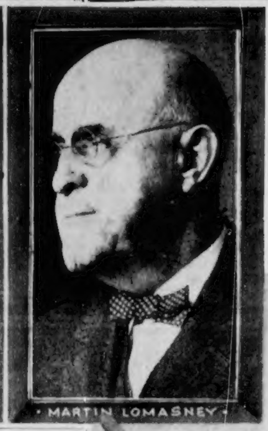
Cites Examples Of 'Boys Who Made Good'

Schooled by Lomasney, Elected to Council, Then Senate

Continued From First Page

"I WAS APPOINTED TO THE CUSTOMS SERVICE..."

A.C. RATSHESKY



a Cromwellian tendency to keep us in "our place."

Perhaps that is why so many Boston-born Irish or sons of immigrant parents have succeeded so splendidly in finance and trade elsewhere, and we have too few of them right here.

Maybe that is why Boston has seen industries crumble, its port lose place and its shipping disappear from the sea.

If you desire to keep your town abreast of the times you just cannot freeze out thousands of able, honest, brilliant young men.

When the Boston & Maine needed reorganization years ago, it was the son of a German from the middle West who did it. When the New Haven needed expert guidance, it was a Southerner of Irish stock who got the call.

The gas company here is under control of the Pittsburgh-Mellon interests; John Robinson, head of the telephone company, never worked a day in New England; Dan Wing, who ran the banks until he died, came from the West; Alton Sharp, head of the Eastern Steamship Lines, comes from Tennessee.

In those parts of the country, apparently, brains count. Not long descent.

KENNEDY CITED

Today's outstanding example of these conditions in Boston is Joe Kennedy, son of the late former Senator Patrick J. Kennedy of East Boston who served with me in the Senate.

Joe went from the Bethlehem company into a Boston banking house, and he went in there in spite of his Irish antecedents, because he had been showing his worth since college.

Some time later there came into the firm the relative of a partner. This newcomer was rated as a star football player and he had been steered for Harvard. But he could not pass the entrance examination and so was placed in the banking house.

It was not long before Joe Kennedy began to realize that all the choice business possible was being diverted to this other lad. Joe came to me and expressed his belief that he never would be taken as a partner.

"I think I'll get out," he said.

"I think you'd be doing the wise thing," I told him when he had explained.

Joe went to New York, became the best known younger business executive in the nation and now is ambassador to England.

You rarely hear the name of the other fellow, and then usually when it is linked with that of his relative.

LOMASNEY LEADER

When I entered politics, the late Martin Lomasney, lantern-jawed, iron-willed Mahatma, was the mail-fisted dictator of my part of Boston. Through his machine in old Ward 8, and his weirdly unusual political organization, the Hendricks Club, he dominated the senatorial district comprising Wards 6, 7 and 8, roughly that district between the North and South stations.

But it was Matt Keany, boss of Ward 6, who suggested that I run for the common council.

"You've been doing fine in the customs service, Johnny," he said to me. "The district needs young fellows like you in the council."

That was in 1891. Two years earlier I had married Miss Josephine Mary Hannon of South Acton—it was on September 18, 1889—and we were living at 4 Garden court, on a lot which once boasted the mansion of Governor Thomas Hutchinson of Colonial times.

Nomination was equivalent to election and in the fading days of 1891, just a few days before Henry L. Norcross of Somerville, with poor aim, threw the bomb at Russell Sage in the financier's New York office and blew only himself to pieces, the voters gave me my first political post.

SEAT IS TAKEN

On the fourth day of January, 1892, I was sworn in and took my seat as one of the 75 members of the council. In addition, Boston then had 13 aldermen.

This was the year in which Harvard, under Captain Bernie Trafford, now chairman of the board of the First National Bank, introduced the flying wedge into football; the year that Gentleman Jim Corbett laced John L. Sullivan to become the new heavyweight champion—a year, I might add, in which Boston's tax rate was only $12.60 per $1000.

While we were a proscribed race in the marts of trade and the temples of the financiers, the Irish then were beginning to dominate Boston. David Barry was president of the common council, a high-calibre man. John Quinn, later to be Suffolk County sheriff, was there.

On the Republican side, John L. Bates, afterward to rise to the governorship, was a pillar of strength.

Abraham C. Ratshesky was the field marshal of the Republicans. If he hadn't been born a Jew and the son of a strolling pack pedlar, Ratshesky would have been governor of Massachusetts long ago. He became, instead, a financier, an industrialist, a diplomat and a philanthropist.

In both the council and the senate I encountered Abraham C. Ratshesky. The man exuded brilliance. He had a brilliant Semetic brain. He was a good party man, a Republican.

It never occurred to that party, however, to nominate him for anything outside his own senatorial district. Some sixth sense told him he wasn't wanted and he got out of politics. Yet in both houses he outshone his contemporaries as the moon outshines a star.

While in the council I advocated and fought for many measures since forced through by such outstanding humanitarians as Franklin D. Roosevelt, Senator David I. Walsh and Al Smith. I was a pioneer proponent of better health measures, shorter working hours, citizen labor, minimum wages and workmen's compensation.

With generous Democrats and Republicans aiding, I put through a measure for the North End Park, affording the first breathing space ever provided for residents of that district.

Then, violating all precedent, I wound up my council service after a single year.

There was almost a ritual for the rise of a politician when I was a first-termer in the council. You went into the council first, then into the board of aldermen.

You went, after that and if you could swing it, to the House of Representatives, and then to the Senate.

SON BECOMES MAYOR

That was the step-rule, but I was a brash kid and I decided to skip all the steps intervening and go direct to the Senate. I went to Lomasney, John McLaughlin and the other leaders. What the others said I don't recall, but I've never forgotten Martin Lomasney's words. He was a trader and he'd been trading with McLaughlin for years.

Martin asked me if I could win and I replied confidently that I thought I could. Now Martin wasn't a leader who would take an unsupported conviction, so he made inquiries here and there. Then he came back and said he was with me.

During my first year as a senator in 1893, William E. Russell, Democrat and a fine man, was governor. His son later became mayor of Cambridge and a congressman, at one time holding both offices. In the remainder of my term, 1894, Frederic Greenhalge was governor.

The Senate president was the late William M. Butler, later to become the G. O. P. boss, a United States senator and Calvin Coolidge's patron saint.

The Republican leader in the Senate was William Lawrence, picturesque champion of the vested interests and a rapid-fire speaker, something on the order of New Hampshire's George Moses.

Humane legislation was considered as practically socialistic in those days but it was along those lines, silhouetted in my council term, that I worked.

Not yet had William Randolph Hearst established his papers in Boston. It wasn't until I bought The Republic, just following the turn of the century, that the newer groups were treated as human beings.

And it wasn't until Mr. Hearst came into Boston in 1904 with his Boston American that we really got kindly representation in a large journal.

A certain hard-boiledness, but more reminiscent of the boudoir than the open spaces, prevailed. A synthetic cynicism was the order of the day.

Until the Republic and the Hearst Boston American appeared, the Irish got scant notice in the public prints. Really significant social events in the Irish colony were sandwiched in between suicides, drunks and police court news.

I was a hard worker, an earnest advocate and a vitriolic enemy in the Senate. I labored for regulation of hours on public works and for the confining of governmental jobs to citizens. I bawled early and late for the establishment of minimum wages and maximum hours.

It is probable that people have forgotten, but in those days there were many stores that kept open from 10 in the morning until 11 at night, and the workers toiled through those hours.

I also fought insurance companies and for insurance regulation. One bad habit of some companies in that period was to include in policies fine print announcements and provisions which actually negatived the policies and which unwary persons usually missed. I legislated and succeeded in making the companies print these provisions in readable type.

(Tomorrow, in the Boston Evening American, will appear another chapter in John F. Fitzgerald's "Seventy-Five Years of Boston Life," a chapter describing how he was opposed for Congress by his son-in-law's father.)

Hunting An Apartment

Consult BARBARA HOLMES RENTAL BUREAU located on the 4th floor of the R. H. White Co. She will help you with your rental problems.

Ad Club to Honor Fitzgerald at 75

In honor of his 75th birthday, former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald will be feted tomorrow at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Advertising Club of Boston at Hotel Statler.

Governor Hurley and Mayor Tobin will be among the head table guests.

Others present will include business and civic leaders, Boston newspaper publishers and editors and other dignitaries.

The former mayor, who will be 75 Friday, will be introduced by Tilton Bell, Advertising Club member, who was a city councillor during Fitzgerald's term as mayor.

Found

Sleeps as Police Drag Pond

Boston Evening American Photo

As police continued search that started on Sunday for Robert Abraham, 9, Readville, he was found asleep in a Readville-Dedham bus at the Oakdale terminal, Dedham. The Mill pond in Hyde Park was dragged during hunt.

MRS. JOHN F. FITZGERALD

Looking back through the years, former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald points to Abraham C. Ratshesky, financier and philanthropist, who, he says, might long ago been governor of Massachusetts had he been other than the son of an immigrant. Martin Lomasney, political czar, he called the greatest trader of his time. "Irishmen went in for politics those days," he says, because we never had a chance to go in for anything else."

M'Sweeney's Report on Murders Given to Hurley

Continued From First Page

ment of mentally deranged persons accused of crime. McSweeney pointed out that there is a difference of opinion here between the courts, the State Department of Mental Diseases and the institutions.

2—The provision of legal advice for the mental diseases department when a question of commitment arises, "making possible closer co-operation between this commonwealth, the department of mental diseases and state institutions."

3—Enforcement of stricter discipline in respect to nurses and attendants to prevent patients from obtaining articles which may be used as weapons in maniacal assaults.

FOR UNIFORM SYSTEM

4—Creation of "a uniform system of prompt announcement of acts of violence, and the immediate dissemination of such information, to preclude further possibilities of delayed announcements of all such cases and prevent public concern and apprehension among friends and relatives of patients."

Referring to the proposal for greater discipline, the report charged that the shoe box with which Loprete battered Isaac E. Fry and Floriano Clericuzio to death had been left carelessly in the dormitory where he obtained it.

It recommended "constant scrutiny" to make sure such potential weapons are not available to patients.

WARNED OF KILLER

McSweeney's report stressed the fact that both Dr. Macfie Campbell, medical director of the Boston Psychopathic Hospital, and Dr. Holt informed Judge Stone that Loprete was potentially a killer. Dr. Holt's report to the jurist recommended specifically that the maniac be sent to Bridgewater.

Judge Stone issued the commitment order to Medfield on May 7, 1937, after Loprete had killed Bruno Miceli, the madman's cousin, at Cambridge during an insane assault with an axe.

RECOMMENDATION IGNORED

Dr. Holt's second warning that Medfield was not a proper place in which to confine the killer was made following a request by Mrs. Agnes Holland, daughter of Miceli, that Loprete's confinement be continued.

She appealed to Dr. Perkins when she learned that attempts were being made to obtain the madman's release. The acting head of the mental diseases department then conferred with Dr. Holt, who immediately wrote his chief and called attention to the fact he had recommended the transfer to Bridgewater.

Questioned by State Police Detective Captain John F. Stokes, who aided McSweeney in the probe, and McSweeney Dr. Perkins said he "did not know why Loprete had not been transferred as requested."

DR. PERKINS' REPLIES

The interrogation of Dr. Perkins, as contained in the report, was as follows:

Com. McSweeney — Again we are trying to get at why you didn't transfer Lopreta, doctor. For the purpose of the inquiry, will you be brutally frank and tell us why you did not take action following that letter?

Dr. Perkins—I don't know why I did not take action following that letter, because I have done it in dozens of other cases.

Q—You consider the responsibility was yours to take action —that the superintendent here had done everything that comes within the purview of his responsibility in advising you of all the preceding history? A—As a matter of procedure, we usually act on request.

Q—I talking about this specific case. A—Had the superintendent said, "I am afraid of this man. We cannot care for him here. I would like to have him transferred to Bridgewater"—there is no doubt we would have had him transferred.

The report detailed the examination of employes and officials at the Medfield hospital following Loprete's berserk attack on Fry and Clericuzio.

KILLINGS CONTINUE

The governor will consider the lengthy document as part of the general inquiry into state mental and welfare institutions, in which a series of secret slayings was disclosed by State Auditor Thomas H. Buckley.

In the past four years, the investigation revealed, more than 550 patients have died from other than natural causes at the institutions.

Since Loprete's murders, maniacs have run amok in the Medfield hospital, where three men were seriously injured Saturday, and in the Tewksbury Infirmary, where John Mack, giant inmate, shot four aged fellow patients to death and wounded another last week.

Firestone, Tire Magnate, Dies In His Sleep

End Comes Suddenly At Industrialist's Florida Home

Continued From First Page

will be held in Akron later this week."

AUTO RIDE YESTERDAY

Firestone had taken an automobile ride yesterday afternoon with Mrs. M. E. Sike, a niece, and apparently was in good health at that time.

After dinner, however, he complained of indigestion, and a doctor was called.

Dr. Andrew S. Robinson, of Akron, came here last month to treat Firestone for a severe cold, but the patient had improved to such an extent the physician returned to Ohio a few days ago.

A spokesman at the estate several hours after Firestone's death said they were "not talking to anyone," and no details of the industrialist's last hours were available.

Mrs. Firestone, the former Idabella Smith of Jackson, Mich., whom he married in 1895, was believed to have been at the bedside. She did not accompany her husband when he arrived here with his daughter, Elizabeth Firestone, who is a senior at Smith College, but joined him after spending Christmas in Akron with their nine grandchildren. They have five sons.

Firestone was born on a farm near Columbiana, O., in 1868. Even as a boy his business ability was pronounced and his parents encouraged his desire for a commercial career. After graduating from high school and business college, he was given a position as bookkeeper in Columbus in the coal business of John W. Taft.

Successively he was bookkeeper, salesman and sales manager. It was while demonstrating a rubber-tired buggy in Detroit that young Firestone foresaw the vast possibilities in rubber tires.

MULTIPLIED CAPITAL

He entered the business for himself in Chicago. With an investment of less than $15,000, he developed the business and in a few years sold out for $1,254,000.

He then moved to Akron, which he envisioned as the rubber manufacturing center of the country, and with a handful of employes in a renovated machine shop the farm-bred youth launched what was destined to be one of the leading industrial concerns in the country.

The rubber tire business grew apace with the rapid growth of the automobile industry and the Firestone plant was expanded periodically until in the boom years of the World War it employed more than 20,000 persons.

With the tremendous expansion of the tire business, Firestone realized the necessity of a constant supply of raw materials. He acquired for his company cotton mills in Massachusetts and established buying centers for raw rubber in Malay. Next he acquired land in Liberia where he established his own rubber plantations.

FOUGHT BRITAIN

The last move was an important factor in the campaign he inaugurated against Great Britain's rubber monopoly. That country had passed a law restricting the annual output.

As president of the Rubber Association of America from 1916 to 1918, Firestone interested himself in organizing the association's activities into war work.

He was president of a subsidiary company in Canada and director of another in England. He was also president of the Firestone Steel Products Co.

For several years Firestone and his intimate friends, Henry Ford and the late Thomas A. Edison, spent part of their vacations together in camping parties and trips. They were accompanied on some occasions by the late President Harding.

The Firestone home at Akron was a show place where the manufacturer indulged his hobbies—blooded horses and cattle and dairy farming.

A pioneer in industrial welfare, Firestone built a home community for his workers, gave them a clubhouse, an athletic field and a 36-hole golf course, organized a bank and instituted a model stock owning-savings plan for his employes.

The rubber manufacturer held an optimistic outlook on life, and his last interview, on his arrival here, reflected that trait.

Club Will Honor Caesar Stars

Stage stars in "Julius Caesar," now playing at the Colonial Theater, will be guests of honor at the Professional Club's tea meeting on Tuesday afternoon at Hotel Statler.

President Alice Dixon Bond will preside at the business session which opens at 2 o'clock and will introduce Miss Helen Craig, Miss Muriel Brassler, Edmond O'Brien and Lawrence Fletcher, who take leading roles in the play. They will address the club at 4 o'clock.

During the program a dramatic skit, "Night Falls in Spain," written by Hazel H. Sholley, member of the club's dramatic workshop, will be presented. Mrs. Marion Johnson and Mrs. Mildred Dana Shaw are directing arrangements.

Held On Boy's Charges

Paul Connors, 36, of Davis ave., Brookline, was held in $2500 bail in Brookline district court today on four morals charges in which an Allston boy was complainant.

$500,000 Needed For Fund's Goal

Anonymous Donor's $39,316 Boosts Total to $3,937,776

Greater Boston's 1938 Community Fund totaled $3,937,776 at today's "Dutch Treat" luncheon at the Boston City Club.

Leverett Saltonstall, general chairman, reported that slightly more than half a million dollars remained to be subscribed in the home stretch of the campaign.

The Right Rev. William Lawrence, Episcopalian bishop emeritus of Massachusetts, was the principal speaker. Others at the head table included Frank Stearns, president of R. H. Stearns Company, and Edward R. Mitton, president of Jordan Marsh.

An anonymous donor of $39,316, a 10 per cent increase over his 1937 donation, was listed as the largest individual contributor to the 1938 campaign.

Sonja Henie was reported to have sent a $50 check to the fund.

Contributors of $100 or more added to the lists today follow:

SUBSCRIPTIONS OF INDIVIDUALS

$1100—Anonymous.

$1000—Mr. and Mrs. William Dexter.

$800—Miss Mary Curtis.

$750—Anonymous.

$650—Charles M. Cox.

$615—Mrs. Henry B. Chapin.

$500—Anonymous, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Laughlin, Mrs. H. B. Stearns.

$450—Prof. and Mrs. Roger B. Merriman.

$400—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Parker.

$350—Mrs. Durham Jones.

$300—Walter H. Cutler, Josephine Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Herrmann, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lyman, Jr.; Honorable and Mrs. Hugh D. McLellan.

$275—Dr. Ledru J. Brackett.

$250—Mr. and Mrs. Burton E. Eames, Mrs. E. Sturgis Hinds, Henry H. Perry, Percy E. Woodward.

$235—Mrs. Benjamin W. Estabrook.

$210—Anonymous.

$200—Mrs. Henry S. Bean, Mrs. Eugene P. Carver, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. Roger S. Dix, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Edwards, James N. B. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Johnson, Daniel T. Kidder, Mrs. Malcolm Lang, Edward Lawrence, Mrs. Louise G. McMichael, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hampden Robb, Henry Sears, Mrs. E. S. Sloan, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sweetser.

$185—"A Resident of Wellesley."

$150—Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Cobb, Jr.; Mrs. Francis V. Crane; Mr. and Mrs. Clare H. Draper; Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Forbes; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Oldham; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robb, Jr.; Miss Rose Townsend; Florence G. Whidden.

$145—Miss Mary Cunningham.

$125—Mrs. Charles F. Richmond.

$120 — Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Cranshaw.

$100—Anonymous (8); Mr. and Mrs. C. B. D.; "G. H. E."; Mr. and Mrs. William Bayne; Mrs. Herbert W. Blanchard; Elihu A. Bradley; Hobart W. Brown; John A. Burnham; Homer M. Clark; Mr. and Mrs. W. Ogilvie Comstock; Miss Mary E. Connell; Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Coulter; Mrs. Edwin U. Curtis; Dr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Cushing; Mr. and Mrs. Henry De Ford, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand V. Degen; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Dellenbaugh; Mr. and Mrs. John R. P. French; Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Gaskill; Mrs. A. Philip Guiles; Mr. and Mrs. N. Penrose Hallowell, Jr.; Dr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Hammond; Prof. Lawrence J. Henderson; Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Hobbs; Mrs. Edward T. Kimball; I. Marks; John McKey; Miss Florence McPhee; Mrs. Henry H. Meyer; August Meyer and Henry H. Meyer, Jr.; Dudley L. Milliken; Abner Morse; Nineteen Hundred Twenty Sewing Circle; Mrs. John C. Olmsted; Edward H. R. Revere; Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Richardson; Mrs. Ralph S. Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Russell; Mrs. Edward J. Sampson; Mrs. Hovey E. Slayton; Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart Smith; Philip VerPlanck; Miss Helen R. Williams.

Subscriptions of Companies and Employes.

$2500—Whiting Milk Companies and employes.

$1533—Hathaway Bakeries, Inc. employes, first report.

$1500—Massachusetts Motor Car Company.

$1200—E. T. Slattery Company.

$750—Ford Motor Company.

$700—E. T. Slattery Company employes.

$527—Ben Bork, Inc. employes.

$507—Ford Motor Company employes, first report.

$500—Charles M. Cox Company.

$417—Metropolitan Sales Corporation employes.

$390—Stone's Express Company employes.

$300—The White Motor Company employes.

$270—Coleman's Fashion Shop, Inc. employes.

$250 — Commercial Investment Trust Corp., D. & L. Slade Company.

$246—Jays, Inc. employes.

$231—Mack Motor Truck Company employes.

$205—Readville Distilleries, Inc., employes.

$200—Bond Stores, Inc.; Jays, Inc.; Joseph P. Manning Company; Smith Patterson Company; Thorndike & Gerrish Company, Inc.

$175—Personal Finance Company.

$165—Thomas Long Company employes.

$164—Joseph P. Manning Company employes.

$157—Thorndike & Gerrish Company, Inc., employes.

$155—Massachusetts Motor Car Company employes.

$150—Charles M. Cox Co. employes; Lexington Trust Co.

$125—Wald Baram Company.

$118—Lawton Hevesav Motors Inc. employes.

$116—Smith Patterson Company employes.

$109—Madam Et La Jeune Fille Inc. and employes.

$108—The Eastern Company employes.

$101—Warshauer & Franck, Inc. employes.

$100—Bay State Fishing Company; The Chevrolet Motor Company; Friend Bros., Inc.; Metropolitan Sales Corporation; Readville Distilleries Inc.; Thresher Brothers Inc.; The Twitchell-Champlin Company.

Suicide Cleared In Death Case

LOWELL, Feb. 7—The gossips who insisted that the suicide of Frank Simpson, Tewksbury handyman, was his admission that he murdered Mrs. Jennie Andelman, 70, a widow, were silenced once and for all today.

Reporting on the inquest held into the death of Mrs. Andelman, who was burned to death last October in one of her Tewksbury cottages, Judge Arthur L. Eno of Lowell district court declared today:

"Lest it be interpreted by his (Simpson's) neighbors and public in general that his suicide was an admission of guilt, I feel it is my duty to clear Mr. Simpson's memory.

"I want to state that, notwithstanding the sad occurrences, I am still convinced, as I was at the close of the evidence, that he had absolutely no connection with the death of Mrs. Andelman."

Judge Eno found that Mrs. Andelman died as a result of burns from an exploding oil stove.

The inquest, which began January 18, ended when Simpson, a witness, failed to appear.

An officer sent to Simpson's cottage found the man hanged.

Simpson had been questioned several times by the district attorney's office.

Lawyers to Hear Justice Higgins

Chief Justice John P. Higgins of the Massachusetts superior court will be principal speaker at the meeting of the Law Society of Massachusetts Wednesday at the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

A. Howard Myers, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, Dr. B. A. Godvin and Patrick J. Moynihan, commissioner of finance and administration, will also speak.

Superior Court Judges Paul C. Kirk and William G. Giles, Land Court Judge Patrick J. Courtney, Probate Judge John V. Mahoney, Municipal Judge Jennie Loitman Barron and William Nobel, marking his 50th year as a member of the Massachusetts bar, will be special guests.

Railroad Pensions Exceed 33 Million

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS)—A total of $4,500,000 was distributed in pensions and annuities to 72,613 former railroad workers in November, 1937, under the railroad retirement act, it was disclosed today.

Payments under the 1935 and 1937 act exceeded $33,000,000 up to November 30, 1937.

About Cigarette QUALITY

Mr. Tareyton says:

If you want quality that other cigarettes cannot afford—try Tareytons. You'll get finer, milder tobaccos plus the nicety of the Tareyton Cork Tip.

NOW ONLY 15¢

HERBERT TAREYTON CIGARETTES

"There's SOMETHING about them you'll like"

Court Reporting Budget Draws Baker Fire

Request By Collins for $4500 Scored at Hearing

Representative William B. Baker of Newton clashed today with Edward D. Collins, Supreme Court reporter of decisions at the opening of hearings by the legislative ways and means committee on Governor Hurley's $72,488,900 state budget.

The forerunner of the argument was Collins' request for an additional $4500 in the appropriation for his office so he might employ a permanent indexer and a proof reader.

HELP LACKING

Collins told the committee that 700 decisions of the Supreme Court "haven't been touched yet, outside of advance sheets, due to lack of help."

Representative Baker then arose, criticized the appointment of Collins in place of Ethelbert Grabill, and declared:

"This trouble arose through executive action—let the executive department straighten it out."

Collins, who was appointed by former Governor Curley, hurled back:

"If money had been appropriated in 1935 we wouldn't have been in this mess. There is no need of reflecting on any governor."

SUPPORTS COLLINS

Attorney Daniel J. Lyne came to Collins' support and urged an addition to the $10,950 appropriation recommended by the governor, but drew a verbal blast from the Newton representative.

"Why don't you see the governor, Baker queried. "No such trouble accurred until Collins became reporter of decisions. The committee didn't appoint him."

Attorney Lyne informed the committee that Senator Laurence Curtis of Boston planned to file a bill providing that the reported of decisions shall be appointed by the justices of the Supreme Court in the future.

Charles M. Davenport of the Boston Bar Association committee appearing in favor of the additional payment, said he would be "glad to take up the matter wit hthe governor as suggested by the committee."

10 of 35 Wives Non-Residents

Still on Job Despite Somerville Order

Ten of the married women employes whose resignations have been asked by Mayor Lynch are non-residents of Somerville, the Boston Evening American learned today.

Of the 35 married employes, 25, according to reliable sources, have husbands earning a good week's salary. Ten of these 25 are non-residents, it is claimed.

None of the married women employes, including 15 school teachers, has given in their resignation, although they were notified Saturday morning.

Plans of the employes to organize and hire counsel are still in the formative stage. None of the women made any comment as to their future plans.

Find So. End Man, Ill for Months, Dead

Clad only in underclothing, the body of Arthur Chaffin, 59, was found on the floor of his bedroom in a Dwight street, South End lodging house early today. Chaffin, a retired Spanish-American War veteran, had apparently died of natural causes.

The body was discovered by two other lodgers who went to visit him. He has been sick for many months. An autopsy will be performed today.

Rhode Island Police Sift Mystery Note

BRISTOL, R. I., Feb. 7 (AP)—A mysterious note found in a bottle on the south shore of Hog Island, Narragansett Bay, was being studied today by police throughout the state.

The note, written in longhand on white paper, said:

"Rosers, Anna Sherman and Sherman, when she gone adn call up throw her on her back or—broker her necks to if he gone to telephone in three days."

Simone Simon Gains

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7 (AP)—Simone Simon, ill with pneumonia, is much improved today, Cedars of Lebanon Hospital reported.

Advertisement

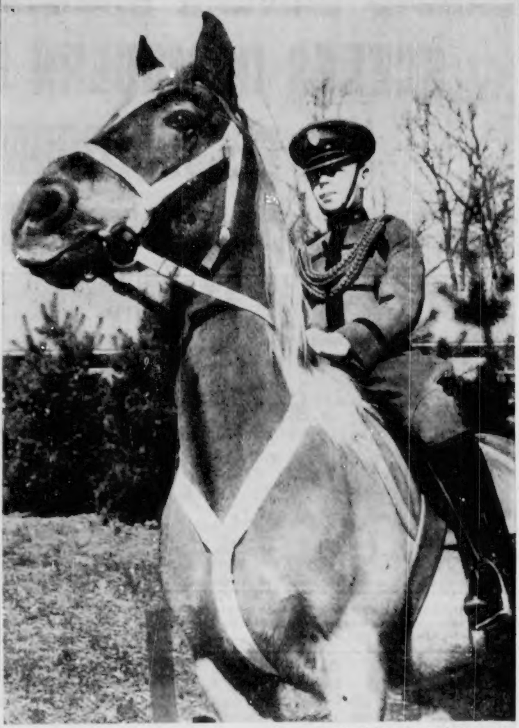
ECZEMA ITCHING QUICKLY RELIEVED

Thousands Praise This Well Known Cream

Eczema itching, skin itching, itching between the toes and other itching skin irritations are quickly eased by Ice Mint. Used successfully for over 30 years. It must be good because so many people like it. One package will prove its merit.

Get a package of Ice Mint from your druggist today. One application will quickly ease the itching torture of eczema. Soothing and cooling—pure and pleasant to use, fragrant odor—you will surely like the way it works. Can be used on the most delicate skin. Try it today.

W. R. Hearst's Surprise Gift to Cadet



International News Photograph Service

Cadet Walter A. J. Young of Valley Forge (Pennsylvania) Military Academy is pictured mounted on the handsome Arabian stallion he received as a surprise gift from Publisher William Randolph Hearst who shipped the animal from California. Cadet Young is the son of Walter Young, associate publisher of the New York Journal-American.

5 Women Fined In Betting Raid

Five women, arrested Saturday in a raid on what police said was a de luxe establishment for race bets in Cambridge "for women only," were fined a total of $115 by Judge Arthur P. Stone in East Cambridge District Court today.

A default warrant for the arrest of a sixth woman who failed to appear was issued.

Police Chief Timothy F. Leahy told of the raid in a Shepard street apartment.

A woman who gave the name of Mrs. Marian Crowley, 25, and who said the apartment was her home, was seated at a small telephone desk, Judge Stone was told. The other women gave the names of Mrs. Mary Smith, 62, Fellsway, West Somerville; Mrs. Mary Sullivan, 43, Bailey street, Dorchester; Miss Ivy N. Willard, 55, Warren street Roxbury; Mrs. Ruth Wright, 38, Fuller street, Dorchester, and Miss Mary Welch, 33, Hutchins road, Medford.

The woman who gave the name of Miss Welch failed to appear, and an arrest warrant was issued. Mrs. Crowley was fined $75, and the others $10 each.

Girl Bus Victim Fights Death

Barbara De Santo, 7, of Lamartine street, Jamaica Plain, was on the danger list at City Hospital, after a narrow escape from death when pinned beneath the axle of an Elevated bus in Hyde Park avenue, Hyde Park.

Barbara was visiting her grandfather, Peter De Santo, when the accident occurred. She was crossing the street when the bus, driven by Charles Kaplan, struck and swept her underneath.

Her grandfather, aided by others, tried to extricate her, but their efforts were futile. Firemen finally jacked up the bus and drew her out.

Legion's Doherty Influenza Victim

Daniel J. Doherty, Woburn's national commander of the American Legion, has been confined to his New York Hotel for two days with an attack of intestinal influenza, it was learned today.

Doherty is on a tour of 32 states in connection with Legion business.

U. S. Employes Up 68,279

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Civil Service Commission estimated today that 839,550 persons were employed in the executive branch of the Government during December, or 68,279 more than the previous month. The December payroll was $137,217,360.

Hunt Mystery Man in Shooting

SUNDERLAND, Feb. 7—Corps of police hunted this area today for a bearded mystery man who shot down Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Suchotski, 64 and 60, after they had befriended him in recent weeks.

As Mrs. Suchotski entered her house the man, lying in wait, felled her with a blow on the head and fired a bullet into her chest. The woman staggered to warn her husband, who was putting the car in the garage.

Her assailant followed, demanding that Suchotski turn over the car's keyes. When Suchotski hesitated, he pumped four shots into his body. He then jumped into the car and drove away.

At the Franklin County Hospital in Greenfield doctors said Suchotski's condition was critical but that Mrs. Suchotski would probably recover.

Too Close

Death Almost Claimed Her

Pinned beneath the axle of a wheel of a Boston Elevated bus after she had been struck by the bus, Barbara Di Santo, Jamaica Plain, was happy to be alive at the City Hospital.

Find Youth Guilty On Drug Charge

William J. Pazolt, 25, of High street, Lynn, was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction by Judge Ralph W. Reeve in Lynn district court today after he was found guilty of having narcotics in his possession.

The defendant, who pleaded not guilty, was held in $5000 double surety.

Pazolt was arrested last Friday after a state chemist's analysis disclosed that 10 cigarettes, allegedly found in the restaurant where Pazolt is manager, contained 87½ grains each of a drug.

The raid in the restaurant followed complaints to Mayor J. Fred Manning that boys and girls of high school age were smoking such cigarettes.

Pazolt, according to police, declared he was holding the cigarettes for another person.

Waltham Man Dies at the Wheel

Walter J. Tasker, 63, a salesman, of Ash street, Waltham, died suddenly at the wheel of his car in Pleasant street Watertown, early today.

Apparently ill, Tasker turned his car off the road and stopped it at the sidewalk before he was overcome. Passing motorists called police.

Dr. Thomas M. Gallagher, medical examiner, said death was apparently due to a heart attack.

Horsewoman Killed

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7—Pinned beneath her horse when it fell jumping a fence, Mrs. Julia Morris, wife of Effingham B. Morris, Jr., vice-president of the Girard Trust Company, was dead today.

Advertisement

The Reason Why

Different from Others

BECAUSE:—

Father John's Medicine is not "just another cold remedy". It not only helps break up colds, but builds up the body.

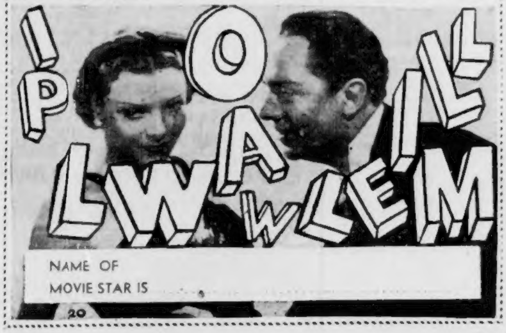
Its healthful, nourishing elements aid in maintaining strength, vigor and vitality.

Its value as a proven treatment for colds is supported by certified medical tests.

Its Record of 83 years is Convincing Proof of its Merit and Value.

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

Name the Movie Stars



It's not too late! Begin Now!

YOU CAN WIN ONE OF 576 CASH PRIZES TOTALING

$10,000.00

FIRST PRIZE $2,500.00

What movie star is represented by these scrambled letters? Do you know? Rearrange the letters so that they spell the name of a screen star. Read the rules for more information. Mail coupon now. Begin from the beginning!

No. 20—Boston American—"Name the Movie Stars"

NAME OF MOVIE STAR IS ....

THE RULES

WHO CAN ENTER? This game is open to all bona fide residents of New England — men, women, boys and girls everywhere—except employes of the Boston American and Boston Sunday Advertiser and members of their families.

WHAT TO DO? Every week-day a picture containing the scrambled name of a movie star will be published in the Boston Evening American until 49 have appeared. Unscramble the name. Use every letter in the picture. Write, typewrite or print the name on the line provided, or on any piece of paper. Hold all answers until you have the complete set of 49. DO NOT SEND THEM IN SEPARATELY!

WHERE TO SEND. Mail your entry by First Class Mail to "Movie Stars," Boston American, P. O. Box 866, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston, Massachusetts. Send a letter with your entry, giving your name and address and telling in 50 words or less who is your favorite movie star and why. Letters will be considered only in the event of ties in naming the stars. Entries must be in the office of the Boston American by midnight, 10 days after the Name No. 49 has appeared.

BASIS OF AWARDS. Entries will be judged by a committee appointed by the Boston American. Entrants agree that the judges' decisions must be final. Awards will be paid to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved complete sets of unscrambled names. Neither handwriting nor elaborateness will count. In the event of a tie between or among two or more entrants for any of the prizes, the prize or prizes next in order will be combined in a lump sum and then evenly distributed among those tying.

NO ENTRY FEES!

NO LIBRARY RESEARCH!

NO "PLAY-OFF SERIES"!

NO MISLEADING QUESTIONS!

THE PRIZES

FIRST PRIZE . .	$2,500
SECOND PRIZE .	1,250
THIRD PRIZE . .	1,000
FOURTH PRIZE .	500
FIFTH PRIZE . .	200
SIXTH PRIZE . .	100
NEXT 10 PRIZES $50 EACH	500
NEXT 20 PRIZES $25 EACH	500
NEXT 150 PRIZES $10 EACH	1,500
NEXT 390 PRIZES $5 EACH	1,950
TOTAL 576 PRIZES	$10,000

FREE!

Begin Now! Get Pictures 1 to 16 Free!

"MOVIE STARS,"
Boston Evening American,
P. O. Box 866,
Boston, Mass.

Please send me reprints of the first 16 pictures, for which I am sending 3 cents in stamps to cover the cost of handling and mailing.

NAME..
ADDRESS..
CITY.......................STATE...........

USE THIS COUPON FOR BACK COPIES!

"MOVIE STARS,"
Boston Evening American,
P. O. Box 866,
Boston, Mass.

Please send me Pictures Numbered .... I am sending 3 cents for each back copy needed.

NAME..
ADDRESS..
CITY.......................STATE...........

GET PICTURE NUMBER 21 IN TOMORROW'S

BOSTON AMERICAN

New England's Greatest Evening Newspaper

Townsend Must Go to Jail for Contempt

Court Appeal Lost by Backer of Old Age Pension

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, originator of the Townsend Old Age Pension Fund movement, must serve a 30-day jail sentence and pay a $100 fine for contempt of the House of Representatives, the U. S. court of appeals ruled today.

Dr. Townsend was found guilty a year ago of contempt after he had stalked out of a committee hearing that was questioning him about his plan to provide a $200 a month pension for all persons over 65.

The opinion of the court of appeals was read by Justice Justin Miller. Associate Justice D. Lawrence Groner filed a separate opinion that dissented from the majority only in the interpretation of the legal definition of the word wilfully. He did not dissent from the conclusion that Dr. Townsend was guilty of contempt.

Hyde Park Man Dives to Death

"Stumped" by a baffling engineering problem, Norman Paton, 34, Boston turbine expert, was dead in Wheeling, W. Va., today following a plunge from a seventh-floor window of a hotel there.

"My nerves have all gone to pieces. I can't think right," a note, found in his room, read.

Other memoranda, Dr. S. S. Bobes in Wheeling said, indicated Paton had been wrestling unsuccessfully with an engineering problem involving turbines at a calico plant.

Paton's home here was in Linwood street, Hyde Park. Born in Scotland, he had been a resident of Boston for the past 15 years. His wife and a one-year-old child survive.

Kellogg's Grandson Commits Suicide

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (INS)—John L. Kellogg, 27, of Chicago, a grandson of W. K. Kellogg, breakfast food magnate of Battle Creek, Mich., shot and killed himself in his downtown office here.

No motive for suicide could be discovered by police. His wife collapsed after declaring their home life was happy and there were no financial troubles. Young Kellogg was president of New Foods, Inc., here.

200 Take Oaths As U. S. Citizens

Two hundred men and women took oaths of allegiance in the federal court today before Judge George C. Sweeney and qualified as citizens of the United States.

15,000 to Ballot On Film Awards

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7 (INS)—For the most representative selection ever made in this glittering community, 15,000 paper ballots were ordered printed today so that the screen industry, with a $95,200,000 yearly payroll, may work itself to fever pitch over 20 prizes worth $3200 in all.

These prizes, simple statuettes of a nude warrior holding a sword, represent the highest awards of the motion picture industry, conferred annually by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

This year's selection, the tenth, marks the first time the actors, writers, directors' and other guilds have joined the 1000 Academy members in voting.

10 FILMS, STARS NAMED

The first step was taken last night when the Academy announced the nominations for the principal awards. Ten pictures and five individuals in each class were named, from which the winners will be announced March 3.

The nominations follow:

For the most outstanding motion picture of the year:

"The Awful Truth," Columbia; "Captains Courageous," M-G-M; "Dead End," Samuel Goldwyn, United Artists; "The Good Earth," M-G-M; "In Old Chicago," 20th Century-Fox; "The Life of Emile Zola," Warner Brothers; "Lost Horizon," Columbia; "One Hundred Men and a Girl," Universal; "Stage Door," RKO-Radio; "A Star Is Born," Selznick International, U. A.

For the best performance by an actor:

Charles Boyer in "Conquest," M-G-M; Fredric March in "A Star Is Born," Selznick Int., U. A.; Robert Montgomery in "Night Must Fall," M-G-M; Paul Muni in "The Life of Emile Zola," Warner Brothers; Spencer Tracy in "Captains Courageous," M-G-M.

For the best performance by an actress:

Irene Dunne in "The Awful Truth," Columbia; Greta Garbo in "Camille," M-G-M; Janet Gaynor in "A Star Is Born," Selznick; Luise Rainer in "The Good Earth," M-G-M; Barbara Stanwyck in "Stella Dallas," Samuel Goldwyn, U. A.

For the best performance by an actor in a supporting role:

Ralph Bellamy in "The Awful Truth," Columbia; Thomas Mitchell in "Hurricane," Samuel Goldwyn, U. A.; Joseph Schildkraut in "The Life of Emile Zola," Warner Brothers; H. B. Warner in "Lost Horizon," Columbia; Roland Young in "Topper," Hal Roach, M-G-M.

BEST ORIGINAL STORY

For the best performance by an actress in a supporting role:

Alice Brady in "In Old Chicago," 20th Century-Fox; Andrea Leeds in "Stage Door," RKO-Radio; Anne Shirley in "Stella Dallas," Samuel Goldwyn, U. A.; Claire Trevor in "Dead End," Samuel Goldwyn, U. A.; Dame May Whitty in "Night Must Fall," M-G-M.

For the best achievement in directing:

"The Awful Truth," by Leo McCarey; "The Good Earth" by Sidney Franklin; "The Life of Emile Zola," by William Dieterle; "Stage Door" by Gregory Lacava; "A Star Is Born" by William Wellman.

For the best written screen play:

"The Awful Truth," by Vina Delmar; "Captains Courageous," by John Lee Mahin, Marc Connelly and Dale Van Every; "The Life of Emile Zola," by Norman Reilly Raine, Heinz Herald and Geza Herczeg; "Stage Door," by Morrie Ryskind and Anthony Veiller; "A Star Is Born," by Dorothy Parker, Alan Campbell and Robert Carson.

IRENE DUNNE
Comedy Her New Forte

For the best original motion picture story:

"Black Legion," by Robert Lord; "In Old Chicago," by Niven Busch; "The Life of Emile Zola," by Heinz Herald and Geza Herczeg; "One Hundred Men and a Girl," by Hans Kraly; "A Star Is Born," by William A. Wellman and Robert Carson.

Best song written for a motion picture:

"Remember Me," by Harry Warren and Al Dubin from "Mr. Dodds Takes the Air;" "Sweet Leilanie," by Harry Owens from "Waikiki Wedding;" "That Old Feeling," by Lew Brown and Sammy Fain, from "Vogues of 1938;" "They Can't Take That Away From Me," by George and Ira Gershwin from "Shall We Dance;" "Whispers in the Dark," by Frederick Hollander and Leo Robin from "Artists and Models."

For the year's outstanding achievement by an assistant director or unit manager:

"In Old Chicago," Robert Webb; "The Life of Emile Zola," Russ Saunders; "Lost Horizon," C. C. Coleman, Jr.; "Souls at Sea," Hal Walker; "A Star is Born," Eric Stacey.

Missing North End Youth, Girl Sought

A 15-year-old Hanover street girl and a 19-year-old Prince street youth, both North End, were the object of police search today following their disappearance Saturday.

The two are Carmela Tenaglia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Tenaglia, and Peter Laizza, son of Carmen Laizza.

Sawyer Rebukes Backers' Sales Tax Appeal

Says the Federation of Taxpayers Aims to Ease Realty

Announcement by the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers that it favors the proposed 2 per cent sales tax brought a sharp rejoinder by Representative Roland D. Sawyer of Ware today.

"Of course this association is in favor of the proposed sales tax," Sawyer said. "The Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers is the sponsor of the sales tax.

"This is an organization of real estate boomers. They want a sales tax to cut down real estate taxes. They are ready to play with the politicians if the politicians will raise the coin from some source other than real estate.

"For three years, the Federation has worked and planned to get a sales tax supported. I was a member of the Recess Committee on Expenditures last year and we had not gone far in our work before it became apparent that the Taxpayers Federation, which obtained the Recess Committee's appointment, wasn't interested in cutting down expenditures, but wanted a sales tax to ease real estate."

The Federation's statement said its support of the sales tax was based on a poll of local associations. The Federation still is opposed, however to "all new taxes designed merely to raise additional revenue to be spent," its statement says.

Bartolini Plea In High Court

Argument that Oscar V. Bartolini, Quincy chef, was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Grayce Asquith solely on the "opinions" voiced by witnesses was made to the Supreme Court, by Bartolini's attorney, George Lourie, today.

Lourie is appealing Bartolini's conviction. Bartolini was found guilty by a Norfolk County jury on September 22, and is under sentence to die in the electric chair.

Lourie, in his argument today, likewise attacked the trial court's refusal to permit inspection of footprints, fingerprints, a knife, a spatula, and other articles found in or near Mrs. Asquith's home in East Weymouth.

Mrs. Asquith, 41, "the Merry Widow of Weymouth," was murdered in October, 1936. Parts of her dismembered body were found in Boston harbor. Bloody footprints in the bathroom of her home constituted one of the State's principal exhibits at Bartolini's trial.

Medford Shooting Bail Set at $30,100

Captured after a pistol battle with police, William F. Spring was arraigned in Malden district court before Judge Elbridge G. Davis today on charges of assault with a dangerous weapon, breaking and entering, larceny and unauthorized carrying of a loaded revolver.

Judge Davis held him to the grand jury in bonds totaling $30,100. Spring is charged with having entered the home of Paul J. Planchet, Jr., Water street, Medford, and with having shot Planchet through the right thigh. Planchet is in Lawrence Memorial Hospital, Medford, where his condition is said to be improving.

Atlantic Storms Slow Up 4 Liners

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (INS)—Four liners headed for New York reported today they had been delayed 24 to 48 hours by stormy weather over the North Atlantic. The Ile De France, due tomorrow, will not arrive until Wednesday. Also arriving Wednesday, but two days late will be the Samaria, Antonia and American Farmer.

Beach Suicide and Where He Died

Boston Evening American Photo

RICHARDSON BROWN

The body of Richardson Brown, pianist and former Harvard student, as it was found in cellar of a summer cottage at Nantasket Beach. He was shot through the head. A gun was found lying on his chest. His coat was placed over the body by a water meter reader who found the body.

Melrose Wife Not Free Yet

Error Brings Up New Divorce Hearing

On January 25, Mrs. Lena M. Cole, East street, Melrose, walked out of Middlesex Probate court a (or so she thought) free woman.

Edwin L. Cole of Malden, telephone company executive, had not appeared in court, although he had filed notice of his intention to contest her suit for divorce on grounds of cruelty. So Judge Joseph Monahan had indicated he would grant her a decree nisi.

"There's many a slip," however. The next day, Cole's lawyer rushed into court, and explained to the judge that, through an error, Cole had been notified the case would be called January 28.

Now Mrs. Cole has it all to do over again. Judge Monahan today set February 23 as the day.

HOW'S THIS FOR PRICE CHOPPING?
Montreal $8 Round Trip from Boston
Quebec $10 Round Trip from Boston
These fares in coaches. Pullman fares Montreal $12, Quebec $14 (Pullman seats or berths extra).
B and M
OVER WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY WEEK-END

Leave on any train Friday, February 18, or Saturday, February 19. Return up to midnight, February 22.

Special Round Trip fare to St. Anne de Beaupre, 60 cents.

BOSTON AND MAINE

CANDID CAMERA SHOOTS ACTUAL SCENES IN MODERN USED CAR RECONDITIONING

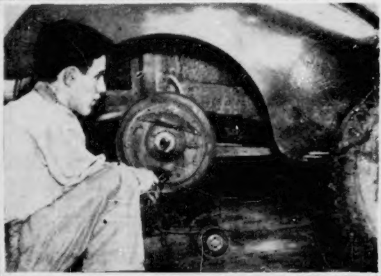
The procedure of Greater Boston's numerous reliable automobile merchants in carefully preparing a better, later, safer car for the road

1 NOT A THING IS MISSED! The service manager goes over the car when it enters his department with microscopic care. He makes out a work order on every needed repair and adjustment.

2 WORK HAS STARTED! Specialists in their line remove all body and fender dents. The surface is smoothed and buffed. Paint is sprayed over the body to give it the appearance of a brand new car.

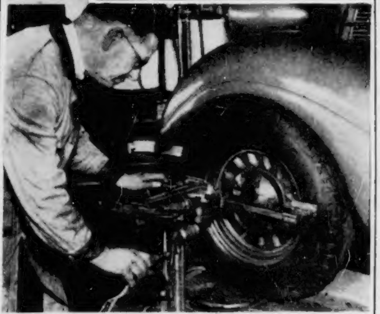
3

NO "ONE-EYES" HERE! A thorough check-up is made on the lighting and ignition systems. The car will respond perfectly and immediately to all electric action.



4 HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO ANY CAR! The brakes are checked, adjusted, repaired and relined if necessary so that the car will be under complete control of the driver.

5 A COMFORTABLE RIDE! Every bolt and screw is checked for safety and for quiet, comfortable driving. There will be no squeaks, groans or rattles in this car.



6

SAFETY DEPENDS ON THE WHEELS, so the entire front wheel alignment is checked and adjusted as part of the steering assembly and control inspection. Modern equipment gives scientific accuracy.

7

HYGIENE TAKES A BOW! You may be sure of absolute cleansing throughout the entire car. Nothing is left undone. You are assured of the same cleanliness you find in a new car.

8

O. K. AND READY TO GO! All work is completed and checked. The car is in perfect condition, mechanically and otherwise. Car is delivered to sales department.

Another BETTER—LATER—SAFER car goes to the showroom floor—a big value at a low price! It's one of the thousands of cars offered by reliable merchants in the Boston American.

SEE BOSTON AMERICAN'S 'AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE' COLUMNS

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: Because there is not enough of Edgar Bergen, too many listeners are tuning off the ventriloquist's radio session . . . The gab of the talkative half of the Stroud twins is boring . . . Operatic arias have a limited number of fans . . . La Lamour and Don Ameche do not sing enough sure-fire popular tunes . . . Marlene Dietrich, and other guests projected for a full 15 minutes of air-time, seldom have interesting material . . . Miss Dietrich isn't much of an actress, anyway . . . Oh, let's come to the point . . . Where on earth is Bill Fields? . . . Bergen, McCarthy, Fields and an orchestra—Lombardo preferably — would be the strongest ether attraction a sponsor could buy.

Poor Cole Porter, back in a hospital because his broken legs weren't healed enough to carry the composer's weight, would have taken a turn for the worse if he had happened to hear his beautiful melody "Night and Day" butchered by the swing trumpet-player on a local outlet last night . . . This gentleman was being aired from a Boston ballroom, and his attempt to swing a chorus of "Night and Day" was something horrible on the ears . . . When are composers going to insist that musicians limit their "jam sessions" to audiences made up of musicians? . . . Modern playwrights have contracts forbidding actors or producers to tamper with their manuscripts . . . If a composer writes a million-copy tune, or a ten-copy tune for that matter, he should have the contractual right, when the song is announced by title, to have it played as written . . .

Pennsylvania's Governor George H. Earle chose the festive atmosphere of Boston's Silver Dollar Bar to while away a couple of hours last night with Mrs. Earle and his son, Hubert . . . Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly escorted the Pennsylvania Governor around town after the Faneuil Hall Constitution Day meeting . . . The lieutenant Governor described the various Boston Sunday-night spots, and the distinguished visitor decided that he would enjoy the informality of the Silver Dollar . . . There they remained until after midnight . . . Then Governor and Mrs. Earle rode to the Ritz, and son Hubert to Harvard . . . Pennsylvania's chief executive has 70,000 jobs at his disposal, and there is no civil service regulation to limit his patronage . . . You could almost imagine Governor Hurley and Mayor Tobin gazing at the visitor wistfully from the speaker's platform at Faneuil Hall.

* * *

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY

Bette Davis planned a visit to Boston, but her studio has limited her vacation to "two weeks only." The Newton actress just finished "Jezebel" . . . Bostonians should have no trouble remembering the telephone number of the World's Fair, which has been given an exchange of its own. The number is World's Fair—6—1212 . . . Part of the Clover Club burlesque routine Saturday was based on the Boston police emergency phone number, Devonshire 1212 . . . And a skit describing the boyhood friendship of Police Commissioner Timilty and former Senator Michael J. Ward was highly amusing.

Wrestler Bob Gregory professes to be puzzled at the American insistence that wrestlers be either comedians or freaks or bad men . . . What the Englishman should also marvel at is that he is the first of the grunt-and-groaners to be publicized with the aid of a beautiful wife. Other grapplers had beautiful fraus, but it's a new slant on the well-known "buildup" . . . And this column wants to be the first to predict that it will be Worlds Champion Bob Gregory.

Her role in "Wine of Choice" is Claudia Morgan's fifth with the Theater Guild. The daughter of Ralph Morgan has played 28 Broadway parts in her eight years on the stage . . . Attorney Charles Shulman leaves today to argue a case before the United States Supreme Court . . . Ed Mullowney, former Brookline assessor, will try again in the coming election. Senator Sybil Holmes will again be his opponent . . . Mike Riley, who co-composed "Music Goes 'Round," has written his first novelty tune since that famous first. It's entitled: "It Looks Like a Cruller, Doughnut!" Honest! . . . The Arthur Payzant testimonial netted nearly $2000.

Jack Goldstein, editor of the Managers' Round Table of the Motion Picture Herald, echoes the sentiments of motion-picture men from coast to coast in an editorial tribute to Managing Editor John A. Malloy of the Boston Evening American. Discussing the "When a Cabot Loves a Kelly" serial, Goldstein comments on the yarn being conceived and directed "along motion-picture lines." Then he writes:

> "Mr. Malloy's attitude toward theaters and motion-pictures is widely-known for its broad-mindedness . . . Jack Malloy is a typical newspaper editor—yet he is distinctly and unequivocally movie-minded."

New Roles For Bette, Howard

'We Are Not Alone' Rights Bought By Warners

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Motion Picture Editor, International News Service

(Copyright, 1938, by International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7—I'll wager you read "We Are Not Alone," James Hilton's 1937 best seller. Just about everybody had it on their list of "must read."

Hal Wallis bought it last week for Bette Davis and Leslie Howard and it's to follow "Comet Over Broadway" which makes it look extremely doubtful if Paramount will be able to borrow Warners' fair haired girl. Just in case you are one of the few who didn't read the Hilton story, it's the tale of a dancer who falls in love with a doctor who befriends her and when the doctor's wife is poisoned, they are convicted and hanged on circumstantial evidence.

Louella O. Parsons

I don't know how this will go in the movies. Maybe Warners will change the ending and at the eleventh hour free the victims from the noose—they do those things in the movies.

* * *

The Greta Garbo-Leopold Stokowski romance took a step nearer the altar last week when Stokowski left secretly on Tuesday for Europe. He confided to several of his closest friends that the Swedish star was waiting for him in her native land. Even the doubting ones who scoffed at our exclusive story a few months ago that Garbo and Stokowski were romancing, admit it is only a matter of time before the elusive star becomes the wife of the far famed orchestra leader. The talk is now that they will be married in Europe.

* * *

Chatter in Hollywood: Paulette Goddard is making another trip to San Francisco to see Charlie Chaplin. The first one was highly unsuccessful and he told her if she didn't wait and make a picture with him that everything was over between them. Paulette has waited for two years for Charlie to write a screen play for her and she feels an opportunity to make a picture with David Selznick is too important to be overlooked.

Her new contract is of five years duration. She says she is not going to any more parties, the night clubs will see her no longer and that she is going to seriously settle down and work hard to do justice to the Scarlett role.

* * *

A line or two: Rumor is hot and heavy that just as soon as Sam Goldwyn and David Selznick get the United Artists deal set the first two big contracts will be handed to Leo McCarey and Greg LaCava as producer-directors . . . And while we're on the subject of rumors, $450,000 is the amount Para is said to have settled on Emanuel Cohen for his release.

If George Raft can get enough time off between the four productions scheduled for him this year, he'll go on a personal appearance tour taking along one of the dancers from Paramount stock company to do the "Raftola" with him.

* * *

Snapshots of Hollywood

JON HALL, who comforted LUPE VELEZ during her matrimonial vacation, lunching with JOHNNIE WEISSMULLER at the Beverly Derby; DICK POWELL'S first official act after adopting JOAN BLONDELL'S son, NORMAN, was to get the youngster a man's haircut; DOROTHY MacKAILL very ill and threatened with pneumonia.

FRANK CAPRA had his eye on CARY GRANT for the role opposite OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND in "You Can't Take It With You" but GEORGE CUKOR saw him first for "Holiday"; the elderly white haired gentleman with JOAN DAVIS on the set was LEROY DAVIS, her father who is visiting his actress daughter from St. Paul. That's all for today. See you tomorrow.

"HOLLYWOOD HOTEL," with Louella Parsons, Benny Goodman and his swing orchestra, Dick Powell and Frances Langford, is now being shown at the Paramount and Fenway.

Irish Screen Epic Opens

"Kathleen," the made-in-Ireland film based on the Irish classic 'Kathleen Mavourneen,' will have its New England premiere at Tremont Temple this evening.

Sally O'Neill plays the title role and Tom Burke is the singing stevedore who befriends her. Sara Allgood, one of the Abbey Players' finest stars, is importantly featured in the picture.

The Irish Counties Associations, in giving their official endorsement and approval of "Kathleen," have broken precedent.

Andrew J. Ryan, president of the Central Council and of the various counties associations, describes "Kathleen," as "the finest Irish film ever produced and one that anyone with a drop of Irish sentiment will be thrilled and entertained to see."

Final Week at Colonial

TOM POWERS HAROLD J. KENNEDY

The Orson Wells-Alex Yokel production of "Caesar" enters its final week at the Colonial tonight. Brutus, played by Tom Powers, is shown above directing the attention of Statillius (Harold J. Kennedy) to a horrifying spectacle in the play.

Harlem Revue Howard's Bill

Cooper's Black and White Revue, with the Harlem Cotton Club's Valda heading the former group of 30 sepia-tinted performers and lovely Georgia Sothern of the Magnolia skin topping the latter group of 30 talented white artists, is the feature at the Old Howard this week.

Georgia Sothern

Assisting Miss Sothern are Jack Diamond and Max Fuhrman, comics and their straight-man, George Murray and Alma Maiben.

Valda, "sepia queen of shake," will be aided by "Spoons" Brown, Big Apple, shag, peckin' and spoon dance expert, Moke and Poke, buck and wing dancers; the six Lindy Hoppers and David, Goliath and Whyte, darktown comedians are others in Valda's company.

Tremont's Films

The Tremont's screen atraction, "Romeo and Juliet," co-starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard, will continue through Wednesday.

Chinese Show At Columbia

Dainty Ai-Ling Foo of the twinkling toes is the star of the Columbia's "Teas of China" stage revue.

Ai-Ling Foo

Other charmers headlined in this week's stage show are Sahara Michele, Egyptian dancer, Louise Stewart, who is being held over a second week by popular request; Connie Fanslau and Romayne.

Featured comedians are Mac Dennison, Art Gardner, Joe Wilton, Herbie Faye, Harry Ryan and "Tramp" McNally. Thirty dancing girls round up a capable cast.

Manager Max Michaels announces that the Columbia now offers four special nights weekly, namely "Garter Night" on Monday with cash prizes for 12 patrons; "Sweetheart Night" on Wednesday, with surprise gifts for women patrons, "Amateur Night" on Friday, with prizes for winning contestants and a new feature, "Carnival Night" on Saturday, with revelry surprises.

Playbill For Week

OPENING TONIGHT

WILBUR—"Wine of Choice," S. N. Behrman's new comedy, featuring Leslie Banks, Claudia Morgan and Alexander Woollcott, begins a limited engagement of two weeks prior to New York opening. Company includes Theodore Newton, Donald Cook, Herbert Yost, Paul Stewart and Akihiko Yoshiwara. Herman Shumlin directed and Lee Simonson designed setting.

CONTINUING

PLYMOUTH—"Yes, My Darling Daughter," the Mark Reed comedy, which is repeating its Broadway success here. Lucile Watson, Violet Heming and Nicholas Joy co-featured. Charles Bryant and Haila Stoddard importantly cast.

COLONIAL — "Caesar," the Orson Welles-Alex Yokel production presented without scenery in two-hour playing time without intermissions and in modern dress, is in its final week and going good. The Boston company, directed by Welles, includes Lawrence Fletcher, Tom Powers, Edmond O'Brien, Herbert Ranson, Morgan Farley, Helen Craig and Muriel Brassler.

SHUBERT—"Murder In The Cathedral," the Gilbert Miller-Ashley Dukes presentation of T. S. Eliot's lyric drama with entire original London cast, costumes and scenery. Robert Speaight, who played central role of Thomas a Becket in London's Mercury Theater for record run of 500 performances, heads cast. E. Martin Browne, who directed play, also in cast. Final week.

MOVIE CLOCK

BEACON—"Hideaway"; 11:25, 2:20, 5:15, 8:10.

BOWDOIN—"Wells Fargo"; 9:11, 12:54, 4:37, 8:20.

COLUMBIA—Screen Show; 11:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m.

FENWAY — "Hollywood Hotel"; 12:45, 3:45, 6:45, 9:40.

FINE ARTS—"Monastery"; 2:50, 5:45, 8:40.

GAYETY—"It's All Yours"; 11:30, 2:50, 6:10.

HOWARD—"Dreaming Lips"; 9:30, 5:33.

HUB—"Boy of the Street"; 10:45, 1:40, 4:25, 7:20, 10:10.

KEITH MEMORIAL—"Happy Landings"; 9:15, 11:56, 10:37, 5:18, 7:59, 10:40.

LOEW'S ORPHEUM—"Last Gangster"; 10:00, 1:05, 4:05, 7:30, 10:30.

LOEW'S STATE—"Last Gangster"; 1:05, 4:05, 7:30, 10:30.

METROPOLITAN — "The Buccaneer"; 10:20, 1:10, 4:00, 6:50, 9:40.

MODERN — "Tovarich"; 10:00, 12:50, 3:40, 6:30, 9:20.

NEWSREEL—Continuous Show, 12 till midnight.

OLYMPIA—"True Confession"; 10:30, 1:15, 4:05, 6:50, 9:35.

PARAMOUNT—"Hollywood Hotel"; 9:10, 12:10, 3:10, 6:10, 9:10.

RKO-BOSTON—"International Settlement"; 11:10, 1:55, 4:20, 7:15, 10:05.

REPERTORY & SQUARE—"Modern Times"; continuous 12:30 to 11 p. m.

SCOLLAY — "Tovarich"; 10:55, 1:35, 4:15, 6:50, 9:40.

SOUTH STATION—"Candid Cameraman"; continuous 9:30 to 11:30.

STRAND (Back Bay)—"Madame X"; 1:00, 3:50, 6:50, 9:45.

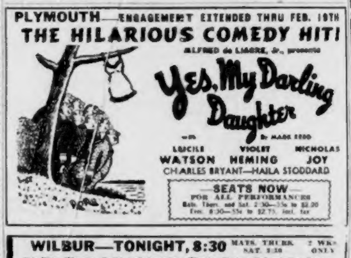
TREMONT—"Romeo and Juliet"; continuous 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

TREMONT TEMPLE—"Kathleen"; 12:00, 2:05, 4:10, 6:15, 8:20.

UPTOWN—"Damsel In Distress"; 12:45, 3:50, 7:10, 10:10.

'It's All Yours' At New Gayety

Madeleine Carroll and Francis Lederer, in the romantic comedy film production, "It's All Yours," adorn the New Gayety screen today and through Wednesday. The cofeature is "Saturday's Heroes."



Amusements

PLYMOUTH—ENGAGEMENT EXTENDED THRU FEB. 19TH
THE HILARIOUS COMEDY HIT!
ALFRED de LIAGRE, Jr., presents
Yes, My Darling Daughter
with — by MARK REED
LUCILE WATSON VIOLET HEMING NICHOLAS JOY
CHARLES BRYANT—HAILA STODDARD
SEATS NOW FOR ALL PERFORMANCES
Mats. Thurs. and Sat. 2:30—55c to $2.20
Eves. 8:30—55c to $2.75, incl. tax

WILBUR—TONIGHT, 8:30 MATS. THURS. SAT. 2:30 2 WKS ONLY
6th Play, Theatre Guild and American Theatre Society Subscription Season
THE THEATRE GUILD, INC., Presents
S. N. BEHRMAN'S NEW COMEDY
"WINE OF CHOICE"
with
LESLIE BANKS CLAUDIA MORGAN
ALEXANDER WOOLLCOTT
A Distinguished Cast, Including
THEODORE NEWTON DONALD COOK
HERBERT YOST PAUL STEWART
Directed by Herman Shumlin Setting by Lee Simonson
Prices: Eve. $1.10, $1.65, $2.20, $2.75. Thurs. & Sat. Matinees: $1.10, $1.65, $2.20 Tax incl.

SHUBERT—LAST 8 TIMES—MATS. WED. & SAT.
"BOSTON IS HONORED BY SUCH A PLAY ONCE IN A LIFETIME"—Traveler.
Gilbert Miller and Ashley Dukes present
T. S. Eliot's play
MURDER IN THE CATHEDRAL with Original London Company after 600 English performances
Directed by E. MARTIN BROWNE
ROBERT SPEAIGHT as Thomas a Becket.
"A RARE AND BEAUTIFUL PLAY, IMAGINATIVELY STAGED AND ABLY ACTED."—Post
GOOD SEATS REMAIN FOR MOST PERFORMANCES
EVES.: 55c, 85c, 1.10, 1.65, 2.20, 2.75 MATS.: 55c, 85c, 1.10, 1.65, 2.20

COLONIAL | WEEK OF FEB. 7th-12th | LAST WEEK
NIGHTS AT 8:45 P. M. MATINEES WEDNESDAY & SATURDAY AT 2:45 P. M.
ORSON WELLES' MODERN PRODUCTION OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE'S JULIUS CAESAR
WITH TOM POWERS
Herbert Ranson ★ Lawrence Fletcher ★ Edmond O'Brien ★ Morgan Farley
Helen Craig ★ Muriel Brassler
"Should be seen not once but often"—Elinor Hughes, Herald
"A smashing success born of a brilliant idea"—Robt. E. Rogers, American
"An astonishing spectacle—most extraordinary"—Elliot Norton, Post
THRILLING—NEW—SPECTACULAR—DON'T MISS IT
NIGHTS $2.75—$2.20—$1.65—$1.10—55c. SAT. MAT. 55c to $2.20
SPECIAL MATINEE WEDNESDAY 55c to $1.65

Amusements

LOEWS STATE ORPHEUM
2 M-G-M HITS! Thrills Galore! Edward G. ROBINSON THE LAST GANGSTER
PLUS 2ND FEATURE "YOU'RE ONLY YOUNG ONCE"
Starts FRI. GRACE MOORE "I'll Take Romance" MYRNA LOY in "MANPROOF"

NEW ENGLAND PREMIERE
MON. FEB. 7 at 12 noon
ALL IRISH Singing and Dancing Film Masterpiece
"KATHLEEN"
Adapted from Kathleen Mavourneen
TOM BURKE SALLY O'NEIL JACK DALY SARA ALLGOOD and "The IRISH PLAYERS"
TREMONT TEMPLE CONTINUOUS PERFS

HUB Wash. at Boylston 2—BIG HITS—2
JACKIE COOPER in his newest and Greatest Picture "BOY OF THE STREETS"
DEANNA DURBIN Golden-Voiced Songbird in "3 SMART GIRLS"

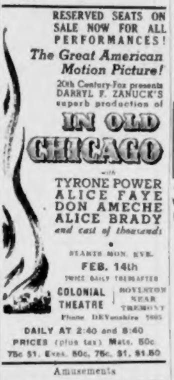
STRAND 275 HUNTINGTON AVE. COMMONWEALTH 4000.
"MADAME X"
with GLADYS GEORGE—WARREN WILLIAM
"DANGER! LOVE AT WORK"
JACK HALEY

15¢ NEW GAYETY 25¢
FRANCIS LEDERER "IT'S ALL YOURS" MADELINE CARROLL
Marian Marsh "SATURDAY'S HEROES"

NEWSREEL THEATRE
4 NEWSREELS 4

SQUARE & REPERTORY
CHARLIE CHAPLIN "MODERN TIMES" VICTOR MOORE "WE'RE ON THE JURY"

TREMONT 15¢
ERROL FLYNN "GREEN LIGHT" NORMA SHEARER "ROMEO & JULIET"
THURS.—GARBO + TAYLOR "CAMILLE"



RESERVED SEATS ON SALE NOW FOR ALL PERFORMANCES!
The Great American Motion Picture!
20th Century-Fox presents DARRYL F. ZANUCK'S superb production of
IN OLD CHICAGO
with
TYRONE POWER
ALICE FAYE
DON AMECHE
ALICE BRADY
and cast of thousands
STARTS MON. EVE. FEB. 14th
TWICE DAILY THEREAFTER
COLONIAL THEATRE BOYLSTON NEAR TREMONT
Phone DEVonshire 5005
DAILY AT 2:40 and 8:40
PRICES (plus tax) Mats. 50c 75c $1. Eves. 50c, 75c, $1, $1.50

Amusements

METROPOLITAN NOW
Cecil B. DeMille PRODUCTION
"THE BUCCANEER"
★ FREDRIC MARCH ★
FRANCISKA GAAL AKIM TAMIROFF
Stage Gay, Glittering Revue "PIRATES ON PARADE"

PARAMOUNT and FENWAY
BENNY GOODMAN and BAND
"HOLLYWOOD HOTEL"

SCOLLAY-MODERN
Claudette COLBERT-Charles BOYER
"TOVARICH"

WASH ST. OLYMPIA
Carole Lombard "TRUE CONFESSION" Fred MacMurray
JANE WITHERS "45 Fathers"

UPTOWN
FRED ASTAIRE GEORGE BURNS GRACIE ALLEN
"A DAMSEL IN DISTRESS"
LEE TRACY "Crashing Hollywood"

BOWDOIN POPEYE COMEDY CARTOON LATEST FIRST RUN NEWS
"WELLS FARGO," Joel McCrea-Bob Burns-Frances Dee
"She's Got Everything," Gene Raymond-Ann Sothern
"Damsel in Distress" "Night Club Scandal"

Amusements

HURRY KEITH MEMORIAL 2nd and FINAL WEEK!
ON THE SCREEN SONJA HENIE DON AMECHE Happy Landing and this ALL-NEW STAGE SHOW MARJORIE GAINSWORTH COOKIE BOWERS CHUCK & CHUCKLES OTHER STAR ACTS
THURSDAY The Greatest Picture of This or Any Other Year! WALT DISNEY'S Full-Length Feature—In Color SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS

now RKO BOSTON 2 FIRST RUN FEATURES
INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT
Dolores DEL RIO - George SANDERS - June LANG 25¢
also 'DOUBLE DANGER' PRESTON FOSTER WHITNEY BOURNE

PHONE CAP 1565 MORNING PRICES 25 and 35 Cents
OLD HOWARD ALWAYS SOMETHING DOING 9:30 A.M. TO 11 P.M.
3 COMPLETE SHOWS DAILY at 12 (NOON)—2:30 and 8:30 P.M.
The BIGGEST BURLESQUE PRODUCTION EVER STAGED IN BOSTON!
THE GIGANTIC AND SPECTACULAR!
COOPER'S BLACK and WHITE REVUE
30 WHITE ARTISTS 60 PEOPLE 30 BLACK STARS
FASTEST RIOT REVUE EVER PRODUCED ● ONE HUNDRED MILE-AN-HOUR SPEED SHOW
GEORGIA SOTHERN The Human Dynamo
JACK DIAMOND, ALMA MAIBEN, MAX FUHRMAN, Winnie Garrett, Ethel Dresser, George Murray, Low Benny, Dudley Douglas, Alice Kittridge, Kay and Betty Wadsworth
VALDA Harlem's Cotton Club Protege, The Sepia Queen of Shake
David & Goliath, Spoons Brown, Moke & Poke, Whytte, Naomi Price, Shag & Lazy, 3 Darktown Dandies, Cooper & Rack, 6 Lindy Hoppers
A Chorus of 36 Ethiopian Beauties & Glorified Girlies
MIDNIGHT SHOW EVERY FRIDAY 11:30 P. M.—NEXT WEEK—"NADJA"

WASH. ST. near BROADWAY
COLUMBIA Theatre ★★ BURLESQUE HUB. 8846
THE QUEEN OF THE ORIENT
AI-LING FOO in "TEAS OF CHINA"
with Beautiful Settings, Gorgeous Girls and a Million Laughs.
WITH OUR NEW COMEDIANS HERBIE FAYE—ART GARDNER
EXTRA! LOUISE STEWART with cast of 65
MATS. 25¢ 35¢
EVES. ALL SEATS RESERVED
TWO — 4 HOUR SHOWS DAILY

Today AT YOUR Neighborhood Theatre

ARLINGTON
REGENT ARL. 1197 MAT. 2—EVE. 7:45 "Lives of a Bengal Lancer"—Gary Cooper-F. Tone "IT'S ALL YOURS"—Madeleine Carroll-F. Lederer

BOSTON
SOUTH STATION PETE SMITH SHOWS YOU candid cameramen Robt. BENCHLEY "HOW TO START THE DAY" A NEW FLOYD GIBBONS THRILLER 2½ HOURS SHORT SUBJECTS • 3 NEWSREELS

BROOKLINE
COOLIDGE CORNER JACKIE COOPER "BOY OF THE STREETS" MANHATTAN MERRY-GO-ROUND PHIL REGAN LEO CARRILLO ANN DVORAK GENE AUTRY

BROOKLINE VILLAGE
BROOKLINE Cont. 2 to 11 TEL. LON 4000 NAVY BLUE and GOLD ROBERT YOUNG LIONEL BARRYMORE JAMES STEWART ALSO "LOVE FROM A STRANGER"

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY HARVARD SQ. KIR. 4580 FRIEDA INESCOURT-WALTER ABEL "PORTIA ON TRIAL" "MANHATTAN MERRY-GO-ROUND" WEDNESDAY—REVIEW DAY BURGESS MEREDITH—"WINTERSET" JOAN CRAWFORD—"DANCING LADY"

DURRELL 820 MASS. AVENUE MAT. 2—EVE. 7:45 "CONFESSION"—Kay Francis-Ian Hunter "TRAPPED BY G-MEN"—Wynne Gibson-Jack Holt

CAMBRIDGE AND JAM. PLAIN
PORTER & MADISON Dixie Dunbar-A. Martin "SING & BE HAPPY" "BORN RECKLESS" Ladies' Bake-in-Ware Free IT'S 100 TONITE! Ronald Colman "PRISONER OF ZENDA" "WILD AND WOOLLY"

CHARLESTOWN
THOMPSON SQUARE THEATRE JANE WITHERS "45 FATHERS" Lily Pons-Jack Oakie "HITTING A NEW HIGH"

DORCHESTER
DORCHESTER GEN. 9700 MARCH OF TIME "Manhattan Merry-Go-Round"—Phil Regan-Ann Dvorak—Also—"Youth on Parole"—Marian Marsh

HAMILTON GEN. 8793 MAT. 15c-EVES. 25c PAUL MUNI as "EMILE ZOLA" "PRESCRIPTION FOR ROMANCE"—Mischa Auer

MAGNET GEN. 2200 CONTINUOUS 1 TO 11:30 "GREAT GARRICK"-Brian Aherne-O. de Havilland "Wine, Women & Horses"-B. MacLane-Ann Sheridan

EVERETT
CAPITOL MATINEE 15c EVE. 15c & 25c WM. POWELL-MYRNA LOY "Double Wedding" "WEST OF SHANGHAI"

PARK MAT 1:30 EVE. 7:30 Edward Arnold-Shirley Ross "BLOSSOMS ON BROADWAY" Dorothy Lamour-Claire Trevor "BIG TOWN GIRL"

FOR INFORMATION CONCERNING ADVERTISING IN THIS DIRECTORY PHONE MR. PLATT—LIB. 4000

MALDEN
GRANADA Joel McCrea—Bob Burns—Frances Dee "WELLS FARGO" JANE WITHERS in "45 FATHERS"

STRAND MAL. 0212 Free Parking Ian Hunter-Kenney Baker—"52nd STREET" PRESTON FOSTER—"WESTLAND CASE"

MAPLEWOOD MAL. 0212 Mat. 1:45-Eve. 7:15 "THE BARRIER"—Leo Carrillo-Jean Parker "OVER THE GOAL"—June Travis-William Harrigan

ORPHEUM MAL. 0212 MAT. 1:45-EVE. 7:15 Dick Powell-Fred Waring—"VARSITY SHOW" Tom Brown—"MAN WHO CRIED WOLF"

AUDITORIUM Cont. 1:30 to 11 "SOULS AT SEA" with Gary Cooper and Geo. Raft, also "Gay Desperado"

MATTAPAN SQ. AND MEDFORD
MATTAPAN - MEDFORD Wayne Morris-Pat O'Brien "SUBMARINE D-1" "Merry-Go-Round of '38" "Counsel for Crime" "My Dear Miss Aldrich"

MEDFORD
FELLSWAY WEEK NITES CONT. 6.45-11 Loretta Young-Tyrone Power-"SECOND HONEYMOON" Leo Carrillo-Jean Parker—"THE BARRIER"

MELROSE
MELROSE MEL. 0800 MAT. 1:30-EVE. 7:30 "SECOND HONEYMOON"-Tyrone Power-Loretta Young "Blossoms on Broadway"-Edw. Arnold-Marsh of Time

NORTH STATION
LANCASTER LAF. 4050 "100 MEN & A GIRL"—DEANNA DURBIN "Lancer of Frightened Men"—Walter Connolly

REVERE
BOULEVARD AND REVERE Carole Lombard-F. MacMurray 'True Confession' "TROUBLE AT MIDNIGHT" Boulevard—Glassware to Ladies

ROXBURY
"JAMES CAGNEY "SOMETHING TO SING ABOUT" "WESTLAND CASE"

SOMERVILLE
CAPITOL BALL SQ. CENTRAL Tyrone POWER ★ Loretta YOUNG "2nd Honeymoon" "DANGER PATROL" Jean Parker-Leo Carrillo "THE BARRIER" Jack Oakie-Ida Lupino "Fight for Your Lady"

DAVIS SQ. SOM. 2290 MAT. 2—EVE. 8 "THE ROAD BACK"—John King "BLONDE TROUBLE"—Johnny Downs

TEELE SQ. SOMERVILLE BROADWAY Wendy Barrie-Kent Taylor "Prescription for Romance" Lila Lee-Noel Madison "NATION AFLAME" Teele Square Theatre Golden Harvest Chinaware

SOUTH END
NATIONAL HAN. 2880 PARLAY NITE John Litel in "ALCATRAZ ISLAND" Claire Trevor in "ONE MILE FROM HEAVEN"

WATERTOWN
COOLIDGE MID. 3700 GOLDEN WHEAT CHINA "AWFUL TRUTH"—Dunne-Grant-Bellamy "DANGEROUSLY YOURS"—March of Time

WATERTOWN SQ. MID. 0029 SHIRLEY TEMPLE in "HEIDI" Robert Wilcox in "MAN IN BLUE"

WINTHROP AND DEDHAM
WINTHROP STATE COMMUNITY Lily Pons-Jack Oakie "Hitting a New High" "Counsel for Crime" Greta Garbo-Chas. Boyer "CONQUEST" "HIGH FLYER"

GIVE BE A GOOD NEIGHBOR
Greater Boston's 1938 COMMUNITY FUND
JANUARY 24 TO FEBRUARY 9

ALLSTON
CAPITOL ALLSTON MAT. 2-EVE. 8 Fred Astaire-Burns&Allen "A Damsel in Distress" C. Lombard-F. M'Murray "A TRUE CONFESSION" GLASSWARE TODAY G. Raymond-Ann Sothern "She's Got Everything" John Barrymore "NIGHT CLUB SCANDAL"

BRIGHTON and NEWTON
EGYPTIAN L. Barrymore-J. Stewart "NAVY BLUE & GOLD" Joan Blondell-H. Bogart "Stand-In" PARAMOUNT Cont. 2-8 J. MacDonald-Allan Jones in "THE FIREFLY" June Travis-Donald Bogue "LOVE IS ON THE AIR"

CAMBRIDGE
CENTRAL SQ. HARVARD TRO. 7900 KIR. 4663 JACKIE COOPER "Boy of the Streets" Carole Lombard "TRUE CONFESSION" Lew Ayres-Mary Carlisle "HOLD 'EM NAVY"

DORCHESTER
CODMAN FRANKLIN JEANETTE MacDONALD "FIREFLY" June Travis—"LOVE IS ON THE AIR"

FIELDS COR. MORTON KATHARINE HEPBURN GINGER ROGERS "STAGE DOOR" PAT O'BRIEN WAYNE MORRIS "SUBMARINE D-1"

HYDE PARK
FAIRMOUNT HYDE PARK P. O'Brien-Geo. Brent "SUBMARINE D-1" E. Farrell-B. McLane "Adventurous Blonde" Bing Crosby-Shirley Ross "WAIKIKI WEDDING" E. Flynn-Joan Blondell "The Perfect Specimen"

JAMAICA PL'N—EGLESTON SQ.
JAMAICA EGLESTON M. Rooney-Judy Garland "THOROUGHBREDS DON'T CRY" and "52nd STREET" Pat O'Brien-Geo. Brent "SUBMARINE D-1" G. Rogers-K. Hepburn "STAGE DOOR"

MATTAPAN and DORCHESTER
STRAND ORIENTAL Fred MacMurray 'True Confession' Carole Lombard JANE WITHERS—"45 FATHERS"

ROSLINDALE and ROXBURY
RIALTO SHAWMUT Ginger Rogers "STAGE DOOR" Katharine Hepburn Pat O'Brien "SUBMARINE D-1" George Brent

ROXBURY
RIVOLI DUDLEY Lombard-MacMurray "True Confession" JANE WITHERS "45 FATHERS" STAGE DOOR SUBMARINE D-1

ROXBURY—ROXBURY CROSSING
WARREN CRITERION RAY MILLAND "EBB TIDE" FRANCES FARMER CLAIRE TREVOR "BIG TOWN GIRL" DONALD WOODS

SOMERVILLE and WALTHAM
STRAND-EMBASSY Ronald Colman "PRISONER OF ZENDA" Wendy Barrie-Kent Taylor "A GIRL WITH IDEAS" F. M'Murray-C. Lombard "True Confession" JANE WITHERS "45 FATHERS"

Betty Alden on Beacon Hill

Beulah Washburn Becomes Bride in New York

By BETTY ALDEN

EACH YEAR when the schedule of debutante affairs begins to thin out and the deb season draws to a close . . . gossips and social observers begin to speculate on which one of the season's crop will be the first to become engaged . . .

And after that comes another period of waiting and speculation before some debutante gains the distinction of being the first bride . . .

MRS. VINCENT LAMB

This year there will be no watchful waiting . . . for the past week-end has brought the answer to both questions . . .

Saturday evening we mentioned that Mrs. G. Hector Petri of Brookline was announcing the engagement of her daughter, Ellanor, to Elliott Warren Robbins . . . which makes Ellanor the first deb to announce her betrothal . . .

And now comes the news that Beulah Washburn, a Worcester girl, who was included on the season's Boston deb list, was married quietly in New York Friday afternoon to Charles B. Swartwood of Corning, New York . . .

Beulah is the daughter of Mrs. McClellan Washburn of Worcester and Colonel Slater Washburn of Cambridge . . .

The wedding took place in the Church of the Transfiguration, Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock . . . with only a few relatives of the bridal couple present . . . Mrs. McClellan and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William W. Sinclaire of Corning, both witnessed the ceremony . . .

Owing to the simplicity of the occasion there were no bridal attendants and no formal reception . . .

The bride attended Miss Porter's School in Farmington, Ct., and the French School in New York . . . When she made her debut in December at an elaborate ball given in Worcester by her mother, Mr. Swartwood was an usher . . . Earlier in the season her grandmother, Mrs. Charles G. Washburn, gave a large tea for her . . . Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Bullock . . .

The bridegroom is the son of the late Judge and Mrs. Charles B. Swartwood . . . He attended the Fessenden School in West Newton and Phillips Academy, Andover . . . He is a member of the junior class at Princeton where he belongs to the Ivy Club . . .

* * *

Ellanor Petri Honored at Tea

MRS. PETRI gave a tea yesterday afternoon in honor of Ellanor and her future bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. Elliott Robbins of Brookline . . .

Ellanor is a member of the Junior League and Vincent Club and her fiance graduated from Harvard with the class of 1933 . . . He is a member of the Harvard Club and is in the advertising business in Boston . . .

* * *

Parishioners of Emmanuel Church will have the novel experience this afternoon of strolling about the Parish house, sipping tea and admiring all sorts of objets d'art which are on exhibition there . . .

The exhibition is novel in that it represents the works of all the gifted and talented members of Emmanuel . . . It is a two-week affair and today, the beginning of the second week has been chosen as an appropriate time for a tea in honor of the exhibitors . . .

Miss Katharine Lane, noted sculptor, has a number of entries . . . Mrs. Alexander Moffat's work is represented . . . water colors by Laura Hills are hanging cheek by jowl with the works of other well known and artistic parishioners . . . Mr. Hollis French is another exhibitor. . . .

* * *

Taking a leave of absence from her successful business venture, which she started last autumn, Mrs. Vincent Lamb of Cambridge is embarking very soon on a long motor trip to the Southwest . . . Her travelling companion will be Molly Nesmith of Andover . . . and their destination is Tucson, Arizona, where Mrs. Lamb's sister, Mrs. Joanne Shaw Parker, has been residing since her visit to Reno a year ago . . .

* * *

Debs Leave Soon for Southern Trips

CORNELIA MENARD AND BARBARA SALT are two of the lucky debs who will soon be wriggling their toes in the warm sands of a sunny Florida beach . . . Corneila is leaving next Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Menard, who will be away a couple of months . . .

As a sort of farewell party for Cornelia, Barbara Salt and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Salt, are giving a dinner party this evening at the Algonquin Club . . . After dinner, they will attend Huntington Hardwick's lecture and movies on wild life in the Galapagos Islands . . .

Miss Salt will embark later in the month for a trip to Florida where she will visit her grandparents . . .

* * *

Glimpsed about town . . . Margaret Barney Slayman and William Hallowell conversing thoughtfully as they strolled in intermission at Kirsten Flagstad's concert yesterday afternoon . . . Howard Slayman has been studying music in Paris this winter . . . Ginny Whelan, getting a better perspective of the dancers at the Towne Club through a pair of white rimmed sunglasses . . . which were quite incongruous with her formal wine velvet gown . . . Mrs. Carl Keller of Cohasset, presiding at a table full of guests one noon day recently at the Algonquin club . . . and telling them that she is soon to move her residence from Cohasset to Peterborough, N. H. . . . Cissy Cochrane examining her picture in Harper's Bazaar and the caption which calls her Number One Glamour Girl of the season's debs . . . The picture appears in a series showing society skaters at The Country Club . . . Alice Burrage, Phyllis Forbes, Eleanor Swift, Olivia Ames and Mary Eliot are just a few of the attractive girls pictured in action on the skating rink . . .

North Shoreite Takes New Yorker as Bride

International News Photograph Service

MR. AND MRS. RANDOLPH APPLETON KIDDER as they left St. Bartholomew's Church in New York following their marriage Saturday afternoon in one of the most fashionable weddings of the season. The bride, Dorothy Douglas Robinson, is the daughter of Mrs. Elbridge Gerry Chadwick and Monroe Douglas Robinson. Her mother was the former Dorothy Jordan, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eben Jordan of Boston. Mr. Kidder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vincent Kidder of Beverly Farms. After a honeymoon, they will make their home in Washington.

Rosemary Shea Plans Bridal

Lincoln's Birthday has been chosen by Rosemary Shea of Brighton as the day to become the bride of Robert Hurley of Wakefield.

Saturday's wedding will be a quiet affair, taking place in early afternoon at Our Lady of Presentation Church. Agatha Shinnick of Winchester will be the bride's only attendant with Frederick Hurley serving as his brother's best man.

Following a small reception, the couple will leave on a trip to Lake Placid.

Miss Shea, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shea of Brighton, was graduated from Michaud School. Mr. Hurley was graduated from Bowdoin. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Hurley of Wakefield.

Miss Plimpton Engaged

Announcement has been made by Mr and Mrs. Harold Plimpton of Chestnut Hill, of the engagement of their daughter, Frederica, to Davis Clapp Drinkwater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Drinkwater of Braintree and Cohasset.

The prospective bride graduated from the Lee School in 1935 and is a sister of Mary Burr Plimpton, whose engagement to William W. Paxton of Montclair, N. J., was recently announced.

Mr Drinkwater prepared for college at Thayer and Milton Academies and is a graduate of Harvard with the class of 1935. His sisters are Mrs. William Ball Rice of Hingham and Mrs. Edward G. Pinkerton of Dedham.

No plans have been announced for the wedding.

Ryan-Pearson Ceremony

Of Boston interest are the Ryan-Pearson nuptials, to be solemnized on Saturday at St. Alphonsus Church in New York city, when Herbert Ryan of Boston weds Virginia Pearson of Plainfield, N. J. A small reception will take place at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Both Mr and Mrs. Arthur Ryan of West Roxbury are going on to serve at the wedding, Mrs. Ryan as matron of honor and Mr. Ryan will be his brother's best man.

Among the ushers will be Francis J. Ryan, brother of the groom, Alfred E. McGrath of New York, Thomas E. Tucker, Jr., of Newton Center, Arthur Pearson of Plainfield, N. J., and Edgar McGraw of New York.

Miss Pearson was graduated from the Flower Hospital in New York city. Mr. Ryan, the son of Mrs. Daniel Ryan of Boston, received his degree from Harvard with the class of '29.

PROFESSOR ROBERT E. ROGERS, the scholar's viewpoint expressed every day (except Saturdays) in his column, "This Is Life," in the Boston American.

Junior Philomatheia Conducts Dance Friday

No lacy billet-doux or saccharine sentiments for the young-set's Valentine greetings!

Gay supper dances with considerable waltzing and swinging are what they've resorted to as a means of sentimental expression. And their club funds will benefit accordingly.

A gay frilled cavalier bursting through a red heart announces the Junior Philomatheia supper dance Friday evening at the clubhouse.

Bright-colored tissue paper and bleeding hearts will be used by the juniors in decorating the Chalet. Helen Bulger of South Boston, chairman,and a score of active com chairman, and a score of active committee workers have planned the unusual evening.

Elizabeth Chisholm, who's chairman of the reception, will be assisted by members of the executive board and a group of the club's most prominent workers, Dorothy Winslow Crannell, Sue Dargin, Frances O'Halloran, Mary Bannan, Eleanor Bevan and Mary Clarissa McCarthy.

Also helping with arrangements are Rosamond Adams, Florence Garrity, Katherine Coady, Dorothy Bevan and Catherine Towle.

Paul Fitzgerald heads the group of ushers being directed by Lois McCarthy. Other members of the usher corps are Henry Guerke, William Coogan, Jr., Charles Kiesel, Jr., Dr. James Monahan and Richard Viano.

* * *

Dancers' Club To Celebrate

Equally entertaining are the plans the Boston Junior Aid League is making for its celebration of Cupid's Day.

With the charity fund benefitting from the event, the party's awaited with great interest by members of the charity organization.

Grace McGilvary of Brighton and Peg Reid of Dorchester are directing the evening's plans. Dorothy O'Connor, president of the league, is overseer.

Appropriate place cards are being done by a trio of the club's talented members—Mary McDevitt, Marion Burton and Gwen McGinnis, while ingenuous favors are being chosen by Mary O'Connell, Dorothy Mulloney, Gladys Sylvester and Margaret Monahan.

Patron committee consists of Evelyn Coyle, Dorothy Galvin and Ursule Dixon, while an energetic group—Frances McArthur, Mary Lee, Betty Nagle and Rita Walsh—are in charge of the ticket sale. Publicity committee consists of Carmelita Murphy, Ruth Welch and Ann Lynch.

Rosamond Fuller To Wed

Dr. Charles Benjamin Fuller of Waltham has announced the engagement of his daughter, Rosamond Fuller, to David Britton Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Britton Little of Concord.

Miss Fuller, whose mother was the late Alice Elliot Fuller, graduated from the Chapel Hill School and Simmons College, and studied at the Institute of Art and Archaeology at the Sorbonne in Paris.

Mr. Little prepared for college at St. Paul's School in Concord, N. H., and attended Harvard with the class of 1935. He is a member of the Hasty Pudding-Institute of 1770, and the Speakers Club. He is now associated with the Museum of Fine Arts.

No wedding plans have been announced.

Pupils to Give Hospital Show

Inmates of the State Hospital, Mattapan, will be entertained tomorrow night by pupils of the Gertrude Dolan Studios, Roxbury.

Features will include a Big Apple exhibition and a military number by the Sixteen G-Girls.

Harry McGowan, known in vaudeville days as "The Man of a Thousand Songs," is master of ceremonies, and Miss Marion Payne of the Boston Women Organists' Club, musical director.

Among those appearing will be Helen Hergt, Marjorie Ann and Ruth Whelton, Virginia Lee, Jerry Marenghi, Peggy Doherty, Jackie and Barbara Condon, Louise Totten, Laura O'Connor, Dot Brown, Leila Jackson, Isabel Taylor, Louise Lucille, Rita Irwin and Dot Bell.

Others are Alibrandi, Mary and Frances Griffin, Irene Cashman, Marjorie Johnson, Gertrude Manning, Carmella Wilkins, Genevieve and Leonard Tocci, Ruth McBain, Betty Varley, Marie Keane, Evelyn Ferguson, Louise Barry and Margaret O'Toole.

Society Notes

MRS. FITZWILLIAM SARGENT of Boston, who has appeared on the legitimate stage in a number of successful plays, will be among the first nighters at the Wilbur this evening when the Theater Guild presents its final play of the season. Tonight's play is "Wine of Choice," and among the other prominent first nighters will be Mr. Fitzwilliam Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Nickerson of Dedham, Miss Elizabeth Leland, Mrs. Harold Russell, Mrs. Talbot Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nichols, Mrs. James Lawrence, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. H. Frederick Lesh.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. HENRY LOWELL MASON spent the week-end in New York where they were guests at the Biltmore.

Sisters at Engagement Party

Boston Evening American Photo

MARGARET MULLEN EILEEN MULLEN FRANCES MULLEN

MARGARET MULLEN, Eileen Mullen and Frances Mullen, sisters of South Boston, snapped at an engagement party at the Copley-Plaza when Eileen's betrothal to Vincent Paul Connors, was announced. Both are teachers in Boston schools. Margaret Mullen is to be her sister's maid of honor at the ceremony next summer.

Sarah Winslow Joins Brides In Exeter

Francis E. Winslows' Daughter Weds Harvard Grad

At a simple wedding ceremony performed in Exeter, N. H., at eight o'clock Saturday evening, Sarah Goodridge Winslow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Everett Winslow of Exeter, became the bride of Henry Hamilton Bissell, also of Exeter.

The Rev. Paul T. Martin performed the ceremony in the Winslows' Front street home, which was decorated for the occasion with a profusion of greens and flowers.

SISTER HONOR MAID

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with a short veil falling from a cap of tulle and orange blossoms. Her arm bouquet was of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Mary Winslow, who was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, wore a gown of hyacinth blue satin and carried a large bouquet of yellow and white freesia, small yellow narcissi, and maiden-hair fern.

Raymond A. Mott of South Lancaster was Mr. Bissell's best man and there were no ushers.

At the reception, Mrs. Bissell and Mrs. Winslow received with their son and daughter. Mrs. Bissell wore black accented with a corsage of gardenias, while Mrs. Winslow wore old rose chiffon with a corsage of yellow roses and blue delphinium.

MEMBER OF FACULTY

After their honeymoon trip, Mr. Bissell and his bride will live in Exeter, N. H., where he is a member of the faculty at Phillips Exeter Academy.

The bride is a graduate of Skidmore College class of '32. Mr. Bissell, who is the son of Mrs. Henry Gaston Bissell of Cambridge, prepared for college at Exeter Academy and graduated from Harvard with the class of 1932. He is a member of the Hasty Pudding-Institute of 1770, the Owl and the Varsity clubs.

Club Calendar

THIS EVENING

6:45 p. m.—Newton Center Woman's Club, at the clubhouse, international dinner.

7:30 p. m.—Taunton Junior Woman's Club, at the clubhouse, guest meeting; South End Women's Club, at 20 Union park, meeting and movies; Auburndale Woman's Club, in Bragdon Hall, Lasell College, lecture; Waban Junior Woman's Club, in the library, home talent play; Brookline Junior Woman's Club, at the home of Mrs. James A. Came, lecture.

TOMORROW

10:00 a. m.—Auburndale Review Club, at the home of Mrs. F. F. Davidson, meeting.

10:15 a. m.—Wellesley Hills Woman's Club, at the Parish house, lecture.

10:30 a. m.—Newton Center Woman's Club, at the clubhouse, lecture.

12:30 p. m.—Dorchester Woman's Club, at the clubhouse, luncheon and meeting.

1:30 p. m.—Woman's Club of Lynn, at the clubhouse, President's day program.

2:00 p. m.—Quincy Women's Club, at the clubhouse, lecture; Kensington Park Study Club, at the home of Mrs. Marcus L. Sorenson, debate; Jamaica Plain Tuesday Club, in the Loring Greenough House, bridge party; New England Hotel Women's Relief Association, Hotel Vendome, charity fashion show, tea and bridge.

2:30 p. m.—Stoneham Woman's Club, in Legion hall, home talent play; Professional Women's Club, Hotel Statler, one-act play.

7:30 p. m.—Newton Center Junior Woman's Club, at the clubhouse, bridge party.

8:00 p. m.—Newton Highlands Junior Woman's Club, in the Workshop, lecture; Zonta Club of Boston, at 264 Boylston street, Mexican program; Auburndale Woman's Club, at the clubhouse, meeting; Waltham Junior Woman's Club, in the Leonard House, Universalist Church, guest night and white elephant sale.

WEDNESDAY

10:00 a. m. Newton Social Science Club, in Channing Church, lecture.

10:45 a. m.—Wednesday Morning Club, Hotel Somerset, meeting and lecture.

2:00 p. m. Belmont Woman's Club, in the town hall, meeting and entertainment.

2:30 p. m. Melrose Highlands Woman's Club, in Corinthian Hall, home talent play; Dedham Woman's Club, in the Masonic Temple, musicale; Newtonville Woman's Club, at the clubhouse, lecture.

7:30 p. m. Women's Auxiliary to the Massachusetts Association of Optometrists, in the clubroom, monthly meeting.

8:15 p. m. Milton Woman's Club, at the clubhouse, play.

THURSDAY

10:30 a. m. Newton Center Woman's Club, at the clubhouse, all-day school of politics. Wellesley Hills Woman's Club, in the Unitarian parish house, meeting.

12:00 m. Parliamentary Law Club, at the University Club, luncheon.

1:00 p. m. Club Institute Committee of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, Hotel Touraine, club institute circle.

1:30 p. m. Woman's Auxiliary of the Massachusetts Society of Optometrists, at 93 Tremont street, bridge party.

W. Roxbury Club Group To Dance

Boston Evening American Photo

MRS. CHARLES J. LEONARD

Plans Supper

West Roxbury Catholic Woman's Club will descend on the Sheraton Room of the Copley-Plaza Wednesday for a merry evening of dining and dancing.

Mrs. Nicholas Petrocelli, who heads the committee has appointed Timothy Moynihan, Jr., as head usher. Serving with him are Alfred Hanlon, Thomas Clifford, P. Nicolas Petrocelli and Andrew J. Macdonnell. All their wives are past presidents of this philanthropic and civic organization.

Table reservations and supper menus are the concern of Mrs. John W. Cosgrove and Mrs. Charles J. Leonard, active members of the club.

Dancers Club Makes Merry Friday

The Dancers' Club has hit a new high in staging its Valentine celebration, a supper dance Friday evening at the Hotel Brunswick Casino.

A candid camera contest and a concert by Mark Timmons two novelties of the frolic which has been entitled "Lonely Hearts' Ball" by the committee.

Mrs. Albert B. Fenwick of Chestnut Hill heads the large group of people entertaining . . dinner before hand. Among the guests attending Susan Thayer's party in Brookline will be Ann Jackson, Marjorie Thomson, Hilda Anderson, Phyllis Jones, Raymond Howard, Paul Underwood, Edwin Bergen and Clifford Murray.

Another gay dinner party will have Mrs. Robert Daly of Lexington as hostess. Among her guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Franklin F. Hubert, Mr. and Mrs. Collins Sears, Polly Parker, Sylvia Burgess, Henry Cox and Alfred Dennis.

Among those who have made reservations for the jolly affair are Mrs. E. Capen Farmer, Ann Altimas, Hurley Preston, Clarissa Williams and Mary Ames.

Gloucester Water To Pacific Coast

GLOUCESTER, Feb. 7 — Lawrence J. Hart of the Chamber of Commerce got ready to send some of Gloucester's ocean out to Seattle, Wash., today, in compliance with a request from Mark Mayer, Jr., who read Rudyard Kipling's "Captains Courageous."

Mayer was so impressed with the book he asked Hart to send him a champagne bottle of Gloucester sea water with which to christen his 40-foot yacht, "We're Here," next month. Mayer will name the ship after the vessel in the story, laid in Gloucester.

Advertisement

ARE YOU ONLY A ¾ WIFE?

Men can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is lovable for three weeks of the month—but a hell-cat the fourth.

No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure.

Make a note NOW to get a bottle of Pinkham's today WITHOUT FAIL from your druggist—more than a million women have written in letters reporting benefit.

Why not try LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND?

Select Your
. . . Apartment
. . . Room
. . . House from
TODAY'S RENTALS

If you do not find the rental you are looking for, call BARBARA HOLMES RENTAL BUREAU at the R. H. White Co. HAN. 4100.

'WHEN A CABOT LOVES A KELLY'

Thrilling Fiction Of Real Boston Life

Mornick Plots Frameup to Trap Mickey

Love, politics, the rackets! Warring business and social worlds! Modern Boston! Never such fearless realism as this exciting, fact-based novel, illustrated by candid camera photos of real people and places. And YOU may be among the many real-life characters who appear daily in the text or pictures. Follow the heart stirring battle of glamorous Sheila Kelly for lasting love. Race from South Boston to Harvard Yard on the speedway of ultra-modern romance.

By ANTHONY MERRILL and LIONEL C. MOISE

Copyright, 1938, by The Boston Evening American. All rights reserved.
Copyright on formula and treatment applied for.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY WILLIAM JONES

CHAPTER 31

ANY smart manager would have tied Vince Barton up to a five-year contract on the strength of the way he went to town with "Rosalie" for his select audience of two—Big Gus and Greefy.

Vince had his feeble moments, but he was bright enough to know he was in a spot, and a tight one. Big Gus couldn't tell him it was a joke. He'd heard the blue note of Greefy's bullet as it went by, and the "spat" when it hit the wall.

So Vince, in the parlance of his art, gave.

Big Gus was enraptured. Not Greefy.

"Maybe that stuff gives you a boot, Wheels," he commented after he was again alone with his employer, "but I don't go for it. It makes me feel that much more like rubbin' the guy out."

"That's on account of you ain't got no true sentimentality," said the racket boss. He sighed. "I guess it ain't no use tryin' to educate a mug like you. You ain't nothin' but a gun.

"I expect you had better shag out and case me that there stuff. You ain't fit for nothin' else. We[illegible]—as the torpedo made no move to obey—[illegible] glue on your [illegible]."

"Yeah," said Greefy. "An' it's stayin' on. I ain't makin' copper bait out of myself no more as long as that gapper's around. I ain't gonna have no crooner singin' me into the hot seat. I'm through."

"Wise, huh?" Big Gus advanced on him menacingly. "Maybe it's them guys you're wearin'. How'd you like to eat 'em?"

Greefy stood his ground, a vicious sneer twitching his thin lips.

"Take it easy, Wheels," he said. "You got my gat, but I could plant a shiv in you from here."

Big Gus stopped.

"That's a hell of a way to talk," he said. "Ain't I always give you all the breaks?"

"Sure. But don't crowd me, Wheels. I always gone through for you. Only I ain't goin' through for no gapper. That gee don't sing nothin' but the prison song for me. He's gotta be rubbed."

• • •

BIG GUS knew when to switch tactics. He had to—to be boss of the rackets. His manner all at once became friendly, placating. He chuckled.

"Hell, Greefy," he said, "can't you take a rib? I didn't want you should knock the rum-dum off in such a rush, is all. I wanted to carry him along. But it's jake with me. He rubs."

"You ain't cookin' up a fast one?" Greefy eyed his employer suspiciously.

But there was only guileless amiability in Mornick's face.

"You got my word, Greefy. You ought to knowed it was a rib, anyhow. Them crooners come a dime-a-dozen." He shook his head. "But there's one thing makes me feel bad, Greefy. You talkin' about pluggin' me with a shiv! Ain't you wise I could lead you up while you was goin' for a shiv? Like this." Magically, there was an automatic in the hand of the racket boss, the muzzle trained on his rebellious employe. "See? Only I was afraid I might have to let you have it." He put the gun back in his pocket. "Let's have a drink, Greefy old kid. Just to show we're still pals."

That was more of Big Gus's system. Smoothin' 'em down but never let 'em get away with it. Even as he smilingly poured drinks for himself and the apologetic gunman, his mind was working swiftly on the problem of how to teach Greefy a lesson. That threat of knife-throwing had done the trick. Big Gus didn't like knives.

• • •

PRESENTLY, he hit on a partial solution.

It was a knockout.

"Get hold of the Doc," he said to Greefy. "An' don't toss no more slugs at that gee in the next room, I tell you. You can rub him when the time comes. [illegible]"

As the door shut behind Greefy, the racket boss permitted himself an out-and-out laugh.

Keeping Vince—[illegible] as he knew him, Morgan Stout—was the best thing he could do. Vince was just the [illegible] to [illegible] over Greefy.

For the time being, anyhow, [illegible] keep the crooner [illegible]. [illegible] the way where Big Gus got a kick out of it—he'd [illegible] over on Greefy. And, at the same time, he'd hang the toughest kind of a murder rap on that fresh punk, Mickey Kelly.

• • •

THE "Doc" entered. He was one of Big Gus's "philanthropies." He'd been a brilliant and promising young physician once. But he was hyper-sensitive and the constant procession of human tragedy and suffering had driven him to the use of narcotics. Then chronic affliction . . . illegal surgery performed more for sympathy than profits . . . disgrace . . . prison . . . and at the end of the trail Big Gus's dubious bounty. He looked sixty, he was actually in his early forties. Dope was still his refuge from the appalling spectacle of human misery, as he regarded it. And on slight provocation, he was apt to plunge into lengthy comment on the more melancholy aspects of his former profession.

"Hello, Doc. Sit down. . . . Say, they knock off a lot of guys in these nut colleges, don't they?"

The "Doc" looked puzzled for a moment. Then he gave a faint nervous laugh.

"Oh, yes. I see what you mean. You've been reading the papers. Yes, the number of violent deaths in Massachusetts institutions for the insane is quite high, particularly compared with other states."

"Yeah? Well, I wouldn't know about that. What I mean is they kind of keep it quiet sometimes, huh?"

"It would appear so," said the "Doc."

"Yeah," agreed Big Gus. "It would. Well, what I mean is wouldn't they have a stiff once in awhile they'd like to get rid of on the quiet." A guy that had been knocked off kind of sudden.

The "Doc" reflected, a hand over his eyes, as he used to pose when he was considering a diagnosis. He had found it very effective in those bygone days.

"Why, yes," he said, finally. "I imagine that could happen. I could look it up anyway. As you know, I still have some slight connections in that direction. Mmm. . . . Just what would there be in it?"

Big Gus told him. He nodded.

"Yes, it could likely be arranged. At least I think I can get you what you want. Where I get it is a matter we won't discuss. Is that understood?"

"Sure," said Big Gus. "Out of your pocket if you want to. Only make it a kind of a skinny guy, and not too old."

"The insane," said the "Doc," "are inclined to be underweight. Particularly the institutionalized insane. And many of them are quite young. In fact, the high prevelance of dementia among the adolescent is one of the tragedies—"

"I gotcha," said Big Gus, cutting him off before he was well launched. He handed him a bill. "Here's a C for expenses. There's another C if you can deliver in 48 hours."

"I shall do my best," said the "Doc."

"Okay."

• • •

THE "Doc" paused at the door. He was frequently under the necessity of reminding Big Gus that his position entitled him to a certain deference.

"I am always happy to do my best to accommodate you, Mornick," he said, "as you know. Provided I am not required to inflict — nor prolong — human suffering." Then, as if by afterthought, "There are certain types of dementia that undoubtedly involve acute suffering. Did you know that, Mornick?"

"I guess so," said Big Gus abstractedly.

"Good day," said the "Doc." "A slender corpse, you said?"

"Br-r-r," said Big Gus, turning back from the door. "Them hop-heads gets me creepy."

He had recourse to another drink.

• • •

IF Cabot Talton hadn't used that word "compensation," Sheila might have liked him. Might even have forgiven his arrogant assumption that Brad's welfare was the only thing of importance in the world.

As it was, her head lifted proudly, and Cabot Talton learned just how angry a very lovely pair of eyes could look.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Talton," she said. "I shall be unable to remain, as you say, with your son at any time. For any compensation, as you call it!"

"What's that?" Cabot Talton could scarcely believed his ears. He'd made a tremendous concession—he thought—in admitting to this girl he felt she could be of help. Who was she, to be refusing his request so indignantly? An unknown snip, by his standards, a mere nobody! Why, governors didn't talk to him that way!

"Hr-rumph! Well, let me tell you, Miss—"

Trudy Wendell tactfully intervened.

"Father!" She spoke urgently to him in an undertone. He nodded. Then in a smothered voice,

"You must pardon me, Miss Kelly. I am—overwrought. I leave everything to your generosity."

Though his expression didn't match with his words, Sheila's ready sympathy spoke for him.

After all, he was like Brad, used to having his own way.

"I'll do anything I can, Mr. Talton. But, you see, I have lots of things to think of. He's like Brad."

"Of course, of course," said Cabot Talton [illegible].

White-coated men [illegible] getting Brad in an ambulance.

"You'll come [illegible], won't you?" [illegible] Trudy [illegible] begging her now. "Please. It['s] [illegible]"

[illegible]

[illegible] Would he understand?

It seemed Brad was always coming back into her life at [illegible] disturbing her when she was at peace, [illegible] her past happiness.

She determined she would [illegible] of him [illegible].

Then as she saw [illegible] of his hand, saw the hopeless appeal in his eyes, her resolution weakened.

She forgot him as a suitor, saw him only as a human being who needed her desperately.

Against her better judgment she stayed on and [illegible] the shadows deepened and the [illegible] on Brad's face [illegible] gave way to a vague [illegible].

Big Gus seems confident. And with reason. Never a "frame-up" like the one the racket boss is preparing for the unsuspecting Mickey. You'll marvel at the diabolical ingenuity of the plot as it unfolds in tomorrow's chapter of this lightning-action novel of modern Boston. In all editions of the Boston Evening American—every day. Tell your news dealer to reserve your copy.

[illegible] Boston and Beacon Hill names are used for purely fictitious characters in this story, they refer to no actual persons.

Sheila Keeps Vigil Over Stricken Scion

As Sheila sits at bedside of Brad Talton, who has lost his memory as the result of an airplane crash, she resolves not to allow Harvard youth to break into her life again, recalling that each time they have met her peaceful way has been disturbed. But as she sees the hopeless appeal in Brad's eyes her resolution weakens, she forgets him as an injured suitor, sees in him only a human being who needs her desperately. She stays on at the hospital against her better judgment.

Cast of Characters

SHEILA KELLY of South Boston	RUTH WEIDMAN
PATSY KELLY, her sister	CLAIRE NEVULIS
MICKEY KELLY	DICK MALONEY
LT. GOVERNOR KELLY	Played by Himself
BRADFORD TALTON, Harvard	EDWARD GUERNEY
JERRY O'DONOVAN, Boston College '31	FRANK McGRATH
JANE PRENTISS of Beacon Street	MURIEL COCHRANE
JOHN STOKES, Chief of Detectives, State Police	Played by Himself
POLICE COMMISSIONER TIMILTY	Played by Himself
JACK SHARKEY, ex-champion	Played by Himself
DAN CARROLL	Played by Himself
WHIT PRENTISS, Jane's cousin	JOHN REEVES
BIG GUS, the Racket King	VIN MURRAY
GREEFY, a Gangster	RUD HOYE
TRUDY WENDELL of Dover	POLLY STEVENS
NANCY HURLBURT, Towne Club	LESLIE BLAKE
VINCE BARTON	CHARLES F. LINCOLN
MA KELLY	EDITH LUSK
MAYOR TOBIN	Played by Himself
TEDDY of the North End	SULLY EMMETT
A NIGHT CLUB OWNER	BENNY GINSBURG
DELPHINE BARTON	CLAUDETTE CORBIER
BARNEY KELLY	MICHAEL BURKE
LITTLE TIMMY	BUDDY HOLLAND

Attaches of the State House, City Hall, Court House, Copley Plaza, Liggett's, the Towne Club, Harvard, Boston Elevated, etc.

The Story All Boston Is Talking About

What Has Gone Before

GENUINE, decent, lovely. That's Sheila Kelly, of South Boston, heroine of this novel, as she trips down the steps of the State House into a maelstrom of adventure and romance.

Typical of the best in Boston is the Kelly family—former Sgt. Bernard F. Kelly, police strike veteran; his devoted wife, Mame; their children, Sheila, Patricia, Michael, Delphine (Patsy, Mickey, and Del.)

Sheila is a temporary State House employe when the story opens. So far, the only man to stir her heart has been Gerald (Jerry) O'Donovan, of Roxbury, former B. C. football star, and rising figure in Boston politics.

Accident brings her into contact with Bradford Cabot Talton, Beacon street, Harvard, and Social Register. Though she does not encourage his attentions, Jerry grows jealous, and she drops the Harvard youth.

But chance brings them together again, and Sheila finds herself swayed by Brad's charm—even though she rejects his proposal of marriage.

A sinister element enters the affairs of the Kelly family when Big Gus Mornick, Boston racket boss, seeks to obtain possession of a coded police report on racketeering, which Sheila has typed.

His fury turns against Jerry O'Donovan when Jerry, campaigning successfully for city council, promises to clean up the rackets—number pool, bookmaking, and so on.

Meanwhile, Vince Barton, of Jamaica Plain, Delphine's crooning husband, blunders into Mornick's net by being among the innocent bystanders when Greefy Koopman, a Mornick gunman, commits a racket murder.

Mornick learns of Jerry's devotion to Sheila, plots to frame her brother, Mickey, on a "murder rap." Rather than see Mickey go to the chair, he believes Sheila will induce Jerry to cease his anti-racket campaign.

Mornick orders Greefy to find a victim for the faked murder, and Greefy returns with Vince, whom he has recognized as a witness of the gang slaying. But Big Gus, who "goes big for crooners," won't permit Vince to be killed. However, he holds the crooner prisoner.

Like a gayer echo of Sheila's love complications is the romance of her 17-year-old sister Patsy with Whit Prentiss, Brad's Harvard roommate. It reaches a climax when Whit proposes during a party at the Prentiss' Beverly estate, while his parents are in Bermuda. Patsy accepts. As they are both under age and fear parental opposition, Whit urges an elopement.

Brad has been arrested for speeding while driving Sheila to Boston from the Dover estate of his socialite sister, Mrs. Trudy Wendell. After Sheila again rejects him, he quarrels with his father, the wealthy and politically-powerful Cabot Talton. Sulking, the Talton scion vanishes from Harvard, and is missing for months. Then a newspaper dispatch brings news he has crashed while flying as a "barnstormer" in Texas.

His memory has been affected by his injuries, and his sister persuades Sheila to meet him when he is brought back by hospital plane. Brad recognizes her, and is overjoyed. But Sheila is furious when his father coolly tells her he expects her to "remain" with Brad, adding that she may "name her own compensation."

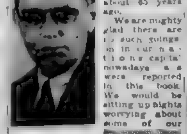
NOW CONTINUE WITH THIS THRILLING SERIAL STORY

The Brighter Side -:-

By Damon Runyon

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
[illegible] King Features Syndicate, Inc. [illegible] copyright and all other rights reserved

We got hold of an old book the other day entitled "Behind the Scenes in Washington." It was written by a chap named Edward Winslow Martin, and was printed about 65 years ago.



Damon Runyon

We are mighty glad there are no such goings on in our national capital nowadays as were reported in this book. We would be sitting up nights worrying about some of our [illegible]. The boys sure had a lot to contend with in the early seventies.

It was the time of the Credit Mobolier, as it was called. The Credit Mobolier was a company that was a sort of offshoot of the Union Pacific Railroad, which was beholden to the government for legislative favors. Some of our noblest statesmen of that period were found to be owners of stock in the Credit Mobolier and this caused gossip in the public prints.

In fact it got to be a scandal that was unequaled in the history of the nation until the lads on Chicago's Black Sox found that money under their pillows in 1919, and chucked the World Series to the Cincinnati [illegible].

Mr. Martin makes quite a lot of the Credit Mobolier in his "Behind the Scenes at Washington."

However, the danger of a statesman finding himself the owner of stock that was a little difficult to explain, seems to have been a minor hazard in Washington in Mr. Martin's time. A more serious threat, as we gather, was the presence of certain representatives of the fair sex in the city on the Potomac.

It seems that these ladies were lobbyists.

"Women of spice and dash they are," relates Mr. Martin, "so prudishly quick to interpret anything as an insult from those not within their circle and to regard everything from those who are in it—no matter how familiar or impertinent— as only 'mischief,' 'fun,' and 'really meaning nothing.'

Mr. Martin seems to have been a man who got around. He says that every hotel and boarding house in Washington where the Congressmen and Senators lived or congregated, was "carefully colonized with reliable women in the interest's of projects seeking legislation."

There were "weeping and winsome widows" among [illegible] in Mr. Martin's day, directed [illegible] [illegible] the most sinister force of [illegible] as we gather, was one that he [illegible] the [illegible] Woman of the [illegible]. The capital letters are Mr. Martin's.) He really goes to work on her.

She arrived in Washington ahead of a session and took an apartment at a fashionable hotel, and a private table from which, it seems she directed much of her campaign against the unwary members of Congress.

"[illegible] At least half a dozen of these lobbyesses are thus at work at once, each one roping in her dozen or ten of wildcat congressmen."

Well may we [illegible] when we [illegible] Mr. Martin's revelations.

"[illegible] So she stuns the eye with her dresses, decollette or square in the neck; plays on the keys of the air with the scientifically negligent sweep of her train; queens it through her room to her table; glares down her sisterly critics and repairs to her private parlor followed by a wake of honorables, picking their serrate teeth on the way . . . Oh! she is a sharp woman."

[illegible] that this was away back [illegible]. There is no chance [illegible] Mr. Martin now [illegible] though we shall take pains to [illegible] canvass Mr. Drew Pearson and Mr. Joe Alsop and Mr. John O'Donnell, and Mr. George Brown and the other reporters of the Washington scene the next time we see them.

New Piano Store's First Customer

William B. Ladd, Jr., manager of the Blake Piano Company, is shown here demonstrating grand piano to the first customer of the newest piano firm to open in Boston. She is Miss Mary Henry. Vice-president and general manager of the store is Charles M. Blake.

7 o'clock call for Rip van Winkle

RIP VAN WINKLE, the legend tells, slept for twenty years. And even in these wide-awake advertising days you still find folks with goods to sell who are giving Rip a tussle for the record.

Wouldn't you think the pace nowadays would make them look up from their nap and see how times have changed!

Look at the market picture in this country today: more than 20 million families own automobiles, and buy gas, oil and tires; 9 million people own electric refrigerators; you have to figure the soaps, foods, cosmetics they buy in million case-lots.

Look at what this richest market in the world holds for you —more than 8 billion dollars a year flow from its pockets into the cash registers of America's stores.

Maybe you're missing your share. Chrysler isn't. Nor Liggett & Myers, Coca-Cola, Westinghouse, Quaker Oats. Nor those wide-awake "show-me" Missouri twins of business—the food and drug industries, who spend their money where the returns are quick and sure.

These wide-awake merchandisers put their advertising dollars in the kingpin magazine—the magazine geared to carry the selling load in modern markets.

They bank on The American Weekly, with the largest circulation in the world.

They capitalize the editorial know-how that appeals to the people who swing the balance of power today. Who make new "best sellers" overnight—and break old ones.

Wake up—and sell!… in the biggest market-place ever established in advertising history. The American Weekly's new circulation of—

7,000,000

Here's where the 7,000,000 copies circulate —Coverage you can buy with no other magazine

There are 995 cities in the United States of 10,000 population and over. Though they represent only 1% of the cities in the country, 49% of all the families in the United States are concentrated there. And these families account for 70% of all retail sales.

In 699 of the 995 cities The American Weekly goes into the homes of:

20 to 30% of all the families in 164 cities
30 to 40% of all the families in 133 cities
40 to 50% of all the families in 155 cities
Over 50% of all the families in 247 cities

In these 699 cities you find 10,662,804 families—and 45.71% of these families receive The American Weekly. In addition, 2,300,000 other families throughout the country regularly receive The American Weekly.

These 7,000,000 families—readers of The American Weekly—spend approximately $8,750,000,000 a year in retail purchases.

THE AMERICAN WEEKLY

Greatest Circulation in the World

WIDE-AWAKE SALES MANAGERS HAVE LEARNED THAT "GOODS MOVE OUT WHEN THE WEEKLY MOVES IN!"

"The National Magazine with Local Influence"

Main Office: 959 Eighth Avenue, New York City

Branch Offices: Palmolive Bldg., Chicago . . . 5 Winthrop Square, Boston . . . Arcade Bldg., St. Louis . . . Edison Bldg., Los Angeles
Hearst Bldg., San Francisco . . . General Motors Bldg., Detroit . . . Hanna Bldg., Cleveland . . . 101 Marietta St., Atlanta

Michigan Wants Harlow or Crisler as Football Coach

Turn to Page 19, Sports Section

Comics BOSTON AMERICAN Sports
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER
BOSTON, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1938

GIRL About TOWN

By ANN MARSTERS

With the Dartmouth Carnival set for next week-end, we think we'll tell you a bit about the Carnival's history.

The idea was born when the Dartmouth Outing Club held a little mid-year fete in 1909, and it was the first event of its kind among American colleges.

Ann Marsters

Two years later, on February 10 and 11, the first Dartmouth Winter Carnival was held. And evidently the students realized the necessity of having girls attend the festivities—for the college magazine announced, at that time, "It is up to every man with a purse or a heart, or with a bit of enthusiasm for a good time when it heaves in sight, to make haste to procure that most necessary item."

About 50 girls arrived in Hanover for that week-end.

Now the guest list has risen to more than 1000 girls.

It took quite a while to induce the girls to wear sensible, out-of-door costumes, and in 1922, the Outing Club advised:

"We want you pretty and warm, not expensive and cold."

First Snow Queen Named in 1928

The first Queen of the Snows to be selected at Dartmouth [illegible] was Miss [illegible]. This was in 1928 when [illegible] was best known as Grant and Rice's daughter, but who is now a rising young movie star.

Last year an international flavor was added to the Carnival with the presence of the Swiss university skiers. And this year Bavarian and Norwegian college skiers have accepted Dartmouth's invitation.

* * *

IN THE MORNING MAIL: Here's one of the most mystifying notes we've ever received and it goes like this:

"Dear Miss Marsters: I'm just writing in to tell you that I have just seen a rare old coin. And it is a American cent the year on it is 1864. Miss Marsters, I have never seen a American [illegible] as the one that I have seen. The man's name is Mr. M. P. [illegible] of Cohasset. My name is G. W. Williams of New York."

* * *

WINTER PEACE

Now the snows have come again
And drifted on the hill,
My heart has settled back to sleep
And life is dull and still.
All memories are packed away
And hidden well from view—
I only fear that Springtime may Raise them up anew.

—H. TOTMAN.

* * *

Valentine Note: [illegible] may boast of the fact that it produced the first fancy Valentine ever made in America. It was in 1850 and Esther Howland, daughter of a stationer in Worcester, was the girl who made it.

Many of the early Valentines were very delicate in coloring and workmanship, with verses in almost microscopic print. [illegible] was the first to emboss [illegible] with good paper and lace.

* * *

Call the Police; They'll Satisfy

STREET SCENE: A [illegible] was walking along with one foot on the sidewalk and the other in the gutter. A policeman spotted him and arrested him for being intoxicated. When he learned the charge he had only this to say:

"Thank heavens, I thought I was lame."

* * *

SHOPPING HINTS: [illegible] has [illegible] of [illegible] tweed. They come in [illegible] shades [illegible] with [illegible] of hip bone length. They're $10.95. . . . Little peaked suede hats in various colors at Hovey's for only $1.00. You can [illegible] shapes. . . . You might be reminded of Lamson & Hubbard's February fur sale. Lots of amazingly fine values. . . . We like the blouses and daytime and evening frocks after the [illegible] idea at [illegible]. Dainty wool [illegible] [illegible] figures.

THIS Is LIFE

By ROBERT E. ROGERS

Ten years or more ago small boys were playing at gangsters and racketeers, whom they could see glorified in every movie. Today they do not see so many gangster films. Instead the glorification is all for the forces of law and order. And nowadays the small boys are playing at G-men.

Robert E. Rogers

The man who brought about that state of affairs has just written a book published today. It is called "Persons in Hiding" (Little, Brown & Co.) and is written by the man who made G-men something to admire and imitate instead of to take for granted. He is, of course, J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the United States Department of Justice. There is an interesting preface by Courtney Ryley Cooper, who knows all the inside story, who knows Mr. Hoover, too, and admires him into the bargain.

The book is directed to the attention of you and you and you: mostly indulgent parents and irresponsible boys and girls, but also to the careless taxpayer, who won't provide enough money for the small town police system—those small towns where crime inclines to originate—and who watches the criminal medical man and the criminal lawyer (or rather the lawyer who is a criminal) without being interested enough to do anything about it.

"There's No Romance In a Dead Rat"

Mr. Hoover in this direct and hard hitting book is aiming at the romanticists and sentimentalists in our country, the people who like to squirt glamour over the gangster by making him out a kind of Robin Hood, who blame "social conditions" when a boy or girl goes wrong, who defend the parole system by which the recidivist is allowed to go free and return to his crimes again and again after he has served only a part of an insufficient sentence, who are constantly making sentimental pleas in behalf of the wide-awake, egotistic, self-centered "gimme" boys and girls who know only that they want something and take the easiest way to get it.

Their plea is always "I didn't think," which means, as Mr. Hoover remarks, "I didn't think of anything but myself." Instead of the Robin Hood complex Mr. Hoover has worked to popularize the other concept, "There's no romance in a dead rat." Instead of Lincoln Green, the modern gangster's color is Yellow, as the chief of the F. B. I. abundantly makes clear in this book.

All Paid the Price One Way or Another

Giving names and dates and localities, this book is about a number of representative criminals, all of whom have paid the price in one form or another. Curiously enough there is no chapter on John Dillinger. But there is hardly a story into which he does not come in, indirectly. The underworld knew him, was constantly in contact with him; his acts had their repercussions in other's acts, others imitated him and went the same road.

Place of dishonor in the book is given to Ma Barker and her four sons, whom she destroyed by always insisting they were "good boys" and protecting them no matter what they did, until at last the G-men got them all and her as well. There is Alvin Karpis, the boy who wanted everything. There is "Doctor of Crime," the honor boy from Tufts Medical School who went wrong. There is Baby Face Nelson, admiration for whom drew a youngster into becoming an associate and stooge for him with fatal results. There is Louis Philip Piquett, who was at once a criminal lawyer and a lawyer criminal.

Women Behind Crime Often More Deadly

There is the woman behind the crime, often stronger and more deadly than the man she associates with. There is the criminal at your elbow, the crook who for a long time gets away with his career because he seems to be reputable.

It is an amazing series of stories, which includes, incidentally, the methods by which the young director of the F. B. I. built up his extraordinarily efficient organization and watched it become famous, with the reputation of always getting its man.

And running through the whole book can be traced the trail of the crooked politician who is the partner of criminals, their protector and the manipulator of the law for their benefit. Personally, there is where I should lean hardest, on this thorough going indictment.

Father Demands Harvard Boy's Death Probe

Burgess Coming From Ohio to Press Sift In River Mystery

A thorough investigation of the possibility of foul play in connection with the death of Frederick William Burgess, 21-year-old Harvard law student, whose body was found in the Charles River [illegible] was demanded by the youth's father, [illegible] Burgess of [illegible].

Mr. Burgess, who heads a firm of [illegible] in [illegible], the Ohio [illegible] was expected to arrive here tomorrow to press his demand for an [illegible]. At the time of young Burgess's disappearance last November 13, Mr. Burgess [illegible] requested [illegible].

DIVERS' QUEST VAIN

[illegible]

HINTS AT MURDER

It was [illegible] reexamine the youth's body with particular reference to the presence or absence of water in the lungs. An absence of water in the lungs in sufficient quantity to [illegible]

[illegible]

Timilty Orders New Inquiry in Dale 'Suicide'

All Witnesses Face a Requestioning in Woman's Death

Police Commissioner Timilty today ordered Captain John J. Mc[illegible], head of the homicide bureau, to reopen the entire case in connection with the shooting of [illegible] [illegible] Dale, 27, [illegible].

"I want a showdown on the case and I want the whole matter cleaned up," the commissioner explained.

Judge Charles [illegible] [illegible] was responsible for the new investigation when he [illegible] report.

"I am far from satisfied that this woman committed suicide."

Police had closed the case in saying the death was a suicide.

[illegible]

Patriots

2 Governors Aid Liberty Fight

10 Girls Accuse 2 Men, One 72

[illegible] way, both of South Boston.

Special Officers John McCarthy, William Finnegan, Joseph Donahue and Patrick [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

Auto Death Record Continues to Gain

Massachusetts maintained its [illegible]

[illegible]

Seek to Suspend 6 P. M. Textile Law

The State Department of Labor and Industries today [illegible] an appeal to the Legislature to [illegible] for another year the law which prevents women working after 6 p. m. in textile mills.

The law was first passed in 1933 but its application has been postponed each year so that Massachusetts mills might work a night shift.

Consecrate Bishop Heron Here Feb. 16

The Rev. Raymond A. Heron, archdeacon of Boston, will be consecrated Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts [illegible] [illegible] Copley Plaza Hotel. A reception will be held between 4 and 6 in the afternoon in the crypt of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul.

Gov. Earle Calls Sales Tax Scheme to 'Soak the Poor'

Says Plan Looks Fair, But It Harms Those Needing Aid Most

Sales taxes on necessities of life were bitterly denounced by Governor George Earle of Pennsylvania today as a "soak the poor" scheme and [illegible]

[illegible]

"We battled against the plan to establish a sales tax in Pennsylvania," he declared, "and we finally beat it.

"The dangerous part of the sales tax is that it is subtle—it appears to be fair. It looks like everyone pays equally. Actually the exact opposite is true.

"A wealthy man, for instance, buys many things for which he would never pay any taxes. He buys fur coats, automobiles and other luxuries in New York. Suppose a sales tax were put on in Pennsylvania. This state wouldn't get any money from the purchases.

SPENDS CASH ABROAD

"Furthermore, a wealthy man takes a trip abroad, spends thousands of dollars in foreign countries. We don't get any of that money, either.

"But the poor man has to stay here. He buys his necessities here. And on those necessities, if we had a sales tax, he and the rich man would pay equally. [illegible] a distribution of taxes [illegible] never be fair and [illegible] harm to the very [illegible] help most."

[illegible]

"As a result of the machine," he explained, "we have today magnificent production, miserable distribution and tremendous unemployment.

"Civilization is today facing a showdown with the machine. We must solve the problem of machines that can produce rapidly and put men out of work by doing a better and faster job than men [illegible]."

TEST SUGGESTED

[illegible]

"These three men have complete control in their countries," he said. "There is no telling what they will do. Their tremendous power may lead them into war. A psychologist who could examine them might be able to tell you what is going to happen."

[illegible]

GOV. CHARLES F. HURLEY GOV. GEORGE H. EARLE

They're Agreed on Problems of the Day

Lockjaw Follows Kick by His Horse

Isaac Weinshelbaum, 53, of [illegible], [illegible] three days ago by his horse, was [illegible] to Massachusetts General Hospital today suffering from lockjaw.

[illegible] police declared the man did not have any medical treatment following the injury. The leg became [illegible]

[illegible]

ELSIE ROBINSON, writes from the woman's viewpoint, discusses everyday affairs and problems, regularly in the Boston American.

Month's Wait To Visit Son

Mrs. Watson Sees Boy for Hour

TOPSFIELD, Feb. 7—M[illegible] Watson, principal [illegible] wife-trade trial in Salem [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] the first Sunday of each month. Mrs. Watson appeared for the first time since her divorce at her former husband's home on Central street yesterday.

She visited the son, Peter, for an hour, during which time Watson remained outside the house. He did not speak to his former wife.

New Protests On Hospitals

Mayor Tobin today faced [illegible]

[illegible]

O. O. McINTYRE. Read his famous column, "New York Day by Day," every day in the Boston American.

'Sheila' Put On Air Waves

NAT MADISON SHEILA KELLY LEW TOBIN

Boston Evening American Photo

Ruth Weidman, the Sheila Kelly of the Boston Evening American serial story "When a Cabot Loves a Kelly," is shown copy of the song "Sheila," written in her honor by Nat Madison, left, and Lew Tobin. The song was played over the air for the first time through Station WMEX.

Search Widens In Gem Case

Search for Charles Colton, South End cafe owner, charged with the theft of $60,000 in jewels, today spread throughout the nation, with Boston police mailing out circulars to leading police departments.

Colton is sought for the alleged theft of the jewels of Mrs. Margot W. Richards, Surrey, England, widow, who told police she gave the jewels to Colton to be cleaned the day before he disappeared.

Mr. Colton was at a hotel here today awaiting to clear up a $5,000 alienation of affections suit which was brought by Mrs. Rae Colton of Roxbury. Mrs. Colton flew here from a Florida vacation to bring suit when she heard of her husband's difficulties. A hearing on the alleged alienation will be heard March 1.

Window Smasher Robs Liquor Store

A man about 25 threw a half pint liquor bottle through the window of a Bromfield street downtown liquor store, snatched about $15 worth of whiskey and fled early today.

State, City Police Hunt Missing Brookline Wife

Greater Boston police have instituted a wide search for Mrs. Zelma C. Saxe of Parkman street, Brookline, who has been missing from her home since Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Saxe, wife of Jacob J. Saxe, well known Boston businessman, was last seen by her maid leaving her apartment Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

When she failed to return later, anxious relatives sent her description to Brookline, Boston and state police.

A teletype message gave her description as 40 years of age, five feet seven inches in height, 145 pounds in weight, blue eyes, dark brown hair, light complexion, [illegible] a black dress with [illegible] black hat, black shoes and gloves, [illegible] stockings and a black coat with a Persian lamb fur collar.

MRS. J. J. SAXE

Examine Lynn Dog That Bites Skater

A dog with an aversion to skaters, who allegedly bit Richard Gauthier of Rogers avenue, Lynn, eight times in two days, was to be examined for rabies today.

Richard, 12, reported to police the animal had bitten him five times Saturday and three times yesterday while he skated.

PHONE YOUR NEWS TIPS TO THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN AND SHARE IN $50 CASH AWARDS THAT ARE OFFERED EACH WEEK

Do you want to make some money for being alert? If so, the Boston Evening American and the Sunday Advertiser are presenting the opportunity. Every week a total of $50 in prizes will be given for news tips telephoned in to the News Tip Editor at Liberty 4000. There will be given $25 weekly for the best first exclusive news tip received, $10 for the next best, $5 for the next best and $1 prizes for each of the 10 next most valuable tips.

Gold IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

From the Novel by Clements Ripley

A Cosmopolitan Picture to be released soon by Warner Brothers

CHAPTER 13

"Child!" He patted her hand. He'd like to have got his hands on that young pup. "Why, you poor little thing."

She smiled through her tears.

"It's sweet of you! You see, I thought maybe down here, where they didn't know me, [illegible] wouldn't seem to be any [illegible]. I'll just have to do the best I can, I guess. But people talk so about a [illegible]."

"The slack-tongued, cackling tabby-cats! As for that young cub of yours—" The Colonel straightened with sudden determination. "Miss Minton, it seems like I used to have a little influence in this county."

"O-o-oh! Oh, Colonel, you don't know what it would mean to me! Of course, they'll do anything you say! But I never imagined—"

"Haven't done a thing yet," he warned her. "Not even sure I can. But we'll see! Come on, now, let's see you beat me to the crossroads yonder."

Lu[illegible] when [illegible] any more [illegible] when they parted she did take the [illegible] pressed the [illegible] hand impulsively.

"Colonel Ferris, I think you're the most wonderful man I've ever known."

"Nonsense, my dear!" the Colonel [illegible]. But he whirled [illegible] her haunches, vaquero fashion.

Lucille dodged the curiosity of Cousin [illegible]. In her attic room she fished out Lance's [illegible] and read it again [illegible] a corner of her [illegible]. She wondered [illegible].

C[illegible] Schools [illegible] stroked his [illegible]. "Why, Colonel, seems like Bannockburn's about taken care of." He spread an [illegible] on the desk table. "Now here, to the south, they go to Miss Emerson at Lobo. All up about here we take care of 'em at Big Oak—that's Miss Swanson."

The [illegible] stabbed the map with his [illegible]. "I want a school right there!"

"But—why, Colonel, there aint any children thereabout."

"How many children you figure makes a school, Philbin?"

"Well—you see we got to think of the taxpayer, Colonel."

PROMPT ACTION

"I'm thinking. I'm the heaviest taxpayer in the section. Now I'm asking you, Philbin—how many?"

[illegible] After [illegible] was [illegible] sudden interest [illegible] education [illegible].

"Hm! You're deeding the land to the county? Well, say thirty."

"But, Colonel! There ain't any children there. Look at the map."

"Done looked at it," said Colonel Ferris [illegible]. "Good day, sir."

"Enoch," [illegible], "you take what extra hands you got and run up twenty cabins near the east line. Stick 'em on the high ground, by Miss Serena's orchard and the railroad. I want 'em two-room, and I want 'em quick."

When the Colonel used that tone, Enoch didn't argue. "Yes, suh, Colonel! An' what'n hell I do then?"

"Move in enough families to furnish thirty children."

Three weeks later the Colonel slapped his crop on Philbin's desk. "There's your thirty children," he announced. "Now I want a school."

The Colonel opened the new school [illegible] rodeo and barbecue.

By 10 o'clock of a hot September morning they began riding in—the [illegible] brown youngsters from the cattle ranges with wide silver-studded belts and wide hats and clinking spurs.

Serena moved behind the plank serving tables. Jared was with her. He was beginning to feel a little out of place—the only mining man in the crowd of valley ranchers.

He had come over for the doings at Bannockburn as a matter of course, but he hadn't quite realized how taut the feeling between the hills and the valley was getting to be.

EVERYBODY WAITS

Lance, a little nervous, helped at the bar. He hadn't seen Lucille since that day at Tenspot. Her coming, last spring, had sent him off in something like a panic to San Francisco. Time had dulled that, but he wasn't looking forward to today.

Fast-moving dust clouds converged and erupted the flashing high-stepping trotters of the wealthier ranchers. At noon, the S. and W. discharged a carload of Sacramentans. They flowed across the brown grass and the Colonel tapped another keg and made anxious inquiries of Wong and Ramon.

Other queries were beginning to beat about his ears now. "Hey, Colonel, what about the schoolmarm? They tell me you picked the best-lookin' girl in the county to run your school. When you goin to produce her?"

Lucille knew the value of an entrance. When Jase had whipped his team to the edge of the oak grove, she slipped down.

"I've got to see about some things at the school," she announced breathlessly. "I'll see you later."

HER BIG MOMENT

Before Cousin Betty could give tongue to the thoughts that boiled up in her Jase had started up his team, and Lucille was a slim golden figure walking alone through the golden sunlight.

Eyes turned. Lance ducked behind the kegs. The Colonel came forward and led her to the door of the school-house, newly painted a [illegible] yellow, made a little ceremony of presenting the key.

It was Lucille's big moment. It was the Colonel's big moment. It was also Lamar Philbin's big moment. From nowhere in particular he was suddenly on the schoolhouse steps. His hat was off, his eyes rolled heavenward.

"At such a time," he intoned, "when lit-tul children are about to be offered the blessing of education, what could be more fitting than to offer up a prayer to the Most High?" He proceeded to do it.

Philbin ended at length. The door was opened, and a relieved horde tramped through the empty, echoing place, shining with varnish. Then they tramped under the [illegible] to discuss the heaped plates which Serena kept supplied.

Jared stayed at her elbow. This gala atmosphere left him, somehow on the outside. He almost wished he'd stayed in Tenspot. But he did like watching Serena's hands move, quick, sure, among heaped platters.

Lance had pretty well taken his father's place at the plank bar. The Colonel was relaxed now eating a ration of barbecue with Lucille on his right and pretty Mrs. Montgomery, on his left. Lance watched them with mixed feelings.

A COOL RECEPTION

So far he hadn't had a chance to speak to Lucille, or rather he'd dodged the chance. She had given him a cool nod and a disquieting smile.

She sat now, demure under the Colonel's gallantry. Lance was a little amused, a little irritated. The Old Gentleman was making a fool of himself, at his age!

Dinner was over. By twos and threes and dozens the gay parasols, the broadcloth coats moved toward the corral fence. From the open gate a horse and rider exploded into the golden sunlight. Up—down—bucking—pitching—bronze glimpses of hand action.

Lucille, in her place of honor next the fence, gripped the Colonel's arm with a little squeal. The rider flung a foot free of the stirrup, raking fore and aft with his Spanish spurs, while the horse twisted and sunfished. The Colonel called time at last.

A little red steer trotted out and stood pawing, shaking long horns and snorting. A rider whirled out, slim-waisted in his wide silver belt, wide shoulders straining his pink silk shirt. The steer jumped like a cat.

The pony [illegible] like a spring. Three times around the corral, hoofs drumming—then running shoulder to shoulder, the [illegible] across and gripped the [illegible] crumpled—rolled on his side. The man hung on.

Continued Tomorrow.

Married Comrades

By ADELE GARRISON

KATIE ANGERED BY REBUKE

CHAPTER 824

HARRY UNDERWOOD gave Allen Drake a studied, insolent look when the secret agent who had impersonated my father said that if Katie's other concoctions matched her soup, he soon would have strength to tell his story.

"You'll be so stuffed you won't be able to make an articulate sound for hours," he said, but Drake only gave him a lazy grin for answer, and at the end of the supper, in which he proved himself an able trencherman, he also proved the falsity of Mr. Underwood's prediction.

From an inner pocket he drew a cigar case which was either the unmonogrammed one my father had taken with him, or one exactly like it, and proffered cigars of my father's favorite brand to Harry and Dicky.

"Shall we go back to larger chairs?" he asked, "while I tell you all I can about the reason the chief put this over?"

"Sure you don't mean a couch?" Harry Underwood asked meaningly.

PREPARE FOR STORY

"There's only one big enough," Allen Drake answered. "I would not think of depriving you of it."

"That's what I call true friendship," the big man retorted, and when we had gone back to the other end of the big library, and he had meticulously waited until Lillian and I were comfortably seated, he stretched himself out on the couch, poked pillows into place under his head, and grinned at the rest of us.

"Sweet of you, Allen," he said, mincingly. "Thanks a lot. Do you know, Dicky-bird, if you'd apply a lighted match to that pile of fagots and logs Jim has arranged so cleverly, I think we'd be more comfortable. It's springtime on Long Island, but the ocean breeze is working tonight, and I, for one, feel a bit chilly."

"All right, you hot-house flower," Dicky said, bending toward the grate, and his old comrade-in-arms truculently raised himself upon his elbow.

"'When you call me that, smile'" he quoted ferociously, and then, with ludicrously contrasting composure, he languidly settled back among his pillows again.

MADGE SUMMONS KATIE

Allen Drake, who had settled me in an easy chair with what I felt to be exaggerated solicitude, looked at me inquiringly, and then slid his eyes toward Katie. I raised my voice sufficiently to divert Katie from her clearing away the remains of our midnight collation.

"Will you come here a minute, please, Katie?" I directed.

She came at once but a sudden wariness in her manner told me that she guessed my reason for summoning her.

"Let everything go tonight, Katie," I said. "Jim will carry the things back to the kitchen for you tomorrow. You have plenty of extra pots and pans in the kitchen, so you won't have to wash anything tonight. Just put anything that might spoil in the refrigerator, and then go to bed."

KATIE IS ANGRY

Her comely face, so transparent in emotion, darkened as if a cloud had swept over it. I knew very well what was the matter. There had been a sudden eclipse over the face of Katie's private sun.

She had counted upon listening from her corner to the story Mr. Drake had to tell and with my mandate all her plans were shattered.

"Vot you mean?" she demanded with illy-concealed truculence. "Me, I no can put dose tings to soak efen? Dey twice, ten times as hard to vash in 'morning. Me I nefer leave tings like dot in all my life."

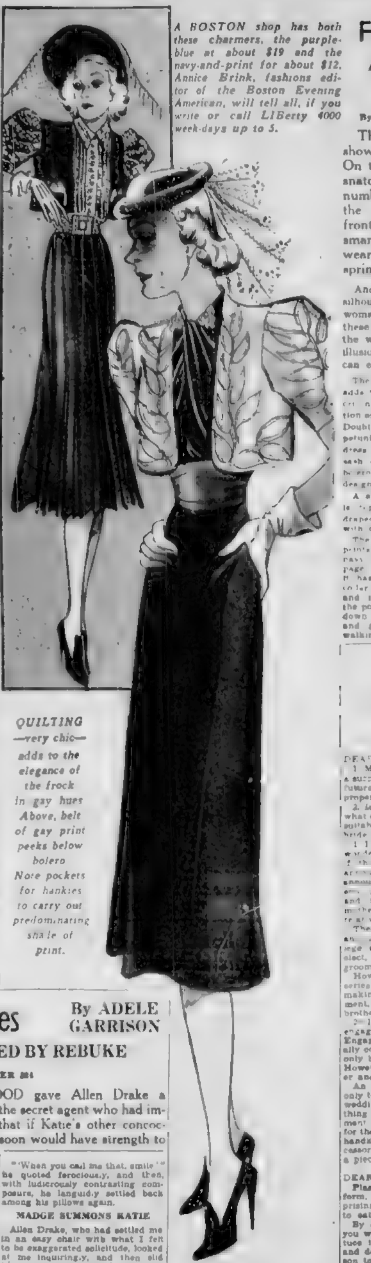
"You heard Mrs. Graham, Katie," he said testily. "Don't let me hear you talk back to her again. Go back to your work, and clear out of here quickly. Do you hear?"

(CONTINUED TOMORROW)

(Copyright, 1938, K. F. S., Inc.)

Boleros for Spring

A BOSTON shop has both these charmers, the purple-blue at about $19 and the navy-and-print for about $12. Annice Brink, fashions editor of the Boston Evening American, will tell all, if you write or call LIBerty 4000 week-days up to 5.



QUILTING —very chic— adds to the elegance of the frock in gay hues Above, belt of gay print peeks below bolero Note pockets for hankies to carry out predominating shade of print.

Flower Print As Gay as Garden

By MARY X. SULLIVAN

THE BOLERO MANIA shows no sign of abating. On the contrary, the ladies snatching up the jacketed numbers with avidity, and the news on the fashions front indicates that our smart young things will be wearing bolero-ed frocks in spring.

And small wonder—for the silhouette-conscious American woman well appreciates what these pert little coats do for the waistline, and what optical illusions in hip dimensions they can effect.

The [illegible] adds to a smart [illegible] color that [illegible] tion of purple blue, and dusk pink. Doubtless inspired by a blooming petunia bed the basic color of the dress is of rich purple [illegible] with a sash of French blue and a pink bolero quaintly quilted in a leaf design.

A slim skirt with a [illegible] is topped by a [illegible] draped to a high neck [illegible] with [illegible].

The vogue for [illegible] flower prints is evidenced in the [illegible] navy blue [illegible] frock on the page. Adaptable [illegible], it has a youthful [illegible] collar on its short-sleeved [illegible] and its navy blue skirt features the popular inverted pleats stitched down far enough for slenderness and giving that nice swirl for walking and dancing.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEEKMAN

DEAR MRS. BEEKMAN:

1. My best friend is [illegible] a surprise engagement party [illegible] future brother-in-law. Is this proper?

2. Is a gift necessary, and if so what sort of gift shall I give that is suitable both for the prospective bride and groom? [illegible]

1. I am not surprised that [illegible] wonder about the propriety of [illegible] engagement [illegible] announcing an engagement [illegible] given by the [illegible] and father of [illegible] mother and father [illegible] relative.

The making of [illegible] announcement [illegible] the privilege of the family of the bride-elect, not of the family of the groom-elect.

However, if this is only one of a series of parties celebrating (not making) the engagement announcement, then it is proper for the brother-in-law-to-be to be the host.

2. It is not necessary to take an engagement present to the party. Engagement presents aren't especially common and are usually given only by relatives and close friends. However, they are, of course, proper and gracious bows.

An engagement present is given only to the engaged girl. Unlike the wedding present, which is something for the new home, the engagement present is something personal for the girl: lingerie, monogrammed handkerchiefs, a dressing table accessory, a traveling-bag accessory, a piece of costume jewelry.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Please inform me if it is good form, when eating fruit salad comprising lettuce, fruit and dressing, to eat the lettuce. Z.

By all means eat the lettuce if you wish. Why not, indeed? Lettuce is a splendid food, healthful and delicious. There isn't any reason to treat it like a stepchild!

Attractive Menus For All Tastes And Budgets

FROM MARTHA LEE'S MONDAY MORNING BROADCAST OVER STATION WMEX

We've a big order to fill today. A lady asked us if we could tell her "what to serve with what, when, and how to cook it."

We-e-ll, we can only try to give a few more menu suggestions with recipes for the dishes that are less familiar or more difficult to make.

As for the "when?" we attempt [illegible] at reasonable prices thereby avoiding [illegible] on the family food budget.

The [illegible] are simple and [illegible] family [illegible] we're [illegible].

DINNER MENUS

Hot Clam Broth
Savory Meat Loaf
Casserole of [illegible] Peas
[illegible]
Cabbage Salad
[illegible] Pie
Coffee

Tomato Juice [illegible]
Codfish Souffle
B[illegible] with Lemon Butter
Yellow Wax Beans
Corn Muffins Fruit Salad Bowl
[illegible] Coffee

[illegible] a few of the recipes

SAVORY MEAT LOAF

- 2 thin 2-inch slices salt pork, diced
- 3 to 4 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 pound round beef, ground
- ⅓ cup quick-cooking tapioca
- 2½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups strained canned tomatoes juice and pulp

Try out salt pork [illegible] cook until golden brown. Add pork, onion and [illegible] ingredients and mix thoroughly. Bake in loaf pan in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350 degree F.) and [illegible] with [illegible]. Serves 8 to 10.

FRUIT SALAD BOWL

- 1 large grapefruit
- 2 large oranges
- 2 large pears
- ½ pound Malaga grapes

Pare oranges and grapefruit and [illegible]

DRESSING

- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- 2 tablespoons grapefruit juice
- ¼ cup cider vinegar
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 cup salad oil

[illegible] beater the combined ingredients. Cover and place in refrigerator. Shake well before serving. Use fruit juice drained from fruits prepared for the salad.

LIMA BEAN CASSEROLE

To revive the tenderness of dried limas, soak them in cold water from 6 to 8 hours. Drain. Cover with boiling water and cook slowly until tender (about 30 minutes). Add salt after 20 minutes cooking. This basic recipe applies to either large or baby limas.

- 3 to 4 slices bacon, diced
- 3 tablespoons minced parsley
- 3 cups cooked, dried limas
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 5 tablespoons flour
- 1½ cups milk or top milk

Fry diced bacon a delicate brown. Remove diced bits and make white sauce, blending flour with bacon fat and adding milk. Combine all ingredients and place in buttered casserole.

Top with buttered crumbs if desired. Bake in a moderate oven until thoroughly heated, about 30 minutes.

RHUBARB PIE

- 1½ tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 1¼ cups sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- 3½ cups rhubarb, cut in ½-inch pieces
- 1 recipe Pie Crust

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, butter, and rhubarb; let stand 15 minutes, or while pastry is being made. Line a 9-inch pie plate with ½ of pastry rolled ⅛ inch thick, allowing pastry to extend ½ inch beyond edge of plate.

Moisten edge of pastry with cold water and fold inward, even with rim of plate. Fill with rhubarb mixture. Moisten edge again. Roll other half of pastry to ⅛-inch thickness. Fold half the pastry back on other half.

With sharp knife make several slits to permit escape of steam. Place upper crust on filled lower once, opening out folded half after it is placed on pie drawing snugly across top to prevent sagging at edges. Press edges together. Trim off surplus pastry, being careful not to cut folded edge of lower crust.

Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes; then decrease heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 30 minutes longer, or until filling is cooked.

For Every Woman

Helpful Beauty Hints

SOME day we'll have air-conditioned hats, and then the girl with oily hair will stop "bawling." Blanketing the head with a snug felt hat doesn't do the glorious crown any good. There are women who wear them a large part of the day; they play bridge with them on, keep them on in movie theaters, shop hours on end.

Heat is relaxing to the scalp; it weakens the tissues and causes sebaceous and sweat glands to overwork and send forth their fluids until the silky shafts are moist and shining. When the hair is oily, a cold rinsing should finish up the shampoo. It is not a bad plan to dip the fingertips in ice water and massage the scalp the night before the hair is "laundered."

Frictioning the scalp with eau de cologne is recommended. It is necessary to be fussy about the soap that is used for the shampoo, a change of soaps will often prove beneficial. What one eats has an effect, too. Too much butter on the bread, rich pastries and sauces will cause skin and tresses to shine "like a good deed in a naughty world."

* * *

IF you get your feet cold, your nose will "get sore" about it and redden because of poor circulation.

Every morning before the bath raise your heels off the floor 40 times. Way up! The muscular effort necessary for this exercise will stimulate the blood streams. Friction the feet with moistened salt. That's good, too.

* * *

WHEN powdering the forehead it is the custom to start at the hair line. That's a mistake, my hearties. It is the best possible way of filling your forward locks with perfumed cosmetic dust.

Place the pad in the center of the forehead, work upward and outward, then down toward the eyebrows. Don't use much powder; add more if necessary. A help is the camel's hair complexion brush to be used for the removal of surplus powder.

* * *

USE perfume sparingly. The woman who gets into an elevator or a public conveyance reeking of even the nicest scent will set nostrils a-quivering, will inspire frowns of disapproval.

There's no sense in offending the public nose. It makes one conspicuous, and the conspicuous woman is never numbered among the admired darlings.

Listen, World!

Young America Speaks

By ELSIE ROBINSON

HOW ABOUT FEMALE JURORS? ARE THEY COOL, WELL-BALANCED, LOGICAL . . . OR HIGHLY EMOTIONAL AND UNREASONABLE?

Doris Mosebach tossed that bomb into our family circle, and the roof's been heaving ever since. Want a little excitement? Then show either of the following letters to The Gang.

"DEAR ELSIE ROBINSON:

"I advise Doris Mosebach to have a little more respect for her own sex. From actual experience as a trial juror in the Los Angeles County civil courts, I have found that women jurors are in any way better fitted for jury duty than men. When it comes to sickly sentimentality and crooked reasoning, the men take all the honors.

One male juror wanted to render a verdict against an insured bus company solely because they were wealthy and it was our duty to stick them to the limit.

Another man wanted to give a [illegible] lady a large sum of money for an [illegible] just because the mean old railroad company [illegible] her to come to court instead of settling with her immediately.

Women are more conscientious than men. They have a keener sense of responsibility toward society and a greater respect for law. They are not only better informed on social problems but are quicker to detect fraud and trickery.

Of course there are many stupid women jurors and many [illegible] men jurors. The fault lies not with either sex but with the system.

Prospective jurors should be subjected to more rigid examination. They should be made to witness two or more court trials and be tested on their understanding of those cases.

If the tests were designed to determine the emotional balance of the jurors a lot of sentimental sob sisters of both sexes would be eliminated and poor blind justice would have at least an even break.

Opal Ta[illegible] aged 23
Manhattan Beach, Cal.
[illegible] WINNER

[illegible] PEARL A[illegible] OF BELL GARDENS, CAL. [illegible]

DEAR ELSIE ROBINSON:

I [illegible] I know where[illegible] I speak [illegible] I served on a jury myself and when it was over I was [illegible]. I agonized over every [illegible] and [illegible] over every [illegible] release!

I WILL ADMIT FRANKLY THAT I DID NOT HEAR HALF THE EVIDENCE. I WAS TOO BUSY IMAGINING MY BOY IN THE CRIMINAL'S PLACE AND TRYING THE CASE THROUGH A HEARTBROKEN MOTHER'S EYES!

I saw [illegible] BECAUSE SHE DID NOT LIKE HIS ATTORNEY AND TO USE HER OWN WORDS WOULD NOT HELP HIM WIN A CASE IF WE HAVE TO STAY HERE UNTIL CHRISTMAS.

Men [illegible] cases with their heads [illegible]. They go home [illegible] healed. But the woman does not use her head at all. At the end of the day every nerve is a [illegible] a nervous wreck for fear she may do wrong.

Mrs. Pearl A[illegible] aged 28
Bell Gardens, Cal.
[illegible] WINNER

A [illegible] WH[illegible]

And [illegible] THE AMERICAN [illegible] BILLBOARDS [illegible] preacher [illegible] Allan Segal of Los Angeles.

"DEAR MISS ROBINSON:

"The world's most beautiful scenery is here in America. But how many of our [illegible] ever see it, blocked as it is by a monstrous conglomeration of wood, glue, paper and paint which informs us that we should use 'BLA-BLA FOR A BEAUTIFUL SMILE'?

"It pays to advertise. Every reliable establishment has a right to. But have they a right to hog the scenery? NO! AND PARTICULARLY NOT NOW, WHEN WE NEED BEAUTY AND INSPIRATION AS NEVER BEFORE.

"Allan Segal, aged 13
"Los Angeles, Cal.
($5 PRIZE WINNER)

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1—The writer of a letter in competition for one of the three weekly prizes—two of $10 each and one of $5—must be under thirty years of age.
2—The letter must be upon some subject of importance to American youth.
3—The letter must not exceed 300 words in length.
4—The writer must give his or her age and full name and address, and the name of each writer awarded a prize will be published.
5—To be eligible for one of the prizes awarded each Monday a letter must bear postmark not later than noon of the preceding Saturday.
6—Miss Elsie Robinson is to be sole judge of the merits of letters submitted in the contest.

Hats Get New Slant on Life

HATS, like everything else in the early spring panorama, seem to be going their own way.

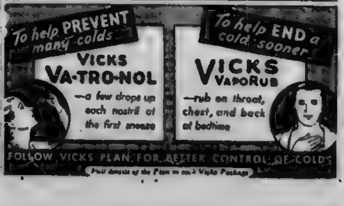
In fact, to paraphrase the old nursery rhyme, they "wander up and down and over milady's eyebrow." And it is a conservative brim, these days, that is content to follow a straight line.

Already on the heads of smart resorters the new spring hats had an official showing during a fashion show for charity.

Although emphasis was laid on large brims, many of the more interesting models were flat little pancake affairs smartly turned up at the back and having a profusion of flower trimmings. Brims in the group of larger hats swooped skyward at the back, turned up all around to give the appearance of a bowl, or dipped down over one eye. Veils, usually completely absent from the resort picture, appeared on several models in Panama and leghorn, sometimes tied around the crown and floating away at back, again completely covering the brim and reaching down to touch the wearer's shoulders.

Gibson girl sailors put in an appearance, worn with skirts and jackets and always accompanied by a nose veil. Several of the smallest hats were definitely reminiscent of cereal bowls and these were usually trimmed with bows of bright grosgrain.

A group of turbans featured dramatic veils of chiffon and georgette long enough to wrap around the neck, float down the back or drape over the shoulder.



To help PREVENT many colds
VICKS VA-TRO-NOL
—a few drops up each nostril at the first sneeze
To help END a cold sooner
VICKS VAPORUB
—rub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime
FOLLOW VICKS PLAN FOR BETTER CONTROL OF COLDS
Full details of the Plan in each Vicks Package

Your Hairline, Dear Sir!

Baldness Is Neither Necessary Nor Inherited

By IDA JEAN KAIN

WHEN your hairline begins to recede, more than likely you can blame the masculine habits of sticking the head under the shower and of slicking the hair down with water to make it stay put.

These two crimes, as Miss Jessica Ogilvie sees them, are responsible for most of the baldness among men. Miss Ogilvie is one of the Ogilvie Sisters, and knows more about your hair at a glance than you do in a lifetime of association.

[illegible]

BRUSHES IMPORTANT

[illegible]

ANOTHER CAUSE

[illegible] lightweight hat in the summer, and from discarding [illegible]

[illegible]

"Of course, a man may inherit certain idiosyncrasies of makeup," says Miss Ogilvie, "such as poor circulation or extreme nervousness, which increase the tendency to thinness of the hair, but these things can be counteracted with proper treatment. A man does not inherit a bald pate."

[illegible]

When they quit [illegible] together, it is almost impossible to do anything to promote growth.

DELAY DANGEROUS

Don't wait until your hair reaches this shiny stage. Stimulation of the circulation, the use of a good medicated tonic and proper cleansing will in most cases promote healthier growth.

For some persons, however, a visit to the doctor is advised, and it is interesting to note that one of the Ogilvie "Don'ts" is "Don't eat unbalanced meals"—not if you want a good head of hair.

In addition to daily brushing, massage is sometimes given, and you may try this yourself. Place the hands at the back of the head with the fingers spread apart and move the scalp gently without moving the fingers. Gradually cover the entire scalp, kneading and rotating it gently.

CHANGE THE PART

Even such a small thing as changing the part in the hair may be a help. If your forehead seems to be getting higher at the part, by all means change the part. Miss Ogilvie says that sometimes the hair falls out from sheer wear and tear of parting it in the same place year after year. By changing the part you give that area a rest.

The "Man Size Reducing Menus" will take off the excess weight, but they are balanced to protect your health. Send for these menus, addressing your request to Ida Jean Kain and enclosing a stamped return envelope.

Household Hints

TO MAKE an anti-tarnish cloth in which to keep your silver buy heavy outing flannel and make into silver cases which have a compartment for each piece of silver. Buy half a pound of cadmium acetate at a drug store and dissolve it in half a gallon of water. Soak the silver bags in the solution and hang out to dry. This chemical offsets the gases in the air that cause silver to tarnish.

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL

Boon for Dry Skins

ON HER WAY to stardom is pretty Joan Marsh, 20th Century-Fox player, who keeps her skin beautiful in spite of Kleig lights and California sun. Flawless skins in the changeable New England climate require constant attention and for this the deeply penetrating cream which Miss Gould has discovered is highly recommended.

Bridge:

A Shrewd Slam

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

The traveling score sheets used in duplicate games provide many a thrill.

The high point of each hand is to unfold the sheet for that first quick glance and calculation as to "how we have done."

Often there is cause for amazement at the score achieved by another team. For instance it is not to be wondered at that the score attributed to a certain team on the following hand was questioned on each subsequent round of play.

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

North:
♠ J 9 8 4
♡ Q J 9 8
◇ J
♣ J 10 7 3

West:
♠ A 3
♡ A K 7 4
◇ 10 8 3
♣ K 6 4 2

East:
♠ 7
♡ 10 6 5 3 2
◇ 9 6 4
♣ A Q 9 6

South:
♠ K Q 10 6 5 2
♡ —
◇ A K Q 7 5 2
♣ 8

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
6 ♠	Dbl.	Pass	Pass
Pass

The heart King was opened and ruffed. Declarer then laid down the spade Queen and West, worried that he would be without an exit were he to hold off, jumped up and returned a spade. Declarer let out a war whoop as he won, cashed the diamond ace and then discarded all of dummy's clubs on his own long diamond suit, finally ruffing his losing club.

A FOOLISH PLAY

Admittedly South's psychic bidding had confused the issue, but West's defense still was without excuse. There was no earthly reason for taking the first spade trick. It was not beyond possibility that East had the spade King. But even if declarer's Queen held and trumps were continued, surely it could do no harm for West to exit with a low club.

As I stated originally, I do not blame the other players in the duplicate for gasping at the small slam actually recorded in favor of this particular North-South team.

New Deep-Pore Cream Insures Winter Skin Perfection

By ARLINE GOULD

Whether you have just returned from basking under Florida skies or cruising in Caribbean waters, or you are a nine-to-five gal paying for your week-end ski togs on the budget plan, the frigid breezes over Boston Common can be depended upon to make a mess of your skin, unless you know how to treat it.

"I'm not the outdoor type" is too often just an alibi, offered by girls who secretly long to join the merry cavalcade on snowy slopes, but who shudder at the memory of the ravages wrought on sensitive skins in the past, when they had thrown beauty-caution to the winds and the winds have retaliated wickedly.

Women with dry sensitive skins must wage a constant war against the attacks on the natural oils which are the real fountain of youth. And their troubles do not end with sacrificing winter sports.

Their vigilance must never cease; hence they are constantly experimenting with new creams and lotions, trying to find one which will best protect them against the grime of the city, the hot dry air of home and office, and the devastating effects of exposure to tropical sun.

* * *

If a fairy godmother should offer us one wish, there is no doubt that most women would promptly ask for a dewy, glowing skin. Since that possibility is pretty remote most of them would be content if they could find a cleansing cream that would come as near to magic as possible.

It sounds almost too good to be true, but a famous Paris couturier and cosmetician has just brought out a non-liquefying cream that seems to be the answer to the maiden's and matron's prayer. Whether your skin is abnormally dry or not, here is a cream to hug to your hearts.

This nutritious cream penetrates to the depths of the tiniest pore, disappears to get its sub-surface work done, and then re-appears, bringing with it all the impurities you have been harboring under an apparently clean skin.

Easily whisked off with cleansing tissues, it leaves the face soft and clear, and better equipped to fight the elements by reason of the complete lubricating action of its rich oils.

Leave it on all night, or just while you soak in your warm, scented tub, according to the needs of your epidermis. Take a jar with you when you travel, and you may go unhampered by cumbrous bottles. You will undoubtedly find that this is your skin-pepper-upper.

* * *

For information about this marvelous cleanser call Arline Gould at Liberty 4000 weekdays up to five, or write her at the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, and self-addressed envelope.

HOME INSTITUTE

Charming Manners an Asset

NANCY JO has been living for this—her first date with Chuck. She's groomed to the tip of her curly eyelashes. But where—oh! where—is her etiquette?

Though Chuck is taking her to the movie, she's asking Ted to join them. "Still the high-school kid," thinks Chuck gloomily, "more used to a mob than a twosome."

And there Chuck has the reason why many a girl who looks charming and sophisticated does not get around much. She doesn't realize she has to grow up in manners, too.

The boy who takes you out is your host. If you meet a friend you must talk to, introduce him to your date, chat a minute, and then be off. Of course, if your date wants to make cordial overtures, that's another matter.

What courtesies do you owe your escort at a dance? The first and last dances are unalterably his. You have supper with him.

You'll be the winner anyway, you know! For when you've polished your manners with the help of our 40-page booklet, Etiquette for the Teens, you're going to rate with the best at parties, dinners, dances. You're going to be sought after as the most poised charming girl in the crowd.

Send 15 cents for our booklet, Etiquette for the Teens, to Boston Evening American, Home Institute, 119 West 19th street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Who's to Blame For 'Problem Youth'?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Are "problem parents" the cause of "problem youths"? I asked myself that question today, and I think I've found the answer. They are.

The question was inspired by a discussion at my book club, where—as you may guess—we were talking about "The Prodigal Parents," Sinclair Lewis' latest fictional indictment against our modern young people.

I was particularly glad to know that a majority of my sister club members agreed when I voiced the opinion that Sara and Howard [illegible], the boy and girl characters in the Sinclair novel, were rapidly becoming outmoded types.

[illegible]

[illegible] November [illegible]

[illegible] from Wisconsin the tuition of $51.

[illegible] ington, D. C., who didn't have a [illegible]

[illegible] ces of anything.

They discussed war from an economic standpoint and with a refreshing absence of flag waving.

[illegible] nal health and demanded why the United States, the richest country in the world, should have the greatest maternal death rate with the exception of one other country.

Another group talked about wise spending, homes, marriage and the rearing of children.

Nearly all of them expected to [illegible]. I saw no [illegible] at any of these conferences.

Hundreds of letters come to me every month from boys and girls wanting to know about adult education and vocational training. And the majority of these young people stand on their feet all day long earning their living.

In spite of the Problem Parents I BELIEVE IN THE YOUTH OF THIS GENERATION.

It seems to me the "Flaming Youth" we used to read about burnt up before the fire engines arrived.

(Beatrice Fairfax broadcasts through WNAC each Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 2.15 p. m.)

For Street Wear:

A Youthful Jacket

By MARIAN MARTIN

If you have "curves" to conceal or "angles" you'd like filled out here's just the style for you . . . a Jacket Frock, from Pattern 9625. Simple, smart and ready to take you anywhere!

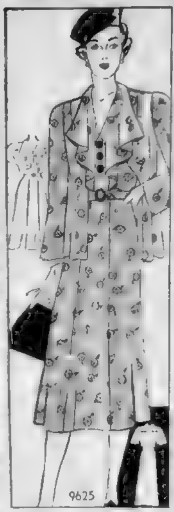
Every detail of this easy-to-sew style is designed to flatter graciously and completely. In the dress note the way the collar falls into soft jabots and how smartly the yoke and full sleeves are cut in one piece.

And see what becoming lines are achieved by the height-adding center panel. As to the Tuxedo jacket, it [illegible] becoming to all. Choose gay prints if you are slender, and [illegible] tones if you want to look slimmer. Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9625 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size [illegible] requires [illegible] yards 39 inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address [illegible]

[illegible]



Hands and Arms Need Care

[illegible]

Stand erect, have a flatiron [illegible]

[illegible] lengthwise and expand sidew[illegible]

[illegible]

Massage is helpful if it is heavy. Surface molding doesn't do much. If you can find a strong-armed amazon who will knead the flesh [illegible] will be speedier [illegible] not given.

Heavy upper [illegible] asset. And, by the way, [illegible] the flatirons persistently [illegible] work off fatty cushions that have formed on the shoulders. [illegible] plump ones, and do your bea[illegible]

Arline Helps With Beauty Problem

[illegible] freshener following your bath, when [illegible]

Qualities One Needs For Charm

QUALITIES ESSENTIAL to charm are gentle manners, a musical voice, poise, small alive animation and vitality. If a girl possesses these qualities, then mere physical beauty can "go hang." She'll be in the front row when popular girls are on parade.

Surface beauty attracts at first glance; it is a grand thing to have. It is a tremendous advantage. But when it comes to holding friends and the loved one, it is weak compared to qualities that touch the heart, appeal to the mind.

Vitality and animation are dependent upon health; therefore the girl who would create a chimera of loveliness must have regard for the laws of health. She must have restful sleep, a balanced diet and get outdoor exercise. Being fit she will find enjoyment in every wakeful moment and, as happy people are the best of companions, she will be sought after.

It is not always the pretty face that makes the strongest appeal. Real beauty appears in the eyes, the expression of the mouth, the poise of the head, the tilt of the chin. Charm of one kind or another, is possible to all whose hearts are in the right place, whose brains are active.

Progress Looms In Control of Hemophilia

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

HEMOPHILIA is a strange disease. It is usually associated with the royalty of the world, and is often referred to as the "disease of kings."

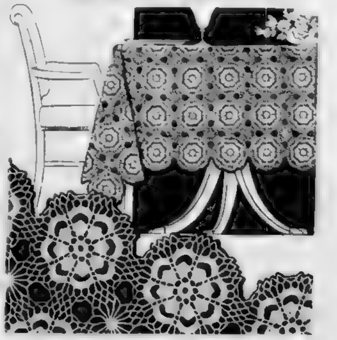
[illegible] the mysteries associated with it.

[illegible]

CALLED "BLEEDERS"

[illegible] When that time comes it w[illegible]

Crochet an Heirloom



CROCHETED MEDALLIONS PATTERN 1685

THIS exquisite medallion easily memorized . . quickly crocheted—forms handiwork you'll always show with pride.

Four inches in fine cotton, it is equally lovely, though larger in string.

Send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) for this pattern to Boston Evening American, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

200,000 EGGS PER DAY is the indicated production of one female intestinal Round Worm (Ascaris), which may contain up to 27,000,000 eggs at one time . . . This helps explain why Round Worms are the most common human parasites, especially in children . . . It also helps explain why, for 86 years, parents have given their children Dr. True's Elixir to expel Round Worms . . . Ask your Druggist for
Dr. True's Elixir
THE TRUE FAMILY LAXATIVE AND ROUND WORM EXPELLER

Does Your Breath Broadcast—
"I WEAR FALSE TEETH"?
Play Safe—Be Sure—Use Polident
Most people who wear plates or bridges suffer from a special kind of bad breath. Dentists call it—"denture breath."
You won't know if you have it—but it can spoil your happiness. Friends will shudder—people avoid you! And the worst of it is that ordinary brushing cannot prevent it. Neither will mouth washes. For the odor comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum soaks up germs and decay bacteria and causes a vile odor that you cannot detect.
One thing can stop "denture breath"—and that's Polident! This new brushless cleaner for false teeth has won the approval of thousands of dentists. Users say it is a great blessing.
Polident not only purifies false teeth—but also removes all stain, tarnish and deposits. Makes breath sweeter—plates look better and feel better. Costs only 30¢ at any drug store and lasts for many weeks. Money back if you are not delighted.
Cleans, Purifies Like Magic
Put plate or bridge in ½ glass of water. Add a little Polident powder. Leave in 10 to 15 minutes—rinse—and it's sweet and purified—ready to use!
POLIDENT
Prevents "Denture Breath"

Radioland Reflections

By N. F. T.

TWIN stars shine in the realm of sound tonight for the "Radio Theater" dialers, meaning Spencer Tracy and Joan Crawford are teamed

It's to be another striking dramatic hour between 9 and 10 o'clock (WEEI) with "Anna Christie" as the story, adapted from the film in which Greta Garbo triumphed

Critics have called "Anna Christie" one of the most colorful and vivid characters ever created for the stage or screen. It is the [illegible] from the pen of Eugene O'Neill. Cecil B. DeMille [illegible] Joan Crawford in the leading role and Spencer Tracy playing the part of Mat [illegible] the [illegible] who [illegible]

N F T

[illegible] of the 28th anniversary of the founding of that organization will be heard (WEEI-WNAC) this evening from 6 45 to 7

Boy Scouts and scout executives, a group embracing more than 1,000,000 persons, will be gathered at [illegible] and in patrols to listen to the President's words. Others to be heard during the period are Walter Head, president of the Boy Scouts of America and Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive.

* * *

Works by Brahms, Smetana, Rimsky Korsakov and Tschaikowsky have been programmed by [illegible] Ormandy, conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra for the [illegible] WBZ [illegible] 9 [illegible] Variations on a Theme [illegible] we open the broadcast [illegible] by Smetana's Symphonic Poem "The Moldau," The [illegible] Scene from Rimsky Korsakov's opera "Christmas Eve" and the [illegible] from [illegible] Symphony will complete the [illegible] broadcast from the Academy of Music in Philadelphia.

FLEETING FLASHES

[illegible] Senator from Nebraska [illegible] the National Labor [illegible] WBZ [illegible] Radio Forum [illegible] (WBZ) this evening [illegible]

Senator Burke is a [illegible] of the NLRB [illegible] subcommittee of the Senate has conducted preliminary hearings on [illegible]

* * *

[illegible] Professor [illegible] of Yale University [illegible] will act as commentator [illegible] broadcast of the New Haven Symphony Orchestra [illegible] (WAAB) tonight [illegible]

The concert [illegible] of Dean David Stanley Smith of the Yale School of Music [illegible] American [illegible]

PRESIDENTIAL PRAISE

[illegible] President Franklin D. Roosevelt's message of greeting to the Boy Scouts of America during the celebration

FACTS ABOUT FAVORITES

Despite the [illegible] Fred Allen can no longer be called the [illegible] Yankee. The NBC comedian [illegible] during his recent [illegible] would stay. Fannie Brice's [illegible] has assumed [illegible] shapes since she introduced the [illegible] of Baby Snooks on the NBC air. Recent [illegible] three eight [illegible] a [illegible] Baby Snooks [illegible] a chicken [illegible] a pair of [illegible] and three sets of blocks [illegible] Ray Heatherton [illegible] the NBC [illegible] the composer and [illegible] of the pop tune [illegible] Moon [illegible] When a Chicago woman who had [illegible] of the Continental Quartet died recently it was her last wish that the NBC quartet sing at her funeral. On the [illegible] the [illegible] repeated the woman's favorite [illegible] and was the [illegible] The NBC [illegible] he [illegible] provide two [illegible] a day [illegible] of $4 weekly [illegible] requests for money [illegible] Walter O'Keefe, NBC [illegible] Mrs. O'Keefe [illegible] and shaken [illegible] Western [illegible] after last week's [illegible] They were [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] who was [illegible] classmate [illegible] at Yale [illegible] the [illegible]

LUX RADIO THEATRE

TONIGHT

JOAN CRAWFORD

SPENCER TRACY

in

"Anna Christie"

adapted from Eugene O'Neill's famous play

DIRECTED BY

Cecil B. deMille

LOUIS SILVERS, Musical Director

9 P.M. Boston Time WEEI

FULL HOUR SHOW

TUESDAY 11:15 A. M.

BARBARA HOLMES will give her weekly talk on available rental vacancies over

STATION WMEX

Educator, 70, Dead

CORVALLIS [illegible] A. Bexell, founder and [illegible] dean of the Oregon State [illegible] school of commerce, was dead today following a long illness.

'Warlike Spirit' Denounced by Fr. Coughlin

Radio Priest Urges Peace Campaign In Nation

DETROIT, Feb. 7 (INS). Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, the radio priest, appealed to his listeners to campaign vigorously against the warlike spirit that is beginning to shadow a peaceful people.

Taking the position that an international war with England, Russia, France and the United States on one side, and Germany, Italy and Japan on the other, was impending, the priest declared:

"America has a program of its own to pursue, a program of supplying homes for the shelterless, food for the hungry, clothing for the naked, and a just profit for every citizen engaged in seeking his livelihood by the sweat of his brow.

"Therefore, hands off both Europe and Asia! Millions of dollars for construction! Not a penny for destruction either at home or abroad! That is sound Americanism."

Rev. Coughlin asserted [illegible] proved fact that modern wars offer no solution to the problems perplexing nations."

He also held that preparedness programs such as the one United States is now [illegible] would not prevent wars but increase warlike spirit.

Lomia Odd Fellows To Get 1st Degree

Under the direction of J. F. [illegible] degree [illegible] from [illegible] Lodge [illegible] will receive their first [illegible] Wednesday night at [illegible] Temple, [illegible] Warren street, Roxbury.

Edward [illegible] noble grand and Max [illegible] The program includes a review by the grand instructor [illegible]

Best Bets Tonight

5 45 p. m.—WMEX—[illegible] News [illegible] the Boston Evening American.

6 45 p. m.—WEEI, WNAC—President Roosevelt [illegible] 28th Anniversary Week of Boy Scouts.

8 00 p. m.—WNAC—[illegible] and Gracie Allen with [illegible] Martin and Ray Noble's orchestra.

8 30 p. m.—WAAB—New Haven Symphony Orchestra [illegible] the direction of [illegible] Smith with [illegible] and [illegible]

9 00 p. m.—WBZ—[illegible] Orchestra [illegible] Eugene Ormandy.

9 00 p. m.—WNAC—Fibber McGee and Molly with [illegible] orchestra.

9 00 p. m.—WEEI—Radio Theater presents Joan Crawford and Spencer Tracy in "Anna Christie," Cecil B. DeMille director.

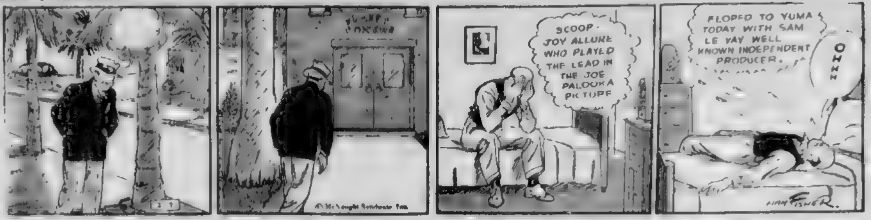
10 30 p. m.—WBZ—National Radio Forum [illegible] Senator Edward R. Burke of Nebraska discussing the National Labor Relations Board.

TODAY'S RADIO TIMETABLE—MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7

	590 K—WEEI	990 K—WBZ	1230 K—WNAC	1410 K—WAAB	1500 K—WMEX
12:30	Helen Trent	Farm and Home	Singin' Sam	Italian Program	Hits of Day
12:45	"Our Gal Sunday"	Farm and Home	Dan Harding's Wife	Italian Program	News
1:00	Betty and Bob	Farm and Home	News	Woman's Club News	Musical Mailbox
1:15	All Churches Hymns	Farm and Home	Girl Interne	Robison Buckaroos	Musical Mailbox
1:30	A Grimm's Daughter	Matinee Melodies	N. E. Kitchen	The Pianist	In Music Room
1:45	Hollywood in Person	Jack and Loretta	N. E. Kitchen	Voice of Experience	S. Winters Songs
2:00	Thru Woman's Eyes	U S Navy Band	Way Down East	Don't Look Now	Down Memory Lane
2:15	The O'Neills	U S Navy Band	Donald Van Wart	World Traveler	Paul Joyce Songs
2:30	School of Air	U S Navy Band	Musical Roundup	Racing Matinee	Dance Melodies
2:45	School of Air	U S Navy Band	Musical Roundup	Music for School	Dance Melodies
3:00	News	Rochester Concert	Pepper Young Family	Conn Colonials	Blue Rhythm Strings
3:15	Meet the Stars	Rochester Concert	Ma Perkins	Conn Colonials	Gems of Melody
3:30	Street Scene	Rochester Concert	Vic and Sade	Major L. L. B. Angus	Gems of Melody
3:45	Charlie Hector Orch	Rochester Concert	Guiding Light	Major L. L. B. Angus	Today's Winners
4:00	Charlie Hector Orch	Club Matinee	Lorenzo Jones	Major L. L. B. Angus	Melody Parade
4:15	Camp Fire Girls	Club Matinee	Mary Marlin	Rhode Islanders	Melody Parade
4:30	Goldbergs	Club Matinee	Rush Hughes	Racing Matinee	Kay and Buddy
4:45	Dr. Dafoe	Club Matinee	Road of Life	Racing Matinee	Today's Winners
5:00	Follow the Moon	Dance Interlude	Dick Tracy	Racing Matinee	Today's Winners
5:15	Life of M. Southern	Winslow of Navy	Terry and Pirates	Racing Matinee	Today's Winners
5:30	Stepmother	Singing Lady	Jack Armstrong	Racing Matinee	Today's Winners
5:45	Hilltop House	Tom Mix Shooters	Little Orphan Annie	Racing Matinee	Comic Page Club
6:00	News	Dance Revue	News	Dinner Concert	News
6:15	Rhythm Revue	Bill Williams	Top Hatters	Dinner Concert	Italian Review
6:30	Sportsman Show	Revelers	Musical Rendezvous	Dinner Concert	Today's Winners
6:45	President Roosevelt	Lowell Thomas	President Roosevelt	Racing Results	Vin Vincent's Orch
7:00	Poetic Melodies	Music Is My Hobby	Amos 'n' Andy	News	Jimmie McHale Orch
7:15	A. Godfrey, Songs	Sportsman Show	Uncle Ezra	Ray Keating's Orch	Five Star Final
7:30	Jack Shannon Songs	Sportsman Show	Victor Arden's Orch	Harvard Series	Breed Walker
7:45	Boake Carter	Dr. Dollar	Four Stars Tonight	Community Fund	Word Caster
8:00	"Fish"	Melody Puzzles	Burns and Allen	Morton Gould's Orch	Christian Science
8:15	"Fish"	Melody Puzzles	Burns and Allen	Morton Gould's Orch	Christian Science
8:30	Pipe Smoking Time	Grand Hotel	Concert Program	N. Haven Symphony	Christian Science
8:45	Pipe Smoking Time	Grand Hotel	Concert Program	N. Haven Symphony	Christian Science
9:00	Radio Theater	Philadelphia Orch.	Fibber McGee	N. Haven Symphony	Piano and Organ
9:15	Radio Theater	Philadelphia Orch.	Fibber McGee	N. Haven Symphony	Vin Vincent's Orch.
9:30	Radio Theater	Philadelphia Orch.	Hour of Charm	N. Haven Symphony	Jimmie McHale Or.
9:45	Radio Theater	Philadelphia Orch.	Hour of Charm	N. Haven Symphony	Jimmie McHale Or.
10:00	Wayne King's Orch.	Behind Prison Bars	Contented Hour	Michael Zarin Orch	Amateur Hour
10:15	Wayne King's Orch.	Behind Prison Bars	Contented Hour	Michael Zarin Orch.	Amateur Hour
10:30	Brave New World	Radio Forum	For Men Only	Pageant of Melody	Amateur Hour
10:45	Brave New World	Radio Forum	For Men Only	Pageant of Melody	Amateur Hour
11:00	News	Radio Roundelay	News	Pageant of Melody	News
11:15	Glen Gray's Orch.	As You Desire It	Billy Lossez Orch.	Jack Fischer Orch.	Bob Asen's Orch.
11:30	Abe Lyman's Orch.	As You Desire It	Eddy Rogers' Orch	Jack Fischer Orch.	Maurice Rocco Orch
11:45	Abe Lyman's Orch.	As You Desire It	Eddy Rogers' Orch.	Sammy Watkins' Or.	Maurice Rocco Orch
12:00	Jack Crawford Orch.	Chick Webb's Orch	Loui McIntire Orch.	News	Comic Page Club at 5:45 p. m.
12:15	Jack Crawford Orch.	Chick Webb's Orch.	Loui McIntire Orch.	Red Norvo's Orch.
12:30	Orrin Tucker's Orch.	To be announced	Earl Hines' Orch.	Ryser College

JOE PALOOKA

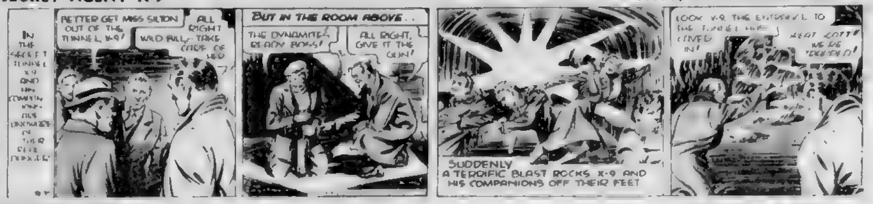
Finis



SCOOP - JOY ALLURE WHO PLAYED THE LEAD IN THE JOE PALOOKA PICTURE
ELOPED TO YUMA TODAY WITH SAM LE VAY WELL KNOWN INDEPENDENT PRODUCER.
OHHH
HAM FISHER
© McNaught Syndicate Inc.

SECRET AGENT X-9

A Party in the G-Man's Honor



IN THE SECRET TUNNEL X-9 AND HIS COMPANIONS ARE UNAWARE OF THEIR PERIL
BETTER GET MISS SILTON OUT OF THE TUNNEL, X-9!
ALL RIGHT WILD BILL - TAKE CARE OF HER
BUT IN THE ROOM ABOVE . .
THE DYNAMITE'S READY BOSS!
ALL RIGHT, GIVE IT THE GUN!
SUDDENLY A TERRIFIC BLAST ROCKS X-9 AND HIS COMPANIONS OFF THEIR FEET LOOK X-9, THE ENTRANCE TO THE TUNNEL HAS CAVED IN!
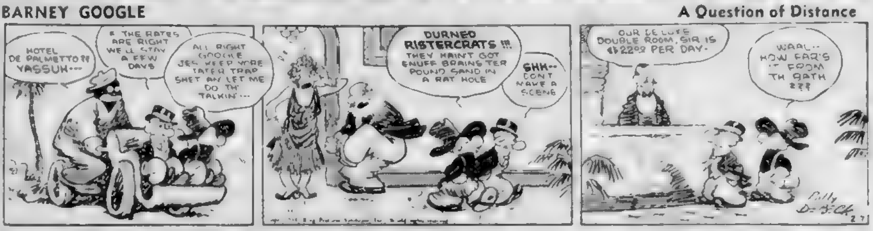
GREAT SCOTT! WE'RE TRAPPED!

BARNEY GOOGLE

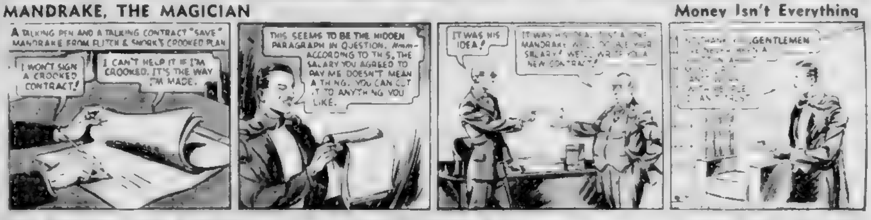
A Question of Distance



HOTEL DE PALMETTO ?? YASSUH---
IF THE RATES ARE RIGHT WE'LL STAY A FEW DAYS
ALL RIGHT GOOGLE JES' KEEP YORE TATER TRAP SHET AN' LET ME DO TH' TALKIN'---
DURNED RISTERCRATS !!! THEY HAIN'T GOT ENUFF BRAINS TER POUND SAND IN A RAT HOLE
SHH-- DON'T MAKE A SCENE
OUR DE LUXE DOUBLE ROOM, SIR IS $22.00 PER DAY.
WAAL-- HOW FAR'S IT FROM TH' BATH ???
Billy DeBeck

MANDRAKE, THE MAGICIAN

Money Isn't Everything



A TALKING PEN AND A TALKING CONTRACT "SAVE" MANDRAKE FROM FLITCH & SNORK'S CROOKED PLAN
I WON'T SIGN A CROOKED CONTRACT!
I CAN'T HELP IT IF I'M CROOKED. IT'S THE WAY I'M MADE.
THIS SEEMS TO BE THE HIDDEN PARAGRAPH IN QUESTION. Hmm- ACCORDING TO THIS, THE SALARY YOU AGREED TO PAY ME DOESN'T MEAN A THING. YOU CAN CUT IT TO ANYTHING YOU LIKE.
IT WAS HIS IDEA!
GENTLEMEN

ROY POWERS, EAGLE SCOUT

Reviewed and Approved by the Boy Scouts of America

Rocky's Dad Bids $750

GOING TO MR. CLARK DILLEN AT $500-GOING-GOING--- GET IT OVER WITH!
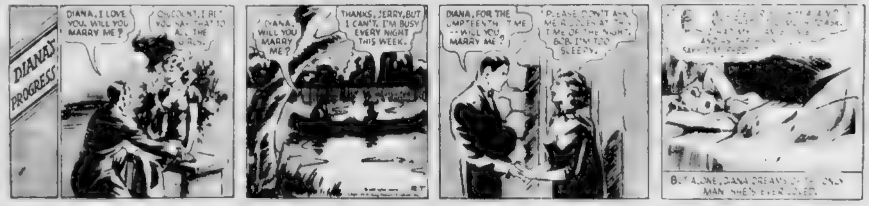
BOYS THIS IS TORTURE
WAIT A MINUTE! I'LL GIVE $750 FOR LADY PEACE!
THAT'S TOO MUCH!
LOOK, FELLOWS-- IT'S ROCKY'S DAD!
U. S. DEPT OF AGRICULTURE WEATHER

THE PHANTOM

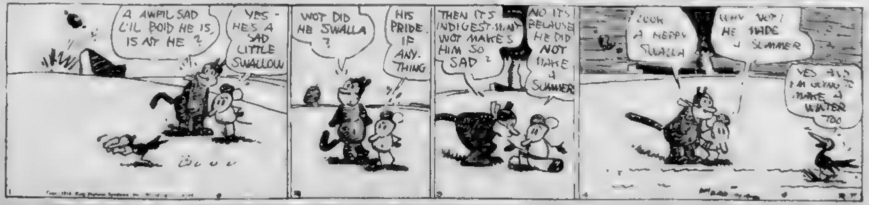
The Lonesomest Girl in Town



DIANA'S PROGRESS
DIANA, I LOVE YOU. WILL YOU MARRY ME?
OH COUNT, I BET YOU SAY THAT TO ALL THE GIRLS.
DIANA, WILL YOU MARRY ME?
THANKS, JERRY, BUT I CAN'T. I'M BUSY EVERY NIGHT THIS WEEK.
DIANA, FOR THE UMPTEENTH TIME --WILL YOU MARRY ME?
PLEASE DON'T ASK ME RIDDLES AT THIS TIME OF THE NIGHT, BOB. I'M TOO SLEEPY.
BUT ALONE, DIANA DREAMS OF THE ONLY MAN SHE'S EVER LOVED.

KRAZY KAT

Button Up Your Overcoat!



A AWFIL SAD L'IL BOID HE IS, IS AIN'T HE ?
YES - HE'S A SAD LITTLE SWALLOW
WOT DID HE SWALLA ?
HIS PRIDE, IF ANY-THING
THEN IT'S INDIGESTION WOT MAKES HIM SO SAD ?
NO IT'S BECAUSE HE DID NOT MAKE A SUMMER
LOOK A HEPPY SWALLA
WHY NOT? HE MADE A SUMMER
YES AND I'M GOING TO MAKE A WINTER TOO

1120 K—WCOP—267.7 M

TODAY

7 30—Rhythm and Romance.
7 45—Today's Almanac.
8 00—Hits and Encores.
8:15—News.
8.30—Orchids to You.
8.45—Friendly Health Advisor.
9 00—Ubaldo Guida.
9:30—Consumers' Guide.
9:35—Magic Kitchen.
10:00—News.
10:15—Mediations of Poliment.
10 30—Women's Club Choristers.
10 45—Youthful Loveliness.
11:00—Italian Dramatization.
11:15—Album of Love.
11 30—Palradio.
11 45—[illegible] Players.
12 00—Ivory Tower.
12 15—Zeke Manners' Hillbillies.
12 30—Community Voice.
12 45—News.
1 00—Italian Journal.
1:15—Frolic Makers.
1:40—Boston American Lost and Found Service.
1 45—Jane Ford.
2 00—World Entertains.
2 30—Music of Masters.
2.45—Department of Education.
3.00—News.
3:15—Dreamer of Keys.
3:30—World Dances.
4:00—Four O'Clock Revue.
4.30—World Varieties.
5.00—Hits and Bits.

830 K—WHDH—361 M

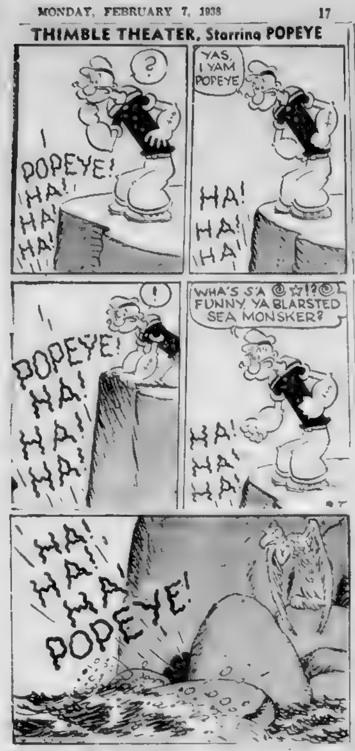
12 30—Noonday Revue.
1:00—Rhythm Makers.
1.15—Tonal Portraits.
1:30—Harmonica Octet.
1:45—Cecil and Sally.
2:00—Silver Strings.
2 15—Don Humbert's Music.
2:30—Van Clemens, songs.
2:45—Stamp Man.
3:00—News.
3:15—Organ Silhouettes.
3:30—Eb and Zeb.
3:45—Tea Time Concert.
4:00—Boy Scout Program.
4 15—Fishermen's Broadcast.
4 30—Master Strings.
4 45—Variety Musicale.
5 00—Ken Singer's Orchestra.
5 15—Variety Musicale.
5 30—Depot Dialogues.
5 45—Top Tunes.
6 00—News.
6 15—German Orchestra.
6 30—Jimmie McHale's Orchestra.
6 45—Gene Nickerson's Orchestra.
7 00—Jack Manning's Ensemble.
7.15—Mickey Anton's Orchestra.

920 K—WORL—325.6 M

TODAY

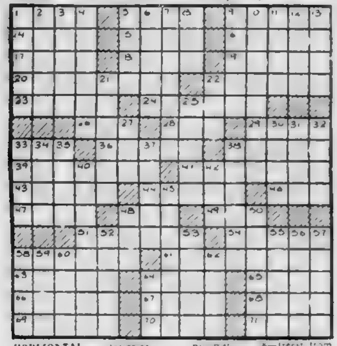
12 15—Weather.
12.30—Corn Huskers.
12 30—Stock Quotations.
12 45—Community Fishing Line.
1 00—News.
1 05—Continental Rhythms.
1 15—[illegible] of Human Relations.
1 45—Luncheon Club.
2 00—Newsreel Theater.
2 15—Gypsy Fortunes.
2 30—Christian Science.
3.00—News.
3 15—Stock Quotations.
3.30—Ho. Club.
3 45—Yodeling Cowgirl.
3 45—Yodeling Cowgirl.
4:00—Quiz.
4 15—Margit Hegedus.
4 30—Sportsman Show.
5 00—Weather.
5:05—Your City and Mine.

THIMBLE THEATER, Starring POPEYE



?
POPEYE! HA! HA! HA!
YAS, I YAM POPEYE
HA! HA! HA!
!
POPEYE! HA! HA! HA!
WHA'S S'A @☆!?@ FUNNY, YA BLARSTED SEA MONSKER?
HA! HA! HA!
HA! HA! HA! POPEYE!

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE -:- By Eugene Sheffer



HORIZONTAL
1—make-believe
5—small nail
9—expressed juice of apples
14—central part of anything
15—plant yielding medicinal gum
16—apart
17—assert
18—parrot
19—roams
20—surface of a liquid column
22—mourn
23—eve.
24—volcanic rock
26—mineralized rock
28—breach
29—coating on metals from corrosion
33—instrument for piercing small holes
36—bury
38—young pigeon
39—enriched silk stuff
41—instruct
43—emulator
44—Chile saltpeter
46—utter in words
47—article
48—unit of internal capacity for ships
49—textile fabric
51—reddish yellow
54—bottoms of feet
58—organ of flower
61—remnant
63—find fault without reason
64—swift-footed rodent
65—eager
66—substitute for soap
67—pertaining to the ear
68—tinkling
69—dogma
70—garden vegetable
71—rim

VERTICAL
1—worthless fellow
2—small, mean house
3—sphere of action
4—breed of sheep
5—soft mineral
6—audibly
7—bodice of woman's dress
8—instrument to open lock
9—unit of weight for precious stones
10—opposed to private
11—plunge into water
12—delightful region
13—[illegible]
21—[illegible] in a series
22—[illegible] cavity
25—mark denoting [illegible]
27—terminate
30—[illegible] a row [illegible]
31—[illegible]
32—three at cards
33—shelter
34—legal document of command
35—deep affection
37—member for insertion into mortise
40—freed from mixture
42—plant used in medicine
44—emblem of morning
45—ungrateful person
48—[illegible]
50—salt of a white crystalline substance
52—lease again
53—spectral
55—black and blue
56—augmenting by scanty addition
57—grasslike herb
58—go away!
59—mild
60—river in England
62—faction
64—master tap (mech.)

SATURDAY'S ANSWERS:

A	D	A	M		W	E	N	T		O	U	T
L	A	M	A		A	G	U	E		A	V	E
P	L	A	T	I	N	G		T	O	K	E	N
		T	I	R	E		T	H	R	E	A	D
S	C	E	N	E		G	R	E	E	N
P	L	U	G		T	I	E	R	S		B	A
O	U	R		G	R	A	S	S		D	O	N
T	E		P	L	A	N	S		M	O	L	T
		P	L	A	I	T		C	A	N	O	E
P	A	R	E	N	T		R	A	N	A
I	L	I	A	C		R	E	L	A	T	E	S
T	E	E		E	B	O	N		G	O	N	E
Y	E	S		S	E	T	A		E	R	S	T

BOYS! GIRLS! VOTE HERE—clip ballot and mail to "Uncle Newt," Boston American — TUNE IN WMEX at 5:45 every weekday night and hear the "Funnies" on the air.

my favorite Boston American Comics are

1 ____________________
2 ____________________
3 ____________________ my name ____________________
address ____________________
city ____________ state ____________ age ______ school ____________________

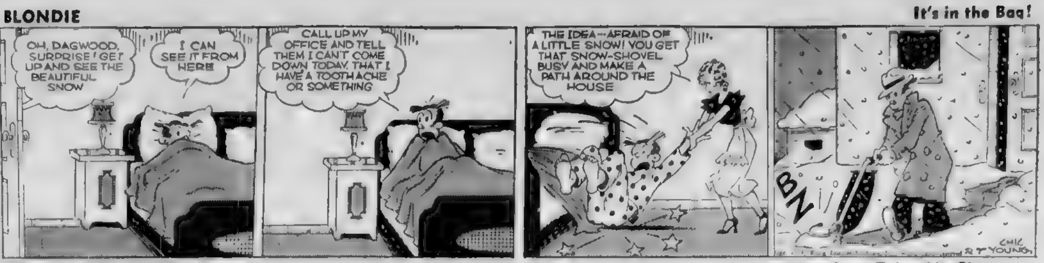
BLONDIE

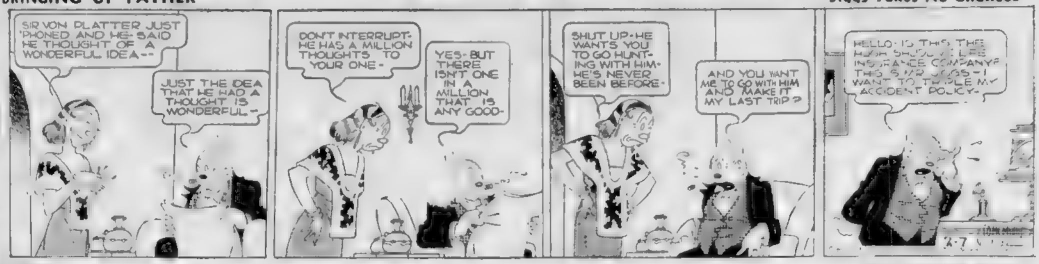
It's in the Bag!



OH, DAGWOOD, SURPRISE! GET UP AND SEE THE BEAUTIFUL SNOW
I CAN SEE IT FROM HERE
CALL UP MY OFFICE AND TELL THEM I CAN'T COME DOWN TODAY, THAT I HAVE A TOOTHACHE OR SOMETHING
THE IDEA—AFRAID OF A LITTLE SNOW! YOU GET THAT SNOW-SHOVEL BUSY AND MAKE A PATH AROUND THE HOUSE
BZ
CHIC YOUNG

BRINGING UP FATHER

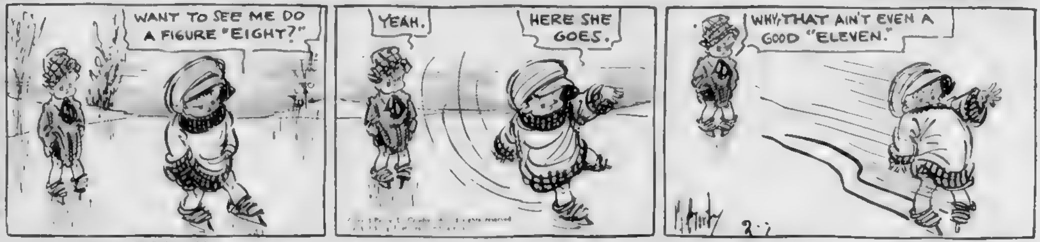
Jiggs Takes No Chances



SIR VON PLATTER JUST 'PHONED AND HE SAID HE THOUGHT OF A WONDERFUL IDEA--
JUST THE IDEA THAT HE HAD A THOUGHT IS WONDERFUL-
DON'T INTERRUPT-HE HAS A MILLION THOUGHTS TO YOUR ONE-
YES-BUT THERE ISN'T ONE IN A MILLION THAT IS ANY GOOD-
SHUT UP-HE WANTS YOU TO GO HUNTING WITH HIM-HE'S NEVER BEEN BEFORE-
AND YOU WANT ME TO GO WITH HIM AND MAKE IT MY LAST TRIP?
HELLO-IS THIS THE HIGH SHOOT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY? THIS IS MR JIGGS-I WANT TO TRIPLE MY ACCIDENT POLICY-
2-7

SKIPPY

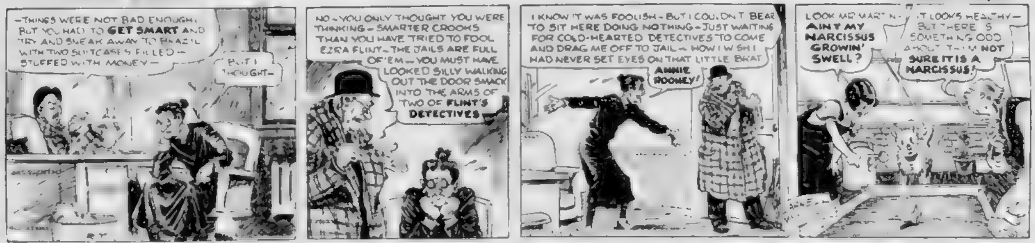
He Cuts Some Figure



WANT TO SEE ME DO A FIGURE "EIGHT?"
YEAH.
HERE SHE GOES.
WHY, THAT AIN'T EVEN A GOOD "ELEVEN."
2-7

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

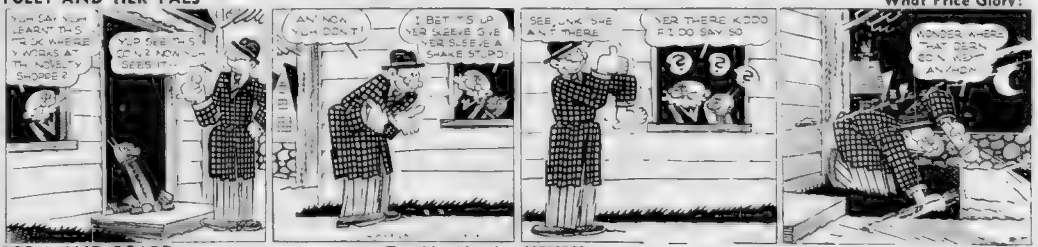
Belated Regrets



—THINGS WERE NOT BAD ENOUGH, BUT YOU HAD TO GET SMART AND TRY AND SNEAK AWAY TO BRAZIL WITH TWO SUITCASES FILLED—STUFFED WITH MONEY—
BUT I THOUGHT—
NO—YOU ONLY THOUGHT YOU WERE THINKING—SMARTER CROOKS THAN YOU HAVE TRIED TO FOOL EZRA FLINT—THE JAILS ARE FULL OF 'EM—YOU MUST HAVE LOOKED SILLY WALKING OUT THE DOOR SMACK INTO THE ARMS OF TWO OF FLINT'S DETECTIVES
I KNOW IT WAS FOOLISH—BUT I COULDN'T BEAR TO SIT HERE DOING NOTHING—JUST WAITING FOR COLD-HEARTED DETECTIVES TO COME AND DRAG ME OFF TO JAIL—HOW I WISH I HAD NEVER SET EYES ON THAT LITTLE BRAT
ANNIE ROONEY!
LOOK MR MARTIN—AIN'T MY NARCISSUS GROWIN' SWELL?
IT LOOKS HEALTHY—BUT THERE IS SOMETHING ODD ABOUT IT—I'M NOT SURE IT IS A NARCISSUS!

POLLY AND HER PALS

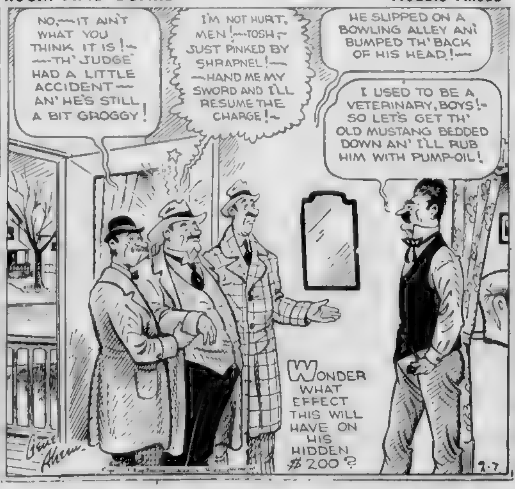
What Price Glory!



YUH SAY YUH LEARNT THIS TRICK WHERE YA WORKS AT TH' NOVELTY SHOPPE?
YUP SEE THIS COIN? NOW YUH SEES IT--
AN' NOW YUH DON'T!
I BET IT'S UP YER SLEEVE GIVE YER SLEEVE A SHAKE STUPID!
SEE, UNK SHE AIN'T THERE
YER THERE KIDDO FI DO SAY SO
? ? ?
WONDER WHERE THAT DERN COIN WENT ANYHOW

ROOM AND BOARD

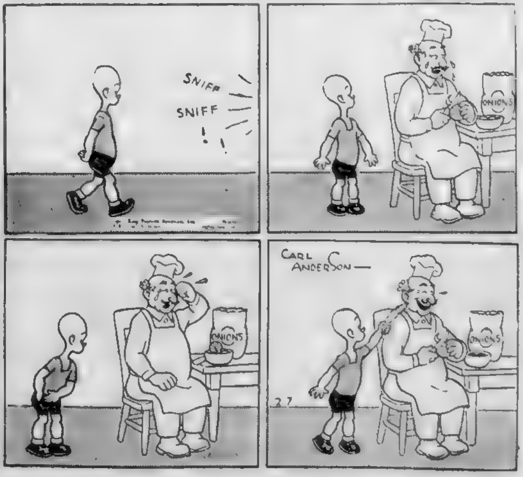
Trouble Ahead



NO,—IT AIN'T WHAT YOU THINK IT IS!——TH' JUDGE HAD A LITTLE ACCIDENT—AN' HE'S STILL A BIT GROGGY!
I'M NOT HURT, MEN!—TOSH;—JUST PINKED BY SHRAPNEL!——HAND ME MY SWORD AND I'LL RESUME THE CHARGE!—
HE SLIPPED ON A BOWLING ALLEY AN' BUMPED TH' BACK OF HIS HEAD!—
I USED TO BE A VETERINARY, BOYS!—SO LET'S GET TH' OLD MUSTANG BEDDED DOWN AN' I'LL RUB HIM WITH PUMP-OIL!
WONDER WHAT EFFECT THIS WILL HAVE ON HIS HIDDEN $200?
Gene Ahern
2-7

HENRY

That Does It



SNIFF
SNIFF
! !
ONIONS
CARL ANDERSON—
2-7

'I'LL BE MAT CHAMPION FRIDAY,' BOASTS CASEY

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER
18 BOSTON, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1938

It's Louis From St. Louis

Thesz Manhandles Spar Mates for Title Go With Casey

AUSTEN LAKE

Twilight of Envy: Harris Blows Kiss To Cronin's Red Sox

IT IS VERY SPORTING OF BUCKY HARRIS, the marcelled manager of the Washington ball club, to say in the papers that the Red Sox and Joe Cronin are a sweeter combination than people give them credit for, and that, if fortune is kind, Joe might throw a pennant miracle next summer.

AUSTEN LAKE

I trust that Bucky is not just bending a diplomatic knee. Because I am pretty sure that he has never stopped drooling envious dribbles over Cronin's job, which would still be his job except for a capricious cast of the dice.

Indeed, only last summer, Bucky was heard to sorrow over losing his Boston post, which he had once extolled as the coziest corner in baseball. He recalled how he had never climbed into bed during the spring of 1934 without giving himself a solemn, thanksgiving handshake for being bossed by so liberal a cash-angel as Tom Yawkey. And in his dreams, he said, he used to hear the musical tinkle of World Series coin tumbling into his till.

[illegible]

* * *

Autumn Apoplexy (1934)

BUCKY USED TO LIKEN HIS RED SOX job to a kindergarten kid being let loose in a lollypop factory. The muscles of his cheeks grew fat with smiling and he would chirp the happy hours away giving interviews to the press in a Mother Goose babble and gloat on the prospect of giving his old Detroit and Washington teams a painful boot in the breeches.

So it came as a [illegible] when Yawkey [illegible] down to Washington [illegible] and [illegible] Harris to come down from his managerial [illegible] Joe Cronin [illegible] up. It [illegible] Harris [illegible] he couldn't utter [illegible]

It took several months before his paralysis thawed out. But when he could whisper once more he hurried to Washington and asked to be hired for Cronin's vacant job, which wasn't a prestige job like the one with the Red Sox, being just mediocre as to pay and not very good for the pride of the individual, because Mr. Clark Griffith as a king maker deals strictly in limited monarchies.

So by the time Bucky got his [illegible] back he found he couldn't use [illegible] at the [illegible] was [illegible] drawing his pay from Cronin's [illegible]. What screaming he did he was obliged to do inwardly and [illegible], though he effected a saintly disposition, there were dark [illegible] going on in the caverns of his [illegible]. Even today there is only one thing that Bucky likes better than beating the Red Sox in a game of ball and that is to beat them in a doubleheader.

* * *

Sugar-coated Hard Guy

INDEED, HARRIS HAS NEVER BEEN A MAN to flinch from paying back old indignities and, though he is a pleasant type to meet over the tea-cups, he has always been a magnificent endurance-hater who, before he quit his playing days prematurely to master-mind on the sidelines, was reckoned a very robust character in matters of fist throwing.

But, by some odd prank of Mother Nature, he was addicted to high hand shaking, and had a soprano voice and a love for grammatical niceties of speech which strangers sometimes mistook for symptoms of softness. He also chummed up with George P. Marshall, the orchidaceous owner of the football Redskins, and liked to lurk around Washington's supercilious social centers. So this led to some misapprehensions among the athletes until Bucky took them one at a time under the grandstand and Christianized them by fanning out their daylights or came coasting into the bases with his shoe-chisels aimed high at their softer portions.

So after a while, the players began to quit holding his social pretensions against him and agreed, if he wished to put on his dinner coat and play with the senatorial set, he was at least entitled to the same cautious respect accorded any hunky on a slag heap who had fists as big as Easter hams and knew how to employ them.

* * *

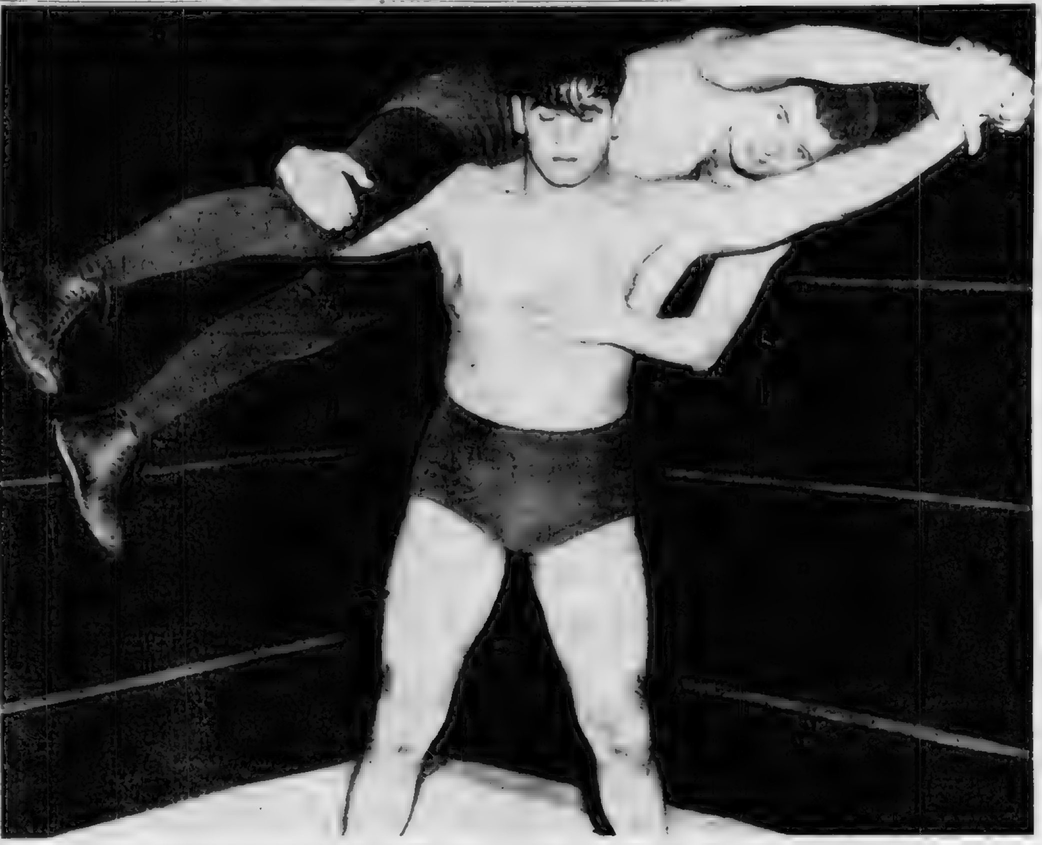
Yawkey Misinterpreted His Manner

IT IS POSSIBLE THAT WHEN YAWKEY decided to turn Bucky loose from the Red Sox, any doubts as to his managerial qualities may have sprung from the fact that, as Bucky acquired new layers of parlor-polish his natural, shaggy interior became smothered under coatings of sissyhood. Yawkey may have considered Bucky too smooth externally for the crude, cow-hand requirements of having to deal with pesky characters, though the truth is it was just Bucky's ill luck never to have had Yawkey witness any of his fistic peeves or be within earshot when he let off his coloratura profanities.

So though Harris squeezed as much from the 1934 Red Sox as any manager could be asked to do, finishing fourth, his misinterpreted-manner cost him his job and gave Yawkey the sudden inspiration to buy the highest priced bit of shortstopping flesh in the baseball business. It was the beginning of a spending jag in which Yawkey bought what he thought was a whole series of pennants, but which turned out to be conspicuous annual failures.

The Sox' collapse may have warmed the cockles of Bucky's spite, but he never quite recovered from the sudden paralytic shock of losing baseball's coziest corner. Which is why it is very sporting of him to praise Cronin and the Red Sox as a sweeter combination than anybody knows and one not unlikely to throw a pennant miracle. Do you think, from long habit, Bucky could be bending a diplomatic knee?

Austen Lake writes regularly for the Boston Sunday Advertiser.



MAT CHAMPION Louis Thesz from St. Louis says he'll have Steve (Crusher) Casey singing the blues after their championship bout Friday night at the Garden. Louis is shown here giving his sparring partner, Harry Finkelstein, an "airplane ride" as part of the stiff routine of training he has set for himself. Thesz was named champion by the A. W. A.

Ben Chapman, Bagby Sign Sox Contracts

Two more [illegible] of the [illegible] Chapman [illegible] and [illegible] Bagby [illegible] were received at Fenway Park [illegible].

A [illegible] accompanied Chapman's contract:

"I have been refereeing basketball games in the Southern Conference all winter and I am in fine physical condition.

"I am more than satisfied with my contract and I expect to have one of my best years."

Jim Bagby, Jr., son of the former [illegible] Cleveland ace [illegible] won 31 games that year [illegible] for the Hazelton Club, N. Y.-Penn. last season and won 21 games against eight defeats.

Bagby is 22 years old and is right handed.

3000 Dog Entries For N. Y. Show

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—A great many men and women will call formally upon man's best friend this week.

For three days, from Thursday morning until late Saturday night, the usually humble companion of mankind, the dog, will be at home to his human visitors in the 62nd annual Westminster Kennel Club Show at Madison Square Garden.

It's a case of the dog having his day and a little more. More than 3000 selected canines of 94 different breeds will be on display and will compete for the distinction of being named the best of their kind.

The entry list, slightly smaller than last year's, totals 3093. That makes the Westminster show the largest indoor show in America and one of the world's biggest. Preliminary to the main show, the Associated Terrier Clubs and the American Pomeranian Club will hold their specialty shows Wednesday.

ICE QUEEN

Megan Taylor Takes World Title

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 7 (INS)—Megan Taylor, England, won the ladies figure skating championship of the world from her compatriot Cecilia Colledge, with Hedy Stenuf, of the United States, third.

Megan Taylor

Miss Stenuf is Australian born but now resides in America.

Miss Colledge finished second to Sonja Henie, Hollywood's current sensation, in the 1936 Olympic games.

Miss Taylor scored [illegible] points to 1930.7 for Miss Colledge.

Sutton to Risk 'Bat' Crown

Gardner Sutton of the Badminton and Tennis Club will defend his men's singles crown in the state badminton championships which open at the University Club next Monday, but the women's singles, women's doubles and mixed doubles will have no defending titlists.

Don and Phil Richardson, recent winners of the Tedesco invitation, are slated to retain their doubles title, but the absence of Pat Radford leaves two of the women's titles vacant. She is now in England, and Mary Whittemore will be favored to succeed her.

Today in Sports

SQUASH RACQUETS

Women's national championships at Harvard Club, 10.00 A. M.

BOXING

Irish American A. A. open amateur tournament at Boston Arena, 8.00 P. M.

4 Cities Bid for Zanesville Franchise

ZANESVILLE, O., Feb. 7 (AP)—Four cities were in the market today [illegible] Zanesville franchise in the [illegible] Atlantic League, but it wasn't [illegible] whether Zanesville [illegible].

After the annual meeting of the [illegible] President [illegible] league came word that [illegible] the Boston Bees [illegible] the [illegible] would contend for the berth: Huntington and Wheeling, W. Va., Youngstown, O., and Erie, Pa.

Daily said that league members leaned toward Huntington, where he said a rent free park had been pledged and the city's 72 civic clubs had promised support.

A decision by Boston on whether to stay in Zanesville was expected within ten days by Jack McCallister of Columbus, who represented the Hub city and Zanesville at the session. He said he would contact Robert Quinn, Boston president. Daily said that after Quinn made his decision a meeting in Canton would be called for adoption of a schedule.

The league voted to open its season May 3 and close September 8, playing a 130-game schedule. The Shaughnessy playoff will be used again.

Fine Field Entered In Peabody Bouts

The first elimination in the diamond belt tournament to be conducted by the Peabody Post, A. L. 153, will be held Friday night at Peabody City Hall. Competition will be in all eight classes.

Two boys who stole the last show will again be seen in action, namely Freddy Thomas of Natick and Angelo Chilis of Lynn.

Joe Gallon of Boston and Howard Dunderdale of Allston, finalists in the first show, will also be back.

Other entries are Phil White of Salem, Sam Pasquale of Lynn, Herbie Horan of Peabody, Cliff Thibodeau of Peabody, Bob Le Luca of Peabody, Babe Chappini of Lynn, Mal Smallwood of Boston.

'Casey World's Best Wrestler,' Says Training Mate Mamos

Will Defeat Thesz Friday, He Adds

Steve (Crusher) Casey of Sneem, County Kerry, Ireland, declares he will be world's heavyweight wrestling champion after next Friday night when he collides with Louis Thesz of St. Louis, present title holder, at Boston Garden.

"I will beat Thesz," Casey said, as he was dressing, after a spirited workout at Jerry Buckley's gymnasium down in Friend street. "However, I do not expect an easy match. Rather, I am prepared for the toughest battle of my career.

"I realize Thesz is a great wrestler. He must be to have defeated Everett Marshall twice and Dan O'Mahony in 16 minutes."

The O'Mahony angle gives Thesz a decided edge over Casey. Lou turned the job in much quicker time than did the Crusher. It is remembered Danno gave Casey a tough battle.

ALBRIGHT AIDS CASEY

Steve impressed railbirds with his work. He stepped at a fast pace all through the drill and fairly manhandled his three training mates. They were Harry Mamos, recently returned from Europe, Les Ryan and Angelo Lorenzo.

"Casey is in great shape right now," Mamos said after he had finished with the Crusher. "He is, without a doubt, the strongest wrestler in the game today.

"When I was in Europe I saw the type of wrestlers Steve knocked off and they were all good. I've never seen Thesz wrestle, but I am going on record now by saying Steve will beat him. I do not believe there is a wrestler in the world Steve cannot take."

Jack Albright, Steve's manager, was at the workout and instructed the Irishman on a series of new holds.

Casey will continue working daily until the day of the battle at Buckley's, starting each afternoon at 2 o'clock.

"I just hope Steve's training tastes stick it out," Albright said.

TICKETS

Tickets for the world's heavyweight championship wrestling match between Louis Thesz and Steve (Crusher) Casey at Boston Garden Friday night are on sale at the Garden and at Bowser's ticket office, No. 115 Chauncy street. The Garden's telephone number is Capitol 3200 and Bowser's is Hubbard 4[illegible], 4444 and 4445.

Admission prices for the title scrap are 55 cents, $1.10, $2.20 and $3.30.

Judging from the heavy advance sale there likely will be a sellout for the show.

"Nobody likes to work with him because he handles them so roughly."

• • •

Sam Muchnick, personal representative of Thesz, writes that the champion will not get in until a day before the bout.

"Lou's father insists that he do all his training in St. Louis," Muchnick writes. "He has a fine gymnasium in which to work and fine training mates. Besides, Father Thesz wants to supervise his son's training.

"Another reason Lou is remaining here is because he likes his wife's cooking and would have to eat in restaurants if he went to Boston for his conditioning.

"Lou is in really remarkable condition. I've never seen him work so hard in the gym. He is proud of the title he owns and does not intend to lose it to Casey."

If Muchnick is right, and Thesz is in the best shape of his career you can bet your last dollar that he is a perfect physical specimen as he was in excellent condition when he polished off Rudy Dusek in his Garden debut.

CLARK ON CARD

George (Dazzler) Clark, flashy Scotchman, came to town from the wrestling hinterlands and immediately started training for his special bout with John Paul Jones the Texan, on the Thesz-Casey card. Clark still has hopes of winning

Clark Here to Train For Jones Boy

[illegible] Boston [illegible] Sweeter.

• • •

[illegible] has been beg[illegible] since that night in Washington when he [illegible] Tom Robinson [illegible] three times [illegible] opponent [illegible] Sandusky, 325-pound [illegible] in next Friday's semi-final.

• • •

Bob Gregory has established a training camp at Promoter Paul Bowser's Fair Oaks Farm.

"You would think Bob was training for a match instead of just to referee," Bowser said. "He is up early every morning and runs around my race track. Then he rides horses and chops wood all day. Princess Baba, Bob's wife, is an expert horsewoman, too."

• • •

Princess Baba, beautiful daughter of the white rajah of Sarawak, will attend Friday night's world's heavyweight wrestling championship match between Louis Thesz, the titleholder, and Steve (Crusher) Casey, the challenger, at Boston Garden. She will sit in a royal box and have other distinguished guests with her.

Besides, the Princess will present the two championship belts to the winner.

AT 1:40 P. M.

each day all lost and found ads advertised in the Boston American are broadcast over

STATION WCOP

Schedule Kind To Tired Bruins From Here In

Nine of 15 Remaining Games Booked At Home

By BILL GRIMES

After chalking up their 20th victory of the season in Chicago, where they shellacked the Black Hawks, 7 to 2, the Bruins were [illegible] way back [illegible] holding their three-point lead over the New York Rangers.

The Bruins were [illegible] again on this trip. When [illegible] to last Thursday night Manager Art Ross was of the [illegible] for the [illegible] week the Bruins would be at [illegible] strength against Maple Leafs and Hawks.

Instead [illegible] Queen [illegible] was [illegible] and [illegible] Wo [illegible]

BILL SCORES TWO

[illegible] Chicago.

H [illegible] made the W [illegible] to take his place [illegible] a [illegible] worthy [illegible] on the [illegible] a fine account of [illegible] ing two of the [illegible]

With none of [illegible] 15 games to be played [illegible] Bruins should [illegible] American Division [illegible]

They have six [illegible] road trips [illegible] leave town again [illegible] New York [illegible] Rangers.

* * *

[illegible] games [illegible] Red Wings [illegible] of the Stanley Cup [illegible]

After [illegible] Bruins here last [illegible] Wings went [illegible] New York and [illegible] 6-1 [illegible] Americans.

Then [illegible] at home and gave the [illegible] best show [illegible] season [illegible] 8 to 0.

Red Wings are [illegible] behind [illegible] hawks. However [illegible] crew has passed [illegible] than the world champions.

The Hawks [illegible] morning with the Bruins are on a three game road trip.

They will meet the Canucks in Montreal on Thursday after they [illegible] Bruins tomorrow night at the Garden, and then will be in Toronto on Saturday night.

In the meantime Red Wings will meet both New York crews in Detroit, Rangers on Thursday and Americans Sunday.

WINGS GOING UP

Now that they have shown a couple of flashes of their 1935-36 and 1936-37 form, the Wings will be dangerous from here in and all probability [illegible] will have [illegible] place.

Black Hawks and Americans are being eased out of the play-offs.

Since the first of the new year, the Hawks have [illegible] points in 15 games against [illegible] points by the Red Wings [illegible] games. The Amerks have [illegible] two victories, [illegible] of which were made at the expense of Maroons and their last win was recorded on January 2.

They have made only [illegible] in their last 13 games against [illegible] for Maroons in an even dozen games.

Harlow One of Trio Sought by Michigan

Content at Harvard So Job May Go To Crisler

By JOHN VAN CRONKHITE

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (INS)—I've just taken a quick look into the crystal ball that reveals the future.

It's going to be a busy week in sports.

There's the announcement from Michigan about a new head coach [illegible] dear little Joe DiMaggio [illegible] unsigned and Lou Gehrig ready for his salary conference and [illegible] there's the annual Dartmouth Winter Carnival.

It is as clear as day in the crystal that Michigan, when it announces its new coach this week, will select one of three men: Princeton's Fritz Crisler, Harvard's Dick Harlow or Vanderbilt's Ray Morrison.

My secret operatives advise that Harlow is pretty well satisfied with his success at Harvard, and, after all Harvard is Harvard, and why leave Harvard for Michigan.

Down in Nashville, Morrison had a good season with Vanderbilt, yet Vanderbilt isn't Harvard and Ray might like the looks of things out Michigan way.

CRISLER SORE

While the crystal doesn't seem too positive about it, nevertheless it did sorta glow when the vision of Fritz Crisler appeared.

There are unkind Princeton men who are unable to remember the Princeton powerhouse of the past few years when they get to thinking about last year's Princeton team.

[illegible] is [illegible] to be [illegible] about the [illegible] And [illegible] about the big [illegible] And who can [illegible] when [illegible]

He knows all the tricks of the Big Ten League. Come to think of it, I believe the crystal mumbled something about Crisler as the number one choice of Michigan for the unfortunate Harry Kipke's job.

GEHRIG'S SQUAWK

[illegible] the New York [illegible] the Yankees [illegible] DiMaggio [illegible] were [illegible] in the self-satisfying warmth of publicity.

After all, there's no publicity so satisfying as a salary slug-fest [illegible] of the Yankees.

Gehrig has never got much of it [illegible] who pushed him [illegible] background, now the DiMaggio that's getting all the thunder. So don't be surprised this week if Gehrig stages a big spree [illegible] own.

[illegible] Gehrig may not get [illegible] DiMaggio [illegible] DiMaggio will not get [illegible] that Gehrig will get [illegible]

As for the 28th annual Dartmouth Carnival [illegible] the fact [illegible] Germany, Norway and Canada will be on hand I couldn't see a thing in the crystal but the Green of Dartmouth. The [illegible] will be won as [illegible]

Now what did I do with that [illegible]

Harvard Awarded Big Aquatic Meet

[illegible] individual championships of the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League will be [illegible] in the Harvard [illegible] March 18 and 19.

It is the first time these championships have been held at Harvard. [illegible] swimmers and [illegible] of Columbia, Dartmouth, Harvard, Navy, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Yale will be invited to the competitions.

Five Browns Signed

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 7—Rookie pitchers George Hennessey and [illegible] Bud [illegible] veteran pitchers Buck Newsom and Jim Weaver and recruit catcher Sam Harshany are the only St. Louis Browns signed, club officials reported today.

School Hockey Scoring

GREATER BOSTON LEAGUE

Player and School	G	A	Pts
Frank Briand, Cam. Latin	10	7	17
Al Dumond, Rindge Tech	7	6	13
Bob Hall, Rindge Tech	3	8	11
Mert Berkley, Cam. Latin	7	4	11
Ralph Powers, Rindge Tech	5	6	11
Bob Gray, Stoneham	7	2	9
Larry Bubine, Arlington	7	1	8
Bob Priestley, Melrose	4	4	8
Joe Rizzo, Belmont	4	3	7
Leo Turner, Melrose	6	0	6
Norman Leger, Rindge Tech	4	2	6
Mark Boudreau, Cam. Latin	3	3	6
Jack Riley, Medford	2	3	5
Bill Talbot, Belmont	4	1	5
Bill Flynn, Arlington	1	4	5
Jim Huff, Stoneham	4	0	4
Don Manchester, Newton	4	0	4
Sid Hines, Cam. Latin	2	2	4
Bob Rosenblad, Medford	2	2	4
Dick Henry, Belmont	1	3	4
Sandy Blanchard, Arlington	3	0	3
Jack Carder, Newton	2	1	3
John Mulcahy, Cam. Latin	2	1	3
Bob Lange, Rindge Tech	1	2	3
Bob McAuliffe, Rindge Tech	1	2	3
Ray Schone, Medford	1	2	3
W. Boudreau, Cam. Latin	0	2	2
Bob Bingham, Stoneham	2	0	2
Charles Hott, Melrose	2	0	2
Fred Kidd, Melrose	2	0	2
John Tate, Stoneham	2	0	2
Bill Duffey, Arlington	1	1	2
George Holter, Newton	1	1	2
Walter Hughes, Medford	1	1	2
Ben Mason, Newton	1	1	2
Joe Reardon, Melrose	1	1	2
Paul Rouleau, Rindge Tech	1	1	2
Charles Wetzel, Rindge Tech	1	1	2
Harley, Newton	0	2	2
Phil Flannery, Cam. Latin	0	2	2
Walter DeVoe, Medford	1	0	1
Ingas, Newton	1	0	1
Al Ezarik, Newton	1	0	1
Bob Glynn, Medford	1	0	1
Larry Lantz, Melrose	1	0	1
Norman McPherson, Medford	1	0	1
Big McLaughlin, Stoneham	1	0	1
Frank Bay, Belmont	1	0	1
Russell, Stoneham	1	0	1
Sullivan, Belmont	1	0	1
Carl Westlund, Belmont	1	0	1
Joe Conley, Stoneham	0	1	1
Leach, Stoneham	0	1	1
Powers, Cam. Latin	0	1	1
Dick Bush, Stoneham	0	1	1
Saunders, Arlington	0	1	1

BAY STATE LEAGUE

Player and School	G	A	Pts
Art Shaughnessy, Waltham	11	5	16
Ed Barry, Wellesley	9	3	12
Will Harrison, Walpole	10	3	13
Frank Garron, Wellesley	8	3	11
Nick Flynn, B. C. High	6	4	10
Bob Mason, B. C. High	8	1	9
Leo Richardson, Waltham	1	7	8
Bob Dalrymple, Framingham	7	1	8
Ira Hedges, Needham	3	5	8
Charles Ahern, Needham	5	2	7
Joe Walsh, Walpole	2	5	7
Dick Harrison, Walpole	4	3	7
Olaf Olsen, Walpole	4	2	6
Don Davis, B. C. High	3	3	6
Don Harvey, Walpole	5	1	6
Bob Schmale, Needham	5	1	6
Cy Nast, Needham	3	1	4
George Peachey, Quincy	3	1	4
Bill Fisher, Walpole	2	2	4
Gerry Murray, Wellesley	1	3	4
Ray Smith, Quincy	3	0	3
John Parsiale, Quincy	2	1	3
John Timmins, Walpole	2	1	3
John O'Connor, Framingham	0	3	3
Ken Bell, Watertown	2	0	2
Bob Connor, Waltham	2	0	2
Mayer, Framingham	2	0	2
Charlie McCabe, Wellesley	2	0	2
Fran Rowell, Waltham	2	0	2
Woods, Framingham	2	0	2
Mike Andrukevich, Needham	1	1	2
Broderick, Quincy	1	1	2
Brown, Framingham	1	1	2
Lumsden, Needham	1	1	2
Al Cardiff, Framingham	1	0	1
Chiappini, Needham	1	0	1
Comeau, B. C. High	1	0	1
Farrell, Watertown	1	0	1
Jim Edgeworth, B. C. High	1	0	1
Kanati, Wellesley	1	0	1
Wm. McIntosh, Needham	1	0	1
Tom Meehan, Watertown	1	0	1
Bill Mitchell, Framingham	1	0	1
Ken Norrington, Quincy	1	0	1
Irving O'Mara, Wellesley	1	0	1
Gilbert, Framingham	1	0	1
Wallis, Watertown	1	0	1
R. Abbott, Framingham	0	1	1
Leo Berio, Quincy	0	1	1
Burrell, Quincy	0	1	1
Burt Clark, Waltham	0	1	1
Crawford, Framingham	0	1	1
Jack Cuniffe, Wellesley	0	1	1
Ed Martin, Waltham	0	1	1
Bart McArthur, Waltham	0	1	1
Ed Onion, Waltham	0	1	1
Frank Ragone, B. C. High	0	1	1
Wade, Framingham	0	1	1
Bond Villa, Wellesley	0	1	1

STOP FALLING HAIR
Whip up circulation! Prevent unhealthy hair conditions that lead to baldness! Use
JERIS ANTISEPTIC HAIR TONIC

Sam, Sam, Hurdlin' Man

Sam Allen, Oklahoma's pride in the world of track, has set victory in the B. A. A. hurdles event as his next goal. Last year Sam cracked the indoor record when he was clocked in 5:7 seconds during his semi-final heat, but lost out in the finals. He has been unable to win an indoor title here in Boston during the past two years.

Olympics Defeat Valleyfield, 5-2, Before 9078

Walter Brown is right. There is a place for amateur hockey in Boston.

Before a gathering of 9078, the largest ever to see an amateur hockey game in this city, the Boston Olympics defeated the Valleyfield Braves, 5-2, at the Arena, and gained a third place tie in the Senior Provincial League by so doing.

The Olympics were at their best before the Sabbath throng.

Valleyfield scored first but George Ford evened the count before the first period was over.

Indeed the Olympics would have been three up had not Johnny Lascelles turned in remarkable saves on shots by Stubbs, Guibord and Jeremiah.

Frankie Spain put Boston in the lead in the second period after the Olympics defense men had worn down the visitors with bruising body checks.

Guibord added another in the same period, and Dewey and Lax completed the Boston scoring in the final period.

Boston has two games left to play, with Lafontaine and St. Jacques, and is favored to win both of them.

Senior Provincial League

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Boston Olympics 5, Valleyfield Braves 2.

Sherbrooke Red Raiders 5, Drummondville Maroons 3.

STANDING

Club	W	L	T	Pts	Goals F	Goals Ag
Sherbrooke	15	3	1	30	53	31
Valleyfield	11	4	4	26	40	37
BOSTON	8	4	1	26	37	30
Granby	10	5	1	20	40	44
Drum'ndville	3	12	2	7	35	60
Lafontaine	1	9	1	3	25	56
St. Jacques	1	8	0	2	20	62

SEABOARD RELAYS LURE 52 SCHOOLS

Track again leads [illegible] the school program for the week with the Eastern Seaboard Relay Carnival scheduled for Saturday at the Boston Garden . . . a prelude to the mid-winter carnival will be held Wednesday when the Boston high schools hold their track carnival at the 101st Infantry Armory.

The Writers' Carnival of Champions on Saturday has 52 schools entered. In addition to the relay teams [illegible] have been invited for special races. These have been chosen from the best private, prep and high schools.

Among the individual stars invited are Frank Hines, Northeastern dash champion and Wes Tay[illegible] Roxbury Memorial star. Wes was chased out of the final at the N. Y. meet for two false starts. Gil Walker and Bill Wood are also entered in the dash.

The 1000, hurdles, 300 and 600 are also listed as special events . . . out of state schools from New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Maine will send representatives.

The schools will be divided into four classes. There are 17 in Class A, five in Classes C and D, and 23 in Class B.

* * *

The Wednesday meet will give the intown teams a good warm up . . . Boston English looks like the tops in the Boston schools . . .

Looking a little farther ahead . . . Dartmouth is making plans to take care of the local schools which will compete at their annual interscholastic track meet. Joe McKenney, associate director of athletics in the Boston schools, plans to send the best of the city tracksters.

* * *

Local basketball coaches have had nothing but favorable comment on the action of Director Carl Lundholm at the University of New Hampshire, who this year is allowing teams invited to the annual tournament to use 10 men instead of the usual eight.

Lundholm contends that the elimination of the center jump after scoring has so speeded up the game that the youngsters require substitutes more frequently.

SCHOOL SPORTS SCHEDULE

BASKETBALL

Today—Walpole at Foxboro.

Tomorrow—Revere at Chelsea, Everett at Medford, Rindge at Arlington, Somerville at Cambridge Latin, Newton at Waltham, Melrose at Winthrop, Lexington at Winchester, Bridgton Academy at New Hampshire Freshmen, Stoneham at Belmont, Lawrence Academy at Harvard Freshmen, Weymouth at Hingham, Holbrook at Medfield, St. Mary (L) at Cathedral, St. Mary (B) at Our Lady, St. Charles at Malden Catholic, Dartmouth at Taunton, No. Attleboro at Easton, Coyle at Durfee, Scituate at Kingston, Sacred Heart of Worcester at St. Bernard's, Boston School for Deaf at Weymouth Trade, Sharon at Stoughton, Falmouth at Bourne, Pembroke at Duxbury, Plymouth at Hyannis, Essex Aggies at Manchester High, Upton at Northboro.

Wednesday—Brookline at Cambridge Latin, Wakefield at Concord, Thayer Academy at Milton Academy, Bridgton Academy at New Hampton School, Huntington School at Wilbraham Academy, Portsmouth Priory at Tabor Academy, Attleboro at Mansfield, Holbrook at Randolph.

Thursday—Everett Trade at Weymouth, Taunton at New Bedford vocational.

Friday—Chelsea at Medford, Fitchburg at Brockton, Somerville at Rindge, Arlington at Waltham, Winthrop at Marblehead, Gloucester at Haverhill, Concord at Winchester, Brookline at Framingham, Cambridge Latin at Revere, No. Quincy at Quincy, Braintree at Plymouth, Gorham Normal at Tilton, St. John's at Danvers High, Weston at Cathedral, Gardner at Leominster, Ashland at Millis, Weymouth Trade at Waltham Trade, St. Charles at St. Mary (B), Our Lady at Malden Catholic, Stoneham at Reading, Foxboro at Stoughton, Scituate at Duxbury, St. Peter's of Worcester at St. Bernard's, Canton at Sharon, Taunton at Plainville, Franklin at No. Attleboro, Pembroke at Holbrook, Essex County Aggies at Somerville Vocational, Milton at Attleboro, Bourne at Dartmouth, Coyle at Plymouth, Hingham at Abington, Barnstable at Falmouth.

Saturday—Andover at Harvard Freshmen, Exeter at Yale Freshmen, Holy Cross Freshmen at Cushing Academy, Wilbraham at Williston, Tabor at Milton Academy, Bridgton at Bates Hill.

TRACK

Wednesday—Boston schools' relay carnival at East Armory.

Friday—Somerville at Walden.

Saturday—Third annual Eastern Seaboard relay carnival at Boston Garden.

B. U. Six Picked To Win Over Eagles

The intra-city rivalry between Boston College and Boston University will be carried into the Boston Arena tomorrow night when the hockey sextets of the two colleges [illegible]

Still smarting from the sting of that football defeat meted out to them by the Terriers last fall, the Eagles will enter tomorrow night's ice fray determined to come out on top.

Despite the [illegible] A. Cav[illegible] [illegible] for the Terriers, the B. [illegible] favorites over the Eagles.

But straight wins over Mass. State, Middlebury and St. Anselms will give the Maroon and Gold impetus in tomorrow night's fray.

Joe Hartigan, Eagle leader, who received a minor spine injury in a Thursday night toss, will be ready for action against the Terriers. Joe gave Gerry Derosiers plenty of competition in last year's series.

Two other Eagles who have been ailing with minor injuries, Tim O'Callaghan and [illegible] will also be in top shape for the game.

Adams to Wrestle O'Mahoney at Arena

Paul Adams, world light heavyweight champion, has been signed to meet Art O'Mahoney at the Boston Arena Wednesday night.

Adams returns from a successful tour of the West Coast.

O'Mahoney only recently arrived from Ireland.

One of the high spots Wednesday will be the return of Jack Lutz, the giant Californian, who is to meet Sralle Samara in a one-fall match. Samara still claims the world heavyweight wrestling title, and so far all attempts to dethrone him have been unsuccessful.

Bruno Garibaldi, Italian star, will meet Tony Papalino, and another newcomer, Mike Casey, will meet Ted Germaine.

Allen, Meadows Plan To Train at Harvard

Visitors Here Early For B. A. A. Meet Saturday

By MURRAY KRAMER

Several of the biggest track figures in the nation were Boston-bound this morning, coming to participate in the annual B. A. A. blue ribbon meet at the Boston Garden Saturday night.

Earle Meadows, [illegible] world outdoor pole vault [illegible] Sam Allen and several other midwestern and southern stars.

They will work out at Harvard [illegible] week.

[illegible]

Among the newer [illegible]

[illegible]

Table Tennis Play Carded for Juniors

[illegible] table tennis [illegible] held at the Boston [illegible] 18 years of age [illegible]

[illegible]

City Club to Show 'Batter Up' Again

Members of the Boston [illegible] Hadley, New York Yankees pitcher will be the guest speaker during the screening of the picture.

The "Group" is an informal gathering of City Club members and male guests which meets [illegible] Earlier this winter President "Bob" Quinn of the Boston Bees was the guest speaker.

Speed Skate Queen Wins Third Title

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., Feb. 7—Helen Bahl of Elmhurst, L. I., New York and New Jersey speed skating champion, made a sweep of three women's events here to win the southern New York state title.

Miss Bahl won the 220, 440 and 880 events and was awarded the Chamber of Commerce trophy.

Speculators in Tears as Sonja Departs

Reap Harvest During Star's Five-Day Stay Here

After [illegible] capacity crowds at the Boston Garden for five nights, Sonja Henie, 25-year-old Norwegian skating [illegible] left for New York.

[illegible] records for the Boston Garden [illegible]

[illegible]

Brawl Livens Bruins' Game

Chicago Tilt Held Up For 22 Minutes

[illegible]

National League

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Bruins 7, Chicago 2.

Rangers 2, Toronto 1.

Detroit 8, Canadiens 0.

AMERICAN DIVISION

	W	L	T	Pts	For	Ag
BOSTON	20	9	4	44	92	65
Rangers	18	9	5	41	88	58
Chicago	9	17	7	25	62	96
Detroit	8	19	8	24	70	94

CANADIAN DIVISION

	W	L	T	Pts	For	Ag
Toronto	16	9	7	39	103	86
Canadiens	13	12	8	34	83	92
Americans	10	13	7	27	58	67
Maroons	10	16	4	24	63	79

GAMES THIS WEEK

CHICAGO AT BOSTON

Tomorrow

Chicago at BOSTON.

Montreal at Americans.

Thursday

Montreal at Toronto.

Rangers at Detroit.

Chicago at Canadiens.

Saturday

Rangers at Montreal.

Chicago at Toronto.

Sunday

Canadiens at BOSTON.

Montreal at Rangers.

Toronto at Chicago.

Americans at Detroit.

80,000 Nazis Wail

BERLIN, Feb. 7—Germany's national soccer team disappointed a crowd of 80,000 fans at City Stadium by gaining only a 1-1 tie with Switzerland.

INDOOR SPORTS GUIDE
BOWLING--BILLIARDS
TABLE TENNIS

Boston
Shanley's Recreation—Bowling Han. 1331. Streamlined alleys—4 floors—Billiards. 616 Washington St.—"Tour-in-Town Club"
Commonwealth Recreation—Opp. Fenway Park. 10 Brunswick Balke Collender alleys.
HUNTINGTON CLUB ALLEYS KEN 2126. 246 Huntington Ave. [illegible] Bowling A[illegible]
NORTH STATION ALLEYS 323 Friend St. 16 regulation alleys. 1/2 block from Boston Garden. Laf. 7661
In Town
CRAWFORD Bowling Alleys, 16 Hanover St. [illegible] Laf. 857
NEW BOSTON ALLEYS 147 Wash. St. 32 alleys. 15 tables. Cap. 1554
E. Boston
ORIENT ALLEYS 541 Benn. St. 8 alleys—4 tables. EAS. 0656.
Cambridge
CENTRAL Recreation Center 644 Main St. 12 streamlined alleys. Most up-to-date regulation tournament alleys in N. E.
Harvard Bowl-away, Harvard Sq. [illegible] Norwell Alleys, Elm Bldg. [illegible] A clean place for clean sport
Dorchester
Blue Hill Bowlaway—6 Livingstone [illegible] 17 alleys, no posts. 11 tables.
Lynn
20th Century Alleys, St. Andrew [illegible] a day keeps the "Doc" away.
Roxbury
JOE GRANT [illegible] 6 Tables 3366 Wash. St.
Watertown
BOWLADROME COOLIDGE SQUARE 16 ALLEYS — 6 TABLES [illegible]
Table Tennis
TOWNE COURTS, 146 MILK STREET. DEV. [illegible] Groups [illegible] per hr.

MR. BOSTON

Tommy Kanaly Has Busy Week Ahead | "Kid" Kaplan Has Real Ring Class

By JACK CONWAY

Mr Boston

TOM KANALY will be one of the busiest persons in town this week . . . He has charge of the million and one details in connection with the classic B. A. A. track meet that will be held in the Garden on Saturday night . . . Kanaly was director of B. A. A. track meets back in the day when the Unicorn Club held forth on Exeter street, and staged its meets in Mechanics Building . . . As usual, every class runner in the country who is available will compete in the B. A. A. games on Saturday night.

The flashy "Kid" Kaplan of Dorchester, a boxing natural, will probably go to the post a favorite for his 12-round bout with Honey Mellody of Charlestown at the Garden on Wednesday night . . . It is a "Rip" Valenti Goodwin Club promotion, and should furnish some sizzling action . . . The New England lightweight championship is at stake and you may be sure both boxers will be in there tossing everything they possess in the fistic line.

Kaplan is the classiest youngster to bob out front in the New England fistic parade in years . . . The Kaplan camp has been displaying some concern over the fact the bout is 12 rounds . . . I think a youngster with Kaplan's class won't be bothered by the extra distance.

The Louis Thesz-Steve Casey world's heavyweight championship wrestling bout at the Garden on Friday night has given the mat game the fire it needed to arouse public interest . . . A crowd of 15,000 or more persons appears certain . . . Thesz and Casey are top wrestlers and their meeting is a natural . . . Thesz carries the banner of the West and Southwest, while Casey is the best of the European wrestlers and has built up quite a following in New England . . . The Irishman hasn't been beaten in more than 300 bouts . . . Thesz basis his title claims on the fact he has twice beaten Everett Marshall, while he has also conquered Dan O'Mahony.

Thesz, 22 years old, 6 feet 1½ inches tall, weighing 225 pounds, a 10 2-5 seconds man for 100 yards, looks like the best heavyweight wrestler to come out of the West since Frank Gotch became world's champion . . Bob Gregory, handsome English light heavyweight wrestling champion, will referee, while Princess Baba of Sarawak, his beautiful wife, looks on from a royal box.

The [illegible] present the two world's cham[illegible] . . . A[illegible] has graciously agreed [illegible] center of the ring where everybody in the [illegible] will get a clear view of the presentation [illegible] the first time in the history of the wrestling game [illegible] a member of royalty has ever presented a championship [illegible]

Sportsman's Show Attracting Big Crowds

I TOOK IN [illegible] the Sportsman's and Boat Show [illegible]

[illegible] The hunters also come in for [illegible] with the best [illegible] and camp [illegible] Carpenter Man[illegible] You can see [illegible] best [illegible] equipment [illegible]

I was interested in the new type [illegible] The seats [illegible] then a pe room [illegible]

Random Shots at Target

[illegible] The 22-year-old [illegible] youngster [illegible] by the critics who are [illegible] he will leave the [illegible]

Thesz says he is perfectly satisfied with the [illegible] as referee. He is sure [illegible] as he sees them.

The St. Alphonsus A. A. basketball team [illegible] Peter [illegible] February 17 . . . The St. Alphonsus A. A., which is connected with the Mission Church of Roxbury, has been one of the most active athletic organizations in New England.

Yale and Princeton Meet Dartmouth

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Dartmouth's Indians, ambushed once on their march toward the Eastern intercollegiate basketball title, face further harrying on the road this week in games with Yale and Princeton.

The Indians had won four straight games, three of them on the reservation, and held first place unbeaten when they faced Pennsylvania's quintet Saturday night in Philadelphia's Palestra. But the Quakers jumped the Big Green and won a notable 41 to 38 victory.

The defeat sent Dartmouth into a tie for first place with Cornell, with four victories and a defeat each. Cornell's Big Red, however, has a tough one this week in another battle with Penn, a traditional rival.

Dartmouth's tests come on Thursday at New Haven and on Saturday at Princeton, while Cornell's lone encounter is Saturday night on its home court. Harvard, third in the league, gets a chance to close the gap between it and the two leaders against the last place Yale team Saturday night.

Temple's imposing quintet is at last "swinging" and the boys are scurrying for cover in the Eastern Intercollegiate Conference. The Owls took Penn State, 37 to 30, and West Virginia, 51 to 32, on Friday and Saturday nights to push into a tie with State for first place in the conference race.

Standings of the teams:

EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATE LEAGUE

Team	Won	Lost	Pts.	Opp. Pts
Dartmouth	4	1	220	185
Cornell	4	1	202	206
Harvard	2	1	118	108
Columbia	2	2	157	151
Pennsylvania	2	3	185	194
Princeton	1	3	127	131
Yale	1	5	206	248

WHERE TO FIND IT

THE WHERE TO FIND IT SERVICE tells you where to find any needed service or merchandise

If you don't find what you want in today's Classified phone LIBerty 4000.

Frisch Plans Many Changes With Infield

Lee Demanding 15-Round Return Go With Apostoli

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP).—The wise boys say Detroit doesn't have a look-in for the Louis-Schmeling fight . . . Louis hardest [illegible] Chicago, but we'll take New York.

Frankie Frisch, expert on green pigs, is working out a flock of experiments for his Cardinals this spring. [illegible] Don Padgett [illegible]

[illegible]

Walker [illegible]

FIELDS SET FOR 10 YEARS

Jackie Fields, the old welter champ, has a 10-yea[illegible]

[illegible]

JACKSON HANGS UP GLOVE

[illegible]

Kopecky Lost To B. U. Five

Boston University's basketball [illegible]

[illegible] leading scorers of New England. [illegible] Wednesday night and it is expected that Kopecky's place in the line-up will be filled by Bob Lamb.

Brett Manager Of Rocky Mount

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., Feb. 7 (AP).—Herb Brett, manager of the Danville, Va., club of the Bi-State League for the past three years, was appointed today as manager of the Rocky Mount club of the Piedmont League for the coming season. He succeeds Harry Leibold.

Brett was appointed by Billy Evans, director of minor league operations for the Boston Red Sox, which controls the Rocky Mount franchise.

Eastern College Hoop League

Team	Won	Lost	Pts.	Opp Pts
Dartmouth	4	1	220	185
Cornell	4	1	202	206
Harvard	2	1	115	103
Columbia	2	2	157	151
Pennsylvania	2	3	[illegible]	194
Princeton	1	3	127	132
Yale	1	5	206	248

Saturday's results—Princeton 40, Dartmouth 38 (overtime).

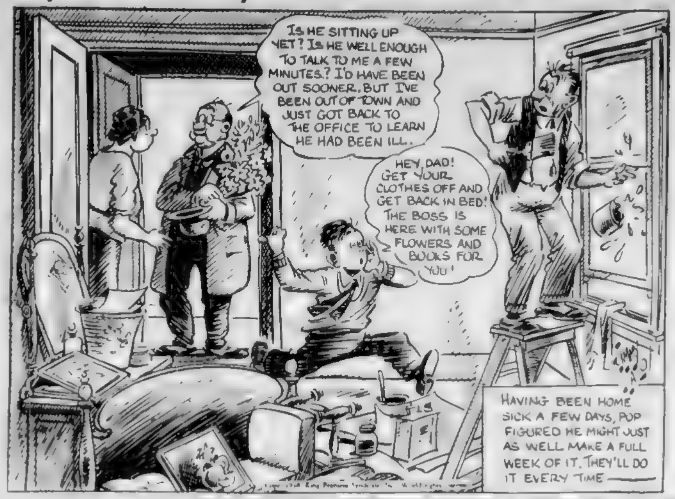
This week's schedule—Thursday, Dartmouth at Yale; Saturday, Penn at Cornell, Harvard at Yale, Dartmouth at Princeton.

LEADING SCORERS

	Pos	Gms	G	F	Tp
Thomas, Dart.	F	5	23	16	62
Wilson, Cor.	C	5	23	9	55
Dough'y, Penn	F	5	23	6	52
Batch'er, Dart.	G	5	18	14	50
Erickson, Yale	G	6	19	12	50
O'Brien, Col	G	4	21	7	49
Foertsch, Cor.	F	5	17	12	46

They'll Do It Every Time

By JIMMY HATLO



IS HE SITTING UP YET? IS HE WELL ENOUGH TO TALK TO ME A FEW MINUTES? I'D HAVE BEEN OUT SOONER, BUT I'VE BEEN OUT OF TOWN AND JUST GOT BACK TO THE OFFICE TO LEARN HE HAD BEEN ILL.
HEY, DAD! GET YOUR CLOTHES OFF AND GET BACK IN BED! THE BOSS IS HERE WITH SOME FLOWERS AND BOOKS FOR YOU!
HAVING BEEN HOME SICK A FEW DAYS, POP FIGURED HE MIGHT JUST AS WELL MAKE A FULL WEEK OF IT. THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

Eric Coy Breaks Discus Record At Sydney

[illegible]

Johannes Co[illegible] can distance ... two hours 30 [illegible] second in winn[illegible] The old mark [illegible]

[illegible]

Bullterriers In Spotlight

As a compliment to T. Dickson Smith, secretary of the Eastern Dog Club, who is ill and unable to work on the show for the first time in 26 years, the Bullterrier Club of New England has set a goal of at least 60 bullterrier entries for the coming exhibition February 21 and 22 at Mechanics Building. Entries close Saturday.

Smith, a founder and secretary of the Eastern in 1912, has always been more closely identified with bullterriers than any other breed. He and Hon. Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., of the governor's council, formerly maintained the Savin Hill Kennels.

Moving spirit of the Bullterrier Club is Mrs. Drury L. Sheraton, of Hingham, the president.

This breed is being judged at the coming Boston canine classic by Frank T. Eskridge, of Newton, secretary of the Middlesex County Kennel Club and veteran all around judge. Last year there were 34 bullterriers entered in the Eastern.

Prominent in the dachshund competition will be the Babel Kennels of Groton, owned by Mrs. Richard E. Danielson, active in hunt circles. She will exhibit six "dachs" of the wire-haired variety, all home-breds, including Abidah, Ledah, Reumah, Hildad, Luke and Noah.

Eagles 2, Reds 1

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Feb. 7—Allen and Hen meeling scored in the second period to give New Haven Eagles a 2-1 triumph over Providence Reds in an International American Hockey League contest here.

Tufts Plays Three

The Tufts courtmen, still hurt by their trouncing at the hands of New Hampshire last Wednesday, hope to start a comeback as they play host to Colby tomorrow night, Northeastern on Thursday, and journey to Amherst on Saturday.

Mucho Gusto Tops Hialeah Field

By DAVE WILSON

Selections made for fast track.

BEST BET—MUCHO GUSTO—6TH RACE

HIALEAH PARK, Fla., Feb. 7. [illegible]

[illegible]

FIRST—Unerring, The Bride, Wise Mildred

[illegible]

SECOND—Sir Quest, Top Tan, Faust

[illegible]

THIRD—Happy Knot, Ladfield, Walter Morton

HAPPY KNOT, fresh as a daisy, needs only to run back to her last triumph at Tropical Park to insure brackets in the third stanza. Four panels in :52 and other trials fully vindicate fitness. LADFIELD, second to Distract in most recent race, will probably have WALTER MORTON to head. The latter was [illegible]

FOURTH—My Kin, Perlette, Aglow

MY KIN [illegible] to Tiger Sam [illegible] the other day [illegible] charge is meeting less capable [illegible]

FIFTH—Cascapedia, Knight War, Hot Cotton

[illegible]

SIXTH—Mucho Gusto, Infantry, Thorson

[illegible]

SEVENTH—Pundit, Conte, Carlovinian

[illegible] CONTE [illegible]

CARLOVINIAN has been away from active competition since Laurel, but trials indicate fitness.

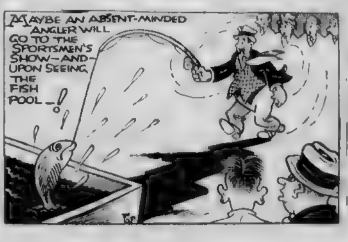
EIGHTH—Melody Maid, Bailiwick, Transmuting

MELODY MAID [illegible] BAILIWICK [illegible] TRANSMUTING [illegible]

Hialeah Park Race Results

First—Spin On, 117 (Haas), 5.70, 3.30, 2.40; Kate Smith, 118 (Barba), 3.60, 2.90; Spanish Mammon, 118 (Landolt), 2.80. Off 2:03. Also—Easter Thorn, Friendly Paul, Show Us, Odessa Charlie, Gay Casino, Helen's Lad, Whinchat, Bib'n Tucker.

Second—French Bread 109 (Keppler) 7.00, 4.50, 3.30; Head Mistress 114 (Leblanc) 43.50, 14.80; Puddles 114 (S. Renick) 5.80. Off 2:35½. Also: Sweet Fern, Dear Me, Wintona, Salt Bay, Miss Louellen, Blue Anna, Bess B., Bird Dog.



MAYBE AN ABSENT-MINDED ANGLER WILL GO TO THE SPORTSMEN'S SHOW—AND—UPON SEEING THE FISH POOL—!

Baseball Just A Business With Medwick

[illegible]

"You've got to make your pile when you're going good," said the Cardinal outfielder who captured just about all the senior loop's honors in 1937.

"When I've passed my peak as a ball player the club isn't going to remember what I did in 1937. It will pay me what it figures I'm worth and that's all," said Medwick.

BUSINESS WITH MEDWICK

"That's why I want to get every cent I think is coming to me now," he added. "It's just a matter of business with me."

[illegible]

"We just said hello, that's all. We didn't talk salary."

[illegible]

Dempsey's Kin Is In Training

Clyde Is Bigger Than His Cousin

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 7 (AP).—Another Dempsey [illegible] heavyweight [illegible] Clyde Ha[illegible] Dempsey [illegible] Logan [illegible] the home of the Dempseys.

Clyde might [illegible] but the store [illegible] and he came to Charleston looking for a job. Since then he has worked out daily in the police gymnasium.

"I've wanted to fight ever since that day in 1933 when I met Jack in Huntington (W. Va.) while he was on an exhibition," he recalled.

Clyde is six feet four inches tall, weighs 208 pounds and likes to fight. Frankie Ryan, former light-heavyweight champion of West Virginia, who is training him, said:

"He has more natural ability than any youngster I've seen in years.

"No, he's still in training, we haven't scheduled any fights yet."

Former Somerville Man Killed in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7—A man identified as Guy D. Glass, 45, of Somerville, Mass., was killed here when he fell under a subway train.

Neighbors at 360 Highland av., Somerville, said Glass, a carpenter, had moved to New Jersey about a year ago, and had previously lived there but a short time. He was employed by the Swift Packing Company at the time he lived in Somerville.

Stars 2, Indians 1

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 7—Syracuse Stars of the International American Hockey League returned to victory road here by turning back Springfield Indians, 2 to 1.

Hundred Million Dollars Invested In U. S. Bowling

Must Be Ranked With Foremost Sports Of the Day

More than $100,000,000 is invested in the sport of bowling. This vast sum is verified by the United States revenue department's report of more than 66,000 alleys in the country.

This is the way it adds up: To construct one alley costs $750, at an aggregate expense of [illegible]. There [illegible] the buildings containing the alleys must be [illegible].

Now this doesn't bring into account the expense of decorating and fitting up of the bowling rooms, besides all of the paraphernalia required in conducting the sport.

How this vast sum compares with [illegible]

[illegible]

Guy Vitagliano In Dilboy Show

Guy Vitagliano of Medford, a 4 [illegible] Dilboy Post, V. F. W. [illegible] K. of C. Hall, Somerville.

[illegible] championship classes will enter the [illegible] Golden Gloves on March 11.

Steve R[illegible], State 147 pound champion, has enrolled along with a team from the Worcester Boys' Club, including Homer [illegible], Sylvio Lapere, Ray Gustafson, Tony Bond and Johnny Hanson.

Entries close with Director Fred Russo, Dilboy Post 8, Curtis street, Somerville. The Golden Glove tournament is sanctioned by the N. E. A. A. U.

Vines Tops Perry To Lead, 10-7

PALM SPRINGS, Cal., Feb. 7 (INS)—Increasing his lead ten games to seven in their professional tennis feud, Ellsworth Vines defeated Fred Perry at the Charles Farrell-Ralph Bellamy Racquet Club by scores of 11—9, 2—6, 6—4.

Perry and Berkeley Bell won the doubles from Vines and Walter Senior before a crowd of motion picture and society notables, 12—10.

See the ASHAWAY FISHING LINES and the PICTURES of BIG FISH at the SPORTSMEN'S SHOW

Joe DiMaggio Jack of All Trades

Joe DiMaggio, star centerfielder of the Yankees, is a versatile youth. When Joe isn't cavorting in the Yankee Garden, he can be found greeting friends and tending bar at his restaurant in San Francisco. Joe is mighty proud of his dad, who is pictured above partaking of a noggin of wine.

International News Photograph Service

Amateur Ring Stars Ready For Bouts

Battle at Arena Tonight for Places on U. S. Team

The amateur biff artists will hold the spotlight tonight at the Arena when the Irish-American A. A. stages another of their weekly tournaments. Competition will be offered in eight classes—six in the open weights for boys at 112 lbs., 136 lbs., 147 lbs., 160 lbs., 175 lbs., and heavyweights, and the novices will contest at 135 and 160 pounds.

All boxers must report at the Arena tonight at 6 o'clock to weigh in and pass physical examination under the supervision of the Massachusetts State Boxing Commission. The first bout will go in the ring at 8:15 and then the fun will begin.

Padded mitts will be thrown from all angles by ambitious youths who are anxious to make a good impression on the selection committee who will be sitting at the ringside.

From the performances of the battlers in tonight's bouts the balance of the United States team that will meet boys from Ireland and Canada in the big International tournament at the Boston Garden next Monday night, will be named.

The novices will command the attention of the fans tonight. Both classes are filled with beginners who welcome the opportunity to swap punches with opponents just as inexperienced as themselves. The tyro punchers always put on a good show, and give everything they have in their endeavor to win.

Several good prospects have been uncovered in the novice ranks by the "Irish" this season, and the club will continue to stage classes for these boys during the balance of the season.

In order to give every boy a chance to box in tonight's show, the committee will hold the lists open until 6 o'clock time, and the competition is open to all registered A. A. U. boxers.

Among the entries already on file for tonight are Peter Cola, Providence, in the 112. Romeo Paris, Fitchburg; Pat Sicilhano, East Boston; Alfred Lambert, Providence; Lorenzo Ducheneau, Providence, and Joseph Diotalevi, Gardner, in the 135. James Halligan, Leominster; Mal Smallwood, Roxbury; Larry Nagle, Roxbury; Armand Toggesere, Worcester, and Nick Oliver, Boston, in the 147. Lou Vivolo, Boston, and Theodore Hietala, Templeton, in the 160. John Hayes, Boston, the N. E. light heavyweight champion; Alfred Siati, Providence, and Tony Ferry of Fall River, in the 175 pounds division.

In the novice classes are John Montanaro, Haverhill; Anthony Cook, Haverhill; Herman Burque, Leominster; Sam O'Bryan, Roxbury; Bernard Fredette, Worcester; Rocco Gummarato, South Boston; Alfred Dionne, Providence and Ernest Perry, Gardner, in the 135. Dick Quinn, Leominster; Chet Wunschel, Fisherville, and Joseph Ruggirio, Worcester, in the 160 pounds class.

Haverhill Skier Wins Plaque

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 7—Despite a steady cold drizzle with fog, fifty-three competitors took part in the third of the "accumulated slalom series."

The plaque denoting first prize winners was presented by Harry Pollard, president of the New Found Region Winter Sports Council to Clark Woodworth of the Yankee Flyers Ski Club of Haverhill.

4:05 Mile Record Goal of Glenn Cunningham

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (INS)—Glenn Cunningham, beyond doubt the greatest foot racer—yard for yard—in the world today at any distance, is going after a 4:05 mile and the world's record, with more than a second to spare, twelve nights hence at the annual games of the New York A. C.

If he misses there, he'll make the effort in a special race with Archie San Romani and others on Dartmouth's indoor track at Hanover, N. H., in March.

But that's only part of it. The rest is that, before this year is finished, Cunningham hopes, and privately expects, to establish a world's record at every standard distance from a half mile all the way up to ten. This probably will be his valedictory to track and field athletics.

The program in question was outlined after Cunningham had made a holy show of his field to win the Wanamaker mile at the Millrose games on Saturday night in 4:11, coasting.

There was practically no opposition, San Romani being beaten off by 12 yards with Cunningham's final charge, with Fenske, of Wisconsin, closing strongly to take third place from the inevitable Gene Venzke.

GLEN INVINCIBLE

Glen ran the final quarter in 58 seconds. He was in his so called prime. I'm certain that neither of the Englishmen, Lovelock and Wooderson, could beat him as he is today. When he turns on the pressure now, he lengthens out like a quarter miler.

As a matter of fact, he ran a 50 2-10 quarter late Saturday night as a member of the New York Curb Exchange relay team, an amazing effort considering the fact that, in trying to break through a big field, he was stopped in mid-stride three times. Trained for the distance, they claim he could shade 49 seconds any time.

They also claim that the half-mile is really his best distance, for there his speed, strength and generalship make for an ideal combination.

Cunningham himself estimates that he can run a world's record half in 1:47, with a 54-second first quarter and a long "charge" the last 300 yards to a 53-second final quarter.

WILL TRY IMPASSE

Nobody in the world has ever come back with a final 440 like that, but if Cuningham thinks he can do it, he's probably not mistaken.

He also thinks he can run two miles in 8:50 for a world's record at that distance. This is eight seconds under Don Lash's indoor and outdoor records at the distance, but it's Cunningham's idea that he can run a faster first mile than Lash and still have as much left as that eccentric gentleman for the final half of the distance.

5 Browns Contracts Signed to Date

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 7 (INS)—The St. Louis Browns today announced the signed contracts of Pitchers George Hennessey and Emil Bildilli were received, raising the team's total to five signed contracts. Jim Weaver, Buck Newsom and Sam Harshany are the other Brownies who have signed their 1938 contracts.

Breaks Ski Record

RUMFORD, Me., Feb. 7—Harold Sorenson of Norfolk, Conn., bettered the Maine state ski-jumping record with a 169 foot leap at the winter carnival here.

Mellody to Set Lively Pace For Kaplan

Charlestown Boxer Has Had Experience At Long Route

Verbal punches were being tossed in a new argument between Honey Mellody, Charlestown, New England lightweight champion, and Merry Mike Kaplan of Dorchester, who clash Wednesday night for the title in the 10-round feature bout of the Goodwin A. C. boxing show at the Garden.

Usually such title fights are extended to 12 rounds and there is a debate raging between Kaplan and Mellody as to which asked that the distance be limited to 10 rounds.

The longest route Kaplan has traveled is 10 rounds while Mellody has frequently gone 12 and the wise men of the ring admit those extra two chapters are plenty of trouble unless one is accustomed to them.

It is Mellody's claim that Kaplan asked the bout be a 10-rounder while Merry Mike replies that Mellody seemed none too anxious to have it go any further and that he's willing to have the officials extend the bout to 12 heats if Mellody will agree.

"I can out-hit and out-box him in every round, even if it goes five or twenty," Kaplan said today and Mellody seems to figure he can save his crown from Kaplan no matter what the distance.

Plenty of bitterness has arisen between these small orders of dynamite with charges and counter-charges being swapped before the fight was clinched by Matchmaker Rip Valenti and since. It looms as a neighborhood "grudge" contest and a lightning punching duel.

Six local fighters will be seen in supporting bouts with Roy Kelley meeting Lou Poster of New York in the eight-round semi-final, a rematch of their recent slugfest when Kelley was dropped six times in the last two rounds for long counts, losing a decision. Abe Denner, West End, meets George Harper, New York; Jimmy O'Boyne, Boston, tackles Joe Glasgow, Quincy, and Salvatore Bartolo, East Boston, battles Sammy Garcia, Quincy, in six-round preliminaries.

McDonald Named Aide to McPhail

BROOKLYN, Feb. 7 — John A. McDonald, ex-traveling secretary of the Cincinnati Reds, has been hired by his old boss, Larry MacPhail as assistant.

MacPhail has signed a three-year contract as executive vice-president of the Dodgers.

Squash Play Starts

Forty leading women squash racquets players will attempt to dethrone Anne Page, of Philadelphia, in the eleventh annual national championships starting today at the Harvard Club.

Baer Toughest Of All Fighters To Handle

Art Donovan, Referee Of 5000 Fights, So Opines

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (INS)—Take it from America's No. 1 fight referee—Art Donovan—the toughest official job in any sport is that of the third man in the ring.

The man who has refereed almost 5000 fights in the last 12 years, and every big fight in the East in the last nine years, with the single exception of the Baer-Braddock battle, was moved to comment on his job today following the wide difference of opinion on the verdict in the Apostoli-Lee shindig Friday night.

"In any other sport," said Donovan, "the fans never have any doubt about the result because the score tells the story. But in a fight there is no score and every fan—no matter if he is sitting a mile from the ring—thinks his eyesight, judgment, knowledge of boxing and experience is keener than the man who is in the ring with the fighters.

"No two people look at a fight in the same way. Suppose some fancy Dan lands six light lefts that wouldn't muss a baby's hair on the other fellow's face and the other fellow—a rough, tough guy—lands a terrific right hook under the heart, how would you score the results? In my book, the fellow that does the most damage, is the fellow who wins.

MAX VIOLATES RULES

"A man like Jack Dempsey might almost kill an opponent with three solid punches. He might take a dozen feather duster taps just to get a chance to land one solid wallop and with that one punch he'd do more damage than he'd receive by a hundred jabs.

"The toughest of all fighters to handle was Max Baer, and his fights with Primo Carnera and Max Schmeling were the worst I ever had to handle. Max never bothered about rules and he violated almost every one in the book, no matter how much I warned him.

"The Tommy Farr-Joe Louis fight was one of the easiest I ever had to judge and I don't see how anybody could call that one close.

"And Joe Louis took about the worst beating I ever saw from Schmeling. I thought at one time Joe's jaw was broken and for a minute I was thinking of stopping the fight. Nobody who wasn't right in there with them could possibly realize what a terrific lacing that Louis stood up under."

OPINIONS MAKE GAME

"Wild swingers make it doubly tough on us. To a fellow away up in the gallery it may appear as if all those wide punches he can see are landing where as a matter of fact the other fellow may be stopping every one with his arms.

"But, what's the use? I suppose it's difference of opinion that makes prize fighting just like it makes racing, and so we might as well be resigned to disputed decisions. We'll always have them."

Sports Mirror

By the Associated Press.

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Sueo Oye, Japanese pole vaulter, voted trophy for best performance at Millrose track meet.

THREE YEARS AGO—Dizzy Dean signed 1935 contract for reported $19,000 salary. Christy Flanagan named football coach at Duquesne.

FIVE YEARS AGO—National League abolishes all bonuses to players.

Market Points To Deal Folly, Says Haney

Noted Economist Sees Change in Politics On Way

By LEWIS HANEY

(Professor of Economics, New York University)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7—In view of the strongly pessimistic sentiment that has prevailed of late, the showing made by the stock market last week was very favorable. It amply justifies my observation last Monday that predominance of bearishness is bullish.

The averages actually gained a point last week.

Ten of the 12 most active stocks were higher.

The week closed with the largest majority of plus signs that has been since January 10.

Bonds made the best showing in a long while. All these are striking statements for a week in which the average trader and business man was about as blue as at any time since the present administration took hold.

* * *

There is just one big reason for this, namely the plain fact that the folly and fumbling of the New Deal attempts to give us a more abundant life are becoming so clear that a change in politics is only a question of time.

Either the New Deal must change or it is out the window. This is what the "conference of small business" tells us—no matter how their program was rewritten to save the administration's face.

The President has publicly demonstrated how he talks with "filling station operators and little business men," and what they say to him.

Now which is the tail and which is the dog? The animal seems to be all tail.

* * *

This, I think, is why the market met the testing of the November-January lows so well on Thursday. There was really very little pressure. The majority of stocks began to rise gradually, while the volume of trading was still low. There was no gap in the averages—no sentimental splurge. Just greater confidence, or less fear.

The impression I get is that the most stocks are now felt to be low enough. It may be that this feeling is mixed with sober thought that if the better stocks are not worth present prices, the dollar itself is of doubtful value. If so, there is at least no reason to trade stocks for dollars.

Too much uncertainty remains to allow one to expect early sustained recovery from here. Some poor earning statements lie ahead. Tax selling may be a factor. Certainly a good many accounts are again "restricted," and some liquidation is likely on the first bulge.

Probably the first signs of real recovery will be followed by renewed attacks on business by the New Dealers.

But it now looks as if the preceding lows will hold, and that a bull market may be expected to develop before fall from about this general level. At least this seems probable, and I would watch the action of the average price of basic raw materials for confirmation.

* * *

The charts of various individual stocks have presented reassuring market action of late. For example, consider the action of American Tobacco "B" at 80, American Can at 76, and General Motors at 32. Admittedly such observations are mere clues and subject to change, but these stocks "act" as if they are not likely to go much below those levels (or if they do, remain below for very long).

Atchinson, too, shows some signs of holding at last at the 33 level. And U. S. Steel action suggests 52 as real "resistence," with 50 as hard pan.

I mention these as being "leaders," not as necessarily being the best issues to buy.

* * *

My general thought is that the market has now held for three months at a level of deflated values which only panic psychology is likely to penetrate. Meanwhile, the New Deal finds itself distinctly on the defensive for the first time. (Even the National Association of Manufacturers is demanding that Mr. Roosevelt do something to stop child labor.)

In due course, therefore, why shouldn't business men again get a chance to make some money by employing labor?

Boston Brokers' Market Opinions

It may be that business activity will show a decided change for the better within the next few months. If so, it is only logical to expect the stock market to anticipate an improvement in business and it may be in the process of doing so at this time.—Berry Grant, Hornblower & Weeks.

Now that the base area in the general market, of nearly four months' duration, has again been tested and found solid, the outlook is regarded as improved.—H. D. Comer, Paine, Webber & Co.

The market's action late last week suggested that the recent reaction of sentiment has temporarily run its course.—J. S. Bache & Co.

Bar Gold

LONDON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Bar gold 139s 9d, unchanged. (Equivalent $35.01.)

Basic Truth Aids Tariff Pact Fight

Simple Accounting Shows Worker Threat to Living Standard

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 6—A new weapon has been created for presenting the basic truth about business in simple form.

The United States Steel Corporation has pioneered with this new method in telling its own workers about their stake in the success of the business and in tax payments.

The new form of expression is equally useful in discussions about monopoly, tariff, and other burning, controversial questions concerning big business and capitalism.

INFORMS MEMBERS

In connection with forthcoming hearings at Washington on the proposed reciprocal tariff pact with Great Britain, the National Association of Manufacturers has wisely informed its members of the desirability of using this new tool for conveying basic information in elementary form.

Instead of long winded briefs, which hide the truth under a barrage of unrelated and unsummarized detail, the association proposed that the short form of accounting used by the steel corporation be employed to present consolidated accounting statements of conditions in entire American industries for a 10-year period.

THREAT TO WORKERS

Out of such forms of presentation, it is expected that the policy makers at Washington will grasp the truth that the threat of lowering tariff rates up to 50 per cent constitutes primarily a threat against the living standards of workers, who in the last analysis, receive some 85 per cent of the national income.

The new appeal is of interest to nearly 200,000 different American manufacturers, employing 8,000,000 or more workers.

Instead of word mongering and the airing of old tariff theories unrelated to reality, the manufacturers association, through its tariff commission, of which W. B. Bell is chairman, asks its members to present the significant summary facts about its business and its employes on a single sheet of paper in ten year summaries of operations.

SUBMIT SPECIMEN

To illustrate the technique, the bulletin submits the subjoined specimen form as a consolidated statement for 36 firs in the —— industry for the year 1935, suggesting itself that a ten year summary be substituted:

The industry reported net receipts from sale of products (including income from contract work), "Value of products" $27,528,348

This sum was disposed of as follows:

1—Government: For taxes paid (estimated) $1,800,000

2—Plant and equipment: for replacement (depreciation, obsolescence and depletion) $1,800,000

Total $3,600,000

Leaving available for all other purposes $23,928,348

3—They paid out for operation
- (A) For materials and supplies $9,168,694
- (B) For fuel $347,116
- (C) For purchases electric energy $154,058
- (D) For miscellaneous expenses (gen's overhead) — — — ?
- (E) For interest on capital invested in plant (buildings and equipment), (in other words, wages for tools), represented by preferred stock, bonds and mortgages, $36,000,000 at 6 per cent $2,160,000

Total $11,833,868

Leaving available for (1) wages and salaries for workers and (2) returns to common stockholders for money invested in inventories, working capital, management etc. $12,094,480

4—From this there was paid out:
- (A) For contract work (special labor) $1,286,138
- (B) To salaried officers (94 at $6438) $605,062
- (C) To supervisory, technical and clerical employes (858 at $1,775) $8,686,055

$12,079,687

5—Leaving for returns to common stockholders for money supplied as working capital, for carrying inventories and general management, only $14,793

The proposal is a magnificent step in the right direction.

It is an approach in an effort to conduct national affairs in the spirit of applied science.

BREAKING NEW GROUND

It entails breaking new ground in the attempt of a democratic country to adopt intelligent and enlightened economic policies.

As one who has for many months advocated the use of new forms of simplified bookkeeping to tell the truth about business, this writer hails the association's effort.

However, the specimen form could be further improved and simplified. It would be well to make an elementary statement of net sales, and then show what the cost of sales was, including the so-called capital cost, which might more precisely be described as a wage payment for the use of tools.

Workers of America and their accredited leaders could do nothing more useful than digest the meaning of such figures, and then let the voice of labor be heard at the forthcoming reciprocal tariff hearings.

N. Y. Curb Market

	High	Low	Last
AERO SUP MF A (1¼)	15	15	15
Aero Sup Mfg B (.4d)	3	3	3
Air Devices	1	1	1
Allied Int Inv	⅝	⅝	⅝
Allied Int Inv pf (1g)	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝
Alum Co Am	74	73	74
Am Cyan B (.60)	24	24	24
Am Gas & El (1.40a)	22⅝	22⅛	22⅛
Am Sup Pr		⅝	⅝
Ang Wupp (.40g)	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Ark Nat Gas	3⅝	3½	3⅝
Ark Nat Gas A	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
Ark P & L pf (7)	66	66	66
Asso G & El A	1⅛	1	1⅛
Atlas Corp war	1	1	1
BALDWIN LOCO WAR	3⅝	3⅜	3⅝
Bath Iron Wks (dpc)	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Berg & Gay Furn	1	1	1
Birdsboro S Fdy (½g)	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Blumenthal (S)	7½	7½	7½
Brewst Aero (.05g)	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Brill pf	16⅛	16⅛	16⅛
Brown Co pf	24	24	24
Brown Rubber (.60a)	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Buns Hill & S	13	13	13
CAN MARCONI	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Carnation (1a)	20	20	20
Carnegie Met	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Caro P&L $6 pf (6)	65½	65½	65½
Carrier Corp	25⅝	25⅝	25⅝
Cen P&L pf (7)	72⅛	72⅛	72⅛
Cen St El 6pc pf	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Childs pf	29½	29	29½
Cities Service	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Claude Neon Lts	9	9	9
Cleve El Ill (2a)	31	31	31
Club Al Uten	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Cons Copper Min (.4g)	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
Cons G&E Bal (3.60)	61½	61½	61½
Cord Corp	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Cosden Petro	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Creole Pet (½a)	23	23	23
Crocker Wh (.10g)	7-16	7-16	7-16
Derby Oil	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Dixon Twin Trk (.40)	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Duval Tex	9⅛	9⅛	9⅛
EAGLE P LD (.40g)	10	10	10
El Bond & Sh	7⅛	7	7
El Bond & Sh pf (6)	47	47	47
El Pow As (.32g)	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Elec Sh pf (6h)	60	60	60
Equity Corp	⅝	⅝	⅝
Esquire Coron (.30e)	10	10	10
Evans Wallo		⅝	⅝
FAIRCHILD AV	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Ford Mot Can A (1)	17	17	17
Ford Mot Ltd (.212g)	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
GREENF T & D	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
HARVARD BREW	⅞	⅞	⅞
Hecla Min (.10e)	8	7⅞	7⅞
Humble Oil (2g)	61	61	61
Hygrade Fd	2	2	2
INDNP P&L PF (6½)	96½	96½	96½
Indus Finan pf	7	7	7
Ins Co N Am (2a)	57	57	57
Int Paper & Pow war	2	2	2
Internat Pet (1½a)	29⅛	28⅝	29⅛
Inter Util B	11-16	11-16	11-16
Inter Ut pr pf (3½)	25⅛	25⅛	25⅛
JER CP&L 6PC PF (6)	70	70	70
KINGSTON PROD (.40)	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Kirkl Lake GM (.09g)	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
LAKE SHORE M (4a)	51⅛	51⅛	51⅛
Leonard Oil	9-16	9-16	9-16
Lion Oil (1a)	20⅛	20⅛	20⅛
Lockheed Airc	8	8	8
MESABI IRON	⅝	⅝	⅝
Mich Sil Tube (1½g)	7	7	7
Mid St Pet B vtc	⅝	⅝	⅝
Moore (T) Dis	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Mount City Cop (¼g)	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
Mount Prod (.80)	5	5	5
Murray Ohio M (1.20)	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝
Muskegon P Ring (2g)	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝
NAT FUEL G (1)	13⅛	13⅛	13⅛
Nat P&L pf (5)	48	47	47
NY&Hon Ros (4.42½g)	30	30	30
Niag Hud Pow (.40g)	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Nipissing Mns (.37g)	3	3	3
Noma Elec (.40e)	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
Nor Am Lt & Pow	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Pac Tin spl (2a)	30	30	30
Pan-Am Air (¼e)	15⅛	15⅛	15⅛
Pantepec Oil	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Pennroad (¼g)	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Penn P & L $6 pf (6)	81½	81½	81½
Pepperell	61	60½	60½
Phoenix Sec (¼g)	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Pitney-Bowes (.10e)	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Pitts Pl Glass (6½g)	81½	81½	81½
Plough (.80)	8⅛	8⅛	8⅛
RED BANK OIL	4	4	4
ST REGIS PAP	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Shattuck Denn (½g)	7½	7½	7½
Simmons Har & Pr	2½	2½	2½
Sonotone (¼g)	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Sou Union Gas	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Std C&S cvpf (1.60)	19	19	19
Starrett Corp vtc	2½	2½	2½
Sterling Inc (.20)	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Sunray Oil (¼g)	3⅛	3	3
Swiss-Am El pf	109	109	109
TECHNICOLOR (½G)	17⅞	17⅝	17⅞
Todd Ship (2a)	31	31	31
Trans-Lux (.20a)	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Transwest Oil	5⅝	5½	5⅝
Tubize Chat	8	8	8
UNION G CAN (.80)	14⅛	14⅛	14⅛
Unit Gas	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Unit Verde Ext (3g)	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Univ Corp vtc	3	3	3
Utah Idaho Sug (.17g)	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
VAN NOR MT (2.20G)	15	15	15
Venez Mex Oil	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
WENTW'H MFG (¼G)	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Williams (RC) (.15e)	5	5	5

XD—Ex dividend. XR—Ex rights. a—Also extra or extras. e—Declared or paid so far this year. f—Payable in stock. g—Paid last year. h—Cash or stock. k—Accumulated dividends paid or declared this year. ur—Under rule. ww—With warrants. xw—Without warrants. war—Warrants.

N. Y. Insurance Law Changes Proposed

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (INS) — About 150 changes in the New York state insurance law code were proposed today by Louis H. Pink, superintendent of insurance, in the seventy-ninth annual report to the legislature.

The new statute, which is being worked out by the insurance department and a joint legislative committee, would call for establishment of mortgage indemnity companies to supplant mortgage guarante companies, rigid limitation of insurance company investments, a sliding scale of interest on policy loans, establishment of a "public motor vehicle liability security fund," and authorization for a new type of "health service" insurance organization.

Cotton Belt Plan To Aid Leasing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS—A reorganization plan for the St. Louis Southwestern R. R., sponsored by Interstate Commerce Commission Finance Examiner J. V. Walsh, would cut the Southern Pacific R. R. stock interest from 87 per cent to 47.5 per cent.

Examiner J. V. Walsh stated that the new capital structure of the cotton belt, which would total $81,060,439 against the present $107,634,000, should be so arranged to enable the Southern Pacific to lease the road.

Denver & Rio Grande

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS)—Denver & Rio Grande Western R. R. has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to issue $2,000,000 trust certificates of indebtedness to finance property and equipment improvements.

Business Seen Heading Into Calmer Seas

Forbes Cites Rising Opposition to Deal Hurtful Actions

By B. C. FORBES

Will investments, industry, employment suffer less hereafter from upsetting New Deal activities?

My guess is, "yes."

The appalling loss of jobs during recent months has awakened the people, as never before, to how intimately their own well-being is dependent upon the well-being of general economic conditions—and also how dependent the latter are on Washington's behaviour.

That there has been widespread rising of opposition to political actions hurtful to trade and employment, cannot be doubted.

This fact has been impressively illustrated by the stand taken last week by small employers summoned to Washington. They left no politician room to doubt that whatever injured large-scale business injured their business, and that they are totally opposed to further business-baiting in any form whatsoever.

* * *

Although the security markets have not been doing well, I find a new disposition to cease selling and to await more definite developments, more definite developments at Washington, more definite developments on stock and bond exchanges, more definite developments in manufacturing industries, more definite developments in the utility world, more definite developments railroadwise, more definite labor developments.

Whereas a spirit of hopelessness was prevalent last fall, today's attitude is largely one of wait-and-see. It would be an exaggeration to say that positive hopefulness rules.

Changes in the composition of the Supreme Court not palatable to men of affairs are offset by the more critical attitude in Congress towards White House proposals of a disruptive nature.

This is interpreted as vitally important in face of President Roosevelt's inconsistencies. One responsible European commentator cables that all efforts to fathom President Roosevelt's program and philosophy have been abandoned in despair. The same is true, in a measure, here.

* * *

The general down-trend continues, but less alarmingly than towards the end of last year.

Results during the current quarter will compare unfavorably with 12 months ago. This will be true of the automotive industry, the steel industry, the copper industry, the rubber manufacturing industry, the utility industry, railroading, retail trade, bank clearings, textiles, furniture and almost every other line.

Costs, including wages, have gone up. So, in many instances, have tax levies.

Railway and other bankruptcies have increased, including small-scale commercial failures.

Dividend prospects are not what they were a year ago.

Nor does the country's agricultural purchasing power compare favorably with what it was in early 1937.

Not an inspiring picture, admittedly.

Nevertheless, it may prove unwise to assume that things are going to go from bad to worse.

For a cue, watch how stocks and second-grade bonds act during coming weeks.

(Copyright, 1938, by B. C. Forbes.)

New Instalment Buying Plan

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (INS)—Elimination of deficiency judgments, 18-month time payment limits and restriction of installment purchases of automobiles to a set portion of the buyer's family income were said today to be agreed to as the three chief recommendations to be made to President Roosevelt by the leading automobile financing companies.

These companies, the General Motors Acceptance Corp., Commercial Investment Trust Corp., and Commercial Credit Co., were represented in the recent conference of automobile manufacturers with the President.

The restriction of deficiency judgments to cases of fraud has been the general practice with the leading companies. Time-payment contracts have already been cut. Competitive reasons have obstructed the tendency to refuse a sale if instalment payments would be too large a part of the customer's income.

'Baby Bond' Sales Set New High

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (INS)—Sales of U. S. "Baby Bonds" in January, totaling $133,000,000, was the highest total for any month since they were first put on sale nearly two years ago, Secretary Morgenthau announced today.

GOVERNMENTS

	High	Low	Last
Treas 3⅛s 43-41 Mch	106.31	106.31	106.31
Treas 3¼s 47-44	108.00	108.00	108.00
Treas 3⅛s 46-44	107.14	107.14	107.14
Treas 2⅝s 47-45	104.9	104.8	104.8
Treas 2¼s '45	103.4	103.3	103.3
Treas 3s 48-46	105.24	105.24	105.24
Treas 3⅛s 49-46	106.10	106.10	106.10
Treas 4¼s 52-47	117.10	117.10	117.10
Treas 4¼s 52-47 reg	117.7	117.7	117.7
Treas 2⅞s 51-55	102.8	102.8	102.8
Treas 2¾s 53-49	100.00	99.30	99.30
Treas 2¾s 54-51	101.11	101.11	101.11
Treas 2⅞s 60-55	104.11	104.11	104.11
Treas 2¾s 60-55	102.7	102.7	102.7
Treas 2⅞s 59-56	101.6	101.6	101.6
Home O L 2¾s 49-39	101.28	101.27	101.28
Home O L 3s 44-42	101.19	101.17	101.17

BOSTON AMERICAN
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER
BOSTON, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1938

Cheerful Forecasts Are Noted

Steady Parade of Poor Advices Appears To Be Ending

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW

The steady parade of pessimistic forecasts that made recent weeks, and months, depressing affairs, gave some surprising signs of coming to an end today. Both brokerage and trade advices contained hopeful or optimistic notes that should go a long way toward clearing the financial district's blues.

One of the keener stock market letter writers found the action of the market last week promising better things. And while he did not assume anything that later market action must pass on he did suggest that the lists ability to hold might mean the end of trade recession. Either that or less decline than many had previously been expecting. Another decided that a base area formed over nearly four months had again successfully withstood a test. And since it had been found to be solid he regarded the outlook as improved.

* * *

UPTURN SEEN NEAR

A foremost statistical and advisory service bluntly informed its clients that an upturn is approaching. The progress already made in reducing inventories is expected to lead a production rebound in many lines while the possibility of constructive action by government is not overlooked. The all-important commodity markets, it was noted, held fairly well during January and some items even showed strength. Summed up the service referred to—Brookmire—finds that indications point to business scraping bottom, a gradual strengthening of commodities, continuance of abnormally low money rates, stabilization of bonds and gradual assertion of recovery influences as 1938 progresses.

* * *

BANK OF ENGLAND

London cables over the week suggest that the Bank of England may shortly reduce its rate from 2 to 1½ per cent. While the step may be taken within the next week or two, the absence of two important directors—one Mr. Norman the governor—leads us to believe the reduction is only in the talk stage. As a trade stimulant not much can be said for the plan. The American experience with abnormal rates is not likely to encourage banks to cut rates on commercial advances. And for a low central bank rate to be an effective trade stimulant such a step must be taken.

* * *

There are two other possible reasons for a lower Bank of England rate. They are a desire to check the influx of foreign funds and the intention of the bank to aid in the flotation of a new defense loan. Both present real cause for a lower bank date. Fugitive money from other countries is now looked on for what it is, a real danger to the domestic banking situation. And events in Central Europe are of the sort that makes money flee to stable centers.

* * *

MARKET COMMENT

Day by day comments on the market must be subject to revision. It is unfortunate that such is the case, but it would be foolhardy, if not dishonest, to deny the true situation. Of the three market trends one can only say that the first covering the long term is definitely known. It must be considered as down until positive indications of a reversal are registered. The second or intermediate trend is indeterminate and will be until the two main averages, industrials and rails, once again move together. The third, known as the minor trend, is also in doubt and it is only possible to hope it will clarify this week.

* * *

If the minor trend does become definite this week—we think it will within a session or two—a clue to the next intermediate trend will immediately be given. Then this writer will be willing to hazard an opinion as to how the list as a whole will travel for a moderate period of time. All told the market by its action is marking a possible dividing line between rank pessimism and hopefulness such as we noted above. On its near term behavior the fate of the more optimistic forecasts hinges.

Wage Reduction

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 7 (INS)—The Nashua Manufacturing Co. has reduced wages of its 3000 employes in the Nashua and Jackson mills an average of 8 to 10 per cent.

Boston Stocks

	High	Low	Last	Chg
Bos Edison	115⅝	115	115	— ½
Bos Elev	49½	49¼	49½
Bos & M p pf	9	8¼	8½	—1
B & M 1 pf A	2½	2¼	2¼	— ⅛
Copper Range	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	— ¼
East Mass 1st	20	20	20
Gen Capital	27⅝	27⅝	27⅝	+ ⅝
Hathaway pf	24	24	24	+4
Isle Roy as pd	1½	1½	1½
Narragan R A	4½	4⅛	4⅛	— ½
N E Tel & Tel	92½	91⅛	91⅛	+ ¼
Old Colony R R	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝
Suburban Elec	75c	75c	75c	—16c
United Shoe M	70	69	69	—1
Utah Metal	1	1	1	+8c

TODAY'S NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

Today's sales 600,000

Last Sales on Tape at 3:05

	Div.	High	Low	Close	Chg.
—A—
Acme Steel	4.	37	36½	36½	+ ½
Adams Exp	.60e	8¾	8⅝	8⅝	- ⅜
Adams Mil	2 a	19	19	19
Air Reduction	1.	48	46⅞	46⅞	- ⅝
Airways (I)A		1⅛	1	1
Alaska Juno	.60e	12⅝	12¼	12⅝
Alleg Corp		1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	+ ⅛
Alleg 30 pf		12½	12½	12½	- ⅛
Alleg Steel		15⅝	15⅝	15⅝	- ⅝
Allied Chem	6 a	161½	159	159	-4
Allied Kidd C	1.a	8	8	8	-1¼
Allied Strs		7	6⅞	6⅞	- ¼
Allied Strs pf	5	45	45	45	-2½
Allis Chal	3.50	41⅜	40¼	40¼	-1⅛
AmalLeather		2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Amerada	2.	61	61	61	-1
Am Br Sh	3.40	35¼	35¼	35¼	-1¼
Am Can	4.	81	78½	78½	+ ½
AmCar&Fdy	.25	20½	20⅛	20⅛	-1⅛
AmCar&Fpf	4.a	38½	38½	38½	- ½
Am Chain	1.50e	13¼	13	13⅛	- ⅝
Am Chain pf	5.	93	93	93	-4
Am Chicle	4.a	98¼	98¼	98¼	- ½
Am En Tile		4⅛	4	4⅛	+ ⅛
Am&For'nP		3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	- ⅛
A&FP7%pf		17	17	17	- ⅛
A&FP6% pf	5	13⅛	13⅛	13⅛	+1⅛
Am Haw SS	1.e	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	+ ⅛
AmHide&L		3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Am Ice		1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Am Ice pf	2.50e	16½	16¼	16½	+ ½
Am Inter		6⅛	6⅛	6⅛	+ ⅛
Am Locomot		18	18	18	- ⅝
Am Loco pf	7.g	57	57	57	-2
AmM&Met		4¼	4⅛	4¼	+ ¼
Am Metal	3.e	30¼	30¼	30¼	- ⅜
AmPow&L		4⅝	4½	4½	- ⅛
AmP&L6pf	5.62e	29	28⅛	28⅛	- ⅜
AmP&L5pf	4.69e	24	23⅝	24	- ⅝
Am Rad SS	.60	12½	12	12	- ¼
Am R Mill		18⅝	18⅜	18⅜	- ⅛
Am Seating	1.25e	11	11	11
AmR Mill pf	4.50	70	70	70	+ ½
Am Smelting	.75e	48½	47¼	47½	- ½
Am Snuff	3.e	51	51	51
Am Stl Fdy	.25e	26	25	25	- ⅝
Am Stores		9⅝	9½	9½
AmTel&Tel	9.	133⅜	132½	133½	- ⅜
Am Tob	5.	65	65	65	+ ½
Am Tob B	5.	66½	66¼	66½
Am Type		5⅛	5⅛	5⅛	- ⅛
AmWatWk		8⅝	8½	8⅝	- ⅛
Am Wool pf		30	29⅝	30	+ ½
Am Zinc		6⅞	6⅝	6⅝
Anaconda	1.75e	30⅝	29⅞	29⅞	-1⅜
An W&Cable		36	36	36	- ½
Anchor Hock	.60e	15⅝	15½	15⅝	+ ¼
Arch Dan	.50e	28½	28½	28½	+ ⅜
Armour Ill	.70e	5⅝	5½	5½	- ⅛
Arm Cork	.25e	31½	31½	31½	- ⅝
Asso DG 1pf	6.	66	66	66	-2
Atchison	2.e	33⅞	33⅜	33⅜	- ½
Atchison pf	5.	63	61¼	61¼	-1½
Atl Coast	1.50e	21⅜	20¼	20¼	-1⅝
AtlanGulf pf		9	9	9	- ½
Atl Refin	1.	21⅛	20⅝	21	- ⅛
Atl Refin'g p	4.	105	105	105
Atlas Corp	.80	7½	7¼	7½	+ ⅛
Atlas Crp pf	3.	40	40	40	+ ½
Atlas Tack	.50e	5½	5	5	- ⅝
Auburn Auto a		4½	4⅜	4⅜
Aviat'n Corp		3⅝	3½	3½	- ⅛
—B—
Bald'n ctf w		8⅛	8	8⅛	- ⅛
Balt & Ohio		8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	- ¼
Balt & O pf		10¼	10	10	- ¼
Barber Co	1.e	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝
Barker Bros	.75e	8½	8½	8½	+ ½
Barnsdal	1.	14⅝	13½	14½	+ ⅝
Bayuk Cig	.75e	11	10⅝	10⅝	- ¼
Bendix	1.	12	11⅛	11⅛	- ⅝
Beth Steel		53½	51⅝	51⅝	-1⅝
Beth Stl 5pf	1.	14½	14⅝	14⅞
Bigelow San	3.50e	22	22	22	+1½
Black-Decker	1.	13⅝	12⅝	13⅝	+ ⅝
Blaw Knox	1.20e	11⅝	11½	11½	- ⅝
Boeing Airc	.40e	28½	27⅞	27⅞	-1⅛
Bond Stores	1.60	12⅛	12⅜	12⅛	+ ½
Borden	1.60	18⅛	17⅝	17⅝
Borg Warn	2.a	23	22⅝	23⅛
Boston&Me		3½	3½	3½
BowRol Bea	.50e	17⅝	17⅝	17⅝	- ⅝
Bridg Brass	.75e	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
Briggs Mfg	4.	22	21⅝	21⅝	- ⅝
Brigg&Strat	3.50e	26½	26½	26½	-1½
Bristol My	2.40e	29⅞	29⅝	29⅝	+ ¼
Bklyn M T		10	9⅝	9⅝	- ¼
B-M Tran pf	7.	27	27	27	- ⅛
BklynUnGas	1.60	16	16	16	- ½
Bucyrus Erie	.75e	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	- ¼
Budd Mfg		5⅛	5	5	- ⅛
Budd Wheel	.20e	4½	4⅝	4⅝	- ⅛
Bullard Co	2.e	17	17	17
Bulova Wtch	4.	27¼	26½	27
Burroughs	.20	17⅝	17⅝	17⅝	+ ⅝
BushCTerm'l	e	2½	2½	2½
Bush Ter db	e	8	8	8	+ ⅝
Butler Bros	.60	7⅝	7¼	7⅝	+ ⅛
ButlerBr cv p	1.50	20	20	20
Butte Copper	.10e	3⅝	3⅛	3⅝
Byers A M		9½	9½	9½
—C—
Cal Pack	1.50e	20½	20⅛	20⅛	- ½
Callah'nZinc		1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Cal & Hec	1.10e	8⅛	7⅝	7⅝	- ⅝
Cam W&C	1.	12⅝	12⅝	12⅝	- ⅛
Canada Dry		17¼	16⅛	16⅛	- ⅝
Canadian Pac		7	7	7	- ⅛
Capital Adm	.50e	5⅛	4⅞	4⅞	- ⅝
Carpenter Stl	1.35e	16½	16½	16½
Carr & Gen	.35e	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
Case J I	6.g	87½	85	85½	-2½
Caterp Tract	.50e	43½	41½	42⅜	+ ⅝
Caterp Tr pf	5.	101⅝	101½	101½	+ ¼
Celanese C		15	15	15	- ½
Celotex	1.20e	20	20	20	+1⅜
Cent Foundry		3½	3⅜	3⅜	- ⅛
Cerro	1.e	38½	37⅝	37⅝	-1
Certain-Teed		7⅝	7	7	- ⅝
Ches & Ohio	.75e	31⅞	31⅝	31⅞	+ ⅝
Ch Grt West	z	1	1	1
C M St P&O	z	⅝	⅝	⅝
CMStP&P pf	z	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Chi & N W	z	1¼	1¼	1¼
CRI&P 6pf	z	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	+ ⅛
Chickasha	.50e	15	15	15
Chrysler	10.g	53¼	51½	51½	-2½
CityIce&Fuel	2.	11½	11½	11½
City Strs ow		2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	- ⅛
Cluett Peab'y	1.	14⅛	14	14⅛	- ⅛
Colgate		8⅛	8⅛	8⅛
Collins & A	6.g	21⅝	21½	21½	- ½
Col Fuel & I	1.g	15⅛	15⅛	15⅛	- ½
ColBrd Sys A	1.95e	19	19	19	- ¼
Col Gas	.45e	7½	7⅛	7⅛
Col Carb	4.e	63	63	63	+ ⅝
Com Cred	4.e	34⅜	34¼	34¼
Com Inv Trst	4.e	40	39⅝	40
Com Solv	.60	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝
Comw'th&So		1½	1½	1½
Com&So pf	1.	31¼	31¼	31¼	- ⅝
Comw'th Edis	1.25	23⅝	23⅝	23⅝	- ⅛
Congoleum	2.	21⅝	21⅛	21⅛	- ⅜
Cong's Cg	1.g	7¼	7¼	7¼	- ⅛
Cons Aircraft	.50e	15¼	15	15	- ⅝
Consol Cigar	.75e	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝
Con Edison	.50e	22	21⅝	22	- ⅛
Con Edis pf	5.	91	91	91
Consol Oil	.80	9¼	8⅝	8⅝
CRR Cuba pf		7⅞	7	7⅞	+ ⅝
Con Textile		½	⅜	½	+ ⅛
Container	1.20	13⅝	13⅜	13⅜	- ⅝
Cont Bak A		13⅝	13¼	13⅜	- ⅝
Con Bak B		1⅞	1⅝	1⅝
Cont B pf A	8.	79	79	79
Cont Can	.50e	38⅜	38¼	38¼
Cont Dia Fl		8	8	8
Cont Ins	1.60e	28⅝	28⅝	28⅝	+ ⅝
Cont Oil	.25e	28½	28	28¼	- ½
Cont Stl	1.75e	13¼	13⅛	13¼	+ ½
Con Prod	3.	61	60⅝	61	+ ¼
Coty Inc	.10e	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞	- ¼
Crane Co	1.g	23½	23¼	23½	+ ½
Crane pf a	5.	91¼	91¼	91¼	+ ⅝
Crown Ck&S	2.	33⅝	33½	33⅝
Crown Zeller	.25e	9⅝	9¼	9¼	- ¼
Crucible Stl		34½	33⅞	33⅞	- ¼
Cuba Co		1¼	1⅛	1¼	+ ½
Curtis Pub		6⅝	6½	6⅝	- ⅛
Curtis P pf	2.v	44	44	44	+ ½
Curt Wright		4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
Curtis W A	.50e	15⅝	15¼	15⅝	- ⅝
Cutler Hmr n	.25e	16½	16½	16½	-1
—D—
Davison Chm	.60e	8½	8¼	8¼	- ⅝
Deere & Co		19⅝	19⅝	19⅝	- ⅛
Del&Hudson		14	13½	13½	- ⅞
Del L West		6¼	6⅛	6⅛	- ⅝
Detroit Ed	2.e	93	93	93	- ⅝
Diam M	.50	25⅝	25½	25½
Dia T Motor	1.	7	7	7	- ⅛
Distill Seagr	.50e	15	14½	14⅝	+ ⅝
Dist Seag's p	5.	69½	69½	69½
Dome Mines	1.e	58⅝	58⅝	58⅝	- ⅛
Douglas Air		38½	37¼	37⅝	- ½
DuPont	6.25e	111⅝	109½	110	-2
DuPont db	6.	134¼	134¼	134¼
—E—
Eastman	8.e	155	153½	155	+1
Eaton Mfg	.25e	17¼	16½	16½
Ell'gen Schild		3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ⅝
El Au L	2.60e	17⅝	17¼	17¼	- ½
El Mus Ind	.19e	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
Electric Boat	.60e	9	8⅝	8⅝
Electric P&L		9	8⅝	8⅝	- ¼
Elec P&L pf		32	30⅝	30⅝	-1⅝
ElkHornCoal		⅝	⅝	⅝	+ ⅛
ElkHornC pf		1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
El Paso Gas	2.a	17½	17¼	17⅜	+ ¼
Engineers'n		4½	4¼	4½	+ ⅛
Eng PubS5pf	5.50	40½	40	40
Eng PS5½pf	5.	44½	44½	44½	- ⅛
Equip Off Bl		2	2	2	+ ⅛
Erie R R		3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	- ⅛
Eureka Vac		4	4	4
Evans Prod		8½	8¼	8¼	- ⅛
—F—
Fajardo S	4.e	31½	31½	31½
Fidel Ph	1.60e	29	27⅝	29	+1
Fire T&R	.25e	19⅛	19	19	- ⅝
Flintkote	1.	17	16⅝	17	+ ¼
Food Ma	2.50	27½	27½	27½	+ ½
Foster Wheels		16	16	16	- ⅛
Francisco Su		4	4	4	+ ½
Freeport Sul	2.	26¼	25⅝	26
—G—
Gabriel		2	2	2
Gair Robert		3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	- ⅛
Gen Am Trn	3.50e	38	37¼	37¼	+ ⅝
Gen Bak	.60e	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	- ¼
Gen Bronze		4	4	4	+ ⅛
Gen Cable		9¼	9	9¼
Gen Cable A		18	17⅝	17⅝	- ¼
Gen Cable pf	7.g	58	58	58
Gen Elec	2.20e	39⅝	38½	38½	- ⅝
Gen Foods	2.	32	31½	31½	- ½
Gen Gas A		1⅛	1	1⅛	+ ⅛
Gen Motor	3.75e	33¼	32⅝	32⅝	-1⅝
Gen Print Ink	.90	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
GenRealt&U		1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	+ ⅛
Gen Refra	2.g	22¼	21⅝	21⅝	- ⅝
Gen Theater	1.25e	11	11	11
Gen Tr&Bus	1.50e	12⅝	12¼	12⅝	- ¼
Gen Time Ins	1	15½	15½	15½
Gillette S R	1.	9⅝	9½	9⅝	- ⅝
Gil R cv pf	4.	56	56	56	- ¼
Glidden	2.	21½	20¼	20⅝	- ⅞
Gobel Adolf		2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Gobel Br	.20	3¼	3⅛	3⅛
Goodrich	1.g	15⅝	15⅛	15¼	- ½
Goodyear T	2.50e	19¼	18⅝	18⅝	- ⅝
Gotham S&B		3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ½
Graham Paig		1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Granby M st		5	4⅝	4⅝	+ ¼
Gran CR Stl	1.13e	14½	14¼	14¼	- ¼
Grant W T	.75	22¼	22¼	22¼	- ½
Grt Nort Ctf	.75e	12	12	12	- ⅛
Gt North pf	2.g	20⅝	20	20	-1
Grt W Sug	2.40e	29⅝	29⅝	29⅝	- ⅛
Greyhound	.80e	9¼	9	9⅛	+ ⅛
Greyhound pf	.55	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	- ⅛
—H—
Hall Print		5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Har Walk	2.	20½	20	20	- ⅝
Hayes Body		2	1⅞	1⅞	- ⅛
Hecker Pr	.60	6½	6⅝	6⅝	- ⅛
Hercules Mo	1	13½	13½	13½
Hercules Pw	.75e	51	50½	51	-1
Hershey C pf	4	90½	90⅝	90⅝	- ⅛
Holland Fur	.50e	18⅝	18⅝	18⅝	+ ½
Homestk M	4.50	62½	62	62	+ ⅝
Houd-Her A	2.35e	22⅝	21⅞	22	- ⅝
Hou Her B	1.50	9¼	9	9	- ¼
House F A	4.e	49½	49½	49½
House F pf	5.	84	84	84	+ ¼
Houston Oil		7¼	7	7¼	+ ¼
How Sound	3.e	44⅝	44	44	-1
Hudson&Man		1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Hudson Mtr	.25e	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Hupp Motor		1¼	1⅛	1⅛
—I—
Ill Cent		9	8⅝	8⅝	- ½
Ind Rayon	.25e	19¼	19⅛	19⅛	+ ¼
Ingers Rand	1.50e	75½	75½	75½	+ ½
Inland Stl	4	62¼	62¼	62¼	- ⅝
Inspiration C		12¼	11⅝	11⅝	- ⅝
Interchem	2.	18¼	18¼	18¼	+ ⅝
Intercon Rub		3⅛	3⅛	3⅝
Interlake Iron	.65e	11	10⅝	10⅝	- ½
Int Agric Co		3	3	3
Int Bus Mch	6.a	148	148	148
Int Har	2.50	61⅝	60	60½	- ⅝
IntHydro El		5¼	5⅛	5⅛	- ⅛
Int Mer Mar		3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ⅛
Int Mining	.90e	10½	10½	10½	+ ¼
Int Nickel	2.	48½	47⅝	47⅝	-1⅝
IntPap&P n	4.	7¼	7	7	- ½
IntP&P pf n		30	28⅞	28⅞	- ⅝
Inter Silver		17⅝	17¼	17⅝	+ ⅝
Int T&T dom		6	5⅝	5⅝	- ⅛
Interst DStrs	2.75e	10½	10⅛	10⅝	- ⅛
—J—
Jewel Tea	4.e	48	47½	47½	- ¼
J Manville	3.e	75	72½	74	- ½
—K—
Kan City So		7¼	7⅛	7⅛
Kayser J	.25	12⅝	12⅝	12⅝	- ½
Kenn Cott		36½	34⅝	36	- ⅝
Keyst S W		7⅝	7⅝	7⅝
Kresge SS	1.20	17¼	16⅝	17	- ¼
Kroger Groc	1.60	15⅝	15⅛	15¼	- ⅝
—L—
Lambert	.40e	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛	- ⅛
Lee Rub	.25e	13	12⅝	13	+ ½
LehPCement	.25e	17⅛	16½	17
LehighValC		⅝	⅝	⅝
LehVal C pf		3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Leh ValRR		5¼	5¼	5¼	- ¼
Lehman	1.	23⅛	23¼	23¼	- ⅝
Lehn Fink	1.25	10⅝	10	10¼	- ⅝
L O F Glass	4.g	33½	33	33	- ⅛
Life Savers	1.60e	26	26	26
Ligg My	4.e	91	91	91	+2
Ligg My B	4.e	92	92	92	+ ⅝
Lima Loco	2.50	25	24¼	24¼	- ⅝
Liq Carb	1.60e	17½	17½	17½	- ¼
Loew's	7.50e	47	46¼	46¼	+ ¼
Loft Inc		1¼	1¼	1⅛
Lone S Cem	3.e	34	33	34	+1½
LongBellLA		4¼	4¼	4¼
Lorillard	1.20	15½	15½	15½	- ⅛
Loui Gas A	2.50e	16	16	16
Lou Nash	2.50e	44½	44	44	- ½
Ludlum Stl	.25e	16½	16½	16½	- ½
—M—
Mack Trucks	1.a	20	20	20	- ¼
Magma Cop	2.75e	25	25	25
Mandel Bros	1.r	7⅝	7¼	7¼	+ ⅛
Marine Mid	.40	6	5⅝	6	- ⅛
Marshall Fld		8	8	8
Martin G L		17⅛	16⅝	16⅝	- ⅝
Masonite	1.a	32	32	32
May pf ww	3.	23	23	23	- ½
McCrory	.50e	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝	+ ⅛
McGraw E	1.	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	- ⅛
McGraw Hill	.58e	9	8⅞	8⅞	+ ⅝
McInPMine	2.	43⅝	43	43	- ½
McKes T P	2.	23	21	21	- ⅝
McKes & R	e	7	7	7
McLellan S	.95e	7	7	7
Mengel Co		4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	+ ⅝
Miami Cop	.15e	9⅛	8⅝	8⅝	- ½
Mid Cont Pet	1.50e	17⅝	17⅝	17⅛	- ½
Mid St Prd	2.	21⅛	21⅛	21⅛	- ½
Minn H R C	3.	56	56	56	-3
MinnMolPwr		6⅛	5⅞	5⅞
Mo Kan & T		2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Mo K T pf A		8¼	8⅛	8⅝
Mo Pac pf		2⅝	2¼	2¼	- ½
Monsan	2.e	82	[illegible]	82	+ ½
Mont'y Ward	.50e	32⅝	31½	31½	-1½
Mother Lode	.45e	⅝	⅝	⅝
Motor Pr	5.e	16⅝	16½	16½	- ½
Mueller Brass	1.a	16⅝	16¼	16¼	+ ¼
Mullins B		6	5⅞	5⅞	- ⅛
Murray Corp	.25e	6⅛	6	6	- ⅛
—N—
Nash Kel	.13e	9½	9¼	9¼	- ⅛
Nat Acme	1.e	10⅛	10⅝	10⅝	- ⅛
Nat Bis't	.40e	19⅛	18⅞	18⅞	- ⅛
Nat Cash R A	1.e	15⅞	15⅛	15⅞	+ ⅝
Nat Dairy	1.20	14	13½	13½	- ¼
Natl Dept St		5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
Nat Distill	6	20¼	19⅝	20¼	+ ½
Nat Gypsum		7¼	6⅞	7	+ ⅛
Nat Lead	.50	23	22⅝	22⅝	- ⅝
Nat M St C	2.	18¼	18¼	18¼	+ ⅝
Nt Pow&L	.90	6½	6¼	6¼	- ⅝
Nat Steel	2.50e	51½	51	51¼	- ⅛
Nat Supply	b	16⅝	16	16
Nat Sup 2pf	2.	22½	22½	22½	+1½
Nat Tea	.30e	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	- ¼
Natomas	2.	20½	20½	20½	+1
Newport Ind	2.g	16	15⅛	15¼	- ½
NY Central		16⅝	16	16	- ⅝
NY C&S L		16	15	15
NY CH&SL		25½	25	25	- ⅛
NY NH &H		2⅛	2	2	- ⅛
NY NH&H pf		4⅝	4½	4½	- ⅛
NY Shipbldg		9⅛	9	9	- ⅝
Norfolk & W	10.	180	180	180
North Amer	1.90e	17¼	16⅝	16⅝	-1
NorthAMAv	.12½e	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
Northern Pac		10⅝	10½	10½	- ⅝
Norwalk Tir		2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	+ ⅝
—O—
Ohio Oil	1.e	12⅜	12⅛	12⅛	- ⅛
Oliver Farm		24⅝	24½	24½
Omnibus Cp	1.80e	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	+ ⅝
Otis Elev	1.40e	20⅝	20¼	20¼	-1
Otis Steel		9½	9¼	9⅝	- ¼
Owen Ill G	.25e	55½	55	55
—P—
Pac Gas&El	2.	25⅝	25½	25½	- ⅛
Pac Mills	1.50e	13¼	13¼	13¼
Pac W Oil	.65e	12	12	12	+ ¼
Packard	.25e	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	+ ⅛
Paraffine	4.e	37½	37	37½	+1⅝
Paramount		9½	9¼	9¼	- ⅛
Paramount2p	.60	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝	- ⅛
Park & Tilf	3.	20½	20½	20½	- ½
Park Utah a	.15e	2½	2⅜	2⅜	- ⅛
Parke Davis	1.80e	33⅛	33⅛	33⅛
Parmelee Tr		2	2	2
Peerless Corp	.30	5	5	5	+ ⅛
Penick Ford	1.50e	42	42	42	- ½
Penney	3.e	66¼	65⅝	65⅝	- ⅝
Penn C&C		2⅛	2⅛	2⅛	+ ⅛
PennDixCem		4⅛	4¼	4¼	+ ⅛
PennDixC pf		20	19½	19½	- ½
Penn R R	1.25e	20⅝	20½	20½	- ⅝
Petro Corp	.60e	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	- ⅛
Pfeiffer Br	.90e	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	+ ¼
Phel Dodge	1.25e	25	24⅛	24⅛	- ⅛
Phila RC&I		⅝	½	½
P Morris	3.	84½	83½	84	- ½
Phillips P	2.e	35⅝	35⅝	35⅝	-1
Pitts Coal pf		32	32	32	-3
Pitts Scr&B	.65e	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Plym Oil	1.40	16⅝	16¼	16¼	- ½
Poor & Co B		8½	8¼	8¼
Pressd Car	.25e	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	- ¼
Proc&Gam	2.	47¼	47¼	47¼	- ⅝
Pub Ser NJ	2.60	31⅝	31⅛	31⅛	- ⅝
Pullman	1.50e	31½	29⅝	29⅝	-1⅝
Pure Oil	.25e	11	10½	10⅝	- ⅛
Pure Oil 6pf	6.	95⅞	95⅞	95⅞	- ⅛
Purity Bak	.60	9⅝	9	9	- ⅝
—R—
Radio Corp	.20e	6⅛	5⅞	6	- ⅛
Radio 1pf	3.50	45½	45	45½	- ⅝
Radio Keith		4	3⅝	3⅝
Raybestos	1.25e	20	20	20
Reading	2.	19⅝	19⅝	19⅝	- ⅛
Reading 1pf		29½	29½	29½	- ½
Reading 2pf	2.	24½	24½	24½	- ¼
Rem Rand	1.05e	13⅝	13⅝	13⅝	+ ⅛
Reo Motor		2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Repub Steel		16⅝	16⅝	16⅝	- ¼
RevereC&B		12⅜	12⅛	12⅜	- ⅝
Reynolds Met	1.	14⅝	14¼	14⅝	- ⅝
Reynolds Spr	1.	7⅛	7⅝	7⅝	+ ⅛
Rey'ldsTob B	3.	40	39⅝	39⅝	- ½
Richfield Oil		6⅝	6¼	6⅝
—S—
Safeway Strs	2.a	19	19	19	- ¼
St Joe Lead	2.e	33½	33	33
St L S Fr	z	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	- ⅛
St L S Fr pf		2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Schenley	3.	22⅝	22⅝	22⅝
Schulte Strs	z	⅝	⅝	⅝
Seaboard AL	z	⅝	⅝	⅝	- ⅛
Seaboard O	1.	21⅝	21¼	21¼	- ½
Sears Roeb	3.	58⅝	57	57	-1⅝
Servel	1.e	14⅝	14¼	14⅝	+ ½
SharonStl pf	5.	60	60	60	- ⅛
Shattuck	.60	8¼	8	8¼	+ ⅛
Shell Un Oil	.50e	15	14⅝	14⅝	- ⅛
Shell Oil pf	5.50	98	98	98	-1
Simmons	1.75e	19⅝	19¼	19¼	- ⅝
Skelly Oil	1.60e	25	24⅝	24⅝	- ⅝
Smith C Type	.77e	12½	12½	12½	+ ½
Snider Pack.	1.50e	12	12	12	+ ⅝
Socony Vac	.80e	15	15	15
So Am Gold	.20e	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	- ⅛
So Por R S	2.e	25½	25½	25½	- ¼
So Cal Ed	1.50e	20½	20½	20½
Southern Pac		17½	17	17	- ⅝
Southern Ry		10⅝	10½	10½	- ⅝
Sou Rwy pf		16⅝	16¼	16¼	-1⅝
Sparks With		2⅛	2⅝	2⅝	- ⅛
Sperry	.60e	19⅛	18½	18⅝	- ¼
Spicer Mfg		13	13	13	+1
Spiegel (n)	1	9⅝	9¼	9⅝	- ¼
Square D B	.95	17⅝	17¼	17⅝
Stand Br	.80	8⅛	8	8
Stan Com Tob		2⅛	2⅝	2⅝	+ ⅛
Stand Gas	e	3⅝	3½	3½
StandGas6pf	e	7⅝	7⅝	7¼	- ⅝
StandGas4pf	e	17	17	17	+1½
StandGas7pf	e	18⅝	18½	18⅝	+ ⅛
Stand Oil Cal	1.a	30⅝	29⅞	29⅞	- ⅞
Std Oil Ind	1.a	32¼	31⅝	32¼
Std Oil NJ	1.e	48⅝	48	48¼	+ ⅛
Starrett	3.51e	22⅝	22⅝	22⅝	+1
Sterling Pd	3.50	56	56	56	+ ½
Stokely	1.20e	8	8	8	- ¼
Stone & Web		8⅞	8⅝	8⅝	- ⅛
Studebaker		5½	5¼	5½	+ ¼
Sun Oil	1.e	48½	48½	48½	-1½
Sunshine M	3.	12½	12¼	12½
Superior Oil		2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Superior Stl		13¼	13¼	13¼	-1
Suth'd Pa	1.60e	19¼	19¼	19¼	+ ¼
Sweets of Am		8⅛	8⅛	8⅛	- ⅛
Swift & Co	1.60	17⅝	17¼	17¼	- ½
SymGould ww	.60	8	7⅞	8	+ ⅛
SymGould xw	.60e	6	6	6
—T—
Tenn Corp	.25e	6⅝	6½	6½	- ⅛
Texas Corp	2	39	38⅝	38	- ⅝
Tex G Prd	.10e	4	3⅝	4	+ ⅛
Tex Gulf Su	2.a	30¼	30⅛	30⅛	+ ⅛
Texas & Pac		19½	19½	19½	+ ½
TexPacC&O	.40	8¼	8	8¼	- ⅛
Tex Pac LT		10⅝	10	10¼	+ ¼
Thermoid		3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ⅛
Third Avenue		1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	+ ⅛
Thomp Pd	1.40e	12⅛	12⅛	12⅛	+ ⅝
Thomp Star		2⅛	2⅝	2⅝	- ⅛
Tide A Oil	1.r	13⅝	13½	13½	- ⅛
Timken D	.50e	11½	11¼	11¼	- ⅝
Tim R B	3.e	40	39½	40
Transam		10⅝	10½	10⅝	- ⅛
Trans W Air		7¼	6⅝	6⅝	- ¼
Transue W		7⅛	7⅛	7⅛	- ⅛
Tri Cont	.25e	3½	3⅛	3⅝	+ ⅛
T Cen Fox	2.50e	21⅝	21⅝	21⅝	- ⅛
T C Fox pf	1.50	30	30	30
Twin Coach	.85e	8⅝	8¼	8¼	- ⅛
—U—
Under E F	4.50e	49	49	49	+1
Un B & P	.13e	11	10⅝	10⅝	+ ½
Un Carb	.80e	72½	69⅝	69⅝	-2
Un Oil of Cal	1.20	19⅝	19⅝	19⅝	- ¼
Union Pac	1.50e	74	73⅝	73⅝	- ¼
Union Tank	1.60	22	21⅞	21⅞	- ⅛
Utd Aircraft	1.e	22½	21½	21½	-1
United Air L		8¼	7⅝	7⅝	+ ⅛
Unit Bis	.40e	18½	18½	18½
Unit Carb	4	41	40½	40½	- ½
Unit Corp	.50e	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
UnitCorp pf	3	28	28	28
United Drug	.50e	6⅛	6	6	- ¼
United Dye	1	7¼	7⅛	7⅛
Unit El Coal		5	5	5
United Fruit	3.e	60	58½	58½	-2½
Uni G & Imp	1	9⅛	9⅝	9⅛
Unit Pap Brd	.30e	4½	4½	4½	+ ⅛
US Gyps	2.e	63⅝	60¼	63⅝	+1⅝
US Hoffman		7	7	7	+ ⅝
US Ind Alc		18½	18	18½
US Leather A		7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	- ⅛
US Rubber		28⅛	26⅞	27	- ⅝
US Rubber pf		57	54	54⅝	-1⅝
US Smelt	1.e	68½	67	67	-1
US Steel		52¼	50⅝	50⅝	-2⅛
US Steel pf	7	106	105	105	-1
Utd Stockyds	.50	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	- ⅛
Unit Strs A		2	2	2
—V—
Vanadium	1.e	17¼	16⅝	16⅝	- ⅝
V Raalte	3.50e	21	21	21	- ½
Vick	2.e	39⅝	39⅝	39⅝	+ ⅛
Va Car Chem		4½	4¼	4⅛	- ⅛
Va CarC pf	1.50e	25⅛	25⅛	25⅛	-1⅛
—W—
Wabash A	z	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	+ ⅛
Walgreen	2.	18½	18½	18½	+ ⅛
Walworth Co	1.e	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	- ⅝
Warner Pict		6	5⅝	5⅝	- ⅛
Warren Bros	z	3⅛	3	3	- ⅛
Wayne Pump	2	25¼	25¼	25¼	- ¼
Wesson Oil	.63e	29	29	29
West Auto S	1.60	15	15	15
Wes' Union		24	23⅝	23⅝	- ⅞
Westhse AB	1	22¼	22	22⅛	+ ⅛
Westhse Elec	x1.e	92¼	90¼	90⅛	-1⅝
Weston Elec	1.g	13	13	13	- ¼
Wheeling Stl		22	22	22	- ⅝
White Motor		10½	10¼	10½
WhiteSMach		2	2	2	- ⅛
White S M pf		17	16½	16½	- ½
Willys Overl'd		2¼	2⅛	2¼	- ⅛
WillysO'r'd p	.60	5½	6¼	6½
Wilson		4⅝	4⅝	4½
Wilson C pf	6.	51	51	51	-1
Woolworth	2.40	42⅝	41¼	42¼	+ ¼
Worth Pump		15¼	15⅛	15¼	- ⅝
WorthP pr pf	4.31	30	30	30
—Y—
Yale-Towne	.60e	21⅝	21⅝	21⅝	- ⅛
Yellow Truck		12⅝	12¼	12⅝	- ⅝
Young S&T	3.25e	34½	33½	33½	-1⅝
Young Stl Dr	.75e	17½	16⅝	16⅝	+ ⅝
—Z—
Zenith Radio	1	13	12⅝	12⅝	- ¼
Zonite Prod		3½	3⅛	3⅛	+ ¼
Call Money		1	1	1

zIn bankruptcy or receivership, or being reorganized under Bankruptcy Act, or securities assumed by such companies.

Rates of dividends in the foregoing table are annual disbursements based on the last quarterly or semi-annual declaration. Unless otherwise noted, special or extra dividends are not included.

xEx dividend. †Ex rights. aAlso extra or extras. eDeclared or paid so far this year. fPayable in stock. gPaid last year. hCash or stock. vAccumulated dividend.

Shipments of Lumber Gain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The National Lumber Manufacturers' Association reported today shipments and new business in the lumber industry showed gains for the week ending Jan. 29 over the previous week. Production was about the same.

All items were lower than for the corresponding week a year ago.

Production from 501 mills totaled 133,738,000 feet of hard and soft woods combined, shipments were 170,539,000 feet and orders booked totaled 190,949,000 feet. Revised figures for the preceding week were. Production, 136,072,000 feet; shipments, 166,557,000 feet, and orders 185,077,444 feet.

Asks Court Review Of Tire Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission appealed to the Supreme Court today in an effort to continue in effect an order directing the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company to "cease and desist" from selling tires to Sears, Roebuck and Company at net prices it claimed were lower than those accorded other purchasers.

The sixth circuit court of appeals set aside the commission's order on the ground that the contract had been cancelled and therefore the controversy at issue no longer existed.

Bar Silver

LONDON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Bar silver 20 5-16d, up 1-16. (Equivalent 45.79 cents.)

Boston Bank Stocks

	Annual div.	Feb. 7 Bid	Asked	Prev. closing bid
Boston SaDep&Tr*	$11†	290	..	290
First National	2	36⅞	38⅛	37
Merchants	12	390	..	390
National Rockland	2	59		59
National Shawmut	1	20¾	22¾	20¾
New Eng Trust*	†30	400	..	400
Pilgrim Trust	6	165	..	165
Second National	4	135	..	135
State St Tr*	8	262	..	262
U S Trust	.80	11	..	11
U S Trust pfd	.80	13¼	..	13¼
Webster & Atlas	2	34	36	34
First Boston Corp	‡.50	14¾	15½	14¾

†Including extra. *Stock to be sold must first be offered to directors of bank. ‡Paid in 1937.

Stock Leaders in Moderate Decline; Trading Pace Slow

Business Calls Borah Bill Home Rule Menace

WASHINGTON, Feb 7 (AP) — Senators who advocate federal licensing of corporations said today their hopes of administration support had been strengthened despite criticism from the National Manufacturers' Association.

Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney-general in charge of anti-trust matters, is expected to discuss the proposal soon with its authors—Senators Borah (R) of Idaho and O'Mahoney (D.) of Wyoming They already have conferred with President Roosevelt and other administration chieftains.

The manufacturers' association objected to the legislation as threatening to put every small business under a bureau's control.

The bill provides that all corporations engaged in interstate commerce would have to get licenses from the Federal Trade Commission. Licenses could be rejected if anti-trust laws were violated.

MANUFACTURERS' COMPLAINT

Said the manufacturers statement:

"Into this bill is written the power of life and death over all private enterprise. It would end our system of state incorporation and make home rule over business a thing of the past."

The association said the bill would cover "not only companies big and little and partnerships, but any joint venture" with penalties ranging from fine and imprisonment to "absolute exile from commerce."

O'Mahoney replied that the bill is "the only formula by which business may be released from both government interference and monopolistic interference."

"Both those who have always resisted every type of government regulation and those who have always asserted the government should have discretionary power over business," he said, "are beginning to see the middle ground of this measure."

The sponsors said they were re-examining the bill in an effort to "take the bugs out."

Meanwhile, Senator Wheeler (D.) of Montana declared he approved in principle. Senator Norris (Ind.) of Nebraska, an administration supporter, has taken a similar position.

Some congressional leaders have said the President may suggest a thorough investigation instead of asking immediate anti-monopoly legislation. Suporters of the Borah-O'Mahoney bill said they would agree to a congressional study.

Vote Funds for Cotton Probe

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Senate agriculture committee voted today to extend its investigation of the American Cotton Cooperative Association and the government cotton pool.

Chairman Smith (D-SC) said the committee approved a request for $25,000 in addition to a previous $10,000 to investigate claims that some 3,000,000 bales of cotton on which the government made loans had been underrated as to quality.

A preliminary report by Colonel Lawrence Weathrook, former administration relief official, said sample tests of loan cotton indicated low-grading had cost cotton growers about $1.50 a bale.

Smith said the additional $25,000 would enable Westbrook's staff to complete the investigation and determine responsibility.

New Department At Shawmut Bank

To carry on its growing business in new construction and remodeling loans to both builders and individuals, the National Shawmut Bank announces the formation of a separate Construction Loan Department. Advantages provided under the terms of the National Housing Act amendments, signed by President Roosevelt Thursday night, will be made promptly available through the Shawmut Construction Loan Plan, according to the announcement.

"The National Shawmut Bank heartily endorses the purpose which the new housing act is designed to accomplish," declared President Walter S. Bucklin. "We are ready to do our part to encourage new construction and remodeling by making it easier for builders and home-owners to obtain ready cash for this work.

"The primary function of this new service is to enable builders and home-owners to arrange all their home and building financing in one simple operation, supplementing but not interfering in any way with the excellent mortgage loan service provided by other outstanding loaning institutions."

Bank Statement

Boston balance	$15,000,000
Boston clearance	$24,000,000

Occasional Rallies Fail To Hold

NEW YORK, Feb. 7—Stock market leaders were inclined to slip moderately today in one of the slowest sessions of the past several months.

There were occasional mild comebacks after a tip-over at the opening, and a number of advances were maintained, but declines running to a point or so were in the majority near the concluding hour.

Most traders apparently discovered little inspiring in the news and there was a pronounced tendency to remain in neutral territory pending developments in Washington and elsewhere.

Bonds and commodities were uneven.

BUILDING SHARES UP

Building material stocks were among those to edge forward as a more hopeful view was taken of the administration's housing campaign. On the upside were Johns-Manville, U. S. Gypsum, American Radiator, National Gypsum and Lone Star Cement. American Can displayed strength.

Aircrafts and coppers were resistant, although these were far from buoyant as Secretary Hull indicated the United States was willing to join in a common effort to restrict armaments.

Improved the greater part of the day were Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Monsanto Chemical, Kennecott, American Smelting and St. Joseph Lead.

Rallying difficulties were encountered by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Westinghouse, duPont, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, North American, Montgomery Ward and American Telephone. The major communications issue cut an initial loss of 1½ points to a fraction.

Wall Street watched closely the start of conferences between U. S. Steel and union representatives over renewal of the corporation's contract which expires Feb. 28, with thoughts that subsequent pricing of steel may depend on the outcome.

WAGE CUTS ANNOUNCED

In connection with the steel meeting it was not overlooked that seven Maine cotton textile mills announced wage cuts averaging 12½ per cent, effective today, and involving some 8000 workers.

With a General Motors dividend meeting due after the close, there was much discussion as to what action would be taken by directors. While a small rise in automobile production was predicted for this week, no major upswing was expected in the near future.

On the cheerful side was a jump of 107,875 tons in shipping construction in January.

Talk was also heard that a speculative contingent recently had been selling American stocks short in London in the morning and covering at New York in the final hour. The new S. E. C. short selling regulations will operate tomorrow.

CURRENT FACTORS

In their search for trend clues, market observers studied the survey of the magazine "Steel" which found no definite improvement in this industry as important consumers continued to hold purchasing orders to immediate needs.

The review said, however, the promise of increased demand for shipbuilding in the next few weeks tended to brighten the picture.

Analysts derived some comfort from the Treasury announcement that $133,000,000 of "baby bonds" had been sold in January, the highest total for any month since these securities were placed on sale through the postal service in March, 1935.

At the beginning of foreign currency transactions sterling was off ⅛ of a cent at $5.01⅛ and the French franc was up .00⅛ of a cent at 3.28⅝ cents.

January Poor Month for Steel

CLEVELAND, Feb. 7 (AP)—January proved to be a dark month for the steel industry, the magazine Steel said today.

Steel's survey disclosed that the pig iron output fell to the lowest level since December, 1934, while active stacks at the end of the month numbered 91, the lowest since June, 1935. In January, 1937, a total of 169 stacks were producing.

"With all important consumers of steel remaining out of the market except for imperative needs, the situation shows no improvement and little change from the conditions of several weeks ago," the magazine said with reference to conditions of last week.

AUTO INTERESTS BUY LITTLE

Buying by automobile interests continued light as manufacturers shortened production of cars and steel discounted expectation of large buying by railroads in event a rate advance is allowed.

"The feeling is growing that higher rail rates, in the absence of heavy movement, will not yield as much business as had been expected," the review said.

It added, however, that some track and rolling stock requirements are so pressing that they are likely to be the source of some tonnage immediately on announcement of the decision on rates.

The magazine said steelmaking operations last week receded two points to 31 per cent as the net result of adjustments at practically every center.

PITTSBURGH RATE UP

The operating rate at Pittsburgh advanced two points to 32 per cent, other gains were noted at Birmingham, Ala., three points to 63; Cincinnati, four points to 44; Cleveland, two points to 33, and St. Louis, eight points to 29. Showing losses were Chicago, down two points to 25 per cent; Youngstown, one point to 26; Wheeling, W. Va., two points to 44, and Detroit, five points to 47.

Curb Stocks Off In Quiet Deals

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—The curb market drifted a little lower today in quiet trading.

A few metal shares moved against the trend for small gains. Utilities, oils and industrial specialties were down fractionally over a fairly wide front.

In the loss column around midday were Aluminum Co., International Petroleum, American Gas & Electric, St. Regis Paper and Sunray Oil.

Slightly higher were Lake Shore Mines and Mesabi Iron. Michigan Steel Tube pushed up about a point on small transactions.

Ct. Utilities to Spend $10,000,000

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Feb. 7 (INS)—Connecticut utilities are to spend about $10,000,000 in 1938 for additions, extensions and improvements to their facilities, a survey revealed today.

Hartford Electric Co. plans extension steam plant improvements costing $2,900,000.

Investment Trust

LONDON, Feb. 7 (INS) — The organization of an investment trust by British interests for the purpose of buying U. S. stocks at their present low levels was reported here today.

Bond & Share Finds Gov't Brief Misleading

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Electric Bond and Share Company and 26 subsidiaries told the Supreme Court today that a brief filed by the government in defense of the 1935 act regulating public utility holding companies was evasive and misleading.

Preparatory to arguments late today, or tomorrow, on validity of the legislation, the utility companies filed a brief in reply to the government's contentions that the legislation was constitutional.

"The government's brief," the utilities contended, "evades, or misconceives the fundamental issue in this case; misrepresents the position of the defendants in general and in detail; and deflects attention from the real issues by arguing in extenso for propositions that are not challenged and against contentions that are not made."

Referring to another document filed by the Government discussing the setup of the Band and Share system, the utilities asserted:

"The factual brief is entirely superfluous to the issues here. It can have no possible purpose or function except to endeavor, by elliptical references, innuendo and misinterpretation, with which it is replete, to create an atmosphere of prejudice against the defendants."

The utilities said that the "fundamental" issue" in the main case was whether section four (A) can be 'enforced. This section prohibits holding companies from engaging in interstate commerce unless they register with the securities commission.

"Any fair valuation of the achievements of the defendants in the public service and in the development of the electric and gas industries," the brief said, "with due regard to their obligations to both security holders and the consumers served by their subsidiary companies, must concede that, on balance, they have served and not betrayed the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers."

Last Rites for A. J. Stone In Gardner Wednesday

GARDNER, Feb. 7—Funeral services for Arthur John Stone, one of the country's best known silversmiths, will be held Wednesday with burial in Greenbower cemetery.

Stone, who died at his Winter street home, was well known for his work in completing much of the unfinished work of Paul Revere. Among some of his best known pieces are the gold monstrance in the Church of the Advent in Boston, the Sarah Whitman chalice in Trinity Church, Boston, and work at Berkeley College and Yale University. His work often had been on exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Fine Art.

He leaves his wife, the former Elizabeth Dent Eaton.

REV. F. J. GLYNN

Funeral services for the Rev. Francis J. Glynn, 85, parish priest for many years at St. Mary's Church, Melrose, will be held Wednesday with a solemn high mass of requiem at 10 a. m. A children's mass will be held at the church at 8 o'clock.

Father Glynn was born in South Boston and studied for the priesthood at St. Joseph's Seminary at Troy, N. Y. He was ordained there in 1878 and had served at St. Stephen's Church, North End; St. John's Church, Hopkinton, and St. Patrick's Church, Brockton, before going to St. Mary's.

ELIZABETH McCLOWRY

Funeral services were held yesterday at Nine Acres, the Windham, N. H., home of her daughter, Mrs. Annie B. Clark, for Mrs. Elisabeth McClowry, one of New Hampshire's oldest residents, who died Thursday at the age of 94 years.

Born at Wooster, Ohio, she was the widow of Thomas McClowry. Besides Mrs. Clark she leaves three sons, sixteen grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. The sons are Thomas J., of Pasadena, California and William J. and Charles M. of Pitcairn Pennsylvania.

JOHN H. KILDUFF

Funeral services for John H. Kilduff, widely known newspaperman, will be held tomorrow with a solemn high mass of requiem at the Church of the Most Precious Blood, Hyde Park.

He died at his home, 32 Tacoma street Hyde Park, of a heart attack, believed induced by the death of his brother the day previous.

A. J. WURTZBURGER

PLYMOUTH, Feb. 7—Military rites will mark the funeral tomorrow of August J. Wurtzburger, 48, known to thousands of Plymouth visitors as custodian of Plymouth Rock and surrounding grounds.

Mr. Wurtzburger died Sunday after a three days' illness. A World War veteran, he saw two years of active duty as a member of Company G, 302nd Infantry, and had been decorated for outstanding service.

Need Money?

Loans: $100 to $1000 or more

A Single Charge . . .

Although this bank urges that no one go into debt unnecessarily, it recognizes that many people need temporary financial assistance to meet special emergencies. When responsible people in Boston and nearby communities borrow under the Shawmut Monthly Payment Plan, the single charge for the loan is at the same low rate whatever the amount, from $100 to $1000 or more. This personal loan plan — with life insurance protection — provides for systematic repayment over an extended period. You need not be a depositor to use this service, available at our main office or at any of the sixteen Shawmut branches.

Call or write for our new folder describing this Plan.

THE NATIONAL
Shawmut Bank
40 WATER STREET • BOSTON

Listen to our broadcast by the Philadelphia Orchestra over Station WBZ every Monday evening — from 9 to 10 o'clock

PERSONAL CONVENIENCE LOANS

Here's a sensible plan . . . Consolidate ALL your bills and keep your local credit good. Get a loan of cash to pay off your biggest bill or a lot of little ones, and relieve your mind of money worries.

Own is a PERSONAL-ized service . . . You have your choice of ALL loan plans. Payments adjusted to fit YOUR pocketbook. Strict privacy assured. Loans up to $300. Come in NOW!

PERSONAL FINANCE COMPANY

BOSTON — Little Building, HUB. 1720
BOSTON — 73 Tremont St., LAF. 3600
BROOKLINE—2d fl., 260 Harvard St.
CAMBRIDGE—515 Massachusetts Ave.
CHELSEA — 429-431 Broadway
DORCHESTER—2d fl., 761 Dudley St.
EVERETT — Room 1, 468 Broadway
MALDEN — 2d fl., 481 Main Street
MEDFORD — 2d fl., 10 High Street
NEWTON—2d fl., 311 Washington St.
QUINCY — 2d fl., Granite Tr. Bldg.
ROSLINDALE—2d fl., Bond Mkt. Bldg.
SOMERVILLE — 2d fl., 130 Dover St.
WALTHAM — 2d fl., O'Donnell Bldg.

Licenses 57, 22, 160, 71, 195, 66, 197, 107, 199, 201, 154, 204, 55, 125 respectively

1888 FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY 1938

Public Confidence for Half a Century

WORKINGMEN'S LOAN ASSOCIATION
178 Tremont St., Boston, Tel. HUB. 5060
Conrad J. Nelson, General Manager
Chartered by Commonwealth of Massachusetts. State No. 1

$20 to $300 LOANS Without Endorsers

NO WAGE ASSIGNMENTS

If you can make regular monthly payments you can apply for a loan on furniture, car or plain note. Up to 20 months to repay. No inquiries of friends or relatives.

"Doctor of Family Finances"

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE CORPORATION Est. 1878

TWO BOSTON OFFICES:
400 Studio Bldg., 4th Fl., 110 Tremont St. License No. 252 Phone: LIBerty 5874
804 Blake Bldg., 8th Fl., 59 Temple Place, Corner Washington License No. 308 Phone: HUBbard 4142
CAMBRIDGE OFFICE:
5th Floor, Central Sq. Bldg., 678 Massachusetts Ave. License No. 64 Phone: TROwbridge 5322
Hear EDGAR A. GUEST Tuesday Evenings WBZ-WBZA

At Your Service

Let the Pilgrim Help You with your financial problems. Loans to suit your needs made within one day. Loans up to and including $300 under State Supervision. Call phone or write

$50. to $2000

PILGRIM PLAN
24 SCHOOL ST. CAPITOL 7243
RM. 505 5th FLOOR LICENSE 65

COLLATERAL LOAN CO.
INCORPORATED MASSACHUSETTS, 1859.
75 CORNHILL OFF SCOLLAY SQUARE
Loans on Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry, Silverware, Etc.
INTEREST 1% PER MONTH
NO OTHER CHARGE
TEL. CAP. 2181 STATE 1

Loans On Your Own Signature!
IDEAL FINANCING ASSOCIATION, INC.
333 WASHINGTON ST.-CAP. 8960-LICENSE 83

HEIRS May borrow over $100 on their interests in legacies or trust funds. METROPOLITAN FINANCE CORP., 37 State; Laf. 4858-4859

AUTO & TRUCK LOANS
1 HOUR SERVICE
AMERICAN FINANCE CORP. License 23
Room 227, Park Square Bldg. HUB. 1813

PERSONAL LOANS NATIONAL LOAN SOCIETY 1400 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY. License 53

AUTOS Fidelity Loan Co. License 45, 152 Huntington Ave. Ken. 2720.

BOSTON MORRIS PLAN CO. 300 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON. LICENSE 62.

AUTOS 30 MIN.-LOAN SERVICE TRUCKS
New Low Rates
BUSINESS LOANS
ATLANTIC FINANCE CORP.
RM. 926, PARK SQ. BLDG. HUB 1218. Lic. 94

AUTO WHILE IN YOUR POSSESSION LOANS
NEW LOW RATES
AUTO OWNERS FINANCE CO., INC.
30 COLUMBUS AVE. LIB. 9630
MOTOR MART BLDG. LICENSE 214

The Bargain Market

127 Clothing—Furs

OVERCOATS 1 AND 2 PANT SUITS $5 $7 $11 PANTS TO MATCH YOUR SUIT 98c, $1.00, $1.49
UNITED CLOTHIERS, 103 WASHINGTON ST

140 Coal—Coke—Wood—Oil

GOLD SEAL COAL $11 Per Ton
On 2-Ton Orders
Fresh Mined Low Ash Anthracite
Stetson Fuel Corp. SOU. 1840 KIR. 6687

COK-OLGA $10.50 per ton Delivered
QUALITY AT LOW PRICE. CAP. 3070. Coke Distributors, Inc. 114 State St.

A. RICCIARDONE & SONS
Hard Coal $11, Lumpy Soft $8
New Eng. Coke. MALDEN 5101-M

125 Jewelry and Diamonds

HIGHEST PRICES Paid for DIAMONDS, GOLD, SILVER, WATCHES, ETC. WM. A. THOMPSON CO. 125 Tremont St. Lib. 9472

126 Miscellaneous

BEAUTY PARLOR EQUIPMENT for sale at once. Call Everett 1948.

AUSTEN LAKE, America's foremost sports writer and columnist, every day in the Boston American.

138 Typewriters

RENT THE NEW NOISELESS MONARCH '8 3 MONTHS $5 Initial rental applied on purchase. Bal. $3 mo.
AMERICAN WRITING MACHINE CO.
91 Federal St. Est. 1900 LIBerty 6195

141 Building Materials

Asbestos Wall Shingles 12x24, requires no painting, warm in winter, cool in summer, only $4.00 sq.
FRIEND LUMBER CO.
20 Gibson St., Medford. Tel. MYS 5656.

Orange Shellac $1.19 gal. Grossman. 130 Granite Street, Quincy.

129 Furniture

10 DAY SALE on everlasting steel reinforced folding chair, 1-3 off. Osbry Bros. Inc. 10 Spring St. Boston. Cap. 9015.

JACKSON Folding CHAIRS and TABLES all occasions. 27 Haymarket Sq. Cap. 3633.

130 Refrigerators

36 G. E.'s USED LITTLE. From $40 24 Church, Kir. 7455.

139 Oil Burners

RANGE burner assemblies, $4.50; heaters, $8.95. Cohen Sales, 14 Portland. Laf. 3675.

Valentine Gift Suggestions

Bakeries

HAROLD Baking Co., Inc., radio broadcast Sunday 1:45 o'clock, Station WAAB.

Bread

ITALIAN & French Bread—Laf. 1789. Bel-Gelli Baking Co., Inc., 467 Hanover.

Caterers

HOT Coffee in containers, large and small parties. Oriental Tea Co., 57 Court St.

Candy

SELECT assortment Valentine candies. Eliot Pharmacy, 31 Mass. Ave. KENmore 4499.

Valentine Assortment of Candies. Col. 9000. Hughes Drug Co., 1556 Tremont.

Candies—Cosmetics

SELECT ASSORTMENT—Valentine candies and cosmetics. Aspinwall Pharmacy. "If it's drugs, we have it." 389 Wash. St., Dor. Tel. 1765.

Select Asst. candies & toiletries. Sylvia Pharmacy, Inc., 1461 Wash. Com. 6842.

Childrens Wear

JACK & JILL SHOP—Children's wear for Valentine, Coolidge Cor., Brookline. Lon. 9710.

Dress Suits—Rented

$1.50 Tux.—Full Dress—Cutaways. Town Hall Clothing, 1251 Hyde Park Ave. HYD. 9131.

Florists

FLOWERS TELEGRAPHED ANYWHERE J. Walsh & Son, 72 Summer St. Mal. 1190-0488.

City Sq. Florist Valentine Cards, Flowers. 63 Chelsea St. Cha. 1887.

Ralph's Flower Shop 349 B'way, Beverly. 2006-W.

TONY DELCCO—Flowers. "The best gift." 17 Baybrook St., Brighton.

Fruit

WALKER'S FARM MARKET—Select assortm't fresh fruits. Free del. 125 B'way. Pro. 0989.

Hosiery

The Hosiery Box. Gift Hosiery and Sportwear. 369 Mass. Ave., Camb. KIR. 9784.

Grocers

ALFRED A. YEASIE—Fresh meats, fish, vegetables, daily. Free del. 268 Broadway. Som. 2610.

SOREY'S Market, fresh meats, fruits, daily. Free del. 73 Jefferson St. Ocean 0784.

Ice Cream

B. B. DUNN'S "BEST" ice cream for your VALENTINE'S PARTY. Delivery service. Garrison 0616.

Meat Market

HOME CASH MARKET Fresh meat, fish, fruits, free del. 171 Salem St. Malden. 2224-M.

NORTH END Meat Market—Fresh meat daily! 49 Salem St., Boston. Laf. 7232.

Millinery—Hosiery

HOSIERY the ideal gift! Boston Millinery and Hosiery store, 509 Mass. Ave., Camb.

Night Clubs

ONT'S GRILL—35 Essex St. Lib. 4556. Newest dine and dance rendezvous. Cont. entertainment.

Popcorn

CHEEZEE-POP—Cheese flavored popcorn. CheeZcorn Co. of N. E., Inc. 432 Cambridge St., Allston, Mass. Sta. 9230.

Where to Dine

CAFE AMALFI—Italian luncheon, a la carte dinners, 8 Westland Ave., nr. Symphony Hall.

NGAR HONG GUEY—1 Hudson St., 21 Tyler St. Special Luncheon 35 cts. from 11-3:30. Dev. 9137. Han. 2256. Hub. 7650.

RED ROOSTER Restaurant, Am. Chinese. No cover charge. Dancing. liquor. 11 Hudson St.

Gamsun Restaurant—Newly renov. Chinese Food Specialists. 21 Hudson St., Hub. 4797.

Gypsy Tea Shop, Inc., "Your Fortune in the tea leaves." 160 Tremont St. Lib. 7450.

Gustie's Rest., Excel. food, choice liquors, Brattle St., Harvard Sq., Camb. Kir. 7887.

O SOLE MIO—238 Tremont St., for special reservations, call Archie. Lib. 0418.

Willow Cafe—Delicious dinners, wine, beer and liquor. 699 Broadway, Som. 0619.

Announcements

9 Funeral Directors

J. S. WATERMAN & SONS SINCE 1832 FUNERAL SERVICE
Local and Suburban

Graham Funeral Service
1770 Wash. St., Boston. Hig. 8268
Special Funeral from $125
NON SECTARIAN
Anywhere in New England

THE RIGHT apartment for you

◆

. . . now there is a way to cut hours and even days off of your apartment hunt, and make sure of getting the right apartment at the same time. Just check the listings in American Want Ads.

If you must move, this is the most important thing you can do today!

BOSTON AMERICAN Rental Want Ads

Or Call Barbara Holmes' Rental Bureau at Hancock 4100

10 Monuments

MONUMENTS OF QUALITY WRITE FOR DESIGNS PRICES Theo. J. Craig 14 FEDERAL AVE QUINCY MASS. GRAN 3782

WRITE FOR CATALOG OF MONUMENTS—MEMORIAL GRANITE CO., 130 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY.

15 Lost and Found

Found Spitz, Collie, Police, Spaniel and Beagle. Call Miss James, LIBerty 4000.

DOG lost, Revere, lt. brown male Ger. shepherd, 2 yrs., child's pet. Rew. Rev. 0424-M.

LOST—White gold glasses, blue case. Boston Garden—Fri. Rew. Boston American. Box 143.

Lost a dog? Found a dog? Phone Animal Rescue League, 51 Carver St., City. Had. 9170 between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m.

LOST, man's Bulova, yellow gold wrist watch. Reward. Call L. Baker, Cir. 6909.

16 Information Wanted

REWARD for information Nushan Boghosian estate to Osanne Solakian, 31 Clarendon St., Boston.

23 Dancing Instruction

LEARN TO DANCE "THE SHAG," "THE BIG APPLE," etc.
15 PRIVATE LESSONS $5
UPTOWN SCHOOL MODERN DANCING
330 Mass. Ave. at Hunt.
TEL. COM. 0320
Boston's Foremost Reliable Dancing School
Class Dancing with Orch 9 P. M. to 12 P. M.
Expert Young Lady and Gentleman Instructors

"My REPUTATION Is Your PROTECTION"
BALLROOM Guaranteed in 4 LESSONS TAP Also Taught
PROF. RITTER 177 Tremont St. DEvonshire 7330

3 PRIVATE LESSONS. Miss Shirley Hayes $1 330 Mass. Ave. at Hunt Ave. Com. 0320. Beginners Guaranteed. Newest steps. Expert instruction.

TAP STANLEY BROWN, FORMERLY "COTTON CLUB" N. Y. 295 Hunt. Ave. COM. 8435.

Wm. H. O'Brien 240 Hunt. Ave. CIR. 6526. 10 Priv., $5; 12 Classes, $5.

29 Medical

FREE, X-RAY

Examination and consultation and trial treatment absolutely free to all who call before Feb. 13th, 1938. The X-ray and mercury quartz light treatment are accomplishing wonders in diseases of every description. No matter what your disease, Daniel J. Walsh, M. D., 18 Boylston St., Boston, Mass., fulfills the above offer. Office hours Tuesdays and Fridays 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. Other days 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. Closed Sundays and Holidays

BLOOD DISEASES—ACNE • TREATED BY THE LATEST METHOD • VACCINES USED WHEN NECESSARY • CONSULTATION FREE, HOURS 9 to 8
R.W.POWER.M.D. 18 BOYLSTON ST. HAN. 3840

Real Estate

80 Houses for Sale

Houses up to $3000

SO. BOSTON 3-FAM. $1800
177-179 W. Ninth St. Apartments of 3 to 4 rms. and toilets. All re-conditioned for occupancy. Corner lot. Small down payment. Rents of 2 apartments will carry the proposition. Act quickly—this is an exceptionally good buy. GRAnite 7720. Evenings GRAnite 7195-M.

2 Family, as is, good loc., 2-car gar. $2300. ABE MOGUL. MAL. 2549.

BANK PROPERTIES All Types & Prices Attractive Terms
Robert Gray, Bank Agent. Tro. 8347. Eve. Bel. 2109.

Quincy

QUINCY, self-rent, $26 Southern Art., 6 rms., brick single, garage. Cap. 9576.

86 Real Estate Mortgages

Ask Suffolk Co-operative Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of Boston. 44 Bromfield St.

NEED Mortgage Money? If so, see Merchants Co-op. Bank. 24 School St. Boston.

SEND for list of Real Estate. Workingmens Co-operative Bank, 73 Cornhill.

80 Houses for Sale

Houses $3000 to $4000

$3900 or best offer for 2 houses (small single and a large 2 family); improvements, open plumbing, baths; upper apartment has 9 rooms, steam heat; 1st floor, furnace heat, corner location, about 8000 sq. ft. land, assessed $5800 for both; bank will consider your best proposition or will sell each house separately at rent until paid in full; located 73-77 Perkins St., Somerville, corner Mt. Pleasant St., from Broadway, near Sullivan Sq. Tel. Tro. 2270, or eves. call Kir. 8672.

$33 PER MONTH

Includes principal, interest, taxes for very desirable five rm. bungalow and garage, furnace heat, good loc., garden lot. Price $3400 only $400 down. W. H. Melville, 231 Quincy Ave., E. Braintree. Tel. 1024.

82 Farms and Land for Sale

FREE CATALOG FARM BARGAINS
Many with stock, tools, crops. Write today. STROUT AG'T, 810-FH, Old South Bldg.

Rentals

94 Unfurnished Apartments

TODAY'S APT. SPECIAL!
BRIGHTON, BRAINERD RD. 3 RMS. KITCH. BATH. $35. Apply 75 Westland Ave. KEN. 4221.

BOSTON MANAGEMENT CORP.

Allston

ENTIRELY renov. 6 rms., white sink, steam, $37; janitor. 16 Empire St., off North Harvard.

Brighton

2-3 RMS., bath, dinette, kitchenette, $42.50-$52.50. Apply 6-8, Vinal St. Asp. 6218.

Cambridge

3 RMS., heated, $35; 4 rms., heated, $35; 5 rms., heated, $40; 1-rm. apt., heated, $25; Mr. Rimalon, 2200 Mass. Ave. Kir. 5803.

NEWLY renovated upper 6-room apt., parking space, $42.50. Call Hubbard 0126.

Dedham

Heated 3 rms., bath, refrig., 20 min. to South Sta., adults, $42. DEDham 1434-R.

Dorchester

24 DRAYTON AVE.—5 rms., 2nd fl., 2-fam., st. ht., screened piazza. Gentiles, adults, $35. Col. 1226.

468 COLUMBIA RD.—Modern 3-room heated apt., free refrig., $45. JOS. G. MAZUR. Algonquin 3179, or Columbia 1436.

UPHAMS Corner. Heated 2,4 rms., newly renovated, $28-$36. Call Col. 7818.

UPHAMS COR.—4 rms., st. ht., enamel range, white sink. Suite 1, $38. Gen. 2947.

MODERN 5 large sunny rms., white sink, steam ht., $32. 50 Topliff St. Col. 5292.

Jamaica Plain

$30 Heated modern 3 rooms, bath, 2nd floor. Adults. Call JAM. 1442.

Near pond, mod. bld. 5 rms., 1st fl., cont. h. w., G. E. refrig., janitor serv. Jam. 7331.

Medford

4 ROOMS, $24; 5 rooms, $26; 6 rooms, $30; single house, garage, $35. 62 Park St.

Roslindale

5314 Washington St., mod. 6 rms., 2nd fl., $35, A1 cond., parking. Call Blue. 5313.

Roxbury

210 HIGHLAND ST.—Mod. 3-4-6 rms., newly renovated, parking, $25, $25, $24. Other desirable apts., $19 to $40. MacLellan, 1270 Columbus Ave. High. 8400.

Heated Modern 3-4-room restricted apartments. All open porches, tile bath, refrig., janitor. 15 Alaska St.

EGLESTON SQ.—New 4 rms., sep. htrs., new oak fls., $32-$35. 14 Empire St. Gar. 4791.

141 CENTRE ST.—5 rooms, all impts.; newly renov.; handy loc., $33. Gar. 2366.

82 HEATH ST.—3 and 4 rooms, $3 and $3.25 weekly. Handy location. High. 1718.

South Weymouth

11 TORREY ST.—Sunny, heated, 6 rms., refrig., con. h. w., adults, $45. Wey 0307-M.

Watertown

102 BELMONT ST.—6-rm. apt., steam ht., garage opp.; handy to stores, schools, etc. Reas.

104 Children to Board

WILL board child; good home, best of care; doctor's refs. Mys. 6261-W.

CHILD to board, school age; good home, near school; reas. Hig. 6973.

WANTED—To board boy or girl under 12 years. $5 a week. Randolph 0468.

90 Offices and Stores

NICELY furn. hall, with or without piano. Accommodates 40-50 people. Kenmore 5237.

93 Moving—Trucking—Storage

5 ROOMS MOVED $10
PIANOS $4. 1on. Vans. CHA. 1858
Bonded Storage, 1st Mo. Free.

OWNER DRIVEN VANS—Anywhere in Mass., Vt., R. I., Conn., N. H., N. Y. LOW RATES. Goods insured; storage. ASHFORTH, MIDDLESEX 4239.

5 ROOMS moved $10. Also storage. Pianos $4. Goods insured in transit. Cha. 9874.

96 Houses for Rent

Roxbury

28 COPELAND ST.—Single house, 8 rms., A-1 cond., handy location, $30. Col. 7818.

95 Furnished Apartments

Cambridge

1 ROOM, kitchenette, bath; everything furnished; convenient residential section. Kir. 6528.

Jamaica Plain

FURN. 2-3 rms.; priv. bath, heat, light, gas supplied. 11 Rockyncok Ter. End. 9367.

Roslindale

FURN. heated 3 rms., bath, frigidaire. $8 WKLY. 192 Poplar St.; Park. 4897-W.

Somerville

MEDFORD—2 rms. furn., well heated, $4.50; also 4 rms furn., heated; reas. Som. 5642.

100 Housekeeping Rooms

Brighton

LARGE front room and kitchen; elec. stove; priv. entrance; white sink. Sta. 1979.

102 Rooms With Board

Back Bay

COMFORTABLE room, suitable for elderly person; good meals, $10 week. 13 Edgerly Rd.

Mattapan

43 MALTA ST., attrac. rms., board opt., elderly or bus. people. See to appreciate.

Roxbury

NICELY furn. rooms, with good home cooking. $10 wk. Conv. loc. Hig. 4884.

103 Rooms Without Board

Beacon Hill

22 BRIMMER ST., overlooking Esplanade, attrac., spacious rm. Laf. 8797.

Brookline

12 THORNDIKE ST.—Pleas. rm. in pri. home. Gentleman. Reas. Asp. 7120.

Cambridge

ATTRAC. warm rm.; pri. apt.; shower bath; bus. woman. Reas. Kir. 3872.

Medford

NEAR Medford Sq., front rm., adult fam., breakfast opt., reas. Mys. 2422.

Somerville

CLEAN, nicely furn., warm rooms. Priv. home; homelike surroundings. Som. 1841-W.

Watertown

103 NO. BEACON ST.—Pleasant rms., kit. priv's, opt., exc. house, reas. Mid. 2973.

"Where to find it"

A DEPENDABLE GUIDE FOR MERCHANDISE AND SERVICE
EVERY SUNDAY, MONDAY, WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY

Auto Radios

AUTO RADIO Repair Service—WOB. 1592. 41 Salem St., Woburn.

Automobile Repairing

General Repairs—Dodge, Plym. Specialty. A. J. Frank & Son, 101 Cross St., Som. Pro. 2512.

SERVICE—All kinds on all cars, towing. Melrose Motor Mart, Inc., Mel. 2726-W.

Banks

Start a monthly savings account in New England's largest Co-operative Bank
Merchants Co-operative Bank
24 School St., Boston

Books

CASH PAID FOR BOOKS CAP. 6643
WILLIAMS BOOK STORE, 85 Wash. St. Est. 1895.

Catering

CATERING Cocktails, Canapes, Tea, Sandwiches. Bio. 1648.

Clothing

PANTS TO MATCH YOUR SUIT 673 Wash. St. I. J. Rosenberg Dev. 9525 Boston

Floors Refinished

FLOORS LAID and renewed. Work guar. Everett 1376-M

Furs

$25 Sample Fur Coats. Murray's Fur Shop, 519 Washington St., 2nd Fl.

Fur Jackets and Capes. Vengrow, 1374A Beacon St., Brook. New $15

Goldfish

GOLD FISH—Access. & Plants—KEN. 2204 Back Bay Aquarium, 431 Stuart

Hairdressers

HAIR Coloring and Perm. Waving. Alice Conley, 30 Hunt. Ken. 7118.

Handbags

HANDBAGS Repaired. KEN. 0316. W. G. Winship, 672 Boylston, Boston

Health Bread

CANADIAN HEALTH BREAD—PRO. 1061. W. L. BURLAND BAKERY, 24 Garfield Ave., Som.

Instruction

PIANO-ORGAN Tutor, H. J. Hooper, Jr., 80, Augustus Av. Ros'l Par. 0259

ENGLISH, arithmetic, typewriting, shorthand. Private and class. Mrs. Albert J. Wiley, Lon. 0669.

FASHION Modelling. Pearl Atkinson School, 858 Chestnut Hill Ave. Asp. 4590.

Machinery and Tools

BEST market for used mach. and tools. ATLANTIC SMELTING CO. GAR. 5371.

To order YOUR ad 'phone LIBerty 4000.

Magazines

Subscriptions to leading publications. Prompt and efficient service. 175 Tremont St., Room 609 or phone Hubbard 4638.

Money to Loan

MONEY LOANED ON DIAMONDS
WATCHES GOLD, SILVER, JEWELRY, OR CASH PAID
Licensed Bonded Collateral Brokers. Est. 1904
Pawn Tickets Bought or Financed. Mail Orders
SAGER BROS. CO. 333 Washington St., 6th Floor

Movers

CHA. 9500 For insured, prompt moving service. Ahearn & Son, 353 Main St.

Painting—Paperhanging

M. DE COSTA—Painting, paperhanging, outside painting; go anywhere. Prob. 2456-W.

SPECIAL CHEAPER WINTER RATES Paint'g. Paper'g. Frank Kimmel, Hig. 8953

Radio Repairing

RADIOS REPAIRED—Perkins Sq. Music Shop, 483 Broadway, Phone So. Bos. 1343.

Radio Service

Complete Radio service. World Radio Sales Agency, 49 Day St. Norwood.

WHETHERHULT Radio Co.—Repairs, all kinds; elec appl. 314 Cambridge. Cap. 0080.

Social Organizations

HELP TO Give Employment! During "Clean-up Week" remember the Morgan Memorial, 89 Shawmut Ave. Hancock 9670.

Store Fixtures

BOSTON Show Case Co., designers and mfrs., 136 Linden Park St., Roxbury. High. 6263.

Taxicabs

CENTRAL CAB CO.—Boston's safest and smartest cabs. Phone Devonshire 7500.

Travel Agencies

Florida $15 Nat. Travel Bur. 100 Boylston St. LIB. 0776

Where To Dine

DELICIOUS FOOD, liquor, beer, entertainment. International Cafe, 315 B'way. Sou. 9259.

The Alcazar 27 Camb. St. Barbecued Chicken, Steak Dinner.

ALPHA LUNCH—64 Summer St., 115 Causeway. New York Grill, Scollay Sq.

Famous Doors, Inc., 74 Warrenton St. Boston's Leading Swing Band. $1 dinners.

WALTERS REST.—1364 Beacon St., Coolidge Cor. Specializing in T-bone steaks.

Yarns

YARN Lowest price in U. S. A. Knitting Worsted, Large Skein Bedford Yarns, 134 Bedford St. Boston 39c

Automobiles

200 Automobiles for Sale

FEBRUARY SPOTLIGHT VALUES

Buy a BETTER LATER SAFER Car NOW

Winter Prices Are Decidedly In YOUR Favor

'37 Packard 6 Tour. Sedan. One owner, very low mileage, finish in black, spotless upholstery. An outstanding value at a new low price. Liberal terms; our own finance plan. PACKARD, 1079 Commonwealth Ave. STAdium 5504. $795

'36 Dodge Conv. Sedan. One of the very few of this model on the used car market. Finished in black, khaki top. Leather upholstery. General condition is excellent. Snappy and smart looking. Liberal terms; our own finance plan. PACKARD, 1079 Com'wealth Ave. STAdium 5504. $625

'36 Dodge 2-Dr. Touring Sedan. Radio, heater, etc.; metallic gray finish; reconditioned; guaranteed; low cost GMAC terms. Motor Car Co. of N. E., 850 Comm. Ave. LONgwood 5362. $525

'36 Pontiac 2-Dr. Touring Sedan. 6 cyl. de luxe equip., hot water heater, etc., small mileage. Motor Car Co. of N. E., 850 Comm. Ave. LONgwood 5362. Low cost GMAC terms. Down payment only $190

'36 Ford D. L. Touring Fordor. Radio or Heater. Reduced. $425 Newton Motor Sales, 773 Wash. Newton North 4269.

$5 TAKES ONE AWAY
Includes '38 Plates & Insurance and HOLLWAY'S 30-day Guar.

	Price	Pay't
'35 Ford Conv. Coupe, spotless	$325—	$19.25
'31 Olds. Coach, just like new	125—	8.07
'32 Plymouth De L. 4-dr. Sed. recond.	175—	11.40

Princeton Motors, 6, Artery of B'way. SOM. 8787.

Porter Sq. Chev. '36 PONTIAC COUPE
Black Duco finish, mohair upholstery. An outstanding value at only $595. Can be seen today. 2055 Mass. Ave., Cambridge, KIR. 4400.

OK '36 PONTIAC 4-dr. 6-cyl. Sedan, a one-owner car, in excellent condition both mechanically and in appearance; this model made Pontiac sales history. $525. HUB CHEVROLET, 277 Mass. Ave., Cambridge. TRO. 6400.

REPOSSESSED PONTIAC
'37 Coupe, almost new. Will turn notes over for unpaid balance. 976 Mass. Ave., Cambridge. TRO. 6915.

Porter Sq. Chev. '35 Chevrolet Master Sedan with Radio, $415, an O. K.'d Special for today only. $95 down, see it now. 2055 Mass. Ave., Cambridge. KIR. 4400.

'36 Packard Super 8 Formal Sedan. Double Heaters. Radio, chauffeur driven. Trust & Murray, Beverly Farms 8. $1850

W Plymouth 1934 Sedan; 2-door; nice shape; can't equal it at this price; $10 down. 18 months to pay balance; in De Luxe condition. See it today. 860 Main St. .... $227 LITTLE MOTORS, Inc., Waltham 4135.

'33 Chevrolet Coupe; very clean, good tires, mech. perfect. $235
Waltham Motors Waltham 3968 Wayland 196

LOOK '37 CHRYSLER ROYAL Motorola and Overdrive. NO MONEY DOWN
Commonwealth 1115. 1311 BOYLSTON ST. HOMESTEAD

'31 Studebaker Dictator 4-Dr. Sed. Greg's, 1 Harvard St., Medford. MYstic 4179-M. $200

'33 Plymouth Sport Coupe. Very clean. Guaranteed. Frost Motors, 339 Wash. St. New. No. 4523. $265

'34 FORD FORDOR, black. Reardon & Woodward, 190 Columbus Ave., Rox. Hig. 1811. $405

FORD conv. coupe, 1935 R. S. Completely overhauled. Just like new, only $195. KIR. 5045.

'32 Rockne Cabriolet. A-1. Hennessey's, 135 Old Colony Ave. SOUth Boston 4449. $145

'34 DeSOTO AIRFLOW SEDAN $295. 15 BERKELEY ST. HAN. 7365.

'34 Packard Tour. 4-dr. sed. Radio, ht., wh. side wall. Gar. 8341. $895

'34 Ford Tudor, A-1 condition. Perham, 221 B'way, ARL. 2433. $225

'34 Ford Cabriolet, A-1. Hoover Motors, Park Sq. HUB. 7185. $265

'36 Chevrolet Master Town Sedan. Like new. MALden 4220. $399

FORD 1934 Tudor model, new motor, very clean. $135 takes it. Eliot 7846.

'37 CHEV. master de luxe, 2-door, $525 terms. Call Mr. Benway. KEN. 4010.

'35 HUDSON 6 trunk sedan, $335. Noyes Buick, 839 Comm. Ave. STA. 3606.

PONTIAC '36 SEDAN, must sell at once. Cash, Terms or Trade. TRO. 8916.

1931 Buick 47 Sedan, a bargain .... $145 343 Broadway, Somerville. SOM. 6767.

PONTIAC '36 Sedan, Never Used, $150 Cash $30 Month, or Trade. Tro. 4316.

'34 Chevrolet Master Coach, A-1. 2583 Mass. Ave., Camb. Eli. 9480. $265

'36 OLDS 6 Trunk sed., radio, htr. $525. Zanditon, 879 Bluehill Ave. Dor. Gen. 9247.

Investigate—Free! 1 253 Prizes Nash N. E. Co., 640 Comm. Ave. Ken. 1403

'35 Packard 120 Sedan. Conceded to be the handsomest car on the road, safe, stylish, comfortable and dependable. Finished in maroon, condition of car is excellent. Priced well below the market. PACKARD, 1079 Commonwealth Ave. STAdium 5504. $495

'35 Chevrolet Master Coach No. 44. Dark green duco finish, knee action. Turret top. O. K. throughout. North Quincy Garage Co. FREsident 1156. $385

'37 Dodge 2 Door Touring Sedan driven 1000 miles, heater, new car guarantee. Call Malden-Dodge Co., 300 Eastern Av., Malden, Mal. 3196. Open Sun. $675

Lalime & Partridge HAVE THE FINEST FORDS IN TOWN

'31 Ford Conv. Sedan	$100
'32 Ford V-8 Coupe	125
'32 Ford V-8 Tudor	125
'33 Ford V-8 Tudor	140
'33 Ford Cabriolet	138
'33 Ford L-4 Coupe	186
'36 Ford V-8 Tudor	395
'36 Ford V-8 Cabriolet	475
'36 Ford Station Wagon	495
'37 Ford Club Coupe	575
'37 Ford V-8 Fordor	525
'37 Ford V-8 Tudor	465
'37 Ford "60" Tudor	465

Lalime & Partridge
1255 BOYLSTON ST.
Ford Dealers for 21 Years
At Red Sox Ball Park
OPEN EVENINGS EASY TERMS
Phone KENmore 2700

Porter Sq. Chev. '35 Chevrolet Mstr. Sport Coupe
This sturdy car has had exceptional care and priced under the market at only $275; see it today. 2055 Mass. Ave., Cambridge. KIR. 4400.

Ford '37 De L. 85 Sedan $475
$25 Down, looks and runs like new. Full new car guarantee. Don't miss this value. GARAGE, 286 Washington St., Brighton, ALG. 7780.

$9.54 per month buys an excellent car. Let me help you. I resell Brookline Fine Family Cars. TOM MAHONEY BEAcon 5200

WE'LL BUY YOUR CAR WE PAY MOST SPOT CASH PAID BRILLIANT'S 195 BROADWAY SOMERVILLE SOM. 2440

200A Auto Trailers

Trailers Palace Travel Coaches. Marion Baumgardner. Lex. 1227.

202 Automobiles Wanted

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
1-Hour Service. HARVEY. EVErett 2000.

LOTS OF MONEY TO BUY USED CARS. HIGHEST INSTANT Cash paid. Rear 281 Mystic Ave., Som. Pro. 2803.

WANTED good used car or beach wagon. '30 or later. Pay cash. Som. 1136-W—2318-W.

☞ Cash for your car. Drive in or call 1138 Comm. Ave. Lon. 8567.

WANTED—Old cars, trucks. Cash waiting. Lincoln Auto Parts. Highland 6545.

209 Automobile Insurance

Lowest Rates—Time Payments
FREE PLATE SERVICE
8 Broad St. cor. State St. CAP. 5677

$5 Down 6 mo. to pay. 19 Broad St. Room 815. Hub. 7469.

LOWEST RATES—Immediate service for 1938 plates, 55 Kilby St., Boston.

Employment

60 Employment for Women

NEW Cleansing Co. needs 6 saleswomen to introduce new process cleansing in homes. No samples to carry. Big pay to workers. Call 9:30 A. M., Room 615, 120 Boylston St.

DEFINITELY the ideal proposition for ambitious women. Chance to have your own business in your own locality. Free training; delightful, profitable work. Nationally known product. Phone Kenmore 9451.

MOTHERS who need part time work; let us help you. Our sales ladies average $1.00 per hour. See MISS BERLEY, 74 Summer St., Boston.

60A Help Wanted—Domestic

GIRL to take care of 15-mo. child, afternoons. 36 Glendale Rd. Cen. Newton 0679.

62 Help Wanted—Male and Female

AMATEURS WANTED—Every Saturday. 1st prize, $3; 2nd, $2; 3rd, $1. See Charlie Palmer, Paradise Cafe, 63 Green St. Lal. 9282.

64 Situations Wanted—Male

PAINTER, decorator; needs work. Georges Cartron, 73 Brayton Rd., Bri. Sta. 1039.

68 Instructions

AIR CONDITIONING
ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

These fast growing industries have need for reliable and properly qualified men for Servicing and Installation work. To fill this need, men who can meet requirements are being selected by us and fully trained in spare time. Write giving age, education, present employment. Utilities Inst., Box A-257, Boston American.

61 Help Wanted—Male

CANVASSERS

Wanted at once, experienced canvassers for subscription campaign, transportation paid, good commission. Apply Mr. Foynes, 5th floor, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston.

UPHOLSTERER Best in good mechanic and fast. Steady work in Boston. Apply Box A181, Boston American.

WET WASH and Flat Work Agents Wanted. Jam. 9153.

Business Opportunities

FURNITURE STORE, on main street of New Hampshire city of 14,000, and having inventory of good clean stock, for sale for cash. Box A-238, Boston American.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
"New England's Greatest Evening Newspaper"

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice at Boston, Mass., under the Act of March 3, 1879, also at the Postoffice Department, Canada.

Published daily except Sunday and holidays, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston, Mass., by the NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING COMPANY. Telephone Liberty 4000.

Subscriptions by mail postpaid, one month, 75c; three months, $1.75; six months, $3.50; one year, $7.00. Boston Postal District $1.00 month. Domestic rates include postage in the United States, Porto Rico, Philippines, Cuba, Hawaii, Alaska, Mexico, Canal Zone, Canada. Mail subscriptions payable strictly in advance. Rates to foreign countries $2.00 per month.

The Boston Evening American assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs. Advertisers will please notify the management immediately of any error which may occur.

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for reproduction of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein reserved by the Boston Evening American.

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1938

+ Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king, who knoweth not how to receive admonition any more.—Ecclesiastes IV., 13. +

The text for today is suggested by the Rev.Dr. Endicott Peabody, St. John's Episcopal Church, Groton. The next text will be suggested by the Rev. Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, Trinity Church, Boston.

The Editor Says:

"Two giant Navy bombers collided and were destroyed, with eleven men, during practice maneuvers in a storm seventy miles at sea."—News story.

THE eleven lives lost in the collision of these two Navy bombing planes off the California coast seem chargeable to STUPIDITY in the high command.

What business had these planes, and many others similarly imperilled, to be flying in a storm seventy miles at sea?

The first need of an effective air force in the Navy is for commanding officers who know how to use it.

Those who command the Navy hold the key to its effectiveness. If they employ the sound precision which is the tradition of the naval service, property and lives are safe in their hands.

Their mistakes inevitably send property and men to destruction, as in the lamentable disaster now holding the shocked attention of the country.

The stupid destruction of two costly units of defense, and of the lives of eleven brave men which are irreplaceable, is explainable only as a complete and inexcusable lapse of intelligent command.

It contrasts strangely with the amazingly precise, competent and foresighted direction given by the Navy's high command to the recent mass formation flight to Honolulu.

The superb handling of the Hawaiian flight is undoubtedly typical of Navy standards of command and performance, and the war games tragedy an exception that beclouds an admittedly splendid naval record of efficiency.

But the Navy is accountable to the country for its mistakes as well as its triumphs, and it is properly being held to account for the eleven lives it has so unnecessarily and unreasonably sacrificed.

60,000 'GHOST VOTERS'

"It is reasonable to believe that there are 60,000 voters illegally registered in our small Republican towns."—Charles H. McGlue, former Democratic State Committeeman.

Mr. McGlue voices the Democratic argument in favor of a state-wide re-registration of voters.

The Republican argument—familiar to all—concerns principally the wholesale frauds uncovered in Boston a few days before the last mayoralty election.

Thus it is significant that both parties admit that dishonest voting exists in Massachusetts.

Yet neither party seems anxious to remedy the situation and restore faith in the ballot. Each prefers to blame the other.

This is ridiculous. Clearly, both parties are under suspicion. Oratory will not exonerate them. Only a state-wide purge of the voting lists, as proposed in the bill now before the Legislature, will do that.

Republicans should not repeat their mistake of a year ago and try to exempt the small towns from re-registration. Such tactics create unfavorable sentiment and injure the party.

Common sense says that towns and cities where voting is clean and legal have everything to gain, nothing to lose, by a thorough laundering of every voting list.

A WHOLESALE SPANKING

"Motor Vehicles Registrar Frank A. Goodwin today announced that he had imposed penalties on more than 2600 motorists during the past month."—Saturday's Boston Evening American.

Mr. Goodwin serves drastic notice on all motorists that faulty drivers and their licenses are very apt to part company in Massachusetts.

Twenty-six hundred is a respectable number in any man's arithmetic. The population of the average town is much less. An industry employing that many is Big Business. And what a politician wouldn't do for 2600 votes on election day needs no explanation.

More important, however, than the mere total are the reasons Mr. Goodwin gives for the suspensions and revocations. Five hundred and eighty-six were punished for drunken driving; 500 others for excessive speed.

This ought to be a lesson. It is more than a wholesale spanking of motorists. It is proof that we who still drive will enjoy the privilege only so long as we behave.

WHO ARE THE 30,000?

"The Massachusetts Unemployment Compensation Commission today assigned field workers to learn why more than 30,000 persons who made claims for unemployment compensation checks failed to collect them."—International News Service.

Who are the more than 30,000 people who shy from money apparently within their grasp?

Why did they apply for the return of some of their unemployment insurance cash and then change their minds?

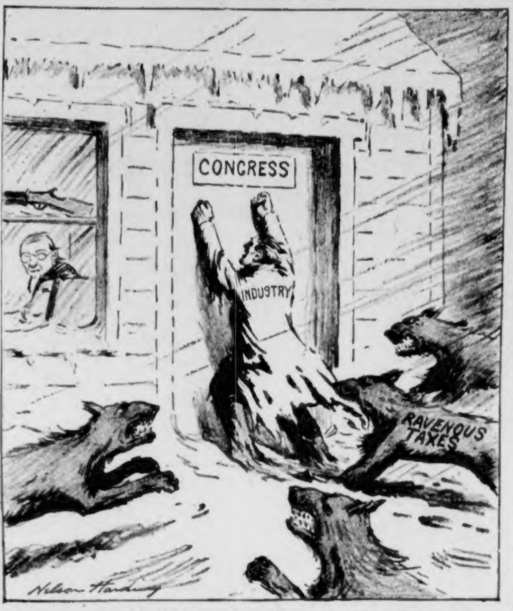
It is not mere curiosity that prompts these questions; the answers are necessary for the successful administration of Social Security in the future.

There is a possibility that many of these applicants obtained employment after they signed their requests for assistance. But we doubt it.

The more reasonable explanation is that the 30,000 consisted mostly of men and women who misunderstood the rules. Later, learning that they were not eligible for benefits, they dropped the matter.

When Every Second Counts

By Nelson Harding



Rapacious taxation of industry is not an evil that afflicts merely industry.

It afflicts the public which buys the goods that industry produces, by increasing the costs of the goods.

An example—excessive income taxes.

Rapacious taxes also afflict the employes of industry by diminishing the supply of jobs—for example, the taxes on surpluses or reserves, and on capital gains.

These two taxes are demoralizing to industry and thoroughly discredited.

They are WOLF TAXES.

Congress should kill them both at once.

New York Day by Day -:- By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

DIARY: Talking to Merrill Meigs, the Chicago pamphleteer, for whose ancestors Meigs County in Ohio was named. And Mrs. Betty Henderson sent her brochure of poems. So across to the Waldorf and had a tucking of griddle cakes and good, Vermont maple syrup.

Working awhile and Frank Vance from Gallipolis came and we boarded a charabanc to see the new World's Fair grounds and prowled through Harlem. And so a visit from Will Rogers' upstanding son, Bill, who is embarking for Europe for a stay of four months and will visit Spain.

To dinner at a restaurant and chatting a moment with the stunning Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart. And watched Jules Glaenzer cut some capers on the dance floor. Fascinated, too, by a monocled lady who puffed her cigarette through a holder reaching clear out to here.

Percy Crosby is an exception to the general rule that artists take little notice of politics. He not only takes lively interest but spends enormous amounts in telegraph tolls and for newspaper space to express violent opposition. However, Crosby is not a crusader but an unusually easy-going fellow until he thinks the average man is getting the worst of it; then he begins shooting from both hips.

He has published a half dozen books at own expense to express his views, and once bought an entire page in every New York newspaper.

Few know that the once Belasco and now Theater Guild star Ina Claire was a Sheila Barrett of her early day. Her mimicry in vaudeville was second only to the child wonder, Little Elsie, who became Elsie Janis. Miss Claire's remembered impersonations were of Harry Lauder, Eva Tanguay, Alice Lloyd, Ethel Levy, Geraldine Farrar, Frances Starr, Jane Cowl and Billie Burke.

Mimics have often graduated to dramatic and comedy roles. Cissie Loftus, when she abandoned mimicry, was able to run away with several plays in her character roles and the more recent Eddie Garr has shown some talent in straightaway characterizations.

The circus will scarcely be the circus this year without the fabulous Dexter Fellows. He was among less than a dozen for whom I stifled my telephone phobia to answer when he rang up. There was no resisting Dex. He symbolized romantic vagabondage to those of us ink-stained and harnessed to desks. To ignore him in spring would be like shooing a robin off the lawn.

His formula was sheer magic. He never wrote a line. All he had to do to euchre us out of space was to tell journalistic wretches he was in town and we unlimbered our typewriters literally to bury him and his exhibit in an avalanche of adjectives.

Dexter was especially good copy because he did not care how you poked fun at him so long as the circus got a break. The most hilarious stories Frank Ward O'Malley ever wrote were written around Fellows.

Also not many pamphleteers have been so extravagantly publicized the past few months as Maury H. B. Paul, the Cholly Knickerbocker of the social page. He was profiled in two parts in The New Yorker, panegyrized in the Elsa Maxwell serial in Harper's Bazaar, glorified in two current novels and was included for several pages in Cecil Beaton's photographic "Scrap-Book" of celebrities.

Bagatelles: Hope Hampton and Jules Brulatour have not, if in the city, missed a theatrical premiere in eight years . . . Idaho named its highest mountain peak for Senator Borah . . . With an audience of intimates, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth is considered one of the best after-dinner story tellers in Washington . . . Will Rogers' youngest son, Jimmy, is conducting a large cattle ranch near Los Angeles and making a record.

The Marry-Go-Round -:- By Helen Rowland

Why on earth can't a man change his mind about whether or not he wants to marry a woman? Why is it only a woman's prerogative?

We can break our dinner dates at the last moment; we can break our promise to play golf or join a bridge foursome; we can order things sent C. O. D. and promptly send them back to the shop if we don't like them; we can promise to vote for a political candidate—and change our minds when we face the voting machine. We can hire a man and fire him the next day if he doesn't make good.

But we've got only ONE GUESS when it comes to the most important decision of our lives!

How does a man KNOW when his heart's on fire and smoke gets in his eyes, whether it's really love or only the "wine" that is making the world and his head "go round?"

How does a MAN know ANYTHING about a woman until she thinks she has him safely landed and can be herself?

He doesn't!

Because a man never uses his mind when he falls in love—he waits until he loses it. But, if there is a law prohibiting the sale of firearms to minors, there really ought to be a law to prohibit the sale of fountain pens to middle-aged gentlemen.

Because, it has been proved that "some man's love-letters" are all that a gold-digger ever saves for a "rainy day."

Human Side of the News -:- By Edwin C. Hill

THE great detectives of fiction, to my mind, are Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes, Gaboriau's Monsieur Lecocq, Father Brown, the late Mr. Chesterfield's shabby little priest, and Agatha Christie's very up-to-date Hercule Poirot.

As a quartet of fictional sleuths these stand out. But not one of them ever saw the day or the crime puzzle, that could quite class him with John Edgar Hoover.

It is not so much that Mr. Hoover is a superman, but largely due to the fact he has enlisted modern science and the most up-to-date mechanical gadgets in his war against evil-doers.

Of the great detectives of fiction, Mr. Sherlock Holmes is my favorite, and he must be the favorite of a great many other people, for, according to the London Sunday Chronicle, the Central Postoffice in London receives letters every day for this man who never lived, and addressed to a house which never existed: "Mr. Sherlock Holmes, Number 221-B, Baker Street."

It was at 221-B, Baker street, you recall that Mr. Sherlock Holmes and his friend, Dr. Watson, received, in a haze of tobacco smoke, so many distinguished clients and trapped so many malefactors. No living human being could be more real than Sherlock Holmes, who was only a wraith of the imagination of Arthur Conan Doyle.

Conan Doyle was a struggling country doctor when he conceived the idea of a fiction detective with uncanny powers of deduction, and with the faculty of observation so acutely developed that he could read at a glance the whole life history of a visitor. And there was an actual living model for Sherlock Holmes.

The model was a very remarkable gentleman named Dr. Joseph Bell, who was consulting surgeon to the Royal Infirmary and Royal Hospital for Sick Children at Edinburgh, Scotland, where Conan Doyle received his medical training.

Dr. Joseph Bell, thin, wiry, dark, with a high-nosed acute face, penetrating gray eyes, angular shoulders, a peculiar walk and a voice high and discordant, possessed an uncanny knack of swift diagnosis, as amazing as his skill as a surgeon.

Conan Doyle passed from this life three years ago, leaving untold and unwritten many tales to which he alluded by intriguing titles but never wrote. There are so many of fascinating suggestion.

I would give a lot to know what really took place in "The Singular Tragedy of the Atkinson Brothers at Trincomalee," or to learn more of "The Adventure of the Amateur Mendicant Society," whose members held a luxurious club in the lower vault of a furniture warehouse.

I would walk miles to get the truth of "The Singular Adventure of the Grice Paterson in the Island of Uffa," of "Colonel Warburton's Madness," of "The Adventures of Ricoletti of the Club Foot and his Abominable Wife."

Millions would lie awake of nights to read what really occurred in "The Case of Wilson, the Notorious Canary Trainer," "The Delicate Affair of the Reigning Family of Holland" or "The Incredible Mystery of Mr. James Phillimore," who, stepping back into his own house to get his umbrella, was never more seen in this world.

Still other untold tales are "The Affair of the Politician, the Lighthouse and the Trained Cormorant," or "The Strange Case of Isadore Persano," who was found stark, staring mad with a match box in front of her which contained a worm unknown to science.

Conan Doyle is gone, but Sherlock Holmes lives in a peculiarly definite sense: as real as D'Artagnan or Cyrano de Bergerac.

The Political Parade -:- By George Rothwell Brown

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.

THE Pacific coast—America's far-flung front door—will feel a new awakening in security and in the stimulation of industry, as a result of the President's national defense program, which he recently submitted to Congress.

As the hearings proceed at the Capitol the country will become better educated in the military and diplomatic problems which have brought this program to a head.

The Pacafic coast line is no longer the first line of the national defense. Neither is Hawaii.

The first line today stretches for more than 10,000 miles from the Aleutian Islands, Honolulu, Samoa, to the Panama Canal. In time of war that line of defense, of the Pacific coast and the Canal, would be patroled by a great fleet of battleships, cruisers and destroyers. An enemy raider might get through. But with enough ships it would probably never come within shellfire of San Francisco or Seattle.

The Panama Canal, vulnerable to enemy attack, might be closed by a few explosive bombs dropped in the right place. If the American fleet were in the Atlantic when this happened, the whole Pacific coast would lie open to enemy attack.

If the American fleet were in the Pacific when such a disaster occurred to the canal, that fleet could not be moved into the Atlantic, except around Cape Horn.

But a Japanese fleet could reach the Atlantic by sailing around Africa. Moreover Japan, in all probability, has an alliance with two powerful Fascist European countries.

There is a Fascist situation developing in South America the diplomatic implications of which are entering directly into today's acute problems of national defense.

Its policy of isolation, without entangling alliances, makes it necessary for the United States to maintain an adequate naval force in both oceans.

Practically the entire fleet is now in the Pacific. Precautions with regard to the Panama Canal have been taken. Its defenses are being strengthened.

The Navy is sending its fliers to the Aleutian Islands for training in winter flying. Another squadron is about to be sent there. A naval base in the Aleutians is coming.

While it is estimated that 85 per cent of the naval building costs will go to labor, it is well understood by the naval authorities in Congress and in the Navy, that the stimulus which this program will give to industry, and to employment, is only a secondary consideration.

The first consideration is strategic and diplomatic. The old 5-5-3 ratio of the Washington Treaty has gone. Although Japan guards her naval building jealously, the best official information here is that the Japanese have a fine navy, of 10 new battleships, five aircraft carriers, 12 heavy cruisers, 14 light cruisers, 76 destroyers, and 41 submarines.

The Japanese navy is not yet up to the American navy, but it is going strong. The new building program will put the United States ahead of Japan, unless Japan is actually building battleships above 40,000 tons. There is no positive information as to this.

When this program is completed the first line of defense of the Pacific coast from Alaska to the Panama Canal, will be 3000 miles west of San Francisco.

March of Events -:- By Benjamin DeCasseres

WHILE Europe and Asia change their "axes" of power from day to day, let us here in America see to it that the cutpurses and debt-welchers do not jockey us into becoming the HUB of their axes.

The London-Paris, the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo, the Russo-Chinese axes, and a lot of little spokes in the mighty world-wheel of international grab-all, would like nothing better than to make Washington the hub of all these mud-covered axles and spokes.

There are even some mentally blind Americans who want us to play the hub to Europe's and Asia's whirling wheels.

Let Washington remain the hub of 48 states—NOTHING MORE. That's job enough.

In one day's news three houses wherein lived three great geniuses appeared in the newspapers almost side by side.

Thomas Hardy's house at Max Gate, Dorchester, England, was sold. Fire swept the old home of Henry David Thoreau at Concord. Poe's house in Philadelphia was packed with visitors on his birthday. It was in this house that Poe wrote "THE RAVEN."

The novels of Thomas Hardy are among the greatest ever written. Thoreau was the most independent American who ever lived. He went to jail rather than pay his poll tax. Poe's life reads like one of his own tragic tales.

It is exalting to see the names in the papers, from time to time, of these creators of beauty and shining visions. They gleam like stars in a dark forest of Mussolinis, Hitlers, Stalins, Gogas, gabby politicians and "planning" fakers.

England is feverishly fortifying the Suez Canal.

This hundred-mile link between the Mediterranean and the Red Sea is even more vital to England than is Gibraltar, at the other end of the Mediterranean. It is the gate to India.

There are tragedy, drama and history in that famous waterway. The idea of connecting the West with the East by an artificial waterway at this spot goes back to 1380 B.C. Scores of attempts were afterward made to put through the project.

Pharaoh, Necho, in 609 B. C., according to Herodotus, completed some sort of a waterway. One hundred and twenty thousand men perished in the undertaking.

The present Suez Canal was opened in 1869. It is the work of Ferdinand de Lesseps, French engineer, who began soliciting subscriptions for the canal in 1854.

De Lesseps was the first of the modern epical industrialists. In 1879 he, at an advanced age, undertook the financing of the Panama Canal. That ended in a scandal that nearly landed the old man in jail.

Verdi's "Aida" was written to celebrate the opening of the Suez Canal.

Will Mussolini close it with a performance of "Pinafore?"